PROF. L. A. ZUFELT GIVES ADVICE

To the Patrons of Island Cheese Factories

He Advises Better Feeding in Order that Greater Profit be made. Farmers must be Taught how to feed.

Professor L. A. Zufelt of the Kingston Ont., Dairy School and the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association who has been on the Island for the past month aiding the makers in the cheese factories left on return for his home in Chesterville, Ont. on Saturday morning.

At the close of the meeting of the Cheese Board Friday afternoon Professor L. A. Zufelt, Ottawa, who has been sent by the Government to visit the different cheese factories throughout the Province delivered an excellent address on the good and bad points of Island cheese manufacture.

Professor Zufelt, in opening, said he had just completed his tour, having visited all the Island factories but one. The equipment in most factories is equal to that of Ontario in most regards. The Island has special advantages such as cool climate. There are also some disadvantages such as proximity to the shore which gives marshy flavor. Milk with such a flavor has mostly been rejected by makers.

Such matters as these are easily remedied. When speaking at last meeting he had highly praised the cheese he had inspected.

On this occasion however he had not found as good cheese in the eastern sections. This no doubt was due in some extent to weather conditions. This cheese had not the same body and texture as that examined in the cooler weather. He was struck by the system of manufacture which was being used—the large quantity of rennet. In Ontario much less was used and if a reduction were made here without loss a saving in expenditure would result. The makers are doing exceedingly well in manufacture. They are turning out a good average in cheese which is liked in England. The makers must be guided by the buyers as they are the ones to please.

He advised that the factories do not peddle too extensively to different buyers. By doing this they cater to different markets and different tastes, necessitating change and confusion to the manufacturer. It is better to stick to one standard way of making. The best suited to the buyer should be ascertained and then keep in the same channels. This you will establish a reputation and eventually buyers will pay higher for your cheese. He mentioned the system of selling cheese and referred to having one salesman for two or three factories. In Ontario there is often only one salesman for twenty or thirty. This is advantageous to the buyers as he does not have to make so many bargains. He did not think, however that it would be wise to adopt this plan at once. In a few factories improvement could be made in drainage, poor floors, etc. but not withstanding factories generally are in good condition.

The greatest handicap is want of milk. Educate the farmer to produce more milk. He was greatly surprised to find the small amount supplied by individual patrons. The average was not more than ten pounds per cow a day (expressions of surprise). No doubt many individual patrons supply more but this is the average. He questioned whether a profit was made in many cases even at the present high price, as the cow will consume more than she gives.

It is not so much the better breed of cow needed as the manner of feeding. Cows go on grass in spring in poor condition and by the time she is built up the hot weather is here, grass is scarce, etc. The cow must be fed all she can eat to get a large supply of milk. There is no reason that the cow will not give $40, $45 or $50 from the factory. One cow in Guelph gave 11,000 lbs of milk in one season. Compare that with 3000 lbs which some now have here. Try to emulate and do not be satisfied with less than 7000 lbs per season. House cows better and turn them out in the spring in good condition. Then they will produce milk as they should.

The best food is that nearest the natural grasses. Again he emphasized "Become better feeders." If some sold half their cows and fed all to the remainder they would have more dollars at the end of the year. Go a little more into winter dairying, run the factories a little. Then the cows must be fed better and they will be in better condition in winter. If some cows were fresh now when the cheese is high the benefit is clearly seen. As the result of the small supply of milk, factories are spread over large areas and the milk hauled a long distance is not in as good condition. The Island needs a man who thoroughly understands feeding and stock to go through the Province, meet with the farmers and give them instruction in the matter.

RHEUMATISM IS A CONSTITUTIONAL DISEASE.

The pain and localized conditions are mere results of constitutional conditions. Poisoned blood sends its evil influence to various parts of the body, and to cure permanently you must treat its constitutionally. Nothing so completely dispels these poisons from the system as Ferrozone. It makes new blood. It imparts vitality and vigor, enabling the system to throw off the poisons that engender rheumatism. Ferrozone also fortifies the system against the weakening effects of rheumatism, and cures, not simply relieves as most medicines do. Sold by all druggists.

ATTRACTIONS FOR THE EXHIBITION

The Greatest That Have Ever Been Shown Here—

The Promise of a Very Successful Fair—Attractions will include a Balloon Ascension with Parachute.

This year the Exhibition at Charlotte-town will far eclipse all others heretofore held here. The exhibition entries to date are believed to be far in excess of those received at the same time last year.

The horse, cattle, sheep and pig entries closed on Friday last and as the books have not been posted up yet owing to the tremendous crush in taking entries, yet it is thought by the Secretary and those who were assisting him in this office that there will be far more entries in these classes than there were last year. All other entries close on Friday next the 18th inst. Six classes of horse races have filled and there will be two grand days horse racing.

In addition to the Exhibition which gives such great lessons to our farmers in the breeding of Live Stock and the best means of cultivation of the soil the Exhibition management have provided means of pleasure for the farmers their wives, sons and daughters who may attend the Exhibition.

The Secretary on Saturday evening last received a telegram closing the engagements for the attractions which the management have been for some time negotiating for.

The attractions procured come direct from New York and far exceed in number and quality anything ever seen in the Maritime Provinces.

There will be flying Trapeze performances by the four world famed aerialists the flying Danbars on the afternoons and evenings of the two race days Wednesday and Thursday the 23rd and 24th instants.

Next there will be the greatest acrobatic performances by Polk and Tresk, the world famed acrobats on the same afternoon and evenings. The management in 1900 had acrobatic performances and every one who saw them was more than pleased. These now procured, we are assured from those who have seen them far exceed what was seen here in 1900.

Next there will be the nyctagos comedy casting act, an act which has been very popular and attracted large crowds in New York and other American cities.

Besides all these they have secured a great sensational balloon ascension with parachute descent by a lady and gentleman on the afternoons of Wednesday and Thursday, the two race days. There was a balloon ascension here at one exhibition before, but never has there been a balloon ascension with two people in the parachute and most certainly never a balloon ascension in which a lady took part.

These attractions have been secured at great cost to the management and the witnessing of these thrilling acts will afford amusement, enjoyment and pleasure and will cause the Exhibition to be not only a means of instruction to our farmers but will also enable them to go home feeling they have had one of the greatest pleasures of their lives after the summer's hard toil.
