DOWN THE BACK STRETCH

Arthur McGee, Augusta, Maine, who has purchased several of our young trotters and pacers the past couple of years, bought six colts at the Harrisburg auction. They are Swift Rifle by Frisco Dale 2.00; Judge Lybrook by Volstadt 2.03¾, dam, Colleen Ireland 2.10 (also the dam of Colleen Scott 2.06¼, that raced so well in the stable of W. G. Stewart, New Glasgow, N.S.); Aces Up by Follow Up 2.00½, dam by Calumet Brewer 2.06½; Ensign Harmouy by Abbe Guy 2.04 out of Gaiety 2.10; (Abbe Guy is a full brother to Abbe Worthy 2.05, owned by Frank McKay, East Royalty); Bojus Castle by Bonnycastle 2.03½ (sire of Dr. Stanton 1.59 2-5); and Ballard Queen by Lew Hal 2.00. Other Maine buyers include Geore Reed of Fort Fairfield, who purchased three; one of them Jetsam, cost $4,500. S. A. Wathan and son bought Frolic Hanover by Scotland 1.59½, and Vic Song by Peter Song 2.00. Many years ago, yes, back in the 1880's, Island bred trotters and pacers were raced in Maine and quite often with considerable success. World's records have been made there, notably the 2.09½ mile by Nelson, which was the stallion record of the world at the time. Racing starts early in June and continues until well on in November.

Lorne Thompson, North Milton, has a valuable brood mare, Bessie Scott by Bellini Scott 2.09½, dam, Bessie Jackson by Captain Aubrey 2.07½ that last 24th of May foaled a very upstanding filly that has been praised by some of the best horsemen in the country. Gordon Rodd of North Milton has a coming four-year-old by Brian Yorke, out of Bessie Jackson, and also a coming two-year-old by Abner T. Clegg out of the same dam. They are well formed, good legged and with their breeding should be good speed prospects. By the way, Brian Yorke is by Volomite 2.03½, world's most outstanding sire, and Brian Yorke's dam was Sylvia Yorke, one of the best brood mares at Walnut Hall Farm, so he has license to beget speed. The Abner T. Clegg's, of course, are showing up better all the time. Up to July 1st the year's highest money winner in Cape Breton was the jet black four-year-old Johnny Clegg, owned by Mayor Jack McLean of Sydney, and other Cleggs have been prominent in summaries in various parts of the Maritimes. Ann Clegg has raced exceptionally well in Maine and at Roosevelt Speedway.

At the meeting of the P. E. I. Harness Racing Club held on Tuesday evening, it was decided to hold futurities for two-year-old trotters, two-year-old pacers, three-year-old trotters, three-year-old pacers and four-year-old trotters and pacers in 1949. Payments will start in the Spring and Secretary-Treasurer W. G. Gillespie will send out entry blanks to horsemen having youngsters eligible to the futurities.

We have to thank our friend "Big Jim" Pendergast for a survey of speed in the vicinity of Kensington...."I took a look into George H. Brookins' new stable yesterday. It has been completely remodelled, contains twelve box stalls of the latest type and convenience, with built-in oat boxes adjoining. The veteran trainer and driver Clarence Schuman with helper MacLean of North Sydney, C.B. exuded the utmost urbanity and good cheer. Living quarters are equipped with two gas stoves, lounges, table, cooking utensils and an ample supply of nutritious foods have been provided. The new track was laid out this fall and is nearing completion. It is situated on the Kensington farm about half way between Margate and the town road.

"The race horses are all slick in appearance and show that animal contentment which bespeaks meticulous care and attention. The latest addition is the four-year-old pacing mare Vella la Veila 2.08 1-5, sired by His Majesty 1.59¾, which Willard MacDonald of Summerside bought from Heber Sweeney some time ago for a long price.

"Al Mac is a three-year-old out of Jean Hal by Sampson Hal 2.03¾, owned by Lorne McFarlane, M.L.A., Summerside. Mr. McFarlane is one of the largest produce buyers in this Province and he will be welcomed to harness horse ranks by his many friends. Donna Clegg, that raced so well this season is another inmate of the big stable. She is owned by Gerald Sheen of the firm of Sheen & MacInnis, Summerside. Donna is highly regarded by trainer Schuman. There is olso a two-year-old brown gelding by Abner T. Clegg, dam, Uscita Britton 2.09. He has a nice way of pacing and if he takes after his sire and dam will be a star. He is owned by Mr. Brookins, also owner of the following: Brendon's Bov 2.15 3-5, by Lusty Frisco 2.07¼, dam Mae West. This is one of the most highly regarded slow class trotters in the Province. He has trotted quarters in close to 31 seconds and his mile record is no measure of his speed. Lucky Pal 2.16, trotting mare that was developed on the Duvar and Alberton highways by Frank MacDougall and was given her record by Lloyd O'Brien. She is now in foal to Pagliacci 2.09½.

"Buddy Moko 2.12, one of the most popular race trotters during the seasons of 1946 and 1947. Buddy is expected to make a comeback next season as he is sound as a dollar and just rearing to go. Christie Budlong 2.06½, the fastest trotting mare ever bred in the Maritimes, by Calumet Budlong 2.02¾, granddam, Ima Jay 2.04½, holder of the world's race record for a seven heat race and one of the greatest mares that ever went down the Grand Circuit. Christie's performances throughout the Maritimes and the State of Maine are still fresh in the minds of all horsemen. She is in foal to Fast Train 2.05, full brother to Cannon Ball 2.02, recently selected to head one of the best stock farms in the United States."...Our friend Jim ends with the following tribute to Christie: "Here's hoping her progeny will scintillate and substantiate the claim that this Island is the Kentucky of Canada." Jim asked to be incognito but it is no use, everyone would recognize Jim's style, so we disregarded his request. Thanks, Jim.

Canadians are considered the world's greatest hockeyists and now the world's greatest players of lacrosse. Now they are invading the United States and becoming the world's greatest reinsmen. If you think this statement is a bit overdrawn just read the following:—Ralph Baldwin, who is only 32 years old and hails from Lloydminster, Sask., was the biggest money winner on the million dollar Grand Circuit chain of tracks this year. Horses he drove won over $151,000, which is $20,000 more than Harry Fitzpatrick, who drove E. J. Baker's horses, won last year. In fact it is the largest amount ever won by a Grand Circuit driver.

Baldwin broke into the racing game in 1931 at Strathroy, Ont., and, like the great Canadian driver Vic Flemming, that placed so many in the two-minute list and drove Billy Direct to his world's pacing record of 1.55, quickly showed reinsmanship class. After campaigning in Ontario for several years he drove some horses on American tracks and this season handled the Saunders-Mills stable of Toledo. His top performer was Egan Hanover, that he won over $40,000 with, and he also drove Goose Bay to a win in the $25,000 pacing derby at Roosevelt Raceway.

Clint Hodgins from Clandeboye, Ont., who is ten years older than Baldwin, had the good fortune to be the teamster of the seven-year-old mare Proximity, by Protector. This mare sold for $450 as a yearling at the Walnut Hall Farm sale, and in Hodgins' hands has won practically every start this season. She was in action at Santa Anita and continued racing until the end of the season. A lot of smart horsemen thought she would be put on the shelf long ago but the more she campaigned the better she got and at Lexington in October took a record of 1.59 3-5. We notice that Will Caton, who gave her sire Protector the then world's record as a three-year-old of 1.59¼, stated that he had to practically "hang Protector's hide on the fence" to make him the outstanding horse he was. Work and more work seemed to improve this horse and apparently Proximity takes after him.

Then there is the Canadian driver W. L. "Lindy" Fraser, whose greatest bid to fame this season was with Dr. Stanton 1.59 2-5, the only horse on the Grand Circuit owned and driven by a Canadian. Dr. Stanton's name is on everybody's lips since Santa Anita. This season in 21 starts he won $50,500.

SPORTING NEWS

Thursday night's game between the Amherst Ramblers and the Abbies certainly ended up in a whirl-wind finish which worked the spectators into a frenzy which seldom has been witnessed here since the Big-Four days.

• • • •

During the first two periods the Ramblers had a definite upper-hand and with their effective body checking were continually putting the Abbies off stride and breaking up their passing attacks; while clicking well on their own passing plays they held their opponents scoreless during that time.

• • • •

The Abbies, playing a much milder game in the first two cantos as far as hard checking attacks were concerned, really caught onto themselves in the last period, and playing the same style of game as their opponents began handing out plenty of body punishment in their fore checking and back checking tactics, which netted them six goals in that period to tie up the score.

• • • •

Two Abbie forwards, Allie Carver and Joey LeClair really pulled a masterful piece of team work, with the former accounting for two goals and two assists, while the latter compiled one goal and four assists in a matter of some 12 minutes of play, with Sheppard and Perry also accounting for a goal apiece during that time, with Sheppard also assisting on another.

• • • •

The fact that the great King Clancy, referee in-chief of the National Hockey League, which places him as probably the most efficient referee in hockey today, was handling the match, gave the boys as well as the fans a great opportunity to see the type of play that is permissable in the big leagues, which all must admit, is considerably rougher than is generally allowed here.

• • • •

This point is borne out by the fact that during the entire game there were only five penalties dished out by "The King," and at the same time particularily in the third period, the teams played a rougher, hard-hitting game than is usually their custom. This phase of the game of course was slow in coming, due to the fact that they didn't quite know at first just how much they could get away with under the watchful eye of Clancy.

• • • •

In any event Tuesday night's game gave every indication that plenty of keen competition can be expected for the future, when these same two teams meet in the course of their regular Central B Hockey League scheduled competition.

• • • •

According to Frank Boucher, Manager of the New York Ranger Hockey Club, "the biggest deal in Ranger history and the biggest in the National Hockey League for a Minor-League player" has been put through to strengthen the Ranger team.

• • • •

The deal includes the swapping of two Ranger players, forward Ed. Kullman and defenceman Elwyn Morris to Providence Reds of the American Hockey League — plus some cash — for Allan Stanley, 22 year old, six-foot-two-inch, native of Timmins, Ont., who has been playing defence for the Providence Reds.

• • • •

The announcement was made by Boucher last Wednesday at the New York Hockey Writers weekly meeting. Rangers, at the bottom of the N.H.L. heap, expect the left-shooting Stanley will help plug the gap temporarily opened in the Ranger defence by the loss of Captain Neil Colville and Frank Eddolls.

• • • •

Eddolls, sidelined by a pre-season injury to his knee, suffered in an automobile accident, is back skating in Ranger practices and hopes to return to the game in two weeks. A recurring groin injury has kept Colville out of the last three games and the date of his return is indefinite.

Victorias Shut Out Millionaires 2-0

SYDNEY, N. S., Dec. 10—(CP)—North Sydney Victorias potted the only two goals of the game in the first period and then held the vaunted Sydney Millionaire offense impotent for two periods with an impregnable defensive network in a regular fixture of the Cape Breton Senior Hockey League here tonight.

The 2-0 shutout rode the Vics to within one point of the league-leading Millionaires.

Charles Wins Decisive Victory Over Joe Baksi; Referee Stops Fight

NEW YORK, Dec. 10—(AP)—Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati cut big Joe Baksi of Kulpmont, Pa., to ribbons in a furious scrap at Madison Square Garden tonight and forced referee Ruby Goldstein to stop it in the 11th round to spare Baksi further punishment.

Charles, a lean, sharp-punching Negro who craves a shot at Joe Louis' heavyweight crown, had Baksi bleeding badly. The end came at 2:33 of the 11th.

A crowd of 11,194, saw Charles spot Baksi a wagonload of weight — 178 pounds to 210 1/2 — and then cut him down to size. On the Associated Press score sheet Baksi won only two rounds, the fifth and sixth, when he rallied briefly with a body attack.

The knockout was the first ever suffered by Baksi in eight years of fighting, and it removed him from consideration as an opponent for Louis.

Charles, who entered the ring a 5-13 favorite, boosted his stock as a challenger, even though he failed to put Baksi on the canvas. He proved that he at least couuld hurt a big man. Baksi made no protest when Goldstein pulled the wasp-waisted Negro off him.

Up to the time it ended, the fight was about as good as has been seen between heavyweights around here in recent years. Baksi, though outclassed, never ceased to try and he was winging his awkward punches at Charles' middle, even when he could scarcely see through the blood.

The victory was Charles' 12th straight since he dropped a close decision to Elmer Ray in the same ring nearly two years ago. He was breathing easily all the way tonight, suffered no cuts and was in distress only once — when Baksi dug a right under his heart in the sixth round.

Baksi's big pull in the weights helped him little. Charles kept him at a distance for the most part and scored sharply with both hands. As early as the third round Baksi began bleeding here and there and the flow increased steadily as the fight went on.

Jake Mintz, Charles' manager, decided after it was over not to claim Louis' title after all.

"We'll fight any man who thinks he's a better challenger than Charles is," he said.

Ezzard, himself, was reluctant about challenging the champ, but said he would be willing if the match were made. "I'd have to be in better shape than I was tonight, though," he said.

Goldstein said he stopped the bout because Baksi, beaten against the ropes and ordered to come out and fight, protested that he couldn't see.

Charles won the first four rounds by various margins. Baksi was credited with the fifth and sixth as he thudded some hard ones into his opponent's middle. Charles took the others, although Goldstein deprived him of the 10th for having hit Baksi coming out of a clinch.

The disappointing crowd paid only $40,832 to witness the brawl.

Louis Gives Billy Conn Boxing Lesson

CHICAGO, Dec. 10 — (AP) — Dead-pan Joe Louis administered a neat but none-too-impressive boxing lesson to Pittsburgh's Billy Conn in their six-round exhibition in the International Amphitheatre here tonight.

Before a disappointing gathering of 6,517 fans, who paid a net of $23,054 for the exhibition, Louis, world's heavyweight champion, received a 6-to-2 newspaper decision over the one-time challenger, whom Louis had twice previously knocked out in title fights.

One of the eight ballots cast in the newspaper writers' decision favored Conn, while another was for a draw.

Conn certainly made good his boasts that he would do his level best against Louis, but his best was not good enough.

The former Pittsburgh challenger, now 31, opened up with a spirited left-hand attack in the first round, jabbing and hooking effectively with Louis peering at him with a quizical look on his face. Conn did all the leading, while Louis was content to drop in a couple of left hooks that were short.

The 34-year-old Louis did not get warmed up to his task until the third round when he opened up for the first time. He began spearing Conn with left jabs and hooks and connected solidly with a hard left to the body. If they had not been wearing 14-ounce gloves, Conn might have gone crashing to the floor.

December's unseasonable and open weather is putting an additional strain upon the will power of more than one wild-fowler. Its a great life boys if you don't weaken but — if reports are true that are seeping into game enforcement circles — there are some who are not paying much attention to the present close season.

• • •

The duck and goose season closed on November 22nd which many consider a grave mistake especially with regard to geese. However, even if the season had have remained open until November 30th, it wouldn't have done gunners any great good for the last eights days of November were anything but shooting days and the birds were still gun-shy and nothing but a howling gale or snowstorm would drive them into the inland marshes and ponds.

• • •

Now things are changing somewhat. The past three weeks of quietude have lulled the geese and ducks into a feeling of security and gradually they are beginning to feed closer inshore and do not appear to fear us long legged humans as they did at the close of the season. This week a farmer told me that he went to the shore for a load of seaweed and a flock of 30 wildgeese swimming in a sheltered fresh water lagoon inside a range of low sandhills treated him with the utmost indifference. He verily believed he could have thrown a stone among them. This particular farmer shoots in season but has an inherent respect for the game laws.

• • •

I said jokingly: "'Why didn't you take a shot at them?" "Just because I'm unlucky" was his reply, "If I did I'd expect to see you ploughing over the sandhills the next minute." "Cheer up" I said. "I'm not as young as I used to be and you won't have to worry about me much longer." "H—l" he snorted, "you look the same to me as you did ten years ago." Maybe there is some truth in the saying 'Old soldiers never die—" There are not many gunners as conscientious as this particular farmer and geese and ducks don't want to become too sociable.

Matters pertaining to migratory birds such as seasons, etc., will be discussed and recommendations made at the next qquarterly meeting in March. # Ray's And Navy Win Opening Games In P.E.I. Basketball League

Ray's Millionaires smothered Summerside's newly organized Schurman's basketball quintet at the R.C.A.F. court last night, taking the verdict by the score of 67 to 22. The Summerside boys held the visitors even at 18-all to almost the half-way mark, but Linkletter and Smith, Schurman's two aces, fouled out before the completion of the first half, and with the inexperienced substitutes, the losers were snowed under in the second half.

Schurman's had the edge on accuracy in penalty shots, sinking 6 out of 11, while Ray's were able to pot only 7 out of 19. LePage and Nicholson were far out in front in points with 29 and 27 respectively, while Smith of Schurman's accounted for 8 points and Linkletter 7.

THE SECOND GAME

The second game of the evening was a close fought affair with Charlottetown Navy edging out the R.C.A.F. hoopsters by the score of 46 to 42. Michaelson, the leading point getter, garnered 33 points, fouling out with one minute to go in the game, and as the Navy had only five players they were forced to play the last minute with four players only. Michelson, very tall, was poison if he secured the ball in the vicinity of the basket, the airmen, unable to get up where he was to prevent his shots. Bayne was high scorer for the Flyers, getting 19 points with Carson, whose side-flip under the basket rarely ever failed to score a goal, next in line, getting 14 points.
