Fashion Show Is Brilliant Success

Hundreds of guests attended the first Luncheon Fashion Show of the Junior Ladies Aid of the Prince Edward Island Hospital held in the main dining room of the Charlottetown Hotel yesterday.

The dining room was artistically decorated with flowers and a refreshing air of spring prevailed, as a dozen or more of Charlottetown's leading stylists, exquisitely and gracefully modelled the fashion wardrobe of '47. The commentary on each and every ensemble was cleverly spoken and a background of soft music blended into the altogether interesting and pretty picture.

The costumes modelled, ranged from chic sport ensembles to sylvan-like dinner gowns and were a kind of scope of color.

In opening the Fashion Show Mrs. A. J. Haslam, President of the Junior Aid, reviewed briefly the history and work of the organization which was formed only last year and is steadily growing in members and interest. The Junior Aid held its monthly meetings at the Cundal Home and the membership had increased from 24 to 50.

As an indication of the work being done, the Junior Aid contributed to the Hospital during the Fall months, a large amount of sewing and from the proceeds of an auction sale placed gaily-trimmed trees in all hospital wards at Christmas time and are always in readiness when called upon. It is planned to expand the work of the organization by taking over from the Senior Aid the collecting of gifts for the Annual League of Mercy.

Mrs. Haslam expressed regret that the unprecedented demand for tickets for the great style event could not be met, but it was hoped that next year, arrangements could be made to accommodate all those desirous of seeing the Fashion Show.

Other officers of the Junior Aid are: Vice-President, Mrs. J. A. Lally; Secretary, Mrs. Horace Fraser; Treasurer, Mrs. Wendell Harbour.

Commentators were Mrs. A. J. Haslam and Mrs. R. F. Large.

Make-up was in charge of Miss Dorothy MacLean.

Costures by Kent Beauty Salon. The models were Mrs. Richard Over, Mrs. Maurice Weeks, Mrs. Keith Johnson, Mrs. Gordon Dillon, Mrs. A. J. Haslam, Mrs. Sheila Morris, Mrs. Noel DeBlou, Mrs. Margaret MacLennan, Mrs. William Rogers, Mrs. Lorna Creelman and several of the competitors who were lavishly complimented by the judges.

Children's models were Barbara Johnston and Elizabeth Anderson and they too gave a fine showing of how the Junior Aid will look the Spring and Summer.

Co-operating in staging the Fashion Show were: The Gloria; Moore & MacLeod Ltd.; Holmes & Bradley; S. A. MacDonald; Frowse Bros. Ltd.; The Vogue; Island Furriers; The Fashion Shoppe; G. H. Taylor & Sons; W. W. Wellner Ltd.; Est. Mrs. John Williams; James Stewart; The Music; Western; Kent Beauty Shoppe; The Abwegel; Gift Court; MacDonald & Rowe; C. F. C. Y.; Charlottetown Hotel.

80TH BIRTHDAY - Mr. Fidelis Gauthier of Sydney Street, Charlottetown has been receiving congratulations from his many friends on the occasion of his 80th birthday, which he observed on Saturday, March 8.

HOME BEHEAVED - Mr. Leo Doucette received the sad news of the death of his brother Isadore (Pete) in Montreal yesterday morning. Mr. Wilfred Doucette, another brother, had gone to Montreal two weeks ago and was with his brother when he passed away.

FUNERAL SERVICES - The funeral of Mrs. Percy MacDonald was held yesterday afternoon from St. Paul's Church where service was officiated at by Rev. J. T. Ibbot. The pallbearers were Lorne Casford, Frank Gauthier, Lloyd Cadmore, Warren Cadmore, Clarence Babcock and George Reid. Members of the Canadian Legion attended in a body, the late Mrs. MacDonald having been a former member of the C.W.A.C.

FUNERAL YESTERDAY - The funeral of the late Mrs. Elizabeth MacDougall who died in Brewer, Maine, was held yesterday at St. Dunstan's Basilica. The service was conducted by the Rev. D. W. MacPherson and the Rev. T. W. Goodwill. Interment was in Marie Cemetery. The pallbearers were Simon MacKinnon, Martin Compton, Hector Compton, William Cullins, and James Raneghan.

HARBOUR ICE DISAPPEARING SLOWLY - The ice in Charlottetown harbour is slowly breaking up under the present spell of sunny weather and if this favorable condition prevails, navigation will be possible at an early date this year. There is a great area of open water some distance from the shore but around the wharves the ice is still a solid mass with occasional openings in evidence. On Tuesday morning the ice was being travelled from Rocky Point to the City but was gradually becoming more and more dangerous as the day wore on. There was considerable activity moving where many others and skippers were preparing their craft for an early launching. The S. S. Fairview had its engines turning over warming up for the trial run yesterday afternoon. The Perry seemed to be in good condition and as soon as the ice opens up and the jetty is repaired it will be able to carry out the usual schedule.

MISS KATHERINE MALONE

Friends learned with regret of the death of Miss Katherine Malone which occurred at the Charlottetown Hospital on Monday after a comparatively brief illness.

The deceased who was born in this City eighty years ago, was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Malone and resided in the City during her lifetime, with the exception of about two years spent in Boston, Mass.

She received her education in St. Joseph's Convent, and when quite young was called upon to mourn the loss of her mother. Following the death of her father she resided with her brother, Thomas, well known druggist of this City who is at present a patient in the Charlottetown Hospital.

There are left to mourn, one sister, Margaret, widow of Robert Mitchell, Worcester, Mass.; Thomas, mentioned above; four nieces, residing in Worcester and one in Port Kent, Maine.

A niece, Miss Ann Mitchell, of Worcester, Mass., arrived by plane on Monday, but her aunt had passed away shortly before her arrival.

The deceased will be kindly remembered as a lady of a quiet and unassuming disposition and regular attendant at St. Dunstan's Basilica.

Her funeral was held yesterday morning from the A. A. Hernandez Funeral Home to the Basilica where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by the rector, Rev. Patrick McMahon who also conducted services at the grave. The pallbearers were: Dr. Spurr, Allan Macdonald, Messrs. Frank Bradley, Patrick Dennis, William Flynn, Frank Murray and Joseph McRory.

SNOW PRINTS

(From the Atlantic Monthly) Deep in the pillow's fold, In the still night, the ears hold A scurrying windless sound On the snowy ground.

And the eyes above the sheet And the hands and feet Crisscross to left and right, Pattern the white.

Then stir the senses, drowsed, Not awake, nor yet roused To the faint rhythmic tread On the moonvelled bed.

Then the night-dreams keep Trying to work the A. A. Hernandez, Aware how little feet run Under no sun—

How light as a feather's mark Are little feet in the dark, Are little feet in the snow, That come and go.

Myrtle Adams.

His Parents, Brothers and Sisters.

In Memoriam

ELMER CROSSBY March 13, 1946.

He has put on invisibility Dear Elmer, we cannot see— But this we know, although the road ascends And passes from our sight, That there will be no night; That you will take him gently by the hand And lead him on Along the road of life that never ends, And he will find it is not death but dawn.

Lovingly Remembered by His Wife and Daughters.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Mrs. Frances T. Morrow, who died March 15, 1937.

The months may change from year to year And friends from day to day But the memory of a dear one Will never fade away.

Culture Of Pot-Herbs Or Greens

(Experimental Farms News) In recent years the need for a green food, high in vitamins and minerals, has been emphasized. Among the most suitable of these according to E. Chipman of the Dominion Experimental Station, Kenville, N. S., are the Pot-herbs or Greens.

Pot-herbs or Greens consist of the following vegetables: Spinach, New Zealand Spinach, Chard, Kale, Mustard, Orach, Collards, Dandelions and several other plants both cultivated and wild.

The soil requirements for Pot-herbs are not too exacting but a well drained sandy loam is preferable. Successful crops have been taken from muck soil.

As these crops are grown for their foliage they must, so as to be crisp, make rapid growth. To assure this rapid growth the soil should be rich especially in available nitrogen. It is advisable to apply from 15 to 20 tons of barnyard manure to the acre. This should be spread evenly over the ground and ploughed in the fall. In the spring a 4-12-6 fertilizer applied at the rate of 800 pounds per acre (two to three ounces per square yard) should be worked into the surface soil. The application of limestone, in addition to the fertilizer, applied at the rate of two tons per acre usually gives very satisfactory results.

A thorough preparation of the seed bed should be emphasized. Prior to seeding the land should be cultivated to a depth of four inches and then levelled with a leveller or cultipacker.

Spinach may be seeded very early as it will germinate at low temperatures and yields are heavier if it matures before hot weather. Chard may be started in the greenhouse or sown in the open when the danger of hard frosts is over. New Zealand spinach thrives in hot weather and for this reason should be sown about two weeks after the regular spinach sowing.

Seed of spinach and chard is sown in rows of 15 to 18 inches apart for hand cultivation and wider for horse work. Seed is sown at the rate of about 20 pounds to the acre for 25 seeds scattered (the foot) and covered one-half inch deep. Spinach should be thinned to stand about four inches apart in the row with chard being thinned to three inches at first and later spaced to ten inches. With New Zealand spinach, since the plants are much branched, the rows should be three feet apart and the seeds sown several in a place every two feet and later thinned to one plant.

Frequent shallow cultivation is necessary to keep the weeds in check and assist deeper growth. Spinach may be harvested from the time the plants have five or six leaves until just before the seed stem develops. Since spinach is a cool growing crop, it does not do well during the heat of summer. But an excellent crop of spinach may be obtained in the early fall by making a sowing during the latter half of July. The best way to harvest spinach is to use a knife and cut through the root just at or slightly below the surface of the ground. For continuous testing of chard the usual method is to cut off the outer leaves an inch or two from the ground, being careful to avoid injuring the bud.

New Zealand spinach harvesting method consists of cutting off the tender tips avoiding excessive cutting at one time if later cuttings are to be made.

Recommended varieties of spinach are King of Denmark and Bloomsdale Long Standing. Lucullus is probably the most important variety of chard. Issued by Press and Publicity, Publicity and Extension Division, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, Canada.

PLAY BANNED AT DETROIT

DETROIT, March 11 (AP) - Detroit police today closed Eugene O'Neill's new play, "A Moon For The Misbegotten," charging that it contains "dirty and risqué" dialogue.

The Theatre Guild production, starring James Dunn, opened Monday night at the Cass Theatre for two weeks after previously playing in Columbus, O., Cleveland and Pittsburgh.

By Ken Reynolds

Fans widely applauded when it was announced that Autry would resume his film career at Republic, after an absence of nearly four years in the army.

His come-back picture, "Sioux City Sue," is scheduled to open today at the Capitol Theatre for a three day engagement.

Lynn Roberts has been cast as Autry's leading lady. She plays the enterprising girl scout commissioned, by her employers, Renown Studios, to find a singing cowboy whose voice may be dubbed into their annual cartoon series about "Ding Dong Donkey."

Needing money badly to bolster the tottering financial structure of his ranch, Gene allows himself to be talked into the deal, not knowing, however, that he is merely to be the voice of Ding Dong, the Singing Donkey.

When the truth is out, and he is subjected for the first time to his cow-poke friends and employees, Gene, who feels very bitterly toward the girl who lured him into the movie deal. However, she redeems herself by warning Gene of a dangerous plot hatched by his enemies to ruin him financially and wrest his ranch from him.

Sterling Holloway has a comedy spot in the cast, which also includes the Cass County Boys, Richard Lane, Helen Wallace, Ken Lundy, Ralph Sanford, Edwin Mills, Minerva Urecal and Harry V. Cheslire.
