White Sox Fall 4-1 Before Power-Laden Red Sox

(By The Canadian Press)

Boston Red Sox got 14 hits off Orval Grove and Joe Haynes yesterday and defeated the White Sox 4-1 before 13,518 fans at Chicago.

Only one of the Red Sox runs was earned, but 14 Red Sox men were left on bases during the course of their triumph.

The Red Sox got two unearned runs in the third after a wild throw by Luke Appling, scored a legitimate run in the sixth on successive singles by York, Higgins, Hal Wagner and Tex Hughson, but their fourth run in the eighth resulted when Frankie Hayes fumbled Tommy McBride's sacrifice and a subsequent sacrifice by Johnny Pesky and Ted Williams' single brought the run home.

Hughson won his 11th game of the season with a seven-hit performance.

Aided by Hank Edwards' seventh homer, Cleveland Indians' Bob Feller shut out Philadelphia Athletics 1-0 on three hits and fanned nine batters to boost his major league-leading strikeout total to 220, and his victory total to 18.

The Indians were held to five hits by rookie Bob Savage, the loser, and Toronto's Dick Fowler as Feller snuffed out every threat to win the hurling duel.

Only one Philadelphia runner, Elmer Valo, reached third base as Feller faced a total of 27 batters in the tight contest.

Detroit Tigers left 11 men stranded on the bases as Louis (Bobo) Newsom scattered eight hits in pitching Washington Senators to a 1-0 win.

Pinch-hitter Cecil Travis' clean single to left in the seventh drove in Stan Pence with the only run of the game.

Detroit got eight scattered hits off Newsom—the same number Washington collected off Paul (Dizzy) Trout—but the Tigers could not hit with men on base as Bobo hung up his seventh victory of the year.

It was Trout's second straight 1-0 defeat at the hands of Washington.

Legion Wins Opener From Pioneers

The Legion went one up in their semi-final series with the Pioneers defeating Daley's nine by the score of 10 to 1 last night. The Legion got 9 hits off two Pioneer pitchers, but 10 errors charged against them was what really put them out of the ball game.

G. Bernard, Legion flinger turned in a gilt edge performance giving up only two hits and fanning 7.

Grady got a home run in the fourth on a well tagged ball that went deep into right field. Syl Bernard and Dave Larkins made spectaculer catches but many fly balls were misjudged on account of the high wind. Allen toted the big bat hitting 3 for 4.

Local Firemen Preparing For Tournament

Local firemen are very busy these evenings training for the annual Firemen's Tournament to be held at Moncton on July 30, 31 and August 1st.

Headed by such well known stars as Percy Cameron, Jack Turner, Jr., and Jimmy Cudmore, the Charlottetown squad of 25 members can be expected to give an excellent account of themselves.

The actual sports events will be run off on Wednesday, July 31st, commencing at 1:30.

The following are the events, with number of entries from this city:

Hose Reel Race—(10).
Ladder Race—(7).
Hose Coupling—(2 teams)
Duty Race—(4).
Relay Race—(1 team.
Salvage Corps Race—(1 team).
100 Yards Dash—(3).
440 Yards Dash—(3).

About 500 firemen from all parts of the Maritimes are expected to attend the meet.

W. J. Bevins will be in charge of the Charlottetown team.

During the absence of the local firemen who will attend the Moncton sports, suitable replacements have been made so as not to have the Charlottetown firefighters short-handed in case of an emergency arising in this city.

Feature Race Postponed Until Today

(By The Associated Press)

OLD ORCHARD BEACH, Me., July 24—Franklin Safford of Keene, N.H., drove his own Rusty Hanover to a two-heat victory in the 2:12 bar pace in a Grand Circuit program delayed two hours today to let the clay "kite" track dry out after two days of rain.

The strip still was too sticky for the two-year-olds, and the featured national stake for colts of that age, worth $5,135, was put over until tomorrow.

Secretary Ed Keller said the $12,000 national stake for three-year-old trotters, a preview of the Hambletonian, and the Star Pointer stake for aged pacers also would be run tomorrow while the Goldsmith Maid, for aged trotters, would be postponed from tomorrow until Friday.

Favorites Fall By Wayside In Tourney

By ANDY ROSS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, July 24—Between intermittent showers, play at the Canadian tennis championships here today reduced men's singles competitors to eight quarter-finalists and completed early rounds of the men's and women's doubles.

Two favorites were victims of startling upsets as a 20-year-old Ottawa youth, Gaetan Valois, and Edgar Lanthier, veteran Montreal competitor, clawed their way over seeded players and into the round of eight.

Valois dumped J. J. Desjardins of Montreal, fifth seeded Canadian in the tournament, by scores of 6-3, 9-7.

Lanthier scored his second upset of the tourney when he bounced the second seeded American, Don Hawley of East Orange, N. J., to the sidelines in a hard-fought three-set affair, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2.

There was only one other upset, with the second-seeded pair of Pat Macken of Montreal and Audrey Bradshaw of Bedford, Que., dropping a two-set, second-round match to the Ottawa team of Marjorie McInnis and Lillian Blocksidge. Other favored combinations in singles and both men's and women's doubles coasted along easily.

The Canadian champion of 1940, Don McDiarmid of Ottawa, had to go three sets to dispose of the Montreal intermediate titlist, Percy Bennett, 6-1, 0-6, 6-0.

Jean Marois, of Quebec, seeded eight behind McDiarmid in the domestic ratings downed Gordie McNeil of Montreal in another tough match, 6-4, 5-7, 6-2, while third-seeded Henri Rochon, Montreal Davis Cup player, had to be on his toes to beat Ottawa's Bobby Duford 2-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Morey Lewis, top-seeded American playing out of Huntsville, Alabama, scored a straight-set victory over towering Don Hodges, Regina ace who was rated seventh in Canadian seedings, 6-4, 6-1.

The other survivors were Montreal's Macken brothers, Brendan and Jimmy, rated fourth and sixth, respectively.

As a doubles team, the Mackens, who play in United States intercollegiate tennis for William and Mary University of Williamsburg, Virginia, squelched the Ottawa team of Ken Martindale and Herb Aitken without losing a game.

In men's singles tomorrow's draw brings together McDiarmid and Valois, Marois and Jimmy Macken, Lewis and Brendan Macken and Rochon and Lanthier to fight for semi-final places.

Legion and Anchors, both not yet certain of a playoff spot, will provide the competition in the City Baseball League tonight and a red-hot game is expected with both teams promising to go all out in search of a victory.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Legion's stalemate with the Rovers on Tuesday night did a lot to boost the morale of the veterans' team. Although they again had victory snatched from them in the latter part of the contest Manager McNeill is confident that his team is now about ready to start clicking in all departments in their drive for a playoff berth.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Anchors, forced to abide with a tie for second section honors when they apparently had it all sewed up, will be in a determined frame of mind for tonight's encounter. From now on they will need all the victories they can muster in their drive for a playoff and word from their camp is that they will make a supreme effort to get off on the right foot in tonight's tussle.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Boxing fans saw plenty of action and some real honest-to-goodness efforts at the boxing card between Charlottetown and Summerside mittslingers at the Sporting Club Tuesday night. Everyone who sat in on the show had words of commendation for the boys' efforts and events such as these are rapidly becoming popular.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

The boys may lack plenty in the finer points of the game but they certainly give all they have every minute they are in the ring. There is no stalling but they settle right down to business in an effort to be returned the victors.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Although the coming 10-mile Maritime open road race is not receiving much publicity these days nevertheless a dozen or so Island boys are out training regularly in the evenings. Fast times for distances of six to eight miles are rumored as being marked up and if this is so the boys aren't going to lose any time when race night rolls around.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Nothing has been heard as yet of any entries coming in from mainland points, but promoter Joey McDonald is confident that the sister provinces will be well represented when the entry deadline is reached.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Riverside races produced some great racing yesterday, according to fans who were present at Leo Praught's plant. Exceptionally close finishes were in evidence in practically every heat and it is likely that when Old Home Week rolls around the Island horses, together the large number that will be here from the mainland will be right at their peak, ready to provide fans with the best four-day's racing in the history of this eagerly-looked forward too annual event.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

Day by day, it looks like Harold (the Lefty) Newhouser again will be crowned king of American League pitchers. The elongated, level-headed master of the mound is chucking the baseball for Detroit at a pace well ahead of the past two seasons when he topped the circuit performers.

• • •

Sandy-haired Hal has won 18 games and lost only three for the best 1946 mark in the league. And, incidentally, that figure puts him far in front of his curve-balling record in '44 and '45.

• • •

The 25-year-old mound ace had his best year in the majors in 1944 when he hurled 29 victories and suffered nine defeats. That year, through July 15, his record showed only 13 wins and five losses. In 1945, Newhouser grabbed 13 triumphs, but lost six through mid-July as he amassed a season record of 25 victories and nine setbacks.

• • •

So, looking at the ledger for the present, Hal's 18 won and three lost puts him decidedly ahead of his two best seasons in both columns.

• • •

With the season not half completed, he has what appears an excellent opportunity of crashing into the 30-game winner class. Hal's victories have been supported by 148 strikeouts. That mid-season mark also seems to place him in good position to crack his best previous figure of 212 strikeouts that topped the league in 1945. He fanned 187 to lead the league in 1944.

June Morning Is Winner Of Stake Race At Riverside

Showing exceptional pacing ability June Morning, owned by George MacDonald of Mermaid paced off with a straight heat victory in the Victoria Driving Club's stake for 2:30 pacers at Riverside yesterday to cop the lion's share of the $630.00 purse. Lucky Number provided the competition in all three heats but couldn't quite reach the smooth, MacDonald-owned pacing machine.

Graced by the best of racing weather and performing over a good track, the four classes gave the 2000 fans in attendance many a thrill as they came pounding down the stretch in blanket finishes with the outcome being in doubt right to the wire.

Before the first heat was called the crowd observed one minute's silence in memory of the late Pictou Brown, well-known horseman who passed away on Tuesday afternoon.

O. U. Volo, Bonnie's Boy and Lorraine Abbe came to the wire for the Junior Free For All with the O. U. Volo horse capturing the first and third heats to cop top position. In the first heat with Bonnie's Boy going away on the rail, the winner made his bid in the stretch to nip Lorraine Abbe in the stretch duel.

Throughout the second heat positions changed frequently but this time it was Lorraine Abbe who paced fast in the stretch to head O. U. Volo and even matters up.

But the rugged Volo horse had too much left for the third heat. He took over the lead at the first turn the second trip around and from there home was never headed.

A stunning surprise came in the No. 1 Classified when the veteran campaigner Beaverdale, showing all kinds of trotting ability headed the field in the first and third heats to cop the event. He went away on the rail the first heat and was never headed. In the second mile Marjorie Budlong and Winnie Scott, the latter finishing seventh in the first heat, both came on fast to head him, with Marjorie winning the heat; but Beaverdale, showing a lot of racing heart came from far back in the third heat to again come through in the stretch after previously losing the lead at the three-quarter mark.

Marion L. had too much foot for seven other starters in the No. 2 Classified, pacing off with the first two heats and finishing second in the third to win the event.

She was in fifth horse place going away the first heat but took over the lead at the halfway mark and from there on made every post a winning one.

Going away at the rail for the second mile, Marion lead all the way as she staved off the closing drive of Eleanor G., but in the final mile Eleanor G., snapping the rail shortly after the start, was never headed, winning by a length after being 2-2 in the two previous heats.

It was 1-1-1 for June Morning in the '30 Class Pace. Lucky Number, improving with every race made a battle of it in every heat with Buddy Budlong only a couple of steps behind but they couldn't quite catch the fleet-footed little pacer. Battles between the remaining horses were close, however, as they paced down the stretch pretty well bunched together.

GOLF

By BYRON NELSON

Recently in discussing the tendency the average player has to put too much of the right side in the swing, I didn't devote much space to checking errors in the swing.

I'll go into that today and start off the discussion by reviewing the fact that a great many of the old school of golf professionals used to advise their pupils, in order to make them leftside conscious, to hit against their left side.

You no longer hear golf professionals advising their pupils to follow that theory and the reason for that is that slow moving pictures have revealed that this is just as much of an error as it is to impart too much right side during the course of the swing.

Get your left side set up correctly, of course, so that the weight is distributed on your feet so that the greater part of it is on the left foot, but whatever you do don't consciously hit against the left side. That's like hitting against a stone wall.

However, only occasionally do you find a player who tries to hit the ball against his left side. Most players give it too much right side.

In checking your swing remember that if your swing is too loose it means that you are too loose from the waist down. If your swing is too tight you're too tight from the waist up.

Some players, in checking over their swings, worry about their left shoulder not coming up enough. Don't worry about it too much. Just as you can cure your error of imparting too much right side into your swing, you can also be assured that if you are set up right before making your swing that your left shoulder will come up. You won't even have to think about it.

Which reminds me that I am frequently asked, "What do you think about while on your backswing?"

Frankly, I never give the backswing a thought. Nor any part of the swing, for that matter.

Once you start thinking about the fundamentals of the golf swing while actually playing the game, there is a tendency to overexaggerate everything. As I've said in this space before, when I am playing golf I am not conscious about my swing.

The only impression I retain of my golf swing from memory, unless I conduct a searching examination of my mind, is that I am very positive and aggressive in addressing the ball. All of which I attribute to some unconscious psychological twist in my makeup because I am aware that it gives me more confidence in myself.

I am also fully aware that I now have to cock my wrists more at the top of my swing than I had to in the past, but that is because I am older. However, that doesn't alarm me because I realize that every player in the game, as he grows older, must get more of a wrist cock at the top of his swing than he did as a youngster.

Whatever you do, don't delay in addressing the ball. Solit second timing has revealed that nine seconds is a long time between the address and the actual hitting of the ball, even for the fellow who has to throw in a few wiggles and waggles of his own. Take all the time you need, but no more. Step up to your ball, address and then knock it out there a mile. When your swing is right you feel as if you can.

Dodgers Climb Back Into First Place

By The Canadian Press

With an able assist from the sixth-place New York Giants, the never-say-die Dodgers from Brooklyn climbed back into first place in the National League last night as they downed the third-place Chicago Cubs 2-1 in flatbush.

The Cards dropped a 3-1 decision at New York as Johnny Mize belted a 420-foot home run with one aboard in the last of the ninth to drop the Red Birds one game off the pace.

Brooklyn scored both their runs in the first inning, and then clung tenaciously to those vital markers as Joe Hatten twirled six-hit ball the rest of the way.

Cincinnati Reds defeated the Braves 2-1 yesterday in the first game of a long home stay for the Boston squad.

Bucky Walters hung up his seventh victory against two defeats and his second against the Braves in as many starts.

Johnny Hopp, the National League's leading hitter, was the only Brave to get more than one hit, with three for four, including a double.

The Braves' run came in the first frame when Dick Culler singled, Rowell grounded out and Hopp doubled to score Culler.

The victory moved Reds into the first division two games over the fifth-place Braves.

Elmer Larter Hurls No-Hit, No-Run Game

(Special to The Guardian)

PICTOU, N. S., July 24—Elmer Larter hurled a no-hit, no-run game tonight as Charlottetown All Stars defeated Pictou Red Sox 7-0. The All-Stars gave Larter brilliant support in the field, holding a 1-0 lead for six innings in a pitching duel with Pony Daly until they scored twice in the seventh.

Daly was replaced by Tic Williams who gave up four runs and who later gave way to Kirk MacDonald.

Merry Ellen Winner Of $1,000 Stake

(By The Canadian Press)

SYDNEY, N. S., July 24—Merry Ellen, a steady pacing mare, today won the $1,000 Cape Breton Stake Race, feature event of a harness racing card here.

Driven by Bernie Curry of New Waterford, Merry Ellen triumphed in the run-off a few minutes after the crowd of 1,600 paid silent tribute to her former co-owner, Alex K. MacDonald of Dominion, who died suddenly yesterday.

Jacob Withrow took the $300 2.16 to 2.19 while Chuck Worthy won the $400 free for all in straight heats.

MONCTON, N. B., July 24—Celebrating the return of horse-racing to Moncton after a lapse of seven years, a capacity crowd saw Sunnymeade, owned by John Mehan, St. Stephen, race to victory in the second division of the junior free-for-all. In winning, the St. Stephen horse set a time of 2:08 for the new Moncton Raceway. This time is a half second faster than the record for the former race track here, the Speedway.

The two-day meet will conclude tomorrow with the feature attraction being the senior free-for-all. According to veteran horse racing fans and officials, today's races were the finest seen anywhere in the Maritime Provinces this season.

REMEMBER WHEN

(By The Canadian Press)

Big Bill Tilden was reinstated at Paris as a member of the United States Davis Cup team 18 years ago today by the U. S. Lawn Tennis Association after French tennis officials pleaded with the American ambassador. He had allegedly violated amateur rules. France won the challenge round 4—1, Tilden trimming Rene Lacoste but bowing to Henri Cochet for his first straight-set defeat in nine years of Davis Cup tennis.
