INTERESTING VISITOR—Mr. Clifford Ross, proprietor of the Green Hill Lookoff, the scenic gem of Pictou County has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel J. Gallant, Edward St., and reports that the tourist traffic in Nova Scotia is far ahead of last year. A successful season at the Lookoff has been reported, sponsored by a grand Scottish gathering, 1,800 people were parked on the grounds at one time and some 5,000 people wandered over the grounds, enjoying the scenery and the lovely weather. It is proposed that this Scottish gathering be made an annual event where the kill that goes to maintain the grand Highland tradition will be brought to light. An interesting feature has been added to the Lookoff Pioneer Museum, housed in a log building 30 feet by 40 feet. It is the old stage coach in which King Edward visited Pictou in 1860; also the basque worn by Anne Swan, the Nova Scotia girl, who travelled with P. G. Bannum. She weighed 530 pounds, being over 8 feet in height; likewise a sword used in the battle of Culloden by Norman MacLeod of Skye, the Christian's horn of the Clan McLennan, and a horn drinking glass used by Bonnie Prince Charlie in the Highlands in 1745. Premier Ramsay MacDonald, spent an hour in the Museum, and was so taken up with the idea that he made a generous donation to secure some relic of the early pioneers and put his name on it. A quern, or hand grist mill, was secured, and is now an object of much interest to the visiting public.

MANCHESTER, England, Sept. 10—The medical officer of the West Riding county council schools makes a plea for the wearing of clogs by school-children. It is to be feared, however, that his recommendation will go unheeded so long as clogs are regarded by most parents as an indication of social inferiority.

Yet clogs, of a sort, were formerly worn for people of fashion. The Manchester Guardian points out. An advertisement of a London tradesman of the 18th century said: "Thomas Berry at the Pattern and Crown under St. Dunstan's Church in Fleet Street, selleth all sorts of fine leather clogges, fine leather patterns, cork clogges for ladies, all sorts of clogges for gentlemen, and all other sorts of clogges and patterns. Likewise all sorts of leather clogges for children."

Women Pressing For Ordination

(By The Canadian Press)
WINNIPEG, Sept. 10—Writing in the press Mrs. Isabelle Scot, of Montreal treats of the ordination of women for the ministry as follows:

"Has the time not come to consider the whole question of women's place and standing in the United Church of Canada? Is it not an anomaly that a member of the church might be a member of parliament or a senator and yet have no channel for the expression of her views and opinion in her own church?"

"The women of the church deserve and ought to have a definite place and proportional representation in every church court, not however by co-optation, which is quite undemocratic, but by election to represent their own sex. Whether or not all the women in the church are demanding this reform is beside the question, which really is, is it right? Is it just?"

"As the General Council of the United Church of Canada will meet shortly in Kingston, when the question of the ordination of women will come up once more for discussion, a resume of the situation may be of interest. It will be remembered that, in 1922 Miss Lydia Gruchy, B. A., after graduating in theology from the Manitoba college, was appointed as pastor to a charge of New Canadians in the northwest. Her congregation felt it a burden to be obliged to send long distances at considerable expense for an ordained minister to marry, baptize, etc., when necessary. $5 in 1922, at the first meeting of the general council held in Montreal, Miss Gruchy applied for ordination but her case was referred to a committee which reported at the next meeting of the general council in Winnipeg in 1928 in such terms that the following resolution was passed: 'There is no bar in reason or religion to the ordination of women in the United Church of Canada.'

"Miss Gruchy's record as a minister has been outstanding and it can be truthfully said that it has been equalled by few and surpassed by none, but she is still unordained. If neither reason nor religion is the cause of this delay, may we ask what is keeping it back? Can there be a subtle influence at work behind the scenes, which succeeds in having the question sidetracked from time to time and referred to committees, conferences, presbyteries, conferences, etc., etc.?"

Town Turns Down Mollison's Trip
BLACKPOOL, Eng., Sept. 11—The Town Council has decided that to extend the help desired by Capt. and Mrs. J. A. Mollison, the famous fliers, in the forthcoming international air race would be paying too dearly for the publicity the town would receive thereby. It had been suggested that if for publicity purposes, Blackpool would pay a certain sum the council could nominate the machine in its name and christen it "Spirit of Blackpool."

The proposal was that the Corporation should either pay the Mollisons $7,500, with the addition of $5,000 if they won, or give them a sum of $10,000 whether they won or lost. The offer has been declined with a certain amount of regret. Opinion was the cost would be too much for the publicity that would result.

Took Pills for 30 Years, Then Cereal Brought Relief
Mr. Forsythe Endorses ALL-BRAN for Constipation

If you suffer from headaches, loss of appetite and energy or any other of the frequent effects of constipation, read this voluntary letter:

"After taking pills and tablets for about thirty years for constipation, I started to take your ALL-BRAN three times a day according to directions. Today I can eat cheese, and that is binding, and certainly feel fine."—Mr. Ed. Forsythe (address furnished upon request).

Science says ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regular habits. In addition, ALL-BRAN is rich in blood-building iron.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of leafy vegetables. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass which gently clears the intestines of wastes.

Isn't this pleasant "cereal way" far more healthful than using patent medicines—so often habit-forming?

Just eat two tablespoons daily. In serious cases use with each meal. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Poet In Poverty About Forgotten
 With Wife and Two Daughters Sir William Watson Celebrates Birthday.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—(C.P.)—Sir William Watson, the poet, recently celebrated his 76th birthday in poverty in a bungalow at Rottingdean, almost forgotten by the public with his wife and two daughters his only company. He composed a sonnet on his birthday entitled "The Yesterdays and the Mornings."

To a newspaper representative Lady Watson said: "The present generation do not realize the beauty and literary worth of Sir William's works. Although this makes him sad, especially now in his old age, he will never come down to a lower taste. His works will be remembered when others are forgotten."
