STREET WORK.—The work of laying asphalt on Grafton Street has now been completed from Davis & Fraser's corner almost to Weymouth Street. The work will be completed this fall as far as the concrete has been laid. The new street surface laid on Water Street is a decided improvement to that part of the city and a great boon to the teamsters who have so much hauling to do there. The great pity is that the cement and asphalt could not have been laid right up to the edge of the railway shops. As it is the deep mud runs down on the street and greatly mars the appearance of the new street and will require constant attention to keep it clean.

A DISTINGUISHED ISLANDER.—Toronto Saturday Night publishes a photograph of Mr. Samuel J. Willis, B. A., recently appointed Superintendent of Education for British Columbia; but in its biographical sketch makes the mistake of crediting Nova Scotia as the birthplace of Mr. Willis. Later he has been principal of King Edward High School, Vancouver. He was also a famous professor of classics at the University of British Columbia. ISLANDERS CLOSE CALL.—The Pictou Advocate says: Jack McEwen, Alex Carson and a chap named Poble, belonging to the island, had a narrow escape when attempting to cross the railway tracks at the foot of Creighton Street in a truck one morning lately. Just as the horse was on the tracks the incoming Short Line came on them. The horse was swerved and the engine which was not going very fast, showed the horse to one side. The shaft of the truck was broken but that was all the damage done.

At present she is taking a supply of coal and making a few minor repairs which it is expected will detain her until Wednesday, when she will proceed to the Magdalen Islands and from there to Canso. The crew of about sixty-five are all French Canadians with the exception of the Captain and wireless operator.

FORTY-ONE YEARS AGO.—Forty-one years ago yesterday was observed as Thanksgiving Day. Two days horse racing opened at Upton Park and it was a day to be remembered, as the mercury stood at 85 degrees—something remarkable for the time of year. Mr. P. S. Brown on that day raced his horse "All Right" against "Messenger Boy," owned by the late Mr. A. N. Large and was defeated. The following day Mr. Brown won a race with "Fairy Queen" over "Discount," a Truro horse.

RECEPTION TO RETURNED HERO.—On the evening of Monday October 14th quite a large number of the young people of Hunter River and the surrounding districts assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. H. Van Iderstine for the purpose of doing honor to their son Davis who not long since had returned from overseas. The young hero had, had the misfortune of having to spend several weeks in the Military Hospital in Halifax and because of this his friends had been unable to wait upon him at an earlier date. Having learned that because of his modesty and patience he could not be prevailed upon to attend a reception in the public hall, the only thing left to do was to surprise him in his own home. This the young people did on the above mentioned date. Before Davis realized what was taking place the friends came flocking to the house and he was being waited upon and presented with an address and a silver ring. The address was read by Rev. R. H. Stavert and the presentation of the ring was made by Miss Georgia Nicholson. Although taken very much by surprise Mr. Van Iderstine made a fitting reply and thanked his friends for their kindness and thoughtfulness. He intimated to them incidentally that had he known that they were coming to this surprise him that they would have found him absent. The gathering then joined in singing "For he's a jolly good fellow." The rest of the evening was spent in games and music. Before breaking up all joined hands and sang Auld Lang Syne. The happy gathering was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

WE know when we're knee-deep in trouble, we know when we're suffering pain.

ABOUT 170 years ago tea sold in England for $14.60 a pound. It was a luxury which only the wealthy could afford.

Thanks largely to the great increase in the area of tea plants under cultivation in India during the past fifty years, there is enough tea grown to-day to supply tea to the world at a price even the poorest can afford.

A cup of "good" tea—Red Rose Tea—costs only a fraction of a cent. There is hardly anything sold in the grocery store that gives more value or more pleasure for the money.

Consisting chiefly of ASSAM teas—the richest and strongest of Indian teas—Red Rose is exceedingly fragrant, flavory and economical. It is a tea of real quality and real value.

Sold only in sealed packages.

RED ROSE TEA is good tea

It is the Flavour that counts

You know, yourself, that 95% of what you buy to eat, is purchased rather for the flavour than its food value. In other words, we eat what we enjoy, and usually eat only what pleases our palate. There is nothing inviting or appetizing about a loaf of bread made of western spring wheat flour, with its coarse texture, and lack of flavour. But when the bread and rolls and biscuits are made of

BEAVER FLOUR MILLED OF BLENDED WHEAT

Ah! that's another story altogether. While the food value of Bread, made of "Beaver" Flour is not to be belittled, it is the delightful flavour, the delicious nutlike "homey" taste, the fine, even texture, the creamy lightness, that make homemade "Beaver" Flour Bread such a treat for young and old alike. And when it comes to things like Apple and Mince Pies—Chocolate or Layer Cake—or a batch of Cookies or Gingerbread for the children—well—just try "Beaver" Flour once, that's all—and you'll see and taste the difference.

"Beaver" Flour is a blend of the famous Ontario winter wheat and enough western spring wheat to give it strength. It has the flavour of the one and the strength of the other, and being milled of scientifically blended wheat, it is always the same in flavour, in quality and strength. Why miss so many of these good things, by using western wheat flour? Order a sack of "Beaver" Flour, at your dealer's, and begin to enjoy the delicious bread and pastry it makes.
