sustained a fractured skull, and his sister, Margaret, eight, who suffered from shock, were in the same hospital. Little hope of recovery was held for the boy. Rev. Mr. Gates' jaw was fractured and his wife's right knee cap was shattered. They are in the same hospital.

IN DANGER

Six year old Paul Gates, brother of the dead boy, is on the danger list at the Fisher Memorial Hospital with a depressed fracture of the skull and cuts about the head and face. Rev. A. Gates, of Hartford, Conn., and his wife, parents of the dead lad, are resting fairly comfortably with serious, but not dangerous injuries.

Renders First Aid

First aid was given the injured people by Dr. Owen, of Pokok, who had them ready for removal when they arrived from Woodstock. Dr. J. F. I. Brown, of Woodstock, with Miss Malley of the Fisher Memorial Hospital staff, made a quick run to the scene of the accident by car and supervised their removal to the hospital. A New Brunswick Telephone Co. truck was pressed into service as an ambulance.

DESCRIBES ACCIDENT

Mrs. Gates was able to give some account of the accident last evening. She remembered seeing the police car approaching and then knew nothing more till she found herself lying on the ground on the Australia, and Col. E. R. Wayland, representing the Canadian Legion. "That this conference urges the British Government to take action designed to obviate the unrestricted importation of Russian foodstuffs and raw material into the United Kingdom in the interest of the Dominions and the progress, prosperity, stability and security of the Empire."

The resolution originally referred to "wheat," but on the suggestion of Sir Frederick Maurice, representing the British Legion, the words "foodstuffs" and "raw material" were substituted. Mr. Robb declared that 110,000,000 hundredweight of wheat had been imported into the United Kingdom in 1930, of which only 40,000,000 came from the Empire.

Col. Wayland said he had been informed in London by a Russian agent that Russia was preparing to supply all the wheat needed by Europe, and that the price did not enter into the question, since the prime object of Russia was to establish credits abroad.

The conference went on record as favoring the greatest possible unity among organizations for ex-service men, suggesting that all should become members of the British Empire Service League.

It was pointed out in the preamble to the resolution that in Great Britain the Government and the constituent organizations accept all ex-service men upon an equal basis.

The road at the point where the accident occurred is 22 feet wide and the surface is in good condition. There was some loose gravel, but not enough to cause danger.

In addition to the broken neck, which was the immediate cause of death, James Gates had a fractured skull and broken leg

The Schneider Cup Race Will Be Held Sept. 12

(Canadian Press) LONDON, Sept. 3.—The Royal Aero Club today informed the clubs of Italy and France that the rules governing the Schneider cup race do not permit postponement of the contest, as both France and Italy had requested, and that the race must be held as scheduled on September 12th.

Italy Out

Italy announced today that it would refrain from participation in the Schneider cup race for seaplanes this year. Its action was taken in accord with France in the face of the British refusal to postpone the competition until next year.

Further Floods In China Take Heavy Death Toll

(By Glenn Babb, Associated Press Correspondent)

SHANGHAI, Sept. 3.—Another vast welter of death and suffering was slowly being revealed today as President Chiang Kaishek estimated that fifty million Chinese flood victims were on the verge of starvation.

While national effort was being made to relieve Jankov, Wuchang and Hanyang, a quarter million persons were estimated to have died of flood, starvation and exposure during August. Attention was diverted to Northern Kiangsu Province, where the once fruitful and happy basin between the Grand Canal and the sea has been transformed into a death trap for scores of thousands.

The flooded area there approximates 5,000 square miles in which 10,000,000 persons dwell. The most intense misery has been inflicted upon five rich farming countries, each supporting 1,000,000. This region, containing the cities of Kaoyu, Shaopo, Taichow, Tunglat and Hinghwa, lies ten feet below the grand canal bed and twenty feet below the normal level of the canal.

Takes Death Toll of 100,000

The Rev. Thomas L. Harnsberger, who arrived today from the devastated area, estimated at least 100,000 had died in the Northern Kiangsu floods and that 2,000,000 would perish of starvation and exposure.

Modern "Bluebeard" Had Own Rules For Happy Marriage By Widows

(OLEAN, N. Y., Sept. 3.—Harry P. Powers compiled seven rules for happy marriage for the widows he courted by mail.

First of all, a sense of humor should prevail. Everything has its funny side and if husband and wife can find it and laugh together, they never need to fear the divorce court.

Second, they must love each other and with co-operation and perfect harmony and understanding and loyalty and an earnest effort on both sides to cultivate the feeling of love. Love is bound to come as a natural consequence.

Third, give and take. Marriage is a compromise, a matter of adjustment and the husband or wife who expects perfection in the life partner while ignoring his or her faults, sooner or later will wreck the home.

Fourth, give and take. Marriage is a compromise, a matter of adjustment and the husband or wife who expects perfection in the life partner while ignoring his or her faults, sooner or later will wreck the home.

Fifth, give and take. Marriage is a compromise, a matter of adjustment and the husband or wife who expects perfection in the life partner while ignoring his or her faults, sooner or later will wreck the home.

Sixth, criticism or superiority have no support in any well conducted home. But few wives, and husbands, too, can stand criticism.

Seventh, love self last. The husband who thinks he can act like a bachelor or the wife who thinks first of her own pleasures, luxuries and welfare are in love only with themselves and not with each other.

Eighth, give and take. Marriage is a compromise, a matter of adjustment and the husband or wife who expects perfection in the life partner while ignoring his or her faults, sooner or later will wreck the home.

Ninth, give and take. Marriage is a compromise, a matter of adjustment and the husband or wife who expects perfection in the life partner while ignoring his or her faults, sooner or later will wreck the home.

Tenth, give and take. Marriage is a compromise, a matter of adjustment and the husband or wife who expects perfection in the life partner while ignoring his or her faults, sooner or later will wreck the home.

Eleventh, give and take. Marriage is a compromise, a matter of adjustment and the husband or wife who expects perfection in the life partner while ignoring his or her faults, sooner or later will wreck the home.

Twelfth, give and take. Marriage is a compromise, a matter of adjustment and the husband or wife who expects perfection in the life partner while ignoring his or her faults, sooner or later will wreck the home.

Thirteenth, give and take. Marriage is a compromise, a matter of adjustment and the husband or wife who expects perfection in the life partner while ignoring his or her faults, sooner or later will wreck the home.

Fourteenth, give and take. Marriage is a compromise, a matter of adjustment and the husband or wife who expects perfection in the life partner while ignoring his or her faults, sooner or later will wreck the home.

Fifteenth, give and take. Marriage is a compromise, a matter of adjustment and the husband or wife who expects perfection in the life partner while ignoring his or her faults, sooner or later will wreck the home.

Sixteenth, give and take. Marriage is a compromise, a matter of adjustment and the husband or wife who expects perfection in the life partner while ignoring his or her faults, sooner or later will wreck the home.

U.S. AMATEUR GOLF CHSHIPS

(Canadian Press) BEVERLY COUNTRY CLUB, Chicago, Ill., Sept. 3.—Slim, "Scholarly", Francis Outmet, one of the old masters of golf at the age of 38, and swarthy, broad-shouldered Maurice J. McCarthy, Jr., of New York, a born battler of the links, rode the crest of superlative play into the semi-finals of the United States amateur championship today.

As a result of their two sweeping conquests in the 36-hole quarter-finals, the veteran Outmet will match his skillful experience tomorrow against the youthful challenge of 19 year old Billy Howell, Virginia State champion, while McCarthy tackles the brilliant Chicago district champion, Alfred J. (Jack) Westland.

ATHENS, Ga., Sept. 3. (U.P.)—Georgia's football prospects are not near so bright as many alumni and sports writers think, Harry Mehre, head coach, said today. The squad will report for practice Sept. 7.

Vason McWhorter, sophomore substitute, is the only center candidate who has ever played in a varsity game. Mehre will have Graham Bateheler, husky freshman fullback, last year to aid McWhorter, but the big lad has never played center except in spring practice.

The tackle problem is unsolved, especially since "Skinny" Davis, one of the three letter men last year, will not return to school. Only Jim Hamrick and Bobby Rose are back as experienced men.

"If I had someone to fill the shoes of ex-captain Maffett at end, the flank problems would all be solved," the Georgia coach explained. "Maffett was one of the greatest ends ever turned out at the university and the best turned out since I came here in 1928."

"Cattfish" Smith, mentioned for all-America honors last year along with Maffett, will be back at one end and Mehre will have Mack Crenshaw, a sophomore sub last fall and Weddington Kelley, another capable sub, to pick from at the other.

The guards will be well taken care of with Leathers, Maddox, Bennett, and Patterson returning as letter men.

Captain Austin Downes, the Chicago youth, the lad who ran through Yale's defense on the kickoff last of capable quarter back material, fall for a touchdown, heads a list Sullivan is the only other letter man but Moran, Young, and Howard are promising.

The fullback crop is also plentiful. Jack "the Ripper" Roberts head the list, which includes Gilmore, Westboro, Mass., youth; Stoinoff and White. Roberts was outstanding in the Southern conference last fall and Gilmore and Stoinoff proved capable understudies. White has great potential abilities. He was ineligible last year.

The varsity coaching staff will have two new members, both former Notre Dame stars. They are Rex Enright and Ted Twoomey.

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., Sept. 3.—County officers found a board fence erected along the highway in front of the "slaughter farm" at Quiet Dell, when they went there this morning, and a man was selling tickets at the gate.

The fence was erected by an enterprising man who expected to profit from the curious who have thronged to the place since the bodies of two women and three children were found there. Twenty five cents was charged for admission of adults and 15 cents for children.

Two workmen at the farm said they were hired by a man named "Kinchaid" and the fence was completed at 4 a. m. today. They said "Kinchaid" told them he had leased the property. Sheriff Wm. Grimm told the workmen to find the man and direct him to report for questioning.

MISSIONARIES ENTER FIELD OF BUSINESS

WORK IN FOREIGN FIELDS EMBRACES ELABORATE PROGRAM

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—(U.P.)—Missionary work in foreign fields has joined the realm of "big business."

No longer does the Christian worker abroad confine himself to evangelistic service. The scope of his activity has broadened in recent years until it embraces an elaborate program which also includes:

Schools, ranging from kindergartens to colleges. Industrial and agricultural instruction. Hospitals, dispensaries and clinics. Social service, with settlement houses and playgrounds.

Oldest Society

America's oldest foreign missionary society is the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions, with headquarters here. From the time it was organized, 121 years ago, it has sought the co-operation of all Christians without distinction of sect "who desire to propagate the Gospel among the unevangelized nations."

Today it has 700 missionaries—248 men and 452 women—in foreign fields. There are 173 in China, 158 in the Near East, 120 in India, 110 in Africa, and smaller numbers elsewhere. Last year the organization spent nearly $2,000,000 on missions.

Dean of Workers

Dean of these church workers abroad is Miss Eva M. Swift, 68, formerly of Dallas, Texas, still active in India after 47 years' service. And the society's honor roll lists the names of 114 retired missionaries who served 25 to 57 years. An average of 30 new recruits are sent out annually.

The American Board has 1,345 schools in foreign lands and says that if pupils attending them were to form a parade march, 10 abreast, it would require 18 hours for them to pass the reviewing stand.

At the local employment exchange some claimants were moved from upstairs to the ground floor. At another building one curious person enquired the reason why they were being moved. Well, replied another they have got to be X-rayed. Why? came the sharp enquiry. To see if they have got any life in them, said the other.

CENTRAL GUARDIAN

STILL STANDING—Shortly after midnight last night, the firemen answered a call for a slight blaze in a barn on Sydney St., formerly owned by Mr. James McMurrer. Two hand extinguishers were used to put out the blaze. This is the fourth or fifth alarm sent in for fires in this particular locality.

Indian Tribe Aided Pioneers

(Canadian Press) BRYSON CITY, N. C., Sept. 3.—On the Cherokee Indian Reservation, on Okoneelutsee River, ten miles from Bryson City, in the Great Smoky Mountain National Park, there live some 3,000 Cherokee Indians.

This tribe has a great history and has done much in the pioneering of America. During the Revolution they fought with the English. In the war between the states, they fought with the Confederacy. Four hundred fighting braves were in Thomas' legion, commanded by Colonel William H. Thomas.

The outstanding achievement of the tribe was the creation of an alphabet, or syllabary, by one of their tribe, Sequoyah. Sequoyah's statue is now in the Statuary Hall in Washington.

Due to encroaching of white men and the great western movement, this little band was forced to separate in 1837-38. Then the federal government thought they should be moved to what was then the Indian territory (Oklahoma). The Indians rebelled, but General Winfield Scott, with an armed force and orders from Washington, soon sent them on their way. It is said that many of the Indians died on this journey, many of them from starvation, exposure and disease.

FAMILY CAT SAVES CHILDREN FROM RATTLER

RAWLINS, Wyo., Sept. 2. (U.P.)—They tell the story here of a house cat, that saved three children from a rattlesnake.

The reptile, one with eight rattles and a button, was crawling toward the children. The cat pounced on the snake. The rattler coiled. The cat sprang away. The snake uncoiled and the cat jumped to the attack. Again this procedure was repeated several times, adults killed the rattler.

X-RAY TO FIGHT CANCER

PASADENA, Calif., Sept. 3. (U.P.)—An unraveling of the mysteries of matter and a possible solution to the difficulties that have baffled physicians in their battle against cancer, is hoped for by California Institute of Technology scientists who shortly will start operation of the world's largest and most powerful X-ray tube.

The tube, approximately 30 feet long and using 2,000,000 volts of electricity, is science's latest instrument in the struggle against death.

Rays emitted by the tube are twice as powerful as all the radium of the world would be if gathered in one spot, Dr. C. C. Lauritsen, its designer, declared.

Smash Atoms

With rays generated in the tube, technicians at the Institute expect to be able to demolish with ease the elusive atom, now believed to be composed of electrons, with a theoretical breaking point, when "struck" by about 300,000 volts of electricity. Scientists in this way hope to be able to determine the constituents of matter.

Scientists do not know exactly the makeup of atoms, their theory being that electrons form the atoms, which in turn form molecules. The different ratios of positive and negative electrons account for the various forms of matter, scientists believe.

Although the exploration of the electrons is the primary purpose of the tube, cancer is to be the study of a research committee composed of Los Angeles physicians.

With proper safety precautions, it is believed that the potent rays will prove stronger and of more benefit than those now in use in treatments. The new tube is 1,300,000 volts stronger than any existing instrument for cancer treatment.

All work of constructing the gigantic tube was done in the shops of the Institute under the direction of Dr. Lauritsen, assisted by students.

Ex-King Plans Book On War

PARIS, Sept. 3. (U.P.)—With nothing to do but find a job to keep him busy, ex-King Alfonso of Spain advised close friends recently that he had decided to publish a book. The book will not be a defense of the Spanish monarchy nor an explanation of his abdication, but will be devoted entirely to proving that Alfonso was friendly to France in the World War.

Alfonso was surprised, since coming here in exile, to learn that his war time position is regretted by many French.

In his book, the King intends to show what he did to prove his sympathy for France, despite the pro-German attitude of many of the Spanish political leaders during the war and the government's official neutrality.

His writings will show how he spent from his personal fortune to obtain the repatriation of French prisoners and how he paid for special care for French wounded in German prison camps. One of the French prisoners whose return King Alfonso obtained was Maurice Chevalier, the moving picture star.

SNEEZE TEETH HALT TRAIN

OGDEN, Utah, Sept. 3. (U.P.)—Hay fever and false teeth held up the Union Pacific's number 19 train operating between Evanston, Wyo., and Ogden for over five minutes the other day.

Ollie Lance, fireman on the run, is susceptible to hay fever. He also must use false teeth.

Came a violent sneeze and out the cabin window flipped Lance's teeth. "Stop the train" signalled the fireman to the engineer.

Thereupon ensued an intensive search for false teeth in which train crew and passengers alike participated. Finally the teeth were found six car lengths down from the engine.

The train proceeded.

Mineral Pool Plan

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 3. (U.P.)—Feasibility of a plan devised to bring farm relief through the cooperative pooling of mineral lands, owned by farmers is to be studied throughout the southwest this fall by a member of the Federal Land Economics staff.

Dr. W. A. Hartman, member of the federal staff, has been assigned to the mineral resource project and will make an extensive survey.

The plan is to provide extra revenue to farmers. Large sectors of land will be marked off and all land owners within that region will share commonly any returns from minerals sold therefrom, regardless of whom owns the land upon which the mineral is produced.

The plan is similar to that under which the Osage Indian oil lands were "pooled" with each headright in the tribe sharing equally the receipts.

CAMPAGNED IN WRONG CO. SHARON, Pa., Sept. 2. (U.P.)—A lot of people in Crawford and Lawrence Counties got cigars this year that belonged in Mercer County. According to reports, a candidate for office in Mercer County spent half a day greeting voters in Crawford County before he discovered his mistake. Another candidate from this district was said to have canvassed Lawrence County by mistake.
