Heppburn-Tracy Reunited in M-G-M's Dramatic Hit "Keeper of the Flame"

Spencer Tracy and Katherine Hepburn, who formed one of the screen's brightest star teams in "Woman of the Year," are reunited in another dramatic and romantic picture, "Keeper of the Flame," a dramatization of the A. R. Wylie novel, now playing at the Prince Edward Theatre.

Tracy plays a newspaper editor, who is assigned to write the life of a great political leader recently killed in an accident. Hepburn, who is assigned to write the life of a great political leader recently killed in an accident.

Tracy's portrayal is grippingly dramatic, and Miss Hepburn rises to emotional heights in the dramatic climax in a burning apartment building, which she saves from the flames.

Sherlock Holmes Modernized in Film

Hollywood's answer to the inevitable question, "Can they modernize Sherlock Holmes?" is of course, a resounding "Yes!" in the picture "Sherlock Holmes and the Case of the Evil Woman," which is currently playing at the Capitol Theatre.

Sinclair-Reid Wedding

An event of interest to a wide circle of friends took place in St. John's Church, Gagetown, N.B., on Thursday afternoon, August 5th at 3 o'clock, when Helen Marjorie Reid, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Robinson Reid, became the bride of Sergeant Donald Ivan Sinclair, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander C. Sinclair, Charlottetown, P.E.I. The bride wore a white pique, pink and white sweet peas and snapdragon effectively arranged on the altar and throughout the church, and baskets of tall ferns and gold-rod, made a charming background for the ceremony which was performed by the rector, Rev. Herbert J. Hoyt.

While the guests were being ushered by Harry G. Reid, the bride's brother, James Dolphin, Montreal, and Sgt. Donald Reid, Charlottetown, to pews marked by white satin bows and sprays of pink roses and fern, the organist, Miss Grace H. Gilbert, played nuptial music, changing to the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin, as the bride entered with her father, by whom she was given in marriage.

The bride wore a gown of white chiffon over taffeta, with a short-sleeved jacket of white lace and long full skirt, decorated with lace medallions. Her finger-tip veil was arranged from a wreath of orange blossoms and carried a silver bouquet of Rapture roses, white bouvardia and ferns, tied with white and silver ribbons. Her accessories were white and pink and ornament was a two-strand pearl necklace, the gift of the groom.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. James Dolphin, Montreal, and her bridesmaid, Miss Edith Reid, Charlottetown, who wore a floor-length model of ice-blue chiffon, embroidered in white, a matching headpiece of blue tulle, and carried a Colonial bouquet with pastel ribbon streamers. The maid of honour was the bride's cousin, Miss Joan Allingham, who carried a Colonial bouquet of yellow point d'esprit, with puffed sleeves and tiny ruffles decorating the neckline and skirt.

She wore a wreath of pink and white flowers in her hair, and carried a Colonial bouquet of matching flowers, tied with pastel and silver ribbons. The groom's maid was Sgt. Harold Rodd, Charlottetown, P.E.I. During the signing of the register soft music was rendered by the band. The recessional was Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

Following the ceremony a reception was held for over one hour at the home of the bride's parents, where the spacious rooms were adorned throughout with fragrant summer flowers, in a colour scheme of pink and blue. Mrs. Reid, mother of the bride wore light teal blue crepe, with deep matching fringe on the skirt, with white and blue accessories, and a corsage of Picardy gladioli. Mrs. Sinclair the groom's mother, was in a two-piece costume of aqua green crepe with white and blue accessories, and shaded flowers. Her corsage was of American Beauty roses.

In the dining room, the bride's table was covered with an ecru lace cloth and centred with a three-tier wedding cake, decorated in white and silver, and surrounded by silver vases and orange blossoms. White tulle and pink roses flanked the cake, which was flanked by lighted ivory tapers in silver holders, and small vases of sweet peas.
