Swedish Minister's View
 Because the Scandinavian nations usually stand together in international affairs, particular interest was taken in a speech by E. J. Sandier, foreign minister of Sweden.

"The provisions of the Covenant apply to big nations as well as small," he said. "Troop movements have aggravated the present situation considerably. It must be settled. The Council has been unable to stop military preparations.

"The question of slavery in Ethiopia must be investigated by the League. It must be investigated from the general point of view of a committee, which can present its report to the Assembly."

Belgium's support was pledged by Premier Paul Van Zeeland, who said: "Belgium, which already has given indisputable proof, in the past, of its fidelity to engagements, will not be found wanting in the obligations devolving on it from the Covenant."

Agreement on policy by France and Great Britain became known after a luncheon given by Premier Laval for the British Foreign Secretary and Anthony Eden, Minister for League of Nations Affairs. Sir Samuel Hoare had planned to return to London today, but he decided to stay over to hear the speech which Premier Laval will make tomorrow.

Scout News and Notices
 The season has again returned for the starting of indoor activities, and most of the troops will be in action this or next week. This has been a "red letter" year for Scouting, and there is every indication that there will be a considerable influx of boys, young men and parents into the movement.

Although indoor instruction and training are about to re-commence, it does not follow that outdoor activities have ceased. There will still be hikes from time to time, and as far as possible, Scoutmasters and their assistants should utilize these to impart nature knowledge. It is not only the hike that counts, though that is important, but the knowledge of the ways of nature that are inculcated.

The Bedeque Troop has received very appreciated mention in the last issue of the Scout Leader on the successful and well-conducted camp it held this summer.

Troop Number Three, (The Kirk) resumes this Friday evening in St. James Church Hall at seven o'clock. Mr. J. A. Lawson, who for some time withdrew from his position as Scoutmaster owing to pressure of business, now finds it convenient to resume his active connection with the Troop. He will be assisted by Bill Burnett, whose duties necessitate his obtaining relief from the full control of the Troop. Mr. Lawson will be heartily welcomed back when he takes over tonight.

On Monday evening at seven o'clock the Kirk Cub Pack resume under the direction of Cubmaster Niall Burnett. This pack had a jolly camp this summer, and are looking forward to some interesting hikes and woodcraft during the Fall.

All nations have the right to ask that any and all issues, between whatsoever nations, be resolved by pacific means. "Every nation has the right to ask that no nation subject it and other nations to the hazards and uncertainties that must inevitably accrue to all from resort to arms by any two.

"With good will toward all nations, the American Government asks of those countries which appear to be contemplating armed hostilities that they weigh most solidly the declaration and pledge given in the pact of Paris, which pledge was entered into by all the signatories for the purpose of safeguarding peace and sparing the world the incalculable losses and human suffering that inevitably attend and follow in the wake of wars."
