James Atwell Proves that Dodd's Kidney Pills Make Short Work of Urinary Troubles.

CAMPBELLFORD, ONT., September 7.—(Special).—James Atwell, a well-known resident here, relates an experience, which is of intense interest to all those suffering from urinary troubles of any kind.

"I had Lumbago and Bladder Trouble for years," Mr Atwell states, "and for over five months the pains in my bladder were particularly severe. In passing my urine would hurt me so as almost to cause tears to come to my eyes. Neither a bandage nor medicine prescribed by the doctor gave me relief. Then I tried Dodd's Kidney Pills and they cured me completely."

Urinary troubles come from diseased Kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills never fail to cure them.

WHAT IS WORN.

Deep Collars a Distinguishing Mark of Smart Garments.

The deep collar or pelerine of lace is worn over plain blouses with strapped linen skirts, and these are quite smart and effective in a deep red or dark blue, the millinery repeating the light tone of the collar. The sack bolero accompanies the lawn and linen gown, and this is a most adaptable costume when completed by a thin blouse.

Tussore silk and tussore linen are the most useful fabrics for dust cloaks, but alpaca, when dressed in the soft, limp style, is also admirable, and the colorings most in vogue are the beige tint, a silvery green and a mignonette tint which is less pronounced than the reseda.

Where more decided effects are wished brighter tints are worn, but these must accord with the hat. For instance, an old rose alpaca edged with ruffled black ribbon has a few medallions of black lace and is to be worn with a large black hat over black or white gowns.

The collar has entirely disappeared from coats—that is, the high collar—for the cape effects now reign supreme, and no garment is smart without one of these. A voluminous sack shape is proper to all long garments. Applique trimmings are popular for these.

The cut shows a tailor made of checked wool goods.

NOVELTIES IN DRESS.

An Attractive Green and Black Effect—A Useful Hat.

A very smart gown seen recently was of hand painted muslin, and from the knees to the feet there was a border consisting of trellis work of woven green ribbons and pink roses. This was much befouled underneath to give the necessary flare. The trellis work also appeared on either side of the bolero bodice, which was cut short at the back over a green spotted muslin blouse finished with a draped waistband of taffeta. The costume was completed by a hat composed entirely of green leaves over a foundation of tucked pink chiffon finished with two black velvet strings and a black rose resting on the hair while another rose held the strings in place on the bodice. With this was carried a perfectly plain long handled black parasol with a green lizard crawling up the stick.

The Breton sailor shape will undoubtedly prove a favorite hat for boating.

A deep blue Breton shape in soft straw may be trimmed with white ribbon and wings and used with cream or navy blue gowns.

Belts are of infinite importance now, and some of the newer models are quite charming. The shaped belt with little tabs or tails is exceedingly modish, and a change of belt and chow often gives quite a different aspect to a black or neutral tinted gown. A gold tinsel belt is most useful, especially if made with tabs or arranged with a crossed front and tail back. It can figure on a blue, brown or black gown and is equally at home on white or pale colors, and no better finish to a plain slip under a coffee coat can be devised, even if a black or white skirt is worn. Even on cloth it is attractive, and a flaked woolen, trimmed with strappings of plain cloth should have a tabbed and stitched belt to match the strappings.

The tailor made hat in the cut is of scarlet rough straw trimmed with a white bird. JUDIC CHOLLET.

MORE TROUBLE AMONG THE FURNITURE PEOPLE.

We have leased the brick building formerly used by us as a FURNITURE FACTORY and have to vacate by the first day of Sept. (just three weeks from this date.)

This means that the four or five thousand dollars worth of FURNITURE we have stored there has to be moved—we have no room elsewhere for it—and will therefore put a price on it, that will MOVE it out of our way for good.

We have been moving FURNITURE at a very rapid rate for the last two months—and we know how to do it!—The goods referred to above we did not intend to sell at discount prices—but now have no other recourse.

So Out It Goes at Discounts of 20, 25, 30 and 33 1-3 Per cent.
