GOOD SOCKS FROM P. E. I.

Mrs. Geo. Morrison, Bradalbane, P. E. I., has received the following letter from France.

Dear Madam:— I now take the pleasure of writing you a few lines to let you know that I received a pair of socks today which had been sent out here by you...

SALONIKI PLAIN.

Boys! think of the friends who are weeping. O'er loved ones the Germans have slain. Your comrades of youth who are sleeping...

Perhaps you have loved ones who're grieving. The'll miss you when you're far away. But cheer up! show those that you're leaving...

When this great war is all ended And peace we shall welcome once more. You'll then be among the honored Who return from "Old England's" shore.

The Flag will be waving your welcome. The victory be gained for the Right. And no one can call you a "Slacker" You've joined and helped in the fight.

Dress up Your Circular Letters--

You would not think of sending a shabbily dressed, dirty-faced boy to your valued customers to act as your dignified representative.

It is even more unbusiness-like to address an ordinary printed circular letter bearing a message to your customers, because it is a reflection on their better judgment.

Every letter you send out should be either typewritten or printed by the Multigraph Process, (and you can't tell one from the other.)

A letter produced by the Multigraph Printing Service is identical to typewriting in every respect. It is printed from moveable type, printed through a ribbon making the appearance and effect of the finished product the same.

There is nothing more effective than a direct personal letter to your customers. This letter can be produced the Multigraph way at a very nominal cost. You can have a hundred printed—or ten thousand, as you wish. The last copy will be as legible as the first.

Let us tell you more about it. Guardian Pub. Co. Charlottetown

SPRING.

In Spring, when the green gits back in the trees. And the sun comes out and stays. And yer boots pulls on with a good tight squeeze. And you think of your bare foot days When you ort to work and you want to go.

And you and yer wife agrees It's time to spade up the garden-olt. When the green gits back in the trees— Well! work is at least o' my ideas. When the green, you now, gits back in the trees!

When the green gits back in the trees and bees is a-buzzin' aroun' ag'in In that kind of a lazy go-as-you-please Old gait they bum rou'n' in; When the ground is all bald where the hay-rick stood, And the creek's ritz, and the breeze Coaxes the bloom in the old dogwood, And the green gits back in the trees— I like, as I say, in such scenes as these.

The time when the green gits back in the trees! When the whole tail-fethers o' Wintertime Is all pulled out and gone! And the sap it thaws and begins to climb, And the sweet it starts out on a feller's forehead, agittin' down At the old spring on his knees— I kind o' like jest a loafin' rou'n' When the green gits back in the trees— Jest a-pittin' rou'n' as I—durn—please—

When the green, you know, gits back in the trees! —JAMES WHITCOMB RILEY.

A BABY STRAFER

Mme. Leonie Bernardini-Sjoestedt in Cartoons Magazine

How deeply the tragedy of French life today is engraved on the hearts even of the little ones is revealed in many astonishing ways. The janitor of my apartment building, a jolly young fellow of about thirty, left for the front at the second day of mobilization, and during the forty-eight hours preceding his departure he played constantly with his little son who was just learning to walk. The other day his wife and the baby accompanied him to the station after his week's furlough.

"You are not sorry that I have to leave you?" he said, giving the child a farewell kiss. "You have to go, papa," was the amazing reply; "you must go now and kill some more Boches. I wish they were all dead."

LETTER OF CONDOLENCE.

The following is a letter of sympathy from the ladies of the South Red Cross to Mr. James McEachern and family on the event of the untimely death of his son in the training camp Willey, England. Souris, P.E.I., April 22nd, 1917. Mr. James McEachern, Souris, P. E. I. Dear Mr. McEachern:— It is with feelings of deepest regret that we are called upon again to convey to you our heartfelt sympathy in the recent loss of your only son. This sorrow coming so soon after your wife's death must indeed seem almost too heavy a cross to bear, still God in His all-wise providence knows what is best and we must bend to His will. As we glance over the lines of Scripture we cannot help to realize how many of God's own dearly beloved were sorely tried and we must not forget the "Cross of Calvary" borne by His own Divine Son. The kind words of friends, although appreciated cannot heal a wounded heart, we must go to Him, who said: "Come to me all you that labor and are burdened and I will refresh you."

It certainly must be a consolation to you to know that your boy was such a favorite among his comrades in England, and that he was well taken care of in the hospital and given a good Christian burial. Please extend to the other members of your family our true sympathy, and we hope and trust that our Heavenly Father will give you and yours all needed consolation. Yours in sympathy, President: MRS. JOHN McQUAID, Secretary: MRS. ARTHUR McQUAID. Signed on behalf of the members of the South Branch of the Red Cross Society.

SAFETY FIRST

From The Ladies' Home Journal.

A man's observance that in these days of change and trying to keep up with Lizzie he had made it a rule never to ask a man how his wife was if he hadn't kept track of the pair for a couple of months. The rule was the result of having seen a woman who had a long talk with your husband yesterday, and her reply: "Had you, indeed? He's a very interesting man, as I remember him."
