

Joe Louis And Johnny Shkor In Lively Scrap

By BILL KING
BOSTON, Nov. 14 (AP)—Joe Louis, retired heavyweight boxing champion, dropped aggressive Johnny Shkor of Boston for three nine-counts during their lively 10-round no-decision boxing exhibition tonight before a cheering 8,711 crowd at Boston Garden.

The 35-year-old Louis, weighing 229 3/4 pounds, had the 220-pound Shkor, six years his junior, down once in the second round and twice in the third. Shkor dropped under two-fisted barrages to the head and body but never appeared in dire distress. Twice the bell intervened before Louis could resume his savage attack.

But after the sixth round, during which Louis suffered a slight scrape near his right eye, the retired titlist started slowing down. From then until the 10th, Shkor landed frequently and several of his blows to the head appeared to pack plenty of steam.

Shkor gained considerable confidence as soon as Louis ceased stalking him—in the same fashion he did in his prime—and Boston Johnny was unduly ambitious when he came out for the finale.

He tried to fake a threatening rush but Joe tied him up in his old-time fashion and then gave him a terrific two-fisted lambasting about the head and body.

Louis succeeded in landing a total of 324 blows during the 30 minutes of rapid action and many of them hit vital spots. But evidently the 10-ounce gloves they wore were life-savers for Shkor, who never appeared fearful of the consequences.

Shkor, however, had the advantage of having gone four rounds with Louis here last year. During that exhibition he accidentally butted Joe and took enough skin off his forehead to force Louis to cancel several exhibitions.

Starting on a transcontinental storming tour, Louis weighs 16 3/4 pounds more than he did when he made the last defence of his title in his return bout with Jersey Joe Wolcott in the summer of 1948.

The extra weight has given Louis heavier jaws and thicker thighs, but his midriff showed only a slight trace of an "extra tire."

The gross gate receipts were $22,757 but Louis drew 40 per cent of the $17,342 net figures, a bit less than $7,000. Shkor's cut was $2,750.

Plans Figure Skating Classes

Mr. W. E. Scantlebury, director and instructor of local figure-skating groups here for the past number of years, announced last night that his classes will be commenced earlier than ever this year, and will get underway for the first session this Wednesday afternoon at four o'clock at the Charlottetown Forum.

Mr. Scantlebury, who takes a keen interest in tutoring the youngsters in all age groups, is looking forward to a good season again this year, and hopes all who are interested in the art of figure-skating will turn out to take advantage of the sessions again this winter.

Dick Irvin Explains Fight At Chicago

CHICAGO, Nov. 14 (AP)—A scheduled hearing today on charges of "assault with deadly weapons" against two Montreal Canadiens hockey players was adjourned in municipal court until tomorrow.

MONTREAL, Nov. 14 (CP)—Coach Dick Irvin of Montreal Canadiens today related the story of the sick-swinging episode in Chicago which resulted in a jail visit by two of his players and charges against them. Irvin said the affair "was really not much."

He said the spectator, George Grbich, was struck accidentally.

"Grbich stood up in his seat, with one foot on the railing, reached over the netting which fronts the promenade seats and grabbed Kenny Reardon by the shoulder-pad. The pad was pulled off the shoulder, Reardon went off balance, swung around, and his stick struck Grbich on the head.

"It opened quite a cut, and friends of the spectator started to swarm over the netting and on to the ice."

That was when Leo Gravelle "rushed in with his stick swinging but he didn't hurt anybody and neither did Billy Reay who took a cut at one of these jerks but missed him."

Irvin said Grbich "told us he was a Czech who had played hockey in Czechoslovakia and said he was a great admirer of Reardon, really meaning to wish him well but we figured this was a lot of baloney."

"Reardon had been in a scuffle with Ralph Natrass just before this and I guess the guy got excited. Anyway, he shook hands and said he wouldn't prosecute but apparently friends prevailed on him to change his mind. When we got to the jail we found he had made a charge or complaint and Reardon and Gravelle were put under a bond and must appear when we go back to Chicago. I don't think much will come of the case."

World records over the mile track distance claimed for Dan Patch by his owner, M.W. Savage, totalled nine and they ranged from 1:55 1/4 for a paced mile to a 4:17 mark at the two-mile distance. Others included an unpaced mile of 1:58, 1:57 1/4 to wagon, 2:04 3/4 to high wheel sulky, .056 for the half-mile, 2:01 for a mile on a half-mile track hitched to wagon. In addition, Dan remained the only pacings stallion unbeaten in a race. Since many of these marks have been bested, others never tested and some disputed, as Billy Direct, for instance, who came home in 1:55 at Lexington to become the acknowledged world recordholder of the pace for the mile distance. Dan Patch's two-mile record has also gone by the boards and his times even on a half-mile are far better than 4:17.

But the current film "The Great Dan Patch," marks the respect in which Dan was held, the high regard, in fact, which still commands. For, as yet, what horse ever drew a turnout of 102,000 for a single exhibition? Certainly, a claim which stands unchallenged is Dan's record of having never suffered defeat in a race, although he was beset several times in single heats but came back always to gain the final race victory.

SPORTING NEWS

PAGE SIX THE GUARDIAN, CHARLOTTETOWN, NOVEMBER 15, 1949

We note that some of the Upper Canadian sport scribes have been using some of the data gleaned from the recent publication of a book entitled "How We Play Hockey" made up from views of the players of last year's All Star squad of the National Hockey League, which this column made reference to a short while ago.

Elmer (Montreal Herald) Ferguson, in referring to the book states "There's a lot of ways of playing hockey among the experts, even if the results in the end are the same." "For instance," says Ferguson, "Wingman Roy Conacher and Maurice Richard differ on the question of high-speed passing as well as how to dodge a persistent cover. Sid Abel comes up with comment to the effect that it's wrong to regard today's centre as primarily a playmaker."

"Defencemen Quackenbush and Stewart have their own definite views on the effects of bodychecking, from the angle of the giver, and going as far as more science and much less luck than is usually imagined, says Bill Durnan." Ferguson takes Durnan's case as an example. Durnan, Montreal Canadiens' star goalie, says he was taught the habit of shifting his stick while playing with the Westmorland Church team in Toronto and he owes his N.H.L. career to the old coach, Steve Faulkner.

Most young goalies regard the stick as something to shoot with but Durnan says it should be looked on primarily as something to steer puck's side into the corner. Even as a stopper of shots it's of doubtful value because it invites too many rapid rebounds.

We might add, that in answering the question of "What mental attitude do you adopt toward a hockey game?" Durnan has this to say. "I concentrate on 'worrying about the 'soft' shots. They are the ones that make the difference between a good goalie or just another goalie. The first rule of hockey games when an opposing forward breaks through all alone, any goalie may rise to the occasion with a frantic, successful save."

"But the same goalie could have already lost the game a period earlier by relaxing, when he's been an easy shot. You have often heard the sport-saying 'keep your eye on the ball.' It is doubly true of the puck as applied to the goalie. I have schooled myself very deliberately to keeping my eye on the puck even when it is down behind the other net. It has become such a habit—this concentration on the puck—that I never hear even the most caustic fan in the bitterest N.H.L. 'away' rinks."

Concluding Durnan says "There is no such thing as an allegedly 'cool' goalkeeper in major hockey—nervousness is a part of his make-up, a necessary part in that it stimulates split-second reactions."

We have heard of one-armed and one-legged ball players as well as other athletes of note who have been minus these important members of the body and still were capable of turning in an effective performance, but something new to us is a one-armed basketball star.

He is Bold "Bub" of the Harlem Globe trotters basketball team, who will play with that club when they meet the Winnipeg Paulins, Maritime senior men's champions, tonight on Friday and Saturday nights. "Bub" is 6'10", weighs 203 lbs, averages 14 points per game. In that fast, high-powered game, with only one arm to work with, that is really an accomplishment for this column's money.

Picture above is Dan Patch, who's remarkable exploits, long a subject of controversial issue among horsemen of both latter and modern day, for his immortal mile pace in 1:55 1/4, and will be the subject in a current film here at the Prince Edward Theatre the latter part of this week entitled "The Great Dan Patch." The inset picture is the real Dan Patch, the other his present counterpart for the current film.

World records over the mile track distance claimed for Dan Patch by his owner, M.W. Savage, totalled nine and they ranged from 1:55 1/4 for a paced mile to a 4:17 mark at the two-mile distance. Saint John Beavers In 7-2 Win Over Hawks

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Nov. 14 (CP)—Saint John Beavers trampled Moncton Hawks 7-2 tonight and remained two points behind the pace-setting Halifax St. Mary's in the Maritime Senior Hockey League standing while Hawks settled deeper into third position.

Saint John kept adding to an early lead and held Moncton to a brace by Lou Milani. Rod MacKenzie assisted both—one in the first, which ended 3-1, and another in the third after Saint John had gained a 6-1 advantage.

The seven Beaver goals were fired by as many different players. Mousie Dowling and Dick Wray led the scoring parade with one tally and two assists each. Wray has piled up 10 points in his last four games.

The only penalty was a minor to Moncton defenceman Bob Leckie in the middle frame.

Sport Echoes From Prince County

Next Saturday night at the new curling rink in Summerside fans will have another opportunity to see a fine card of boxing bouts. The main bout is one which should attract boxing enthusiasts from distant parts. "Big Boy" Peterson, Prince Edward Island heavyweight champion, and noted for his rugged battling, will face Reg O'Brien, a big boy who fights more savagely when the going is tough. Peterson's championship will be at stake in this bout and the champ will have to be at his very best to withstand O'Brien's challenge. Peterson tips the scales at 202 and O'Brien at 195. The big fellows will go eight rounds providing the match lasts that long, but with these boys sluggering it out, a knockout for either is quite in the realm of probability.

"Tiger" Ferguson, Summerside's No. 1 mitt slinger, is matched with John Russell, one of Charlottetown's best middleweights. Fergy is coming back to the squared circle after a long lay-off. He has never suffered a defeat in the ring, but Russell will probably give him the battle of his career. In any event fans are assured of plenty of action in this semi-final six-round go. Ferguson weighs 147 lbs. and Russell 150.

Two local fighters, Royce Durant and Pezrats Arsenault, will box four rounds in a lightweight fixture. Durant will scale 130 pounds and Arsenault 133. There will be a three-rounder between Kid Richards (105) of Charlottetown and Richards is one of the best young fighters developed in Summerside in recent years. Very fast and shifty, with a lightning left jab he will give the more-experienced McGuigan a mighty argument for fistic honors. The popular Slugger Decoste will be one of the principals in the first bout of the evening. His opponent has not been chosen as yet.

The present personnel of the "200 Club" of the Summerside Commercial Bowling League is as follows: President, Ailie Harris, Curran & Briggs, 230; Vice-President, Earl Smith, City Slickers, 225; Secy-Treas., Frank Savidant, MacQuarries, 218; Stanley Gallant, Westenders, 217; Pinky Peters, Westenders, 216; Gus MacDonald, Holmans, 212; Dulch Underwood, Holmans, 208; Victor Dodds, R.C.A.F., 204; Tanton McNeill, Westenders, 204; Junior Gallant, Dodgers, 203; Eddie Arsenault, Doughboys, 203; Walter Schurman, Curran & Briggs, 200; Harrison Ferguson, City Slickers, 200.

Bobby Gay is back in Summerside having returned from Halifax where he spent the summer. It will be good news to hockey fans to learn that Bobby is spending the winter here and will be available for defence duty on the Summerside intermediate hockey team. With the retirement of Windy Steele and Vince Grant the team is going to need some reinforcements on defence and Bobby, though just out of juvenile ranks, may fill part of the gap. Young Gay has shown great promise as a defenceman with the juveniles. Whether he is ready for the big jump to intermediate play remains to be seen.

TURN THEM ANY WAY

Contrary to popular belief, watches are not hampered by having their hands turned backwards.

In Football Final Against Alouettes

HAMILTON, Nov. 14 (CP)—Hamilton's Tigers' hopes ran high tonight on their chances in the Eastern Canada Football Final against Montreal Alouettes, even though it was confirmed that playing coach Merle Hapes will remain on the sidelines.

Hapes, his arm in a sling, talked above the dressing room dln following Saturday's uphll victory over Sarnia Imperials and summed it up this way:

"We played good football Saturday. If we play like that, we'll be tough for any team."

The 30-year-old coach referred to the way Tigers forged steadily from behind to take the Ontario Union crown with a 20-3 win over Sarnia at Hamilton Saturday. They had spotted the scrappy young Imperials a 15-6 victory in the first game of the total-points series at Sarnia Friday.

Halifax St. Mary's Shut Out Amherst 6-0

HALIFAX, Nov. 14 (CP)—Halifax St. Mary's blanked the bedraggled Amherst Ramblers 6-0 tonight to hold their two-point margin over second-place Saint John Beavers in the Maritime Senior Hockey League. Beavers drew beat Moncton Hawks 7-2 at Saint John.

It was the first shutout in the league this season and Jack Donkey was not called up to do anything spectacular in the Halifax net to hang up his oval.

Amherst rearguard Joe Lay tried to belt Gord Armstrong in the second period but the Halifax centre sidestepped and Lay plunged into the boards. He dislocated his shoulder and retired for the rest of the game. He is expected to be back in action in a couple of days.

It was Amherst's 16th loss in 18 starts this season. They have won one game and tied another. A total of 1,600 fans saw tonight's spirited exhibition.

Amherst goalie Al Tomari was knocked out for a few seconds in the last period. A puck fired from close range by Tom Brennan caromed off Tomari's head but stayed out of the net. Tomari carried on.

Billy Hannon broke a second-place tie with teammate Rocky Sullivan in the league scoring list by pounding home two goals and picking up an assist.

Casey Stengel Voted Baseball's Manager of Year

By JOE REICHLER
NEW YORK, Nov. 15 (CP)—Charles Dillon (Casey) Stengel, the frustrated dentist, today was voted baseball's "manager of the year" in a poll conducted by the Associated Press.

The leathery, wrinkled, 59-year-old veteran, who climaxed a 30-year career in baseball by leading New York Yankees to a world championship, won in a proverbial breeze.

No other manager even came close. Casey was named on 111 of the 116 ballots cast by members of the Major League Baseball Writers Association of America.

Only four other pilots received any sort of backing. Freshman pilot Robert (Red) Rolfe of Detroit beat the youthful Eddie Sawyer of Philadelphia Phillies (tie) for run-up honors with six votes apiece.

Joe McCarthy, whose Boston Red Sox missed winning the American League flag on the final day, received two votes. Jack Olow, who brought Chicago White Sox up two notches from eighth to sixth, corralled the final vote.

Stengel earned top ranking because of the near-miracle he achieved in leading a team to a pennant in the face of an ever-mounting list of injuries and illnesses.

Finally overtaken by Boston in the last week, Stengel's forces stormed back to whip the Red Sox in the two closing games of the hectic campaign and win the flag by one game. This was the same team that was picked by the experts to be lucky to finish in the first division.

"Stengel did one of the most amazing jobs in baseball," one writer said. "A lot of people said Casey a comedian. Well, he may be funny, but never during baseball hours. He may joke with the players, but while the game is on, he is all business."

Born in Kansas City, hence his nickname, "K.C.," Stengel attended Western Dental College, but left because "I was afraid no one would trust a left-handed dentist."

SUGGESTS SHOCK TREATMENT

LONDON, Nov. 14 (SP)—A young dog a misfit! Does your horse seem worried?

Just give them the electric shock treatment used in human mental cases, suggests veterinarian Eric Oliver Longley.

Longley, former veterinarian in the London Zoo, wrote in the "Veterinary Record" today that what Britain needs are some good institutions where neurotic animals can get psychological treatment.

"It is extraordinary that in this animal-loving country no institute is practically concerned with animal psychology," he wrote.

SACKVILLE, N.B., Nov. 13 (CP)—Saint John dockyard captured the Maritime senior soccer championship here Saturday on a snow-blanketed field, downing Halifax All-Stars 4-1. The teams were tied 6-6 after a home-and-home series.
