RUSH OVERTAXES OTTAWA'S TIRED TOILERS

AWA, Dec. 18—Appropriate ployes of the department of who are handling the victory bonds, have been led to work evenings for the o weeks to keep up with the rush of work. No extra pay is received for this overtime work, and the employes are reported to be complaining bitterly on the ground that extra help should have been employed.

Humility often gains more than pride.

NOT A VACATION.

Mary—I'm going to get married next month if Bob can get a week off from his job.

Marie—Do you think he'll be able?

Mary—I think so. You see it isn't the same as if he was asking for a vacation to have a good time.

A Practical Gift
OF A THOUSAND USES

HERE'S a bright idea—give an Eveready Flashlight to every one on your Christmas list. You can't go wrong on a single one, because there's a type of Eveready for every type of person. Here, surely, is the Christmas Gift of a Thousand Uses.

Christmas morning, watch Dad reach for that handsome Spotlight with the 300-foot range.

Look at Mother, wreathed in smiles, examining her Flashlight. Now she can approach those dark stairs with surer tread. No more guessing which is "Grape" and which "Crab Apple" on the dark jam-shelf.

Easy there, Billy. Wait a minute, Jane. There's a Pocket Light for each of you. Aren't they nice? All smooth and shiny, like a cigarette case.

A bright Christmas? Yes, Sir! Don't wait till the rush is on. Take your list to the nearest electrical, hardware, drug, auto-supply, or sporting-goods store today and make your Christmas selection.

Passed U. S. Naval Appropriation Bill

WASHINGTON, Dec 19.— The naval appropriation bill carrying a request that the President negotiate with foreign powers relative to limiting construction of war craft under 10,000 tons, was passed late today by the House of Representatives.

The bill carried a total of $325,000,000 and provides for an enlisted naval force of 86,000, the same as fixed last year.

There was a flurry of talk over the provisions under which the President is asked to negotiate with Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy, but in the end an effort to change the language was dropped in the face of overwhelming opposition to allocation whatever.

RADIO'S BENEFITS TO HUMANITY

By J. Andrew White Chairman of National Radio Week Committee

Since broadcasting was started I have received thousands of letters from radio fans and quite naturally I am in position to know what radio means to the average person.

Take the blind people, for instance, it has injected a new hope into their lives; it has been a bright spot in the eternal darkness that is their lot. It brings to the sightless the newspaper, the book, the theatre, opera, concert and lecture platform, which, in the ordinary routine of their lives is denied them. True they may be led through the streets, but how much better is it to bring these things to them! A blind person must be unusually gifted, insensitive to public pity or annoyance and amply financed if he or she is to take advantage of the resources of modern society. Only the newest of these resources, radio, brings easily within the ken of the blind all that can be represented by the spoken word or musical sound.

When we realize that there are nearly 53,000 blind persons in the United States we can understand that radio mean a great deal to this class of people.

Take the case of Corlos Escalante, which came to my attention some time ago. He had been a very active business man and widely traveled. In 1920 he was attacked by a sudden illness and his eyes flickered and failed. For a year and a half he sat in darkness with memories as his only muse. In the home where he once strode confidently he could but stumble uncertainly with outstretched arms. Last Christmas one of his old friends gave him a radio set. It was a godsend to the man. Those of us who rush about daily can only dimly appreciate the joy that radio brought to this.

Take the shut-ins. Only those of us who have gone through a long siege of sickness can understand what the radiophone means to those who are confined to their beds day after day. It actually hastens recovery, since it tends to relieve the mind of its worry. The mind has a powerful influence on the body, and often the patient's own mental conditioin is the chief obstacle in the way of an early recovery. The body is willing, but the mind, from long dwelling on misery, is unable to comprehend the fact that health is at hand. Radio can change this. It gives the patient the needed healthy stimulis from outside.

Dr. W.E. Jacobs, medical superintendant of the Cumberland Hospital, Brooklyn, N.Y., recently commented upon this subject: "Radio," he said, "deserves to be ranked with the best mental therapeutic agencies. In fact, for hundreds of cases the radio telephone can be prescribed as one of the best treatments."

Radio broadcasting stations have brought the fountain to Mohammed; the bedridden may now enjoy the opera, the drama and the lecture. The little sufferers may now be lulled into dreamland and relief from pain by the calming influence of lullabies and bedtime stories. In convalescent wards where no patients are critically ill, loud speakers may be used on receiving sets.

In considering radio we must not forget its place in prison reform. Only recently was radio placed in Sing Sing. Warden Lawes made the following statement, "What the future will hold is difficult to predict. The radio cannot be an instrument for anything but good, and for that reason, if no other, every effort will be made to find a permanent place for it in prison life. I believe its greatest value will lie along mass educational lines. The men hearing addresses made by prominent persons in many parts of the country will gain invaluable instruction. The music that is broadcast is of the better type, and it too, will enable men to form a new viewpoint."

Let us look at radio in connection with the question of isolation Think of the condition of most country roads at this time of the year; snow covered and practically impassable. Think of what radio means to the folks imprisoned in the midst of snow-covered fields. Think of what a force this will be on keeping the young folks on the farm, o problem which is now causing the government so much worry. Radio will not only entertain the farm folks, but it will help to overcome the fundamental cause of the desertion of rural communities. In connection with isolation, let us not forget the men in the lumber and mining camps and in the lighthouse service. Take the latter, whose lives are dedicated to the safety of travelers. In many cases radio has relieved the tedium of life on the lights. For the first time in history these men can keep in touch with the world that used to pass them by.

We are planning special programmes for National Radio week, and although it is too early to promise definitely just what we will have, I can give you a brief outline of our plans. Since National Radio week is also Christmas week, we, of course, want plenty of Santa Claus stuff for the children. Along this line we also want to have representatives of foreign nations tell how the Christmas holidays are observed in their respective countries. This, I think, will be unusually interesting. Then we would like to have one evening a week turned over to each organization, such os the salvation army, Near East Relief and other charitable institutions. These bodies could give special musical programmes which I am sure would be of great interest. We want this week to stand out in radio history, and those who are now connected with it have unselfishly dedicated their time to it."

Move To Restrict Smuggling

WASHINGTON, Dec, 19.— Formal notifications have been given in a note presented to the State Department by Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador, and made public today, that the Canadian Government has issued instructions to its registrars of shipping by which it is hoped to restrict smuggling of liquor nto the United States through fradulent transfer of American vessels to British registry.

Under the new instructions, the note sets forth, in application to register a vessel in Canada which has been purchased from a citizen of the United States, unless supported by a certificate under the seal of the United States Shipping Board authorizing such a transfer "must be forwarded to the department of the Canadain Government for instructions before any definite steps are taken."

Into the wilds of the Canadian game country, where men lose themselves from civilization to hunt the wild life of the north, and into the heart of an old French-Canadian guide, unlettered-yete not unresponsive, the voice of WGY and the songs and stories that go forth almost nightly from Schenectady by radio, found their way a week or so ago. The "hunter man" for whom Camille Poirier was the guide, brought with him a radio receiving set, with which Poirier heard his first radio program.

And today, at the broadcasting studio of WGY, down at the General Electric Works, there is a letter from the old guide, telling how the radio songs and the radio stories appealed to him up there in the hunting lodge, and thanking WGY for talking to him. The letter, given below, is the best evidence of how radio cheer can penetrate to spots where other cheer cannot go. There's a laugh in it —and something else.

WGY, Schenectady General Store, New York States.

Sir.—I am gide for hunter man wot come at dis place Lac-des isle for hunting deer. dese hunter man bring it wit him a machine for her you spik sunday nite also tuesday nite i hear song bout my ole modder dats long tim i dont see my modder and i ting dats dame fine song also i heer oder song i dont no de nam. tuesday nite storie for de small boy and girl but mak de star shine for dem if dey is good boy and girl. hunter man laff lik hell an tole me to ax you how we mak some moon shine.

I hear you spik jus de same lik your at me place i ting you have good machine i lissen more nex week.

tank you and much oblige,
Gide Camille Poirier,
Chemis P. O., Quebec, Canada.

As Miss Zona Gale, famous author, listened in at her home in Portage, Wis., on a recent evening she heard the voice of WGY, the radio broadcasting station of the General Electric Company, speak her name and convey the greetings of the studio players who were about to present as the evening's program the play made from her book, "Miss Lulu Bett."

The following day, her acknowledgment came in a telegram to WGY in which her manager, F.L. Van Eppes, said:—

"Miss Gale asknowledges your greetings. Lulu Bett coming through fine."

The play was given by the studio actors of WGY, headed by Edward H. Smith.

Headaches Come From Gas On Stomach

If you are bothered with gas, your system is poisoned, often causing headache, nervousness and weakness. Simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Arlerika, expels poisons and gas and stops headaches almost INSTANTLY in many cases. Acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel. Adlerika removes matter you never thought was in your system which poisoned stomach and caused gas. EXCELLENT to guard against appendicitis. Hughes Drug Co., Ltd. Sold in Georgetown by S. C. Knight.

Do Not Neglect Your Blood

If it is in abnormal condition, the longer you delay taking a good blood medicine like Hood's Sarsaparilla, the longer it will take and the more difficult it will be for you to get back to "normalcy."

Not only boils, pimples, eruptions, but headaches, nervous spells, "all-gone" feelings, indigestion and loss of appetite are readily traced to impure blood. Thousands date getting on the right road to health from the day they began taking Hood's Sarsaparilla. Why not try it?
