It's pretty well known that the horse-and-buggy men of major league baseball looked with a jaundiced eye toward the night game when it first was introduced by the Cincinnati Reds back in 1935, few of them admitting the durned thing was here to stay.

These die-hards must get a little red around the gills now when they look back on their expressed opinions, although it's true enough that if they had come out at that time with the flat prediction that some day nearly all the major teams would be playing at night whenever they had the urge they would have been considered dopey visionaries like the guys who thought Germany and Japan were getting ready for another war.

Anyway, the general idea of the baseball men at that time, summed up in a review of the season in a baseball guide for 1936, provides the party of the first part in a then-and-now situation.

From the 1936 guide:

Cincinnati is the first major league city in which night baseball has been given a trial. It was a success from the standpoint it was most hoped it would be—attendance. The night games (seven) attracted about 130,000 spectators. It must not be taken for granted that similar attendance would follow general adoption of night baseball in the major leagues...."

Now:

Night baseball has been adopted to the point where all but five parks are equipped with lights, installed because the clubs found they could profit as handsomely as Cincinnati by playing at night.

From the 1936 guide:

"There is always the possibility of being hit with a pitched ball, which of course increases with the playing of the game at night...."

Now:

Comparatively few beanings are suffered in night games. In fact, the most serious instances of hit batsmen in recent years have occurred in daylight games.

From the 1936 guide:

"The popularity of the novelty of night baseball has so impressed other owners tha. some who are seeking means to increase attendance are thinking of adopting it on their own grounds. It is a fact, however, that only those clubs favor it which are rarely out of the second division...."

Now:

The St Louis Browns and the St Louis Cardinals, leading their respective leagues, are among the strongest proponents of the night game.

All of which is just an indication of how easy it is to make wrong guesses, says he after picking the Browns for sixth place in the 1944 pennant race.

Nero fiddled while Rome burned, but genial Charlie Grimm left his banjo "to hum" on his Missouri farm when he took over the Chicago Cubs on May 7, when the Windy city was "boinin' up" because the Cubs had just dropped 10 straight games.

Not since Mrs O'Leary's cow kicked over the lantern has Chicago's population been so heated as on that day in May when the previous highly-touted Cubs were in last place in the National League, and advancing rearward rapidly. It was at that point that mustachioed Jimmy Gallagher, business manager, yelled for chucklin' Charlie Grimm to replace Jimmy Wilson at the Cubs' shattered helm.

• • •

All Stars finally made the grade last night with that 4-2 victory over the Sergeants their victory giving them a definite spot in the playoff picture. But they had the toughest sort of time in getting into the charmed circle.

• • •

Not until the last out was the game really decided with the Sergeants threatening continually but being held in subjection by the stout hurling of Ray Stull all through the piece.

• • •

Ray last night displayed his best form since the opening of the league and backed up by steady support by his mates came through with a victory when it counted most. If All Stars can maintain their form they might still make things plenty interesting for the other teams in the playoff picture.

The cheerful 45 year old banjo addict was yanked out of Milwaukee, where he and his banjo had become institutions rivalling any one of the five beers steeped in the brewery city. He was yanked back to the Cubs, who had fired him summarily in August, 1938, after nearly six seasons at the Cubs' steering wheel.

With or without the banjo, the return of Grimm to the Cubs' managerial post had been almost a fairy tale. Under his guidance, an apparently hopeless war-time aggregation has fought up from its lespond and now is knocking on the door of the first division in the National League. They are only two games behind the fourth-place New York Giants.

Recently at the Hotel Commodore, Manager Grimm said with twinkle-eyed grimness, "I'm confident we'll wind up in the first division. And if it weren't for the Pittsburgh Pirates, I'd say we might wind up second. But Frankie Frisch has a club that is just beginning to hit its batting stride.

TWINS SECOND TIME

CHESTER, England Leslie Davies of London placed his wife and 15-month-old twins aboard a train for an evacuation centre near here, not expecting to hear from them for at least a few days. But 10 hours later a wire came advising him his wife had given birth to another set of twins.

All Stars Take Victory Over Sergeants To Win Spot In League Playoffs

Scoring three runs in the second inning and then adding another in the third City All Stars last night made sure of a playoff spot in the City Softball picture as they defeated the RCAF Sergeants 4-2 in a crucial game of the City Softball League.

Closely contested all the way All Stars last years champions of the league finally made the grade behind the six hit hurling of Ray Stull. Stull was in superb form last night as he sent nine batters back to the bench via the strike-out route while his mates were bunching three timely blows in the second to account for a like number of runs and then added another in the third on three more hits.

Sergeants runs came in the fifth and ninth innings a triple and a single accounting for the opening counter in the fifth and a double and two singles giving them their final counter in their last turn at the plate.

Cecil Ward was the big gun in the All Stars attack last night the left fielder hitting safely three times out of four trips at the plate and playing a steady defensive game in his position in the outer garden.

Boxer Dies From Injuries

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 3 —(AP) — Dr. Harrison S. Martland, chief medical examiner of Essex County, said today an autopsy showed that the death of Lem Franklin, 28 year old Chicago negro heavyweight boxer, resulted from, "a type of injury where surgery offered no hope."

Franklin died earlier in the day in City Hospital where he had been under treatment for injuries received on July 24 when he was knocked out by Larry Lane, Trenton negro, in the ninth round of their scheduled 10 round main event at Meadowbrook Bowl.

The medical examiner asserted that Franklin had been struck in the middle of the forehead and multiple concussion hemmorrhages of the brain resulted, but, he added, it could not be determined whether the injury was caused by a blow or by the subsequent fall.

Chicago Cubs In Fourth Place In National League

Chicago Cubs yesterday moved into fourth place in the National League, their highest standing of the season, when they swept a doubleheader from the Dodgers 6-2 and 7-1 at Brooklyn, stretching their winning streak to nine in a row, their longest of the year.

Bill Nicholson homered in each game to take over the leadership in that department with 23. He drove in two teammates in each game to raise his total to 74, tying Ray Sanders of St. Louis Cardinals.

St. Louis Cardinals rode on toward their third straight National League pennant at Pittsburgh, increasing their lead to 17 games by squelching the third-place Pittsburgh Pirates, 15-2.

It was victory No. 10 for rookie Ted Wilks who has lost but one game. He gave up six safeties while his mates collected 18 off three Pirate moundsmen, Preacher Roe, Art Cuccurullo and Xavier Rescigno.

The game was a play-off of a 5-5 tie of June 25.

Chicago White Sox continued their season-long superiority over the Cleveland Indians by taking two low-hit games, 3-2 and 5-1, before 8,167 at Chicago. The twin victories made it 11 triumphs in 14 meetings with the Tribe this year and raised the Sox to a tie for fifth place in the American League, a half-game out of the first division.

Bill Dietrich, earning his 13th victory, and Orval Grove, getting his 11th with the help of Gordon Maltzberger, supplied the pitching that shaded Al Smith and Allie Reynolds, who were hampered by frequent outfield shortcomings.

Montreal Tram Strike Continues

MONTREAL, Aug 3 — (CP)— Montreal took the first day of its latest strike of street-car and bus operators literally in stride today, with humble feet vying with a variety of other means of locomotion in getting thousands to their regular occupations and back again.

The way Montrealers used the experience gained in two previous tramway tie-ups within the last 17 months to go about their business with some semblance of order proved to be the most interesting development of the day, for an unusual quiet remained over the surface of the strike front.

Just what developments were going on behind the scenes remained obscure, for while provincial government officials expressed hope that the walkout might terminate today, tramway spokesmen remained silent and officials of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees said that "nothing has been done" toward a settlement.

Jap's Island Bases Being Whittled Away

By C. R. BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 — (CP) —Along with personnel losses, estimated as high as 500,000 killed, the Japanese are seeing a slow but sure whittling away of the island bases they obtained in their southeastward sweep of conquest across the Pacific.

Present operations in Guam, Tinian and Saipan threaten to cut in half the ocean area of control Japan had acquired in the nine months following the attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941.

But this half contains only the small island bases and part of New Guinea leaving the Philippines and East Indies still in Japanese hands, as well as her mainland conquests.

Immobilizes Enemy Forces

However, the strategy of island-hopping has already immobilized and isolated strong enemy forces and a successful attack on the Philippines islands may render comparatively simple the ultimate recovery of the Indies area.

At the end of July, 1942, the Japanese virtually controlled the Pacific within an area bounded by a horizontal line crossing just above the northern tip of Australia, eastward to the 180th Meridian and north on that line to include the Aleutian islands of Kiska and Attu.

Now the line has moved far west to nearly the 160th Meridian from Paramushiro in the Japanese Kuriles south to New Guinea and present operations may move it even farther, to the 140th Meridian.

From point of view of air power the line is much farther west since the Allied Air Commond virtually controls the air almost to the mainland. The bases now being fought over in the Marianas put the Allies within 1,500 air miles of both Japan and the Philippines.

Expensive Campaign

It has been an expensive campaign for both sides, but most expensive to the Japanese whose killed are estimated as high as 500,000 and who are believed to have lost nearly 3,000,000 effectives since their attack on China 10 years ago.

The American navy communiques have listed 162 Japanese ships of war sunk, 33 believed sunk, and 176 damaged. These include 76 destroyers, two battleships, 30 cruisers and seven carriers known to have been sunk.

The Japanese are also known to have lost 779 cargo, transport and other vessels sunk by Allied action. Japanese aircraft losses are estimated in excess of 12,000.

American naval losses alone exceed 160 known to be sunk or captured including 43 destroyers, six heavy cruisers, three light cruisers, 26 submarines and six aircraft carriers.

Jeffery And Dalziel In Horseshoe Finals

Defeating Len Phillips and Jack Williams, Jr., two straight games A. Jeffrey and Geo Dalziel last night advanced into the finals of the Brighton Horseshoe Club Doubles Tournament. They will now meet N. Whitlock and Jack McCourt for the Dr. F. C. Dougan and J. R. Williams Trophies. Score of the first game was 50 to 45 with the winners winning the second 51 to 22.

Much credit is due to Jackie Williams, Jr., son of the donor of one of the trophies for the excellent showing he made. It was the first time the youngster had played as he substituted for Harvey Bruce who was unable to attend the finals.

In the first game of the best three of five series McCourt and Whitlock came through with a 50 to 37 victory over Jeffrey and Dalziel. Tonight the remaining games will be played starting at 8.30 sharp.

Last night a big crowd of spectators were on hand and tonight with competition expected to be of the keenest an even larger attendance of followers of the game is expected.

Chris Gallant and Bill Murley were judges of last night's matches while Bill Lawlor was scorer.

Brazilian Troops Arrive In Italy

By Bill Boss

ROME, Aug 3 — (CP) — First troops of the Brazilian Army have arrived in Italy for a combat role Early impressions have been much in their favor.

Their outstanding characteristic seems to be a high standard of personal hygiene. Returning from gruelling route marches, taken in a free, easy sort of stride, or from workouts over a Tarzan-like maze of rope-swings, tight-walks and climbs, the lads bee-line for the river - bank and a swim, or to the showers, no matter how tired, or how ready "chow" is. It's as though the long, green-clad columns barely get back to camp before groups of well-built lads, attired only in shorts, draped with snow-white towels, hurry from the tents and prance down for a quick splash.

As they head for the water it strikes one that there really doesn't seem to be a Brazilian type. From short, stocky builds, black-haired and brown-eyed, the types range through the gamut to the tall wiry blond complete with blue eyes, Brazilian Indians, negroes, and others, apparently of oriental extraction, lend more variety.

The only uniform thing about them is that they all speak Portuguese. Many speak English; English and French being obligatory options in the schools back home. An American Lt.-Col says, "These boys represent Brazil thoroughly, coming as they do from every district between the bright lights of Rio to the jungles of Monte Grosso."

C. C. F. Manifesto In New Brunswick

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Aug. 3 — (CP) — Public ownership and full development of natural resources, including electric power services, oil and gas fields "and other public utilities," were pledged in a 12-point manifesto announced tonight by J. A. Mugridge, Co-operative Commonwealth Federation leader in the New Brunswick election campaign.

The manifesto for the Aug. 28 election promised that mineral, power and timber resources, "instead of enriching a few individuals," would be "restored to the people" by the CCF. "There is probably no province in the Dominion where so much of the resources have become the property of so few, as in our own New Brunswick," asserted Mr. Mugridge.

The platform pledged representation of labor, farming and fishing on all provincial government boards, enforcement of legislation giving employees the right to organize in trade unions of their own choice, with non-recognition of company union's protection of small business, co-operation in low-rental rural and urban housing and slum clearance, and higher living standards for farmers and fishermen, with guaranteed floor prices, co-operative farm service stations, province-wide veterinary service, a provincial agricultural college and further encouragement of co-operatives and credit unions.

The party would establish an "independent" provincial civil service commission, free medical, hospital, dental and nurses services for rural and urban citizens and equal educational opportunity up to university status, with free text books and supplies until completion of high school courses.

Mr. Mugridge also promised to urge that allowances for dependent parents of men and women in the armed services be raised to the level of wives' allowances and that old age pensions be raised to $50 per month at the age of 60, with a higher ceiling on earnings and without disqualification for home ownership or savings up to $2,000.

Army Ready To Act In Philadelphia

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 — (AP) — President Roosevelt tonight authorized the army "to take possession and assume control" of the strike-halted Philadelphia transportation system.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 3 — (AP) —The United States Army made evident preparations today to take over Philadelphia's paralyzed transportation system.

Officers apparently awaited only an order from the White House to restore service on the city's bus, trolley and subway lines, out of service three days—except for short subway resumption last night—in a work stoppage that caused race violence and inconvenienced hundreds of thousands, slowing vital war production.

War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes referred the case to President Roosevelt yesterday, recommending "appropriate action" which usually means government seizure and operation.

Sanatorium Annex Corner Stone Is Laid

The laying of the corner stone of the new annex to the Provincial Sanatorium was performed yesterday afternoon by Premier J. Walter Jones in the presence of a large gathering.

On the platform were His Honour Lieut-Governor B.W. LePage, His Excellency Bishop Boyle of Charlottetown, Mr. Justice M. R. McGuigan, Premier J. Walter Jones, Hon W.J.P. MacMillan, O. B.E., Hon. G.H. Barbour, Minister of Public Works, Attorney-General F.A. Large, Hon. W.F.A. Stewart, Minister of Agriculture, Hon. W.M. Hughes, Provincial Secretary Treasurer, Col. G.E. Full, Chairman of the Sanatorium Commission, Messrs E.T. Higgs and E.W. Champion, members of the Commission, Rev. I.J. Levy, representing the Ministerial Association, Mrs. Fred Gates, past president of the Women's Institutes, Mrs. William Mutch, member of the Sanatorium commission Dr. P. A. Creelman, Dr. Eric Found, Dr. E. C. Keeping, Dr. D.T. Waye, and Mr. D.J. Bonnell, chairman of the Sanatorium Extension Committee.

His Excellency the Bishop of Charlottetown delivered the invocation and the Hon. Dr. W.J.P. MacMillan was the chief speaker.

Recalls Dalton Benefactions

Dr. MacMillan recalled when the late Sir Charles Dalton had contributed $30,000 and $1,000. a year for ten years to begin the building of a Sanatorium in the Province. He said the present grant from the Dominion Government of $75,000 was inadequate for the needs of tuberculosis hospitalization in Prince Edward Island. He recalled that during the last war, the Dominion Government had contributed $500,000 to fighting tuberculosis in the Province. He believed Premier Jones was doing his utmost to have the grant increased and in that effort the Premier would have his hearty support.

Dr. MacMillan paid a warm tribute to the ability and zeal of Drs. Creelman, Found, and Keeping, and stated that a great part of the success of the work of the Sanatorium was due to them.

Hon. W.M. Hughes spoke briefly, following which the Premier laid the corner stone.

"This hospital addition" the Premier said," is designed to combat tuberculosis and promote health activities. It is hoped that adequate facilities will be provided for the hospitalization of cases on Prince Edward Island.

"In conjunction with the hospitalization must be included a health program which includes nutrition, better housing, prenatal care and physical fitness generally to be jointly fostered by the province and the government of Canada. Otherwise hospitalization of tubercular patients will be a permanent charge.

"Health must be promoted until it becomes more than a health plan—it must become a part of our daily lives.

"I now dedicate this building to the promotion of health plans and the hospitalization of tubercular patients and declare the cornerstone well and truly laid."

The ceremony ended with the C.A.(B) T.C. band playing the National Anthem.

Radio Bill Is Passed By Commons

OTTAWA, Aug. 3—(CP) —Improved radio service and more efficient handling of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation would result from the appointment of a full-time, salaried chairman for the CBC, war services minister LaFleche said today in the Commons.

Maj.-Gen LaFleche said it was surprising the corporation has got along so well without having a full-time chairman to decide what policies should govern the CBC.

He spoke before the house gave second and third reading on division to a bill providing for the appointment of a full-time salaried chairman. The measure met opposition from Progressive Conservative and C.C.F. members.

Gordon Graydon, Progressive Conservative House Leader, and M. J. Coldwell, C.C.F. leader, said they did not support the radio bill because they feared it would lead to a division of authority in the corporation.

Gen. LaFleche said the bill was to do away with divided authority. There had been ineffectiveness in the past due to divided authority, and the bill was aimed at rectifying the situation.

The third alarm shortly after 10 last night was for an automobile on fire on Hillsboro Bridge.

86 ABOVE YESTERDAY — The temperature was recorded at 86 above at the Charlottetown Experimental Station yesterday as a heat wave held this province in its grip. Mr. Warren Burns, weather observer said the temperature yesterday was one degree below the top for the season established last month. It was 72 above at 9.30 yesterday morning and reached 86 about 3 p.m. the afternoon. It was down to 72 again at 9.30 last night. However, there were many thermometers in Charlottetown which registered several degrees above the official recording at the Experimental Station. At some spots in the City temperatures in excess of 90 above were recorded on ordinary thermometers.
