Local Bakers Make Protest

Local bakers are protesting against the practice of mainland bakers shipping 20-ounce loaves of bread to the Province at a cost of one cent a loaf less than the 24-ounce loaves are sold to stores in this Province by local bakers. Since only 24-ounce loaves are manufactured in the Province, some of the local bakers are complaining that the retailer charges the consumer the same price for either loaf and that, in many cases, the consumer who buys the smaller loaf, is under the impression he is buying a 24-ounce loaf.

TAX APPEAL

Captain in that unit from June 1 until the end of the year. His total service pay for the 12 months was $134.80. His Lordship said he was unable to accept the contention of the appellant that his service pay in the Reserve Army was tax-exempt in the light of the section dealing with such matters in the Income Tax Act. The judgment reads: "I have reached the conclusion that the appellant is not entitled to the exemption claimed by him, seeing that he was not in the year 1943 a member of the Canadian Military forces on active service within the scope of paragraph (7) of section 4 but that he was then in the Reserve Army. His appeal must accordingly be dismissed and the assessment in question as well as the decision of the Minister affirming the same, maintained."

Work Progresses At Woolworth Site

Work at the new F.W. Woolworth site located on Queen Street by Richard and B.A. Ryan Limited, general contractors of Montreal, is progressing favourably. Since the project began on April 8th, the old building on the site has been torn down, and the excavation of the basement, which extends some fifteen feet below that of the two adjoining buildings of E.A. MacDonald's and Rogers Hardware has been completed. The wroking of the old building and the excavation work was carried out by H.J. Phillips and Sons, local contractors. The cement underpinning, which will support the walls of the new building, and extends under and supports the walls of the two adjoining buildings is about 75 per cent completed. The basement wall, at the front of the building facing Queen Street, which will extend to street level is nearing completion. The wooden forms, for the pouring of the cement for the west wall of the basement, are also under construction. In addition to this work, the reinforced cement columns, which are 24 inches square, and will extend from the basement to the top of this four storey building to support the floors and the lateral steel beams, has been commenced. These reinforced columns will be extended as each storey of the building is completed. Joseph O'Neill of Montreal, is the job superintendent.

EMPLOYMENT

(Continued from Page 1) Unemployment is being further relieved by various Government road projects, including the construction of a new road in the National Park. A large number of renovation jobs are under way in Charlottetown; many houses are being repaired, and many business premises are being improved, and some of them enlarged. In addition, the building of new homes, and of several new business premises indicate that there will be continuous employment in the construction trade throughout the Summer and Fall. The Women's Division of the National Employment Office, is having difficulty in procuring domestic help to fill the many orders on hand, and there is a considerable shortage of restaurateurs. Since the close of the colleges, stenographic jobs have been easier to fill, and the situation is also easier in regard to female clerical help of all kinds.

Much credit for this success is due the president, Miss Erma MacPhail, and the executive, who gave unselfishly of their time in the service of the Club. Former Islander Killed In B. C.

The sad news has been received by Mrs. Harry Bonnell, 62 Great George Street, that her youngest brother, Mark Everett McEachern, has been killed in an airplane crash at Prince George, British Columbia. The accident occurred on May 20 and Mr. McEachern died shortly afterwards. The deceased, who was forty-eight years of age, was a veteran of the First World War, having joined the 98th Siege Battery on July 8, 1915 at the early age of sixteen. He served overseas along with three other brothers. He was a son of Mr. B.D. McEachern, former C.N.R. trackmaster, Charlottetown. He had resided for some years in Prince George, where he was manager of Northern Wholesalers and Retailers. His wife, formerly Miss Anne Daley, is seriously ill in a Vancouver hospital. Four sisters and three brothers also survive, namely: Janet, Mrs. (Dr.) W.A. Ferguson, Moncton; Florence, Mrs. H.W. Ives, Charlottetown; Lottie, Mrs. Harry Bonnell, Charlottetown; Lavinia, Mrs. James Greene, Watertown, Mass.; George Ed in Detroit; Purdy, in Prince George, B.C., and Chester, in Hopefield.

MAIN BATTLE

(Continued from Page 1) Thousands Engaged Both sides have been pouring in reinforcements, Jerusalem dispatches said. Thousands of Arabs and Jews now are reported engaged in the struggle. Even before the battle for Jerusalem's old city was decided the Arab Legion was reported to have drawn troops out of the Jerusalem area and rushed them to Bab El Wad gorge in an attempt to stem the Jewish attack. The Jews began the offensive Monday and met a heavy concentration of Arab forces. Beit

LONDON, May 28 - (AP) - Britain today ordered 21 officers serving with the Arab Legion to get out of Palestine. Informed sources said Britain has new proposals for a Jewish-Arab settlement in Palestine under "active consideration."

The officers being withdrawn from the Holy Land are those British had sent to King Abdullah's forces on loan. Brig. John Glubb Pasha, the Legion commander, and other Britons under direct contract to Trans-Jordan are not affected by the withdrawal. Jiz and Beit Sustin fell to the Jewish troops after they swept south of the highway in a flank attack. To open communications to the 80,000 or 90,000 Jews besieged in the modern sections of Jerusalem the Jews must not only clean Latrun, but also must gain command of the heights overlooking Bab El Wad gorge. Both Arabs and Jews threw aircraft into the fighting which is spreading over the hills where Richard the Lion Hearted was turned back from his crusade.

U.N. Debate Continues

LAKE SUCCESS, May 28 - (CP) - The United States joined amid cheers today in Russia's demand for United Nations force to stop the Palestine fighting. U.N. delegates generally conceded, however, that the Security Council is not yet ready to approve the strongest measures possible under the charter. Instead, informed sources said, the Council was more likely to adopt some version of Britain's plan for one final try at peaceful mediation before getting tough. Canada said today she is prepared to discuss the British plan.

Major T. B. Rogers, E.D. Campaign Chairman for Charlottetown in the cancer campaign. Mr. Walter Hyndman Chairman of the "Special Names" division in the Cancer Campaign in Charlottetown.

Strong Appeal In Cancer Campaign

"Cancer seems to be striking closer to home every day and we must do something about it," declared Major T. B. Rogers, E.D., City Chairman of Cancer Campaign, addressing a meeting of the "Special Names" teams at the Charlottetown Hotel last evening. Early cancer is curable and people must be made to realize this fact, said Major Rogers. With the establishment of the Cancer Diagnostic Clinics in the Province the death-rate from cancer can be cut down. A tremendous educational campaign is necessary and our job is to go out and get the money for it. I'm sure that you will be successful and that our efforts will

New Plant Will Mean Saving Of Millions In Dollar Exchange

TORONTO, May 28 - Full operation of the new plant of Canadian Johns-Manville Company in the Toronto area at Fort Union will mean a saving of several million dollars a year to Canada's dollar exchange program. Transite asbestos-cement pipe has for some years past been imported from the United States in increasing quantities and its manufacture in Canada at the Johns-Manville plant will greatly reduce the export of United States dollars. In addition, the new rock wool process will permit the manufacture of a wide range of insulation and sound control materials, many of which were formerly imported. The production of Transite asbestos-cement pipe in Canada will also do much to assist the current program of extending water and sewage systems now being carried by many municipalities. "This new multi-million dollar Toronto plant," states Vice President Earle C. Brockett, "represents the country's faith in the industrial future of Canada. We are proud of the part we have played in the construction and industrial fields, and we are confident of filling an even greater role in the days which lie ahead."

Use Freighter Canoes In Flooded Areas

THE PAS, Man., May 27 - (CP) - Large freighter canoes, manned by the Provincial Department of Game and Fisheries, today maintained a lifeline between The Pas, 450 miles northwest of Winnipeg, and nearby farm homes isolated by the flood waters of the Carrot, Saskatchewan and The Pas Rivers. Riding high over farm fences, the freighters are carrying food, mail and messages to farmers occupying land still above the flood level. Approximately 200 farms have been inundated by the waters which have not yet given signs of abating. In British Columbia two points in the Kootenay area were seriously threatened by two rivers over the week-end. At Grand Forks the Kettle River started to recede from the main streets following a break in a dam a half-mile outside town Saturday. At Kimberley the Mark Creek, which flows through the heart of the city, was on a rampage. Twenty families are evacuated and the main bridge over the creek is washed out.

SMUTS RESIGNS

(Continued from Page 1) Minister in the United Party government, was re-elected and is expected to become leader of the Opposition should Smuts retire from politics. Personally defeated in his own constituency of Standerton in the Transvaal, Smuts said he will retire to his farm at Doornkloof. But observers said he will await events and will not necessarily quit politics altogether. Philosophically, the defeated political veteran remarked: "These things happen. What is to be will be." Malan had no immediate comment. He will fly to Pretoria, the capital, this week-end to begin the task of taking over the government. Smuts, Prime Minister for 14 years - from 1919 to 1924 and from 1939 to 1946 - was defeated in a campaign fought mainly on the color issue. His party, allied with the Labor Party, won 71 seats in the 153-seat House of Assembly. Of those 66 went to United Party candidates and six to those of the Labor Party. The Nationalists won 70 and the Afrikaner Party, in alliance with the Nationalists, won nine, giving the new administration command of 79 seats. Only 150 seats were at issue in Wednesday's voting, with only white persons qualified to cast ballots. Negroes in Cape Province will vote later to choose three representatives of the native population. Some observers said that the Nationalist policy of opposition to still operative wartime controls won them many votes, especially in farming districts. Jubilantly the Nationalist press called the overturn a "revolution." Claiming that Smuts was defeated with the aid of thousands of English-speaking voters, Die Transvaaler, Nationalist Transvaal paper, said: "What did not seem humanly possible was possible to God. Everyone who contributed to victory should thank the God who has always watched over Afrikanerdom." In the popular vote, the winning Nationalist-Afrikaner coalition fell about 800,000 behind Smuts' United Party. The United Party polled 524,280 of the 1,067,240 votes cast. The Nationalists had 401,834 and the Afrikaners 41,865. The Labor Party got 7,360, the South African Party 11,610, the Central Group 15,744, the Communists 1,788 and Independents 42,803.

Possibility Of Big Industry For Scotland

LONDON, May 27 - (Reuters) - The Royal Air Force this week joined scientists in a search which may bring to Scotland an industry worth $15,000,000 ($60,000,000) a year. This industry may mean for women new sources of silk stockings, lingerie and fabrics, and for doctors revolutionary methods of healing. Seaweed, lying on the shores and on the seabed off Scotland's jagged coastline, is the source of the prospective wealth. The harvest to be gained is being measured from photographs taken by Royal Air Force planes. Some 1,500 miles of coastline have already been photographed and the evidence gathered is sufficient to show that resources are there for a vast industry. Now it is up to scientists of the Scottish Seaweed Research Association, which have an institute at Musselburgh, near Edinburgh, and harvesting depots and factories dotted along the coast. Collecting the weed is easy enough as small farmers are glad to earn the £2 or £3 (38 or 42) a ton they receive for the task. The real problem is to harvest economically the offshore weed lying under one to seven fathoms of water and scientists are working to find the best kind of machine for this purpose. Research into seaweed products was spurred during the Second World War when vital seaweed medicaments ceased to come from Japan. Items made from seaweed have included cosmetics, transparent paper, films, salad cream, ice cream, baby foods, custard, jams, sauces, jellies, sugar substitute for diabetics, typewriter rollers, printing and marking inks, animal and poultry foods - and fertilizers. The most recent development in the medical field brings a great advance to the relief of suffering. It is a transparent bandage which has been found invaluable for the treatment of burns. It stops bleeding almost immediately and progress of the wound can be watched through it.

Child Drowned While On Picnic

OTTAWA, May 26 - (AP) - A.R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees tonight said that most of the 30,000 strike ballots issued to Union members have been cast and that "99 per cent are in favor of strike action." However, he said that no action would be taken until all the ballots were in and members of a strike committee had a chance to hold a round-table discussion. This would take at least another seven days, he believed.
