

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

BOWLING
HOCKEY
WRESTLING

BOXING
BASKETBALL
OTHER SPORT

St. Louis Eagles Quit National Hockey League; Kelly Goes To Detroit

Board Of Governors Purchase Club Franchise. Kelly Designated For Americans Later Traded To Red Wings For Voss.

(By Bob Cavagnaro, Associated Press Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—St. Louis Eagles, plagued by financial difficulties last year, passed from the National Hockey League today when the board of governors purchased outright the club's franchise, players and all.

The departure of the Eagles, who were owned by Ottawa interests led by Redmond Quain, was tantamount to the final fade-out of the Ottawa Senators, one of the four charter members of the National Hockey League at its inception 18 years ago.

The regular meeting of the board, called an emergency meeting, called an emergency meeting of the board and advocated the purchase of the franchise. The purchase price was not announced officially but it was reliably stated that the eight surviving clubs contributed $5,000, or a total of $50,000.

The urgency of the meeting was in part due to the fact that the 36 schedule had to be drawn up, including arrangements for Stanley Cup playoffs. Calder, league president since there is no prospect of a buyer for the franchise, called an emergency meeting of the board and advocated the purchase of the franchise.

Emergency Meeting
Frank Calder, President of the league, called an emergency meeting of the board and advocated the purchase of the franchise.

Down The Alleys

HOLY NAME HALL Ladies Bowling

Last night on the Holy Name alleys, the second game for the Kelly & McInnis Trophy was very evenly contested when the Ravens defeated the Five Aces by a majority of 78 pins.

Table with 3 columns: Player Name, Five Aces Score, Ravens Score. Includes players like B. McQuaid, E. Connors, M. Clinton, R. Sinnott, G. Young.

Maritime Educational Council Meets

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
TRURO, N. S., Oct. 15.—Great influence of Sunday School teachers in building character and their responsibility for growth and improvement of youthful minds were stressed by Rev. M. K. Lappin, Baptist Minister of Sackville, N. B., at the opening of the 16th annual convention of the Maritime Education Council here tonight.

President Rev. B. D. Earle of St. Stephen, N. B., reviewed the work of the council and Rev. James Forbes of Loggieville, N. B., replied to an address of welcome extended to delegates to the convention extended by Rev. M. K. Charman, president of Truro Ministerial Association.

Other officers of the Maritime Religious Education Council present at the initial convention meeting were: Vice-Presidents, Rev. G. E. Ross of Fredericton, N. B., Rev. E. V. Forbes of Shubenacadie, N. S., and M. Ross Bethune of Charlottetown; Treasurer, Robert Reid of Saint John; Chairman General of the Board L. W. Simms of Saint John and Vice Chairman Dr. G. J. Trueman of Sackville.

IRISH TOWNS GO GAELIC

DUBLIN.—Towns in Ireland are showing an increasing tendency to revert to Gaelic designations. Kells has become Ceannanus Mor, Newtownbarry has become Buncoy and King's County is now O'Faly.

When the league took over the St. Louis franchise today and distributed the players, Voss originally was assigned to the Detroit Red Wings, but a trade was engineered and Pete Kelly, Eagle forward, who formerly played with Charlotte-town, allotted to the Amerks, goes to Detroit.

"Boy, this year we are going to have color and plenty of it," boasted Dutton as he named off Harold Cotton, Nels Stewart, Tom Anderson, Voss and Finnigan as the new acquisitions of the squad. "This year we should be able to go out and get goals and win games."

Among the amateurs who will try out are: Nakina Smith, Sudbury and Oshawa star; Will Fields, defence star with Winnipeg Monarchs last year; Whitney Farran, Toronto; Pete Leswick, a forward from Saskatoon; Wesley last year; Cronin and Mel Stroud, both from Trill; B. C.; Bill Wright, defence man from Drumheller, Alta., and several others expected to join the squad later in the week. Smith, Cronin and Snowden tried out here last season under Joe Simpson, who then managed the team.

Birthday Greetings

(By The Canadian Press)
REMEMBER WHEN—

The Kentucky Jockey Club Stakes worth $25,000 was won by Mizzy Whitney's Twenty Grand, a colt of St. Germans and Bon-a-carter a spectacular finish from Harry Payne Whitney's Equiptise, which was at Churchill Downs five days ago today. It was a nip and tuck affair. Twenty Grand winning

Beveridge Purchased By Maroons

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—T. P. Gorman, manager of Montreal Maroons, announced tonight he had purchased Bill Beveridge, goaltender, from Montreal Canadiens, who earlier in the day had acquired him from St. Louis. Gorman said the deal was a straight cash transaction.

Beveridge will replace Alex Connell who is retiring.
MONTREAL, Oct. 15.—Montreal Maroons of the National Hockey League were informed this week by Alex Connell, their veteran goalkeeper, that he would not be able to obtain leave of absence from his position in Ottawa, it was learned here tonight.

Montreal Canadiens drew Beveridge's services in the breaking up of St. Louis Eagles but a deal was quickly arranged whereby Beveridge went to the Stanley Cup holders. Information reaching here was that manager Tommy Gorman expects Joe Lamb, former Sussex, N. B., amateur, to have a good season under Maroon colors. He turned pro with the club in 1928 before starting his trek around the circuit during which time he has worn the colors of Ottawa, Boston, New York Americans and Eagles.

O'Mahony Retains Title

PROVIDENCE, R.I., Oct. 15.—Danno O'Mahony retained his wrestling crown here tonight by taking two straight falls from Gus Sonnenberg.

O'Mahony used his Irish whip to win the first fall at 18:48 after Sonnenberg had missed a hard flying tackle. Sonnenberg set the pace as they went into the second fall. With a head scissor he drew blood from O'Mahony's mouth. A moment later he scored with a flying tackle as O'Mahony broke out of the punishing headlock.

With a sudden spurt O'Mahony applied a body scissor and as Sonnenberg broke loose and hit the ropes the Irish champion pinned him for the deciding fall in 9:21.

Interest In Hockey Reviving

With the news of the big league hockey teams repairing to their training camps preliminary to the opening of the 1935-36 season, Nov. 7, interest in the ice game here is reviving. The Maritime Provinces will be well represented in the senior circuit this year with the recent jump of Ron Hudson and Knucker Irvine who are trying out with the Detroit Red Wings and Toronto Leafs respectively, and those who gained the "monied" ranks the latter part of last season.

Irvine MacKie rangy Abegweit defenseman who caught the fancy of Maritime hockey enthusiasts last year will leave the latter part of the week for Saint John where he will try out with the Boston Bruins. Frankie Currie, ace Able defenceman who was sought by a team in the Montreal senior group will this year be displaying his wares in England for which country he has already left. Currie is the third player of last year's Abegweit team to "cross the pond" and the sixth in the past two seasons. Former Abegweit now in England and on the Continent are, Nicholson, Sargent, Beaton, McArthur, McCann and Currie.

Chuck Templeton's SPORTRAITS

DETROIT TIGERS TO REMAIN INTACT
SOFTBALL SERIES OPENS TODAY
MCLLELLAN READY TO FIGHT HART

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
DETROIT, Oct. 15.—It looks as if Detroit Tigers believe the team that brought home the bacon this year will be good enough to keep it in 1936.

Frank Navin, Club President who won his $100,000 gamble that Mickey Cochrane would prove one of the game's greatest player-managers, isn't committing himself on the question of whether the Tigers will attempt a definite strengthening program next season. But from the way things look now, Detroit will start the 1936 campaign with practically the same club that won two American League pennants and a world's championship in two years.

Restore Rectory History Grained

(By The Canadian Press)
WINNIPEG, Oct. 15.—Lillian Gibbons writes in The Tribune of the old rectory at St. Andrew's, 16 miles from the city, it was Archdeacon Cochrane's house and is still lived in after 85 years.

This summer the Woman's Auxiliaries of the parish raised funds to restore the old stone house to habitable condition. The eight active members of the W. A. served supper in two downstairs rooms of the rectory to pay off the repair bill. Deaconess S. E. Millidge, 83 attended that supper party, so did Mrs. Janet Fulsher, 98 year old Manitoban born, also members of the diocesan board of the W. A. of Rupert's Land, and Anglicans from far and near who heard the call of the Archdeacon once again.

"Why did we restore the rectory?" echoed Miss Helen Hay, president of the W. A., as she dished up supper in the old kitchen. "Because old timers kept coming back to St. Andrew's, shaking their heads at its decay. Last year the high school pupils used two rooms of it as classrooms. Walls and ceilings were falling so we took steps. We had just $5 in the treasury when we started."

In the dining room is an old sideboard carved in Red River. Its back has a scroll of woodwork that some loving hand tried hard to execute, but stopped a little short of perfection. Vast outboards, also hand-carved, appear in other rooms.

Go up those old stairs now, lighted by oil lamps, and see the little gallery at the top, hemming in the landing like a bias binding on an apron. Peep in—see the pretty pink paper in that, and the yellow rosebud pattern in that one? That looks modern and new, doesn't it? But now look at those deep window sills—two and a half feet thick the walls are. "I know now it's an old, old house," you say.

Out on the railed-off landing again you notice the trap in the ceiling. Somebody might have hidden up there. Somebody did. If you talk to Very Rev. J. W. Matheson, a Dean of St. John's Cathedral, he will tell you of Dr. Schultz who saved his life by hiding in that garret after he escaped from Louis Riel's prison in Fort Garry, during the rebellion. The Dean, you see, lived in the rectory from 1891 to 1894, at the beginning of his ministry. He knows the history of the house from the days of the Archdeacon.

This summer Dean Matheson and Mrs. Matheson lived in it again, with their son-in-law, Mr. Tomkins and their grandchildren. To Mrs. Matheson it was a time of pleasant recollections—she went into the rectory as a bride in January, 1862, when the four Carron slaves were welcome members of the household.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Dean, with their two sons, who are from the

Twenty-nine Starters For Cesarewitch

(C.P. Cable By Guardian's Special Wire)
NEWMARKET, England, Oct. 15.—All was set here tonight for the 2 1/4 mile Cesarewitch stakes which with the Cambridgehire on this same course makes up the famous double of the English fall racing season. The Cambridgehire is run Oct. 30.

Twenty-nine may go to the post tomorrow in quest of the Cesarewitch's 1,000 sovereigns added and the honor of the stakes carry for three year olds and up. Final call-over gives G. F. X. Hartigan's Tommoak top-position at 13 to 2, but other favorites include Louie Gunn's Woodstock at 8 to 1 and Sir Abe Bailey's Doreen Jane at 15 to 2.

Final acceptors, their jockeys and latest odds are: Hoptite (Harry Wrags) 18-1; Hoptite (Ellis) 20-1; Lucky Patch (Harryman) 100-8; Polly Stephens (Smirk) 40-1; Solitaire (Sam Wrags) 50-1; Shining Cloud- (Winston) 100-7; Tommoak (Gordon Richards) 13-2; Moroso (Gunn) 13-1; Doreen Jane (Dines) 15-2; Chrysler Second (Esary) 25-1; Nightcap (Sibbritt) 25-1; Near Relation (E. Smith) 28-1; Hands Off (Hamphrey Foster) 35-1; Penny-A-Liner (Cliff Richards) 45-1; Eunkawal (M. Hunter) 25-1; Woodstock (Shirrett) 8-1; Knight of Monaster (Richardson) 80-1; New Era (Ryan) 50-1; Scusi (A. Burns) 100-1; Honey Dun (Robertson) 80-1; Viny Ridge (Bartlam) 50-1; Colmored (Evans) 50-1; Little Wyvil (Middleton) 50-1; Sir Calidore (Sharpe) 80-1; Samarkand (Lynch) 25-1; Grayman (D. Smith) 66-1; Court Equerry (McCohell) 50-1; Volino (Wing) 100-1; Option Money (Sadgrove) 100-1.

Cites Increase In German Merchant Ships

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire)
NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—Germany alone increased her production of merchant ships during the three months ending Sept. 30, Lloyd's register of shipping reports, while world production of ships of 100 tons and upward showed a 1-2 per cent decline.

The report, which the agency says covers all Maritime countries except Russia, on which no authentic reports are available, cites the increase for Germany of approximately 12.5 per cent compared with decreases of about five per cent for Great Britain and Ireland, and nearly 35 per cent for the United States.

No change in relative ranking of shipbuilding countries is indicated by the report which shows Great Britain and Ireland maintaining an easy lead. Germany in second place is far ahead of Sweden, the first ranking nation. The United States remains at the foot of the list in ninth place.

WEDDING ETIQUETTE

Judging by the engagement announcements in our social pages, this fall is going to be an exceptionally busy one as far as weddings are concerned. Both brides-elect and their families are often confused about the proper order of things in planning and carrying out wedding arrangements. Here are some pointers which may help:

- 1. How long before a wedding should invitations be mailed?
A.—From two to three weeks.
2. Are wedding announcements sent to persons who received invitations?
A.—No.
3. Is it necessary to acknowledge a wedding invitation or announcement with a present?
A.—No. Intimacy with the family and fondness for the bride would be the reason for sending a gift, large or small, according to one's means.
4. No one should know the bride is the gift sent to the bridegroom?
A.—No. Wedding gifts are always addressed to the bride and sent to her home previous to the wedding.
5. Does an invitation to a church wedding without a reception card, call for an answer?
A.—No. If one is not invited to the home no answer is necessary.
6. Is it appropriate for a girl to have married women for bridesmaids?
A.—Not so appropriate, but custom has made it permissible.
7. Does a bride have both a matron and a maid of honor?
A.—No. She has a maid of honor only, her attendant being properly called "maid of honor" whether she be married or single.
8. What is the correct formation of the wedding recessional? Do the ushers walk with the bridesmaids? Does the best man walk with the maid of honor?
A.—Pairing off bridesmaids with ushers in either the processional or the recessional is not done in the well-planned wedding. The correct order of the recessional is: Bride and bridegroom, maid of honor walking alone, bridesmaids walking together two by two, ushers walking together two by two. The best man waits till the recessional is on its way, then returns to the vestry room to hand the clergyman his fee, given him by the bridegroom.
9. Is it correct to have wedding presents displayed and, if so, should the cards be left with them?
A.—Wedding presents are no longer formally displayed. If shown at all, the cards are first removed.
10. What expenses of a wedding are borne by the bride's family?
A.—The bride's family provide the bride's trousseau, the invitations, announcements, decorations for house and church, and music. The bridegroom provides a wedding present to the bride, a gift to the best man and each of the bridesmaids and ushers, their hos-

Tennis To Be Hobby From Now On - Perry

(By Paul Zimmerman, Associated Press Sports Writer)
SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 15.—Fred Perry, the world's greatest tennis player, becomes Mr. Fredrick J. Perry, the business man, when he boards the Lurline tomorrow night bound for Australia.

"From now on tennis will be just a hobby with me," said the husband of Helen Vinson, the actress, between alternate spells of packing and bidding friends farewell today. "I'm going into business and you really can't make lawn tennis your business, you know. Of course a man must have a hobby so mine will be tennis."
Perry's employers will be Slazenger Ltd., an Australian sporting concern, and his work will take him from Australia a goodly share of the time into England, Canada and the United States. And no longer entertains professional ideas. "That was finished last April," he said. "Now I think I can profit better by working up in some business. I am looking into the future in my new work."

Hudson Turns Out With Red Wings

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
DETROIT, Oct. 15.—Two rookies, Carl Liscomb, of Hamilton, Ont., and Johnny Sherf, last year's University of Michigan captain, stole the spotlight today at the first loss practice of the Detroit Red Wings and Olympic hockey teams.

Liscomb, leading scorer in O. H. A. senior ranks last season, showed a nice touch of speed, while the youthful Sherf proved a good starter and played well around the nets.

During the absence of manager Jack Adams in New York, the squad worked out under the direction of Donnie Bush, youthful leader of the international outfit.

Weekly Editor's Varied Memories

(Canadian Press)
REGINA, Oct. 15.—Felix Fornari, editor and publisher of the Wadena, Sask., "News," is one of Western Canada's most interesting personalities. Some of the highlights of his varied career were related when he attended a recent convention of Saskatchewan weekly editors and proved him to have a newspaper background that few Canadians can equal.

Among his earlier memories was the naming of "Kenora." This was done by taking the first two letters of three nearby towns, Kenawatin, Norma and Rat Portage, because Rat Portage citizens disliked the name given their home town.

Fornari was the first white child born at Prince Albert's landing (now Port Arthur), first seeing the light of day in 1870. His father, a surveyor, was a Frenchman. His mother was Irish. His grandfather was Italian, and his grandfather French. The grandfather settled in Canada after being banished from Italy for supporting Garibaldi, the Italian emancipator.

Fornari's first connection with journalism came in 1888, when at 18 he furnished the power for the Rat Portage Progress by turning the hand operated press. "I became chief engineer," he says, "when the hand system was replaced by a wood burning engine."

Since his early break into the newspaper field he has worked all over the North American continent. He says he can't begin to remember all the papers he has served. Some of them are the New York Times; Detroit Free Press, Cleveland Plain Dealer, Milwaukee Sentinel, Victoria Colonist, and Winnipeg Free Press.

Most of his extensive travels were by the box-car route, and he can still recall with a grin the nights he slept in a sewer pipe, and the days when the soles of his shoes flapped as he walked.

Fornari's ambition was always to "own a really nice plant," and his desires have now been fulfilled. He has published the Wadena News since 1929, one of the most modern and best equipped plants in the west.

"Only" 65 years of age, he says, he still works seven days a week and sets more type on his linotype than most operators in the west.

Normie Mann To Play With Syracuse

(A. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 15.—Normie Mann, a centre, rated as one of Toronto's outstanding amateur hockey players for the last three years, will wear the uniform of Syracuse Stars in the International League this season, Eddie Powers, coach of the Twins, announced today.

Mann, who is 21 and weighs 170, came into the sports spotlight when, at the age of 16, he played on the Paris Intermediate Ontario Hockey Association championship team. During his career he has been associated with three other championship organizations, the Newmarket Club, Dominion Junior champions; the Toronto, Senior O.H.A. champions, and the British Consuls, Mercantile League champions.

Hudson Turns Out With Red Wings

(C. P. By Guardian's Special Wire)
DETROIT, Oct. 15.—Two rookies, Carl Liscomb, of Hamilton, Ont., and Johnny Sherf, last year's University of Michigan captain, stole the spotlight today at the first loss practice of the Detroit Red Wings and Olympic hockey teams.

Liscomb, leading scorer in O. H. A. senior ranks last season, showed a nice touch of speed, while the youthful Sherf proved a good starter and played well around the nets.

During the absence of manager Jack Adams in New York, the squad worked out under the direction of Donnie Bush, youthful leader of the international outfit.

Ronnie Hudson, of Halifax, and Don Deacon, of Prince Albert, Sask., were other amateurs to show to advantage. The veterans, on the whole, appeared in fair physical condition and displayed plenty of enthusiasm.

WEDDING ETIQUETTE

Judging by the engagement announcements in our social pages, this fall is going to be an exceptionally busy one as far as weddings are concerned. Both brides-elect and their families are often confused about the proper order of things in planning and carrying out wedding arrangements. Here are some pointers which may help:

- 1. How long before a wedding should invitations be mailed?
A.—From two to three weeks.
2. Are wedding announcements sent to persons who received invitations?
A.—No.
3. Is it necessary to acknowledge a wedding invitation or announcement with a present?
A.—No. Intimacy with the family and fondness for the bride would be the reason for sending a gift, large or small, according to one's means.
4. No one should know the bride is the gift sent to the bridegroom?
A.—No. Wedding gifts are always addressed to the bride and sent to her home previous to the wedding.
5. Does an invitation to a church wedding without a reception card, call for an answer?
A.—No. If one is not invited to the home no answer is necessary.
6. Is it appropriate for a girl to have married women for bridesmaids?
A.—Not so appropriate, but custom has made it permissible.
7. Does a bride have both a matron and a maid of honor?
A.—No. She has a maid of honor only, her attendant being properly called "maid of honor" whether she be married or single.
8. What is the correct formation of the wedding recessional? Do the ushers walk with the bridesmaids? Does the best man walk with the maid of honor?
A.—Pairing off bridesmaids with ushers in either the processional or the recessional is not done in the well-planned wedding. The correct order of the recessional is: Bride and bridegroom, maid of honor walking alone, bridesmaids walking together two by two, ushers walking together two by two. The best man waits till the recessional is on its way, then returns to the vestry room to hand the clergyman his fee, given him by the bridegroom.
9. Is it correct to have wedding presents displayed and, if so, should the cards be left with them?
A.—Wedding presents are no longer formally displayed. If shown at all, the cards are first removed.
10. What expenses of a wedding are borne by the bride's family?
A.—The bride's family provide the bride's trousseau, the invitations, announcements, decorations for house and church, and music. The bridegroom provides a wedding present to the bride, a gift to the best man and each of the bridesmaids and ushers, their hos-

There is no Substitute for Quality
VEEJOL MOTOR OIL
100% PENNSYLVANIA AT ITS FINEST
TIDE WATER OIL CO. OF CANADA, LTD., MONTREAL, TORONTO, REGINA
DISTRIBUTORS
THE FRED C. MANNING CO. LTD.
HALF AX, N. S.