Insurance Bill Ready For Reading

Unemployment Measure Passes Through Committee Stage For Final Reading.

OTTAWA, March 8.—The unemployment insurance bill is only a start in that direction and might be enlarged at the next session of Parliament after a few months' experience, the House of Commons was advised today by Sir George Perley, acting Prime Minister. The bill passed through committee stage and stands for final reading. Sir George, 78-year-old acting head of the government during the illness of Premier R. B. Bennett, was replying to spasmodic protests from Opposition members that benefits under the bill were niggardly and too many workers were excluded. He said the administering commission had power to include workers under the scheme after surveying conditions.

HUNGARIAN PARTRIDGE.—Mr. Allison MacMillan, Rocky Point, brought into R. C. M. P. Headquarters yesterday a dead Hungarian Partridge which he found on his premises. The bird was very thin, but when its crop was examined it was found to be full of wheat. Mr. MacMillan stated that there had been several flocks of "Huns" around his place for some time. He had been feeding them, and they had seemed to be in fair condition. At the present time there is only one flock at his place, he stated. The R. C. M. P. state that the next few weeks will be a critical time for the birds as the recent heavy snowfall has to a large extent made inaccessible their food supply. Anyone having the opportunity of doing so can do much to save many of these birds by putting out food where they can get it.

USED SHAFTS ON BIG GAME

CHICAGO.—(C.P.)—The recent death of Arthur H. Young, regarded as the world's best archer, recalled a once killed a 1,300-pound Kodiak bear with an arrow. Young maintained that the stick-tipped shafts from his bow were as deadly as bullets from an express rifle.

FINN CREATES STYL

LONDON.—(C.P.)—The new heavyweight fighter to create a stir in England is Gunnar Berglund of Finland—and he hasn't fought yet in the country. Fight critics took one look at the six-foot, one-inch Finn and decided he might cause a lot of trouble among the Petersens, Harveys and Gains.

GUNS MADE-TO-MEASURE

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa.—(C.P.)—A new high in expensive sport was recorded here with the arrival from England of two shotguns for a sportsman who was to go big game hunting. The pair cost a mere $1,000. They were "made to measure."

GIRLS PLAY HOCKEY

BOMBAY, India.—(C.P.)—Women's field hockey has made its debut in Bombay and hard-balled critics have decided there is room for the sport. Two women's teams put on an exhibition which was called "passable." No great excitement, you understand, but it wasn't bad fun and the girls will be given further opportunity to prove themselves.

GODIN, THE PEERLESS GOALIE

LONDON, Ont.—(C.P.)—Sammy Godin's contract with London Tecumseh doesn't carry a clause for part-time retainering but it might be. The goalie, who has been injured in twice when goalies were injured, the winger has spent 80 minutes in the nets and has never been scored on. His name is Hozmore Gabriel Godin. Maybe there's nothing in a name!

BEERLESS BASEBALL

PHILADELPHIA.—(C.P.)—Shibe Park, the home of the Philadelphia Athletics, won't serve beer with the game. The Pennsylvania supreme court has ruled Shibe Park could not have a beer license, because then every theatre, moving picture show, skating rink and place of amusement in the state would want to sell beer.

"MATH"—IT'S A SPORT

WASHINGTON.—(C.P.)—West Point's sport schedule includes "math." The cadets initiated a mathematical contest with Harvard in 1933 and won. The victory created nearly as much excitement as Army's winning the annual football classic with the Navy. Another "math" contest is being arranged.

QUINTS TO BE SPECIAL WARDS OF THE KING

Bill Provides For Appointment of a Board of Guardians to Look After Welfare of Dionnes.

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) TORONTO, March 8.—"Papa" Olive Dionne, a guest in the Ontario Legislature today, heard the Provincial Government announce its intention of making his five famous daughters, Yvonne, Annette, Marie, Cecile and Emelle "special wards of His Majesty the King."

In the presence of the father of the quintuplets, his manager Leo Kervin of Callander and his lawyer, Paul Martin of Windsor, H. C. David A. Croll, Minister of Welfare and Municipal Affairs, introduced a bill to empower the Government to appoint a board of guardians, responsible to him, with a "ward" over the financial, educational and physical well-being of the children until they reach the age of 18.

The Government action followed a series of conferences with Dionne and his lawyer. The "active guardians" appointed by the Government will share authority with the father, the "natural guardian" and Dr. Allan Roy Dafeo whether or not the physician is appointed as a guardian.

Contracts entered into by the old guardians are confirmed but those which did not receive their approval are "null and void and incapable of performance and may not be set upon in any court," the bill declares.

Reactions To Greek Revolt

SERIOUS VIEW

PARIS, March 8.—(C.P.—Havas)—French newspaper correspondents today painted a serious picture of events in Greece during the past 24 hours, despite reports of censorship.

Salonica has been bombarded by the insurgents, according to the Paris-Soir correspondent in Athens, and the correspondent of Le Temps telegraphed that government planes dropped bombs on Kavalla, rebel main headquarters, where the civilian population took refuge in cellars.

The Temps despatches added that two of the rebel vessels, the Helle and the Psara, arrived at Kavalla from Crete, bringing sorely needed reinforcements to the revolutionaries in Macedonia.

According to an Ottawa dispatch the bituminous sands of the McMurray district of Alberta are to be developed by a Denver Colorado firm, following successful tests from which gasoline and oil were derived from the sands, which according to C. Ellis, Canadian government geologist, cover an area of 6,000 square miles. Estimates show that the field, which is between 40,000,000 and 100,000,000 years old, contains enough oil supplies to last the world 500 years at present rate of consumption. Millions have been spent to take the oil out of the sands economically. The Ottawa dispatch leads to the possible solution of the problem. ### Mexican Archbishop Is Released On Paying Fine

(By Clark Lee, Associated Press Staff Writer) (By Guardian's Special Wire) MEXICO, D.F., March 8.—Held incommunicado nearly 24 hours, Archbishop Pascual Diaz was released this afternoon after paying 100 pesos (about $27.75) fine for violation of Mexico's religious laws.

The leader of the Catholic Church of Mexico, whose mysterious disappearance yesterday stirred fears that he had been kidnapped or deported, was accused of officiating at religious services outside the federal district.

Apprehension among Catholics regarding the archbishop's whereabouts ended with the announcement of his liberation.

Previously all government departments had denied any official knowledge of his arrest, although two officials earlier in the day privately confirmed reports he was in custody.

Intimates of the Archbishop said they learned he was transferred from one jail to another during the night in order to keep searching friends from learning his whereabouts.

The charges against Diaz, arrested in company with three companions, were based on the fact he officiated yesterday at the town of La Visitacion in the State of Mexico, whereas his license permits him to officiate only in the Federal district.

Senator Borah Bitterly Denounces Recovery Law

(By Nathan Robertson, Associated Press Staff Writer) (By Guardian's Special Wire) WASHINGTON, March 8.—Bitter denunciation of NRA's effect on small business by Senator W. E. Borah, Idaho Republican, tonight brought to a close a day of running debate over the recovery law which started between Donald Richards and members of the Senate finance committee.

Borah and Glass, seasoned Senate debaters, took the floor after Richard, the administration spokesman, and members of the committee had tested figures and arguments at each other for two hours over the success of NRA in providing work and raising wages.

Borah demanded vigorous enforcement of the anti-trust laws and a division of wealth, which he said was impossible under monopoly. Glass denounced the NRA law as "abominable" and said all the power of the government had been used "to intimidate and boycott the small industries of this country."

Testifying for the second successive day in the finance committee's investigation of NRA, Richberg contended NRA had provided 3,000,000 new jobs and given a tremendous boost to total payrolls, but conceded the pressure under which the codes were drawn resulted in many "doubtful" provisions.

Duke In Jamaica

(C. P. Cable by Guardian's Special Wire) KINGSTON, Jamaica, March 8.—The Duke of Gloucester, King George's third son, who is in Jamaica on a holiday after a strenuous tour of New Zealand and Australia, left Kingston today for the quiet of Shaw Park, his residence until March 16.

Tomorrow he will visit his brother and sister-in-law, the Duke and Duchess of Kent, who have been spending the past three weeks honeymooning at Morrego Bay, 120 miles from the island's capital. Later in the day he will participate in his favorite sport—a polo match—at Drax Hall.

Arriving on Wednesday on the H. M. A. S. Australia, the Duke has severely lost his sea legs while he has straddled the Royal Rockham and rode to second place in the annual Ash Wednesday polo race. Yesterday he visited the site of the once great Port Royal, attended a reception at King's House in Kingston, dined with the officers of the Manchester Regiment and later was guest of honor at a brilliant ball at the Jamaica Club.

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) HARVEY STATION, N. B., March 8.—Wesley Ferrell, a North Carolina Major, had succeeded his uncle, King Pradjadipok, as ruler of Siam, brought a flood of memories to the mind of Wesley Ferrell, who is now residing in the New Brunswick community. The "bright, affectionate, brown-eyed" was once her pupil and she spent many years in travelling with the royal family and tutoring at Bangkok.

Miss Davis also was tutor to Princess Kalyani, now in her 13th year, sister of the newly proclaimed King, and 18 months his senior. The baby of the family, Prince Pompon, is now seven years old and was emerging from infancy when the father, the late Crown Prince Mahidol, engaged Miss Davis' services. Since his death after she returned home she has kept in touch with Miss June, he turned in 14 victories against only five defeats. He didn't show his old-time speed but he had control.

"Mother, did baby come from Heaven?" "Yes." "Fancy leaving Heaven for a home like this!" "Young man," said the city merchant, severely. "I notice that you are almost invariably from ten to twenty minutes late in getting to the office!" "I know, sir," replied the youth, "but you seem to set such a small value on my time that I don't think it mattered much," answered the young man.

TRADE REPORT SHOWS BUSINESS BETTER

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) WINNIPEG, March 8.—Toronto's sheet-metal industry headlined the weekly trade report of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association, issued here today, sales in that line showing a 30 to 50 percent increase over sales in the same week of 1934. Other Toronto industries generally were fairly busy.

Business across the Dominion during the past week continued quite fair, it was reported, most lines holding the gains marked up during the past few months of recovery. In general, trade showed moderate improvement over the same period of 1st year.

For the first time in weeks, bankruptcies during the week showed an increase. Failures totalled 36, seven more than in the same week of last year.

The Maritime trade follows: Halifax: Trade, both wholesale and retail, is slightly better than a year ago. Collections have improved. The potato market continues dull, but prices to farmers have advanced since the regulations of the eastern marketing boards went into effect recently. Apple shipments overseas from the Annapolis Valley to date have not been as large as last year. The dried fish market continues unsatisfactory. Fresh fish is plentiful but markets are weak. The lobster season in Nova Scotia is showing a large and prices are satisfactory. Woods operations are now drawing to a close, the cut being well up to that of last year. Local demands for lumber are light: the English market continues depressed. Coal production in January was 24 percent in excess of the tonnage for January 1934, and fuel production at Sydney is still in excess of last year.

Saint John: Wholesale trade reported fair with very little change noted over several preceding weeks. There is no more, lines report volume reasonably satisfactory. Most retail lines reported fair and comparing favorably with the same period last year. Collections slow.

ed by the strike of customs inspectors. The post office was closed, no mail moving in or out of Cuba and none moving on the island. No government telegraph office was operating.

SUPPORT STRIKE

As the island's two largest labor fronts, the National Confederation of Labor and the National Federation of Labor unions, decided to support the general strike movement "in principle" although without setting any date, the government strove to get customs and internal revenue offices functioning again.

Most of the officers were in the hands of military appointees who were not familiar with treasury department procedure.

The situation in interior towns differed from that in Havana only in degree and an air of apprehension was evident as the cabinet, already in permanent session, met hurriedly at the palace during the afternoon to discuss the strike problems.

A bomb explosion in Cardenas today killed Delfin Acosta, chief of police, while at Matanzas, Capital of the province of that name, the home of the military supervisor was attacked.
