OF all the sorrows to which the human heart is heir there is none more deep and lasting than that which enters the hearts of parents when called upon to witness the breaking of the earthly ties that bind them to a beloved son or daughter. Therefore the sympathy of the whole community goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Gorman, New Zealand on the death of their son Patrick which sad event took place at his home on Sunday the twentieth instant. Deceased had employed excellent health up to a few days before his death when he was attacked by a severe cold. Medical aid was summoned but the symptoms were so conflicting it was discovered on Sunday morning that he was suffering from diphtheria and at eleven o'clock his young soul returned to its creator to receive the reward of a well spent life. In his home which now seems so lonely without him a loving father and mother, one sister and two brothers are left to mourn. The funeral which took place Monday evening was largely attended with the one feeling uppermost in the hearts of all that of sorrow for the departed and sincere sympathy for the bereaved family. Rev. Fr. Walker conducted services at the church and grave.

He had been in usual health till yesterday morning when, at 2 o'clock, he was stricken with paralysis. He became unconscious and never rallied, sinking gradually and painlessly till the end came. The late Mr. Montgomery was a man of sterling and upright character, and one whom all respected and highly valued. He was about 70 years of age and was unmarried. One sister, Miss Elizabeth, besides a large number of relatives and friends who will have the sincere sympathy of all in their sad bereavement. The funeral will take place Saturday at 2 o'clock to North Belesque cemetery.

WELCOME VISITOR.—Private Dan Campbell of Seal River, Cardigan visited Kensington on Monday last. He was wounded badly in the knee and blinded in one eye, in the fighting near Ypres. Private Campbell has had an adventurous career. He spent two years in Australia and came back to Vancouver and enlisted in the famous 7th battalion under Colonel McHarg. There were many famous Edward Islanders in the Prince Rupert battalion. Lieut. William MacQueen and Bruce MacLellan were among the number, and it is safe to say that German soldiers would have an awful respect for either of the three in hand to hand encounters. Campbell and MacQueen were selected many times to go on raids where bayonet work was to be done. Campbell related one particular instance, where he and MacQueen were side by side in a raid, the trench was too narrow for more than one to work a space to advantage. Campbell was in advance and accented for all the Germans that came his way while he was "going", and when MacQueen who was comparatively inactive, though Campbell had done much, touched him on the shoulder, and said, "get back Dan, leave the rest of them to me." The outcome can easily be guessed—they are both back home alive, although wounded. These boys were at Ypres when the Germans used the poisonous gas for the first time. The Germans have never seemed to work so well for them, sometimes it rolls back on their own men. Private Campbell had the pleasure of disarming a German officer in a bayonet duel, and leading him in a prisoner. When ordered to surrender, the German replied in good English, "I'll never surrender to a Brito camp" but he was forced to come into camp in a great rage. Private Campbell is soliciting subscriptions for MacLean's Magazine throughout the island and is meeting with good success.—K.

Mr. Jerome Macdonald, of New Acadia, has received the following letter from his son, John, who was wounded and is now in an English hospital: Dear Father and Mother—Just a few lines to let you know that I am getting along fine. The wound on my leg is healing well. How is every body home? It is getting very warm over here now, as summer came all at once. I was to Sheffield yesterday and it is a very nice place. You can see lots of people working the land as the city people have a little plot of land to plant potatoes in about one mile from Sheffield. I suppose you are busy putting in the crop. I hope you had a good spring, but I suppose it is like this country, late. Who is teaching school in New Acadia this year? I suppose Jerry can do a lot of work on the farm, and I suppose he is as big as a man. Did you hear from Joe lately? They are very good to us in the hospital, but they stick to the old fable, "early to bed and early to rise." We get up at six o'clock and go to bed at nine. We are allowed to go everywhere we like in the afternoon, but we have to stay around the hospital in the forenoon. We have a nice recreation room, where they have billiard tables and a piano, and all kinds of books to read. The matron treats us to a theatre once a week, and we often go for a ride in an auto; so you see we have a very good time. As for smokes we get all kinds, for you see I got the habit over in France. I think every body smokes over there for it is about the only thing to do. Well, dear mother, I haven't much news to tell you now. I will bring my letters to a close by wishing you best of luck. Good-bye. Your Loving Son, JOHN A. PINEAU.

JOHN A. PINEAU, Red Cross Hospital, Dorset, N. S. Will be at Shorecliffe, after I leave the hospital, that is where the artillery base is.
