YOUNG PEOPLE'S MEETING—The regular weekly meeting of the Young People's Union of Trinity United Church, Summerside, was held on Tuesday evening. The devotional period was led by Miss Wina MacNevin, citizenship counselor. At the business part of the meeting the Training School and rally to be held at Kensington from May 9th to 11th was discussed and it was decided to appoint two delegates to attend. These new members were added to the roll. An enjoyable recreation period followed.—S.

SUMMERSIDE VENDOR—The retail vendor at Summerside is to be superannuated, according to information tabled in the Legislature yesterday in reply to a question on the order paper by Mr. Francis McNeill. The vendor, it is stated, is employed under order-in-council retaining his services for six months from Dec. 1, 1946. The question of retention or superannuation will be considered on June 1, 1947. If he is retired, it will be under the provisions of the Superannuation Act.

WIDE BUSINESS RENOVATION—Workmen who have been busily employed for some months at the premises of Palmer and Williams Ltd., Summerside, have made a wonderful transformation in the interior of their store. In the main store this is a most pleasing appearance of newness—new walls, ceilings, fixtures and display stands. The ceiling is nicely finished in white, the walls in an ivory effect. To the rear of the store proper is a conveniently situated main business office, instead of further back as formerly. A private office is on the same floor. The former counters and shelves have all been replaced by attractive display stands. The show room covers a space of 30 x 42 feet and affords full scope to display the fine line of refrigerators, electric stoves, oil burners, radios, etc. In addition to the main stock room extending the entire length of the premises in the basement, there is an additional stock room on the first floor, where the goods which were formerly on the shelves of the main store are now kept. The proprietor of the business, Mr. Allan W. Palmer, along with Mr. Fred Anderson, office manager and Mr. Earl Perry, bookkeeper are to be congratulated on the splendid improvements.—S.

PERSONALS—Mrs. Ralph Mooney, Clinton, is spending a few days in Charlottetown, the guest of her niece, Mrs. Edwin Coles.

Friends of Mr. Harold Foy, Summerside, are pleased to hear he is progressing favorably in Prince County Hospital, after his recent operation.

Expect S'side To Reach Red Cross Objective—A general meeting of the Red Cross canvassers for the Town of Summerside was held last evening in St. Mary's Hall. Reports from the various captains showed that up to Friday evening the total sum turned in amounted to $3,479.15. Due to the fact that a number of workers had been unable to complete their canvass the sum total already collected could not be computed. The objective for the town was set at $4,000 and when complete returns are handed in it is expected that Summerside will once more go over the top.

A highly enjoyable supper was served to the workers by the ladies of the Red Cross. A hearty vote of thanks to these ladies was moved by Mr. Leslie Sim-

Prince County Members On The Draft Address

Spokesmen from opposite ends of Prince County had the floor in the Legislature on Thursday afternoon, the occasion being the debate on the Draft Address and the speakers Mr. C. F. Morrissey, Conservative, First Prince, and Mr. Morley Bell, only Liberal lawyer in the House, who represents the Fifth District.

Mr. C. F. Morrissey

We should congratulate ourselves, Mr. Morrissey said, on our position in Prince Edward Island, compared with conditions in England and Europe.

He cited a political shooting incident in one of the European capitals, of which he had just read. "In this country," he added, "I never heard of a shot being fired in the Legislature, except maybe a shot of stimulant fired at a tired politician, and that generally helped him."

He commended the results of the rural beautification program, and stressed the need of encouragement in planting trees and setting out rural gardens.

Premier Jones said the Cotton Trust was designed for this purpose. They intended to appoint a man to give instructions in tree planting.

Mr. Morrissey said the clearing of main highways by snowplows was a good thing for those who benefited, but people living on side roads had their cars tied up for five months of the year. They paid the same license fees as those who used the highways all the year round. The fees in their cases, he suggested, should be reduced.

He spoke briefly on the Dominion-Provincial tax agreement, expressing the hope that the Government, now that it has obtained more money, will spend it wisely.

He urged that the road from Tignish to Greenmount, a distance of four or six miles, be paved as soon as possible. This was the continuation of the main highway and should have been done long ago.

Fishermen's Loans

Mr. Morrissey stressed the need of more assistance to fishermen. Dealing with the Fishermen's Loan Board, he recalled that previous to the establishment of this Board a grant of $600,000 for relief of fishermen had been voted at Ottawa. It had never been used and it reverted back to the treasury.

He had attended many meetings in connection with loans for fishermen and had taken an active part in this work along with the present Chief Justice Campbell. They had got the Fisheries Minister, Mr. Michaud, to attend a large meeting at Alberton with the result that Mr. Michaud promised a grant for the poor fishermen. The Minister told Mr. Morrissey personally that this was to be a grant, not a loan to be put back.

At that time the speaker was operating two factories. He obtained a loan which went out to the fishermen, and they could not pay it back. The loans were usually for small supplies, and the fishermen did not get very much after the merchants got their share.

Today, he was glad to say, the fishermen are in a good position; but it would not take much to set them back. Lobsters would probably not fetch any more than half the price of last year. No one knew what to expect with regard to codfish.

Mr. Morrissey referred to the potato surplus last year, and the difficulty caused by lack of storage and reefer cars. In his district the growers were in a desperate position trying to get their crop away. Had it not been for the British potato order he did not know what would have happened.

He commended the efforts to develop Newfoundland trade under the agency of Mr. Agnew.

With regard to the new Borden ferry, judging by previous delays, he supposed it would take six months to christen her.

The campaign for the West Cape ferry has made great progress, he reported. The boats are now assured, seconded by Mr. E. P. Foley and presented by Mr. A. S. Hopkins, the chairman. Miss Gladys Holman on behalf of the ladies acknowledged the vote of thanks. It is expected that final returns of the local drive will be available by Monday.

At the conclusion of the meeting a highly interesting sound film was shown through the courtesy of the Summerside Y's Men's Club.

ed and when they get the necessary finances it will be an easy matter to run across the eighteen miles of water to the New Brunswick mainland.

He urged the Government to provide a snowplow at Alberton. Hon. Mr. Barbour: "You will have one next winter."

Mr. Morrissey: "That's the stuff." He referred with pride to the Tignish hockey team of young men who came down and "trimmed Charlottetown to a finish," also to an enjoyable function at Government House he attended after the game.

MR. MORLEY BELL

Mr. Bell commended the Premier on being able to keep fertilizer costs down, and on his activities in promoting public health.

The demand in England was not the only reason we were able to supply the British potato order, Mr. Bell argued. There had always been an English demand, and efforts were made in the past to get into that market, but failed. It was only through great efforts of the Federal and Provincial Governments, and the Potato Growers Association, that the contract was obtained. This not only guarantees an outlet for last year's potatoes at floor prices, but establishes a market for the future which will be of much benefit to Island growers.

Mr. Bell credited the Premier with hitting on the idea of "turning our insular position in this Province to advantage." There were great possibilities in this idea from the standpoint of tourist traffic and livestock production, he said.

In some of the Western States a movement was underway to have experts spend two or three years there to investigate not only soil conditions, but the possibilities of raising new crops. A policy of this kind might be followed here, Mr. Bell suggested. We might find that other crops can be raised besides those we now have.

Good Road Yet—He referred to efforts made by past governments in the Province to find cheaper methods of road building. Some of these experiments had proved to be failures, but others were more successful. He referred particularly to a piece of road built seventeen years ago near Hampshire. He had the opportunity of driving over it the other day, and except for a few small stretches it was in very good condition.

Dr. MacMillan: "It is a good road yet?"

Mr. Bell: "A good road yet. It might have been laid down by the Conservatives; I wouldn't be sure of that. But is a first class road."

He expressed the belief that Great Britain, despite her present hard position, was by no means down and out, but would weather the crisis triumphantly.

The Liberal Wave

It had been stated in the House (by Mr. Barbour) that the Conservatives were not so successful in recent years as in the past. Mr. Bell said this was due to the fact that the Liberals have been in power for several years all across Canada. It was well nigh impossible for any Opposition to make headway. The same condition would prevail no matter who the leader of the Opposition might be; he could not do better than the present leader in this Province. This wave of Liberalism, Mr. Bell thought, was still prevalent throughout Canada, and indicated that there would be Liberal government for at least a few more years.

He referred to trials of fifth columnists at Ottawa and said we should join with the rest of Canada in heading off any further encroachment of Communism.

He disagreed with Mr. Strong's statement that the Prohibition amendment had not curtailed moonshining in Prince County. Mr. Saville had supported Mr. Strong but Mr. Bell believed the contrary to be true. The amendment had largely eradicated the sale of moonshine, especially in Prince County. He had been told by the R.C.M.P. inspector and by the chief of police at Summerside that there was very little moonshine sold. In Summerside, practically every place has been closed.

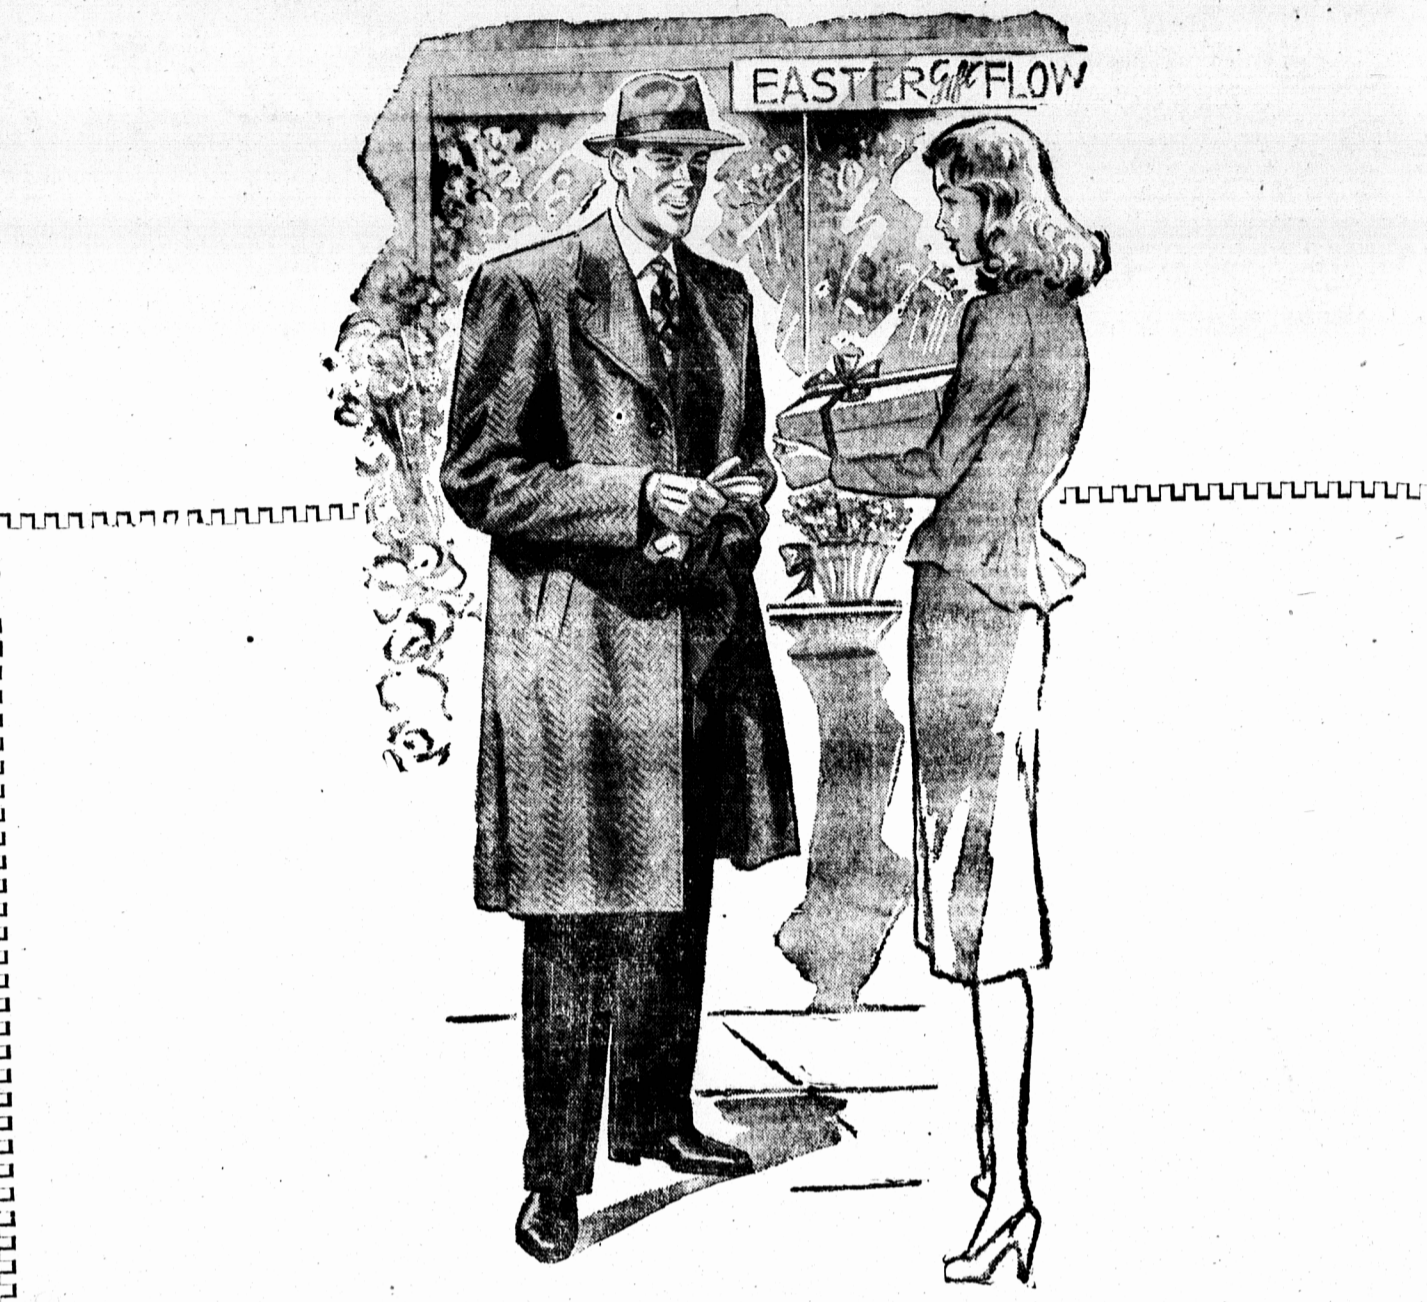

Mr. Bell spoke at some length of the labor situation in the United States and industrial sections of Canada, and of prospects for world peace.

He approved of the Dominion Government's objective in levelling off the economy of Canada by obtaining tax agreements with seven of the Provinces. He hoped the remaining Provinces would eventually sign up too.

S'side Legion Decides Not To Sell Property

At a special general meeting of the Summerside branch of the Canadian Legion held last evening two offers to purchase the Legion property were considered and after considerable discussion it was unanimously decided not to sell at the present time. The offers came from the Town of Summerside and from Mr. Ray Tanton, a member of the Legion.

Y's Men's Radio Auction Is Success

The annual radio auction conducted by the members of the Summerside Y's Men's Club was held over CHGS on Thursday evening and from a financial point of view was the most successful to date by a wide margin. Many more articles of merchandise had been donated by local and national business firms than in any previous year.
