School Days Libraries for Prince Edward Island

(Oakland Maple Leaf.) Some years ago, while conversing with one of San Francisco's substantial business men, he unfolded to the editor of The Maple Leaf a dream of his life which he hoped would be fulfilled before he became much older.

Adam Andrew, the gentleman referred to, is well known to us here as a progressive citizen, the head of a large business, and successful in all his undertakings.

Mr. Andrew was born in Prince Edward Island, worked hard and long on the farm in his young days, attended the little country school at Hampton and studied at night.

Mr. Andrew had a sample library case made, filled it with selected books, and had it placed in the library of the school.

This year, while Mr. Andrew was on a visit to his native province, the movement for placing a library in every school throughout the Province took definite shape.

A School Days Library Commission was organized. It is composed of leading citizens of Charlottetown.

Mr. Andrew had a sample library case made, filled it with selected books, and had it placed in the library of the school.

The members of the School Days Library Commission are: Fred J. Nash, Editor Charlottetown Patriot, chairman; J. R. Burnett, Editor and Manager Charlottetown Guardian;

C. Gavin Duffy, Attorney at Law, and in charge of the Charlottetown Public Library; H. H. Shaw, Chief Superintendent of Education, P. E. Island;

R. H. Rogers, Principal of Prince Street School, Charlottetown, Secretary of the Commission.

It is estimated that each school should have at least 50 books, with a library of 100 books being the ideal; as procured. It would therefore require approximately 20,000 volumes to equip all with a library.

There should be no difficulty in procuring the necessary funds by popular subscription. Many thousands of Islanders throughout this country and Canada would be glad of the opportunity to contribute sufficient money to place in the school of their children a few books that the younger generation may read and enjoy.

The cost would be small and the benefit great. On the fly leaf of each book thus contributed the name of the donor and school at which the book was printed. No doubt such a worthy movement will elicit a generous response from Islanders everywhere.

This movement has attracted the attention of the other Maritime Provinces and many favorable comments have been made by the leading newspapers of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick concerning the splendid work inaugurated by Mr. Andrew.

As the Patriot says: "Mr. Andrew has generously donated the money to start the movement, and it is proposed to appeal to Islanders abroad and at home to join in contributing the funds for purchasing the libraries."

"The opening of a library in every school should be an event in that community. There is no way in which a community can more benefit itself than in the establishment of a library, which opens a free way to its people and its children. The moral, mental and material benefit to be derived from a careful selection of good books cannot be over-estimated. It is said that a taste for reading drives out lower tastes; and that the greatest agencies for the happiness and improvement of a community is the school library."

That a library is regarded by public-spirited men and women as a necessity in any community, many here have expressed themselves as greatly pleased with the movement inaugurated by Mr. Andrew in his native province.

Readers of The Maple Leaf will greatly assist in this worthy movement by sending the names and addresses of former Islanders to Hon. Fred J. Nash, Chairman of the Commission, Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, or, Adam Andrew, 699 Brannan street, San Francisco, California; or, Editor The Maple Leaf, 265 Twelfth street, Oakland, California.

LONGWORTH AT SEA. Connoisseurs of Irish bulls are just now regarding themselves with a sentence extracted from an address delivered by Speaker Longworth to the Senate Chamber of Commerce, in which he said:

"Yesterday I stood on a mountain and I could see a sea of arid land that would be fertile if it had water on it."

This does credit to the generosity of Mr. Longworth's vocabulary and also to his political acumen. The irony of the irrigation will not quarrel with the form of pledge used by their supporters.—New York Sun.
