ANNUAL FOX

last was by popular request. Each of the singers was loudly applauded for fine renditions of favorite songs. Prof. John Inch and Mrs. Raymond Reynolds were the accompanists. Dinner music was supplied by John Inch and Miss Kathleen Hornby.

During the course of the banquet a toast to the King was duly honored.

Visitors from other provinces were introduced to the foxmen by Mr. Hancock. These included: Messrs. F. Bailey, Fredericton; George McLeod, Port of Spain; Dr. Teakles, Sussex; Mr. Gordon, Manager of the Canadian Bank of Commerce in Halifax; Gordon Strait and Fred Warren, Port Elgin.

Hon. Mr. Dennis complimented the foxmen on the show which was a credit to the exhibitors, judges and others responsible. He referred to the excellent quality of the judge who is called on to make such important decisions in placing the animals. However, this is being well looked after by Judge Calbeck.

Mayor Holman, in his opening remarks, stated that the fox banquet was always "one of the best." Speaking of the exhibition part he said it was "one of the finest of its kind in Canada, not only for the staging of a fox show but also for the annual exhibition and horse races." It is well managed and always kept up to a high standard. He complimented the foxmen on having such a fine showing of animals this year and expressed the opinion that the fox show had been reached in this connection. "Prince Edward Island is still leading Canada and America for the high quality of foxes," he asserted. In conclusion he declared a hearty welcome from the city.

Judge's Remarks

Judge George Calbeck stated that the fox industry would be in a sad situation without the old stand-by—the silvers. However, those who were able to select the new types would go places. In white marked silver classes, he had seen some wonderful animals; the same was true of platinums. "Those who select and breed for quality are going to be well paid for their efforts," he declared when referring to the outlook for the new types. "The old stand-by, the standard 'ull silvers, has been the foundation from which they have been built up," he added.

Commenting on the present exhibition, he asserted, "The show here has been the most uniform I have had the privilege of judging." He was of the opinion that the foxes he judged yesterday were a little far along in fur and wanted that cold weather was needed before pelting should be started.

In conclusion, Mr. Calbeck stated that it was quite a problem to classify foxes and he complimented the committee who had charge of this work.

Mr. C. F. Bailey stated that he was particularly impressed with the equipment in use at the fox show. He had, several years ago, advocated classes for unregistered silvers which are now on display in this province's show. In his opinion the foxes on exhibition this year were of a higher standard than in any previous showing here. He was greatly impressed with the quality.

Canada's wheat Crop below Last year's

OTTAWA, Nov. 12.—(CP)—Canada's 1941 wheat crop was estimated today to be 1,000,000 bushels compared with 1,300,000 bushels in 1940.

The figure was contained in the bureau's second seasonal estimate and represented a decrease of 3,833,000 bushels from the first estimate issued in September.

"Lower production this year is the result of reductions both in the acreage seeded to wheat and in yield per acre," the bureau said. "The only important change since 1940 is a decrease in the yield of 4,000,000 bushels in Alberta."

The bureau estimated Alberta's wheat crop at 800,000 bushels and said the Saskatchewan and Manitoba estimates remained unchanged at 136,000,000 and 56,000,000 bushels.

"The total for the Prairie Provinces now stand at 282,000,000 bushels compared with the 1940 total of 325,000,000 bushels," the report stated.

Increases over the September figure occurred in Nova Scotia, Quebec and Ontario. Minor reductions were noted for Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick with the principal decrease occurring in Alberta.

The new Conservative leader's statement came just a few hours after Prime Minister Mackenzie King re-affirmed his statement that he would not introduce conscription for overseas service without consultation with the people.

Mr. Meighen's statement did not mention conscription for overseas service but it was critical of present methods of obtaining men and said total war was impossible with the present organization.

"Manpower is vital and manpower is lacking," said Mr. Meighen. "We struggle month after month at unheard of expense to make good this crying need and we fail. We struggle by unmanly and unworthy methods, by cajolery, by subterfuge by social thumbscrew, and still we fail."

As the enemy gained strength month by month it was necessary for Canada to support its troops and see them through to victory. That could not be left to individual caprice.

"Our present methods are illogical," he declared.

Mr. George McLeod spoke of the wheat program which is shown by the show here. He referred to the new types of foxes which are now on exhibit. These types have a chance to broaden and extend. The competition of these new types would encourage the breeders of standards to improve their quality, he believed.

Dr. Teakles spoke briefly about the white faced foxes of which he is a leading rancher. However, the silvers should not be neglected as they are the originators of these various mutations.

President Lowell Hancock stated that since the fox show started in 1929, 5700 foxes, including this year's entries, had been exhibited. Referring to the matter of publicity to the industry, he declared that Lt.-Col. D. A. MacKinnon, D. S. O., had done a wonderful work in keeping up the morale of the fox business through his column in the Charlottetown Guardian. In addition to this Col. MacKinnon had contributed a great deal to the present fox show.

Mr. W. R. Shaw, referring to the banquet said it tended to loosen up the tension of strenuous work in connection with the fox show. He asserted that the good will, liberality and respect which was enjoyed by those present was the very thing many young men of this province are today sacrificing and fighting for. He urged foxmen to see that the fox industry functions so that these young men may have a chance of incorporating themselves in it when they return.
