CLASP-KNIFE SURGERY IN TORPEDOED STEAMER

LONDON, February 19.—How with an ordinary clasp-knife a ship's steward amputated an injured man's leg in a sinking vessel which had been torpedoed, is told in the London Gazette, which announced last night the award of the Albert Medal in gold to Mr. Alfred William Furneaux, a chief steward in the merchant service.

"In April, 1917," says the account, "the steamship in which Mr. Furneaux was serving was torpedoed by the enemy, and a Lascar who was on the spot where the deck plates had buckled and broken had his legs so firmly caught between the plates that he would have gone down with the ship. Mr. Furneaux, however, went to the man's assistance and managed to get one leg out, but the other was nearly severed through above the knee. Finding it impossible to pull his leg out, Mr. Furneaux amputated it with an ordinary clasp-knife and then carried the man to a boat. When in the boat he dressed the wound as well as possible, and gave the Hibellet he was wearing to the wounded man. Mr. Furneaux also rendered first aid in the boat to another Lascar who was badly scalded. Mr. Furneaux was in imminent danger of losing his life in rendering the service."

BOLO LIVED LIKE A PRINCE ON COSTA RICA PLANTATION; THEN FLED WITH AN ACTRESS

His Creditors Found Later the Farm Had Not Been Paid For. SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, January 25.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—In keeping with the financial operations as a German propagandist which resulted in his scandalous growing, out of his attempts to purchase or corrupt French newspapers in the interest of Germany, Bolo Pasha enjoyed a meteoric career in Costa Rica, says the Associated Press. Having received a considerable commercial reputation based largely on credit obtained from Costa Rican business men, Bolo became the apparent owner of a beautiful farm and handsome residence in the suburbs of Cartago. There he entertained on a lavish scale until he became enamored of a French actress, lavished presents upon her and finally fled with her, leaving his creditors to seize his princely estate only to discover that it had not been paid for.

Bolo Made Many Friends

Paul Bolo, as he was known in Costa Rica, came to Costa Rica posing as a travelling salesman for important and well established manufacturing and commercial firms in France. He was always seen well dressed, spoke several languages, had a most interesting conversational and good manners, was a gambler and quite fond of paying attention to women. He soon made numerous friends and being a plunger and a quick scion obtained credit and launched into business. He became the owner of commissaries and stores at different places which he stocked with all of goods purchased on credit from wholesale houses in the city. His business places soon boomed as he results of his locquacity and facilities to make friends and once he had established a good trade for them he sold one by one at a good profit. In these transactions he found the basis of his capital, as it is a well known fact that when Bolo came to Costa Rica he did not have a farthing to his name.

Love Affair Cut Short

A Colombian by the name of Mosquera, who lived on a banana farm quite close to one of the stores owned by Bolo, became his very close friend. Visiting his friend Bolo made the acquaintance of his daughter, a charming young girl of sixteen with whom at first sight he became infatuated. The girl was a fine specimen of tropical beauty; dark complexion, tall, slender and graceful; her eyes as dark as night and her cheeks as red as roses. Fond of Bolo was of women, he immediately went crazy over the girl, but "Old Man Mosquera," as the father was generally called—an affectionate and faithful guardian of his daughter, and a veteran of many a Colombian revolution and a ready man to handle a razor, soon put a stop to the love affair. Soon afterwards Bolo sold out all his stores in the Atlantic zone and took refuge in this city, where he remained in hiding until he heard that Mosquera in turn had also sold his properties and had returned to Colombia. Once Bolo had overcome his worry and anxiety over Mosquera, he decided to engage in agricultural enterprises. This was in the latter part of the year 1898 and it was then that he purchased a beautiful farm, located in the suburbs of the city of Cartago and belonging to a wealthy Costa Rican.

Built Fine Residence.

One of Bolo's first steps was to build himself a palatial residence on the place and then actively proceeded to start various cultivations. His residence was furnished in a princely way; the wine-room was stocked with the best liquors, among which champagne was a common drink and frequently he invited his friends to spend a week with him after which this wine-room had to be re-stocked. He continued to increase his credit in this city and accordingly continued to improve his farm. He spent a part of the week here and a part of the week there. At the gambling places attended by the swiftest people, Bolo was always seen to be most fortunate. It has always been remarked that at gambling he won large sums of money in Costa Rica, although in the same easy way in which he made money he spent it. At that time H. Aubry's Grand Opera troupe, especially contracted by the Government for the inauguration of the National Theatre in this city, arrived here. From the arrival of the troupe, Bolo made many friends among its members, especially among the actresses, who were paid every attention and frequently invited by him to parties and picnics which he especially organized. Bolo made himself famous through the costly gifts and presents which he gave many of the actresses. On the day of the inauguration Bolo, attired in a stylish and perfect fitting dress suit, surrounded by his friends and beaming in smiles, occupied one of the most prominent boxes at the theatre. "Fanny" was the opera sung the night of the inauguration and it was a grand success for all the members of Aubry's troupe. It was also on that eventful night that Bolo broke all his previous records at a stately supper which he gave

URGENT GOVERNMENT TO FIX WHEAT PRICE

REGINA, Feb. 20.—A resolution calling upon the government to fix the price of wheat to the farmer for 1918, and to fix a minimum price for the remainder of the war and the year following, was passed unanimously and practically without discussion by the 2,000 farmers attending the annual convention at Saskatchewan Grain Growers' Association here yesterday afternoon. Other important resolutions passed during the session requested the Dominion Government to remove the duty on all fuel and lubricating oils and to purchase seed and feed for the relief of settlers in the southwest of the province, who suffered from the drought last year. Following a big discussion, the farmers overwhelmingly defeated a resolution to amend the constitution giving them power to nominate candidates for the Federal and Provincial Houses should they consider it expedient at any time to invade the realm of politics. With the exception of two of the district directors, all the officers, district directors and directors at large who served the association during the year just closed were re-elected. The re-election of President J. A. Maharg, M. P., was the occasion of a tremendous ovation and similar greetings were accorded the reelection without opposition of A. G. Hawkes, of Percival, to the vice-presidency.

At a hotel in honor of the principal players.

Frequently, when circumstances would permit, Bolo invited the members of the company to go to his farm and there would entertain them in such sumptuous fashion that people who attended those outings still say that there has never been anybody in Costa Rica who could entertain as he did on those occasions. For these outings he took orchestras from Cartago or San Jose. In the meantime, Bolo's credit and good luck were rapidly increasing. In spite of this fact, on the arrival of Mademoiselle Lardinols, a noted and beautiful French actress, who was brought to reinforce the company, Bolo became infatuated with her, gave her many valuable pieces of jewelry and continued his life as a lunatic and spendthrift.

Luxury and Pleasure.

It appears that Mlle. Lardinols, in her turn, also became infatuated with Bolo and that they spent together a season of luxury and pleasure. The date for the departure of the opera troupe was rapidly approaching and as several of Bolo's creditors were becoming exigent and uneasy, he decided to depart with the troupe and informed his creditors that he was taking a trip to France in order to make certain arrangements with the firms he represented. Bolo's excuse quieted his creditors much more so when he left behind his princely estate to which an absurd value was wrongly attached by all. It may here be remarked that as Bolo never paid for this property its previous owner had to take it back soon after his departure. Bolo departed, but it seems that he left Mlle. Lardinols in Colon, Panama, and took a south-bound steamer, while the beautiful actress penniless and brokenhearted, returned to France.

THE AFTER EFFECTS OF LAGRIPPE

Often Worse Than the Disease Itself—Victims Left Weak, Nervous and Worn Out. La Grippe—the name of which influenza is most generally known—is a disease prevalent throughout Canada during the winter and spring months. Anyone who has felt its pangs is not likely to forget the trouble. La grippe starts with a slight cold—and ends with a complication of troubles. It tortures him with fevers and chills, headaches and backaches. It leaves him a prey to pneumonia, bronchitis, consumption and other deadly diseases. In fact after effects are more serious than the trouble itself. You can avoid la grippe and winter colds by keeping your blood rich and red by the occasional use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. If you have not come this and the disease lays you low, you can banish all its evil after effects by this same great blood-sustaining, nerve-restoring medicine. This has been proved in thousands of cases throughout Canada by la grippe victims who have been made well and strong through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Among the cured is Miss Irene Bootes, Portsmouth, Ont., who writes:—"I take much pleasure in recommending Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, because I have proved their worth in my own case. Last winter I had a severe attack of la grippe and it left me weak and all run down. I had severe pains in the chest and under the arms, palpitation of the heart and attacks of neuralgia which left me with the feeling that life was scarcely worth living. I was taking doctor's medicine, but it did not help me and I was much discouraged. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and began their use only on the principle that I would try anything that might better my condition. I had only been using the pills a couple of weeks when the pains began to leave me. Gradually my strength returned, my appetite improved, and in a little more than a month I felt all my old time vigor had returned. I am sincerely glad I was persuaded to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I shall always have a good word to say for them. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills not only cure the disastrous after effects of la grippe, but are also a pacific for all these troubles due to poor blood, such as anaemia, rheumatism, indigestion, women's ailments, and the generally worn-out feeling that affects so many people. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
