J. J. HUGHES,

Tennis

In the Charlottetown Club, the season, all but closed, was productive of splendid tennis. The weather, particularly during the latter half of the season, was not altogether friendly. Excessive rains kept the courts "sticky" which frequently necessitated the postponement of tournament matches. During the season two tournaments were held, the first for club championships and the second carried on by the Provincial Association, for provincial honors, the winners of which were expected to represent the province at the Maritime Championship Games at Wolfville, N. S.

The outstanding stars of the season were, for the ladies, Miss Jean Tait and Miss Eleanor Bourke, and for the gentlemen, Captain Allenby and Gordon White. Miss Tait and Captain Allenby won respective honors in the Club "Tour" tournament. Miss Tait, however, bowed to Miss Bourke in the Provincial Games, as did Captain Allenby to Gordon White. Mr. White did not play in the Club Tournament, being absent at the athletic meet in Halifax at the time.

Other strong players were Messrs. G. F. Hutcheson, Alan Stewart, Gilbert Houston and L. J. Hoyt, of baseball fame. Mr. White, however, was the most colorful player of the season, and is the "white hope" of Fredericton, N.B., next year. He also shared honors with his partner, Mr. Houston, in men's doubles. His "snappy" combination, White and Houston, were unable to represent the Province at the Maritime meet. The play-off for substitute representatives was won by last year's champions, Messrs. G. F. Hutcheson and Alan Stewart, who defeated E. M. Morton and L. J. Hoyt. Honors in men's doubles were won by Misses Eleanor and Isabel Bourke, and in mixed doubles Miss Eleanor Bourke and Alan Stewart.

The following is the result of the various games played in the Club Tournament:

Ladies' Singles, 1st round.—Inez Mutch defeated Dorothy Hutcheson, 6-3; 6-3; Isabel Bourke won from Kathleen Bourke by default; Jean Tait, Jean Martin, Eleanor Bourke, Jessie Fullerton, Lillian McKenzie, and Mrs. Warwick, byes.

2nd round.—I. Bourke defeated I. Mutch, 6-3, 6-2; Jean Tait defeated Jean Martin, 6-1, 6-3; E. Bourke defeated J. Fullerton, 6-0, 6-1; L. McKenzie won from Mrs. Warwick by default.

Semi-finals.—Jean Tait defeated I. Bourke, 6-1, 4-6, 6-1; E. Bourke defeated L. McKenzie, 6-1, 6-2.

Finals.—Jean Tait defeated E. Bourke, 6-4, 5-7, 7-5.

McKinnon won from D. Morton by default; G. Houston, bye; M. G. McNeely defeated J. A. Bentley, 6-2, 6-3; S. McNutt defeated E. Hornby, 3-6; 8-6; G. White, bye; G. McDonald defeated W. Duffy, 6-3, 8-10; G. A. Hughes defeated E. Morton, 6-2, 6-3; P. D. Williams, Alan Stewart, J. W. Johnston, R. Spillett, and Gordon Hutcheson, byes.

The Ladies' Doubles and Men's Doubles matches were not completed in this tournament. Misses Eleanor and Isabel Bourke reached semi-finals as did also G. F. Hutcheson and Alan Stewart, but at that stage the Provincial Tournament was called and unfavorable weather was largely responsible for club games not being played afterwards.

The result of games played in Provincial Tournament were as follows:

A COMMUNITY.

The other night, the train in which I was riding, stopped about a half mile from a town and gave me a good perspective of that community. How apart, distinct, compact and separate it was from the field and forest stretching away from it. Streets knitted its parts together and street lights twinkled here and there and outlined the city limits. From among great trees, roofs peered out; the dome of a court house seemed to preside over all and administer law and justice. Church steeples pointed the mind upward; and a great school building, which I knew to be a building of the town, bore testimony to that community's estimate of its children and of education. The mantle of darkness was settling down over the world, but that town did not look lonesome.

There came to me a new vision of what an integer, what a unified thing, is a community. How common are its interests, its need for law, light, power, sewers, schools, water, protection from the outside world, entertainment and recreation, beauty and inspiration and a good citizenship. I wondered if the people living in those houses were friendly with one another, if they helped one another and worked toward a common purpose for the well being of all. Of course, all the residents of a locality cannot see things in the same light nor have the same opinions and methods. But how much more comfortable and prosperous we could make ourselves if we would unite in the joint effort to make our town a great common home, with all the modern conveniences!

Something like this was the motive back of a woman's club in Ohio. Every member of the club was a member by virtue of living there. The dues were only twenty-five cents a year, that they might not exclude anyone.

Their first activity was to engage a city engineer to make a survey of the community and draft a plan by which the city might be improved. They did not hope to do anything at once, but they wanted a city plan to work toward. In turn, they beautified the school yards, the cemetery, the station grounds, and the streets. By a plant exchange, they encouraged landscape gardening about private homes until the whole town became like a beautiful park.

Why shouldn't every man, woman and child in the community be joined in a great unit to make the home town lovely? A community is really a great family, with a common home to keep, not bounded by four square walls nor by fences, but by the city limits. We should meet together frequently and hold roundtable over plans for our mutual betterment.

Business Clothes. The business woman who applies for a job in a gown of georgette and lace, her last year's "best", kills her chances right there. The hard headed business man may like to see his wife and daughter play the part of "Fluffy Ruffles", but he knows the efficiency is rarely garbed in chiffon, high heels, and patent leather pumps and other gay furbelows.

The plain navy frock, the small felt hat, the "sensible" shoes, those of the "service" weight, gray, perhaps, to match her tie—such as these carry the business woman to success. The trim neatness of the woman thus clad bespeaks her intelligence, her earnestness, her freedom from frittering distractions and her general smartness. She is the one whom the business man will choose to handle his letters and receive his business callers in the outer office.

In the olden day, the business woman was supposed to dress with a mannishness which might indicate that she could handle business as well as a man. But we no longer pretend to be masculine in

The Summerside Club, which showed up so favorably last year, failed to uphold their standard this season. They did not participate in the Provincial matches. It is sincerely hoped that Summerside will "step out" again next year. There should be more clubs organized in our province. Moncton, Kensington, Souris and Alberton should, with Summerside, send representatives to Provincial Tournaments and carry the fight for honors in this splendid healthful game to N.S. and N.B. A recommendation to this effect was passed by the executive of the Maritime Association at a meeting held in Wolfville in August last. It is hoped that at least some of the above towns will take the necessary action in this regard.

ORDER TO LAY CLAIM TO OUR SOUND HEADEDNESS OR UNDERSTANDING OF THE AFFAIRS OF THE BUSINESS WORLD.

Woman has made a place of her own—thanks to our noble woman pioneers who endured the sneers of her softer sisters that she might pave the way for woman in business. Woman's ability is recognized as a great asset in the business world of today. The business woman stands high and is respected, not in spite of her sex, but on account of the good record her sex has made. And she may dress the part. She no longer need to ape the apparel of her brother, but may dress as any other sensible woman on the street. In short, the dress of the business woman of today is no different from approved street dress, morning garb or sports wear of any woman. Dressed for her employment, the business woman is fitted to go anywhere or make any of the contacts other women may have at the same hours. The only requirement of business clothes today is appropriateness, and has no relation to sex.

Wholesale Seasoning.

Meatloaf, croquettes, roasts, bread dressings, Thousand Island dressing, vegetable soups, perfection vegetable salad, baked beans, Spanish rice, and macaroni, all need much the same type of seasoning. This is usually composed of tomatoes, onion, green peppers and spices in varying amounts. It saves time in seasoning such dishes if one makes, in the fall, when tomatoes and green peppers are abundant, a good supply of chili sauce to be used for seasonings all winter.

Block Cooperation.

A new feature of community life in some of our cities is a city block in which the houses constitute a unit. The houses are built around a central space about one hundred feet square which is set aside as a play space for the little children of the families in that block. A tract at one end of the property is devoted to recreation for the young and adults.

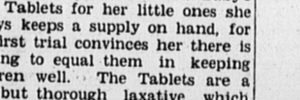

Mothers, in ordinary blocks in towns and cities, could cooperate in the same manner, if they wished, to provide ample play space and equipment for their children. Several families could go together to buy swings, sand pile and other play tools, and the mothers could take turns in watching the children as they play. This would save the time of all the mothers and do both the mothers and children all good, making for acquaintance all around, and giving each mother certain time off from child care and an opportunity to do something else. If this plan did not work, the mothers could chip in together and hire some nice young lady or older lady to give the child group certain hours of play supervision each week.

Baby's Own Tablets Always In The Home

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she always keeps a supply on hand, for the first trial convinces her there is nothing to equal them in keeping children well. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels and sweeten the stomach, thus driving out constipation and indigestion, colds and simple fevers, and making teething easier. Concerning them, Mrs. Saluste Pelletier, Sa. Dumas, Que., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past ten years and am never without them in the house. They have always given the greatest satisfaction and I can gladly recommend them to all mothers of little ones." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or direct by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.
