Scatched Until It Tore The Flesh

"It was in the latter end of the year 1908 that a nasty itch came through my skin, and scratched it until it tore the flesh. I tried several ointments to no effect. I went to a skin hospital. They advised me to go to the hospital, but I refused. I could not sleep with the constant itch. I was that way until on or about the month of January. One day I chanced to see in a paper a case like mine, but I gave it no credence. At last I said, 'I will try the Cuticura Remedies.' With the first wash and Cuticura Ointment used, I found their effects. I got one box of the Ointment more, and in less than one week the skin was all right, and left no traces after it. I have not had a return of the same skin, and I shall always praise the Cuticura Remedies as being the means of my cure."

(Signed) JOHN TYRRELL, 104, Sootland Road, Liverpool. In a further letter Mr. Tyrrell adds: "The first appearance of my skin eczema was a burning itch which I tore and left my body, legs and arms one mass of sores. It caused sleepless nights, but now I can sleep as well as ever."

Mrs McLeod was taken to the home of S. E. McLeod near by and Miss Margaret McLeod, formerly of Dundas, now of Boston, a competent trained nurse, was at once engaged to attend her. The Guardian received from J. F. Wheat, Postmaster City, an interesting souvenir program of the sovereign Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F. which was held in Atlanta, Georgia since Sept. 19th concluding Saturday. The cover of the program has the seal of the order and the state when they are convening and the three links of the fraternity. The souvenir is profusely illustrated with public and private buildings of Georgia which enhance its value as a souvenir. For the use of the members attending the convention there is a full list of delegates in attendance, officers of the Grand Lodge and full program of the sessions. The booklet is an excellent specimen of the printer art, and is an attractive souvenir of a great convention.

The Eldon harvest is nearly all gathered in and is a fairly good one. The potatoes will not be as good a crop as was first expected owing to the prolonged dry weather. All root crops suffered for want of rain. Threshing is now the order of the day. Wheat and oats are turning out well. Mrs. Martin D. Martin, Eldon, has returned from a trip to Cardigan. Mrs. Martin received a message by telephone that her husband was seriously ill at that place. When she arrived there, to her great pleasure, he was better and was nounced by his physician to be out of danger. His many friends will be glad to hear he is improving and will be pleased to see him home as soon as his physician permits him to leave. Miss Laura McWilliams has returned after a prolonged visit to friends at Newton. Welcome back James Leiby and Roy Longard have returned from the Northwest, where they went out on the harvest excursion. After their short experience they don't believe much in Horace Greely's advice: "Go West, young man." They saw nothing to compare with home, sweet home. Mrs. Neil A. McLeod is visiting her old home in Eldon. We regret to note the prolonged illness of Mrs. John McDonald. The butter factory has done well this season, turning out butter second to none on P. E. Island, under the good management of John McEneaney. Jack is all right—He is a dandy. Miss Margaret Stewart, a popular young lady, is visiting in Hampshire, the guest of her cousin, Alice Stewart.—Com.

John Taylor, formerly of St. Peter's Island, but for several years past a resident of Moyle, B. C., had had a thrilling experience recently. He and a friend named Hudson went out in a canoe duck shooting one evening and the canoe became capsized. Hudson sank but Taylor seized him and got him to grasp the canoe. He lost his grip again. Once more Taylor succeeded in saving him. A third time he went under that time to find a watery grave. Taylor was also getting exhausted. But for another half hour he clung to the canoe which it was nearly impossible to keep sufficiently steady to maintain his grasp. The night was very cold with frost in the air, and when Taylor was about to give up in despair, he saw a man in a motor boat hastened to his rescue. He was reached just in the nick of time and is now none the worse of his exposure. The body of his chum was recovered the following day in 80 feet of water.

Donald, Bedouque, three sisters, Mrs. John Bonness Montrose, Mrs. F. Peters, Summerside, Mrs. Edward Gordon, Boston, Mass., and two brothers, Wilson, in Colorado, and Leander, of Alma, P. E. I. On Wednesday night last the store of Morris & Fyfe, Stanley Bridge, was broken into and a quantity of goods stolen. On Friday officers Phillips of Kensington and Constable Moose of Kensington were on duty in the case and had been working quietly on the case up to yesterday when the arrest was made of George Fowler of Summerside and Charles Dobson of Pictou, who were brought to Summerside and lodged in jail. The day following the robbery three suspicious looking characters were seen on the road near Margate. A conversation was had with one of them who gave his name as Loder and informed him that the three of them belonged to Miscouche. Constable Moose, upon hearing of this, at once got into telephone communication with officer Phillips who after considerable difficulty, yesterday located the three men answering the description. Constable Moose at once came to Summerside and on arriving here found that the suspects had again left town, going in the direction of the North Shore. Accompanied by Officer Phillips, he at once gave chase and succeeded in capturing two of them, the third, also named Loder, escaping them although he was seen with the other two shortly before the officers arrived. The prisoners were brought to Summerside and taken before stipendiary Wright who remanded them to jail, until ten o'clock this morning when they will be given a hearing. In the stillness of the Sabbath noon September 18th, Mrs. Hannah Carver, beloved wife of Richard Carver, of Pownal, passed peacefully to the never ending rest beyond. The many months preceding her departure were months of great weakness and weariness but she calmly and patiently bore her burden of affliction and in the spirit of a true and beautiful resignation awaited the coming of life's close. Naturally of a retiring disposition she said little of her inner life but those who stood by her in those hours of trial and deep solicitude she gave emphatic assurance of her acceptance and of her well-grounded hope for the future. Mrs. Carver died in the old home at Gaytown, Charlottetown, where the early years of her childhood were spent. The interment took place on Wednesday, Sept 21st, in the Methodist Cemetery at Pownal, where she resided for many years. During her lengthened illness she was tenderly cared for by her daughter, Mrs. Westmorland, wife of Rev. E. A.
