TRUST IN GOD AND DO THE RIGHT

Sermon by Pastor Andrew Hageman, New York City.

THE TEXT JOHN XIV:12.

He that Believeth on Me, the Works that I do Shall He do Also, and Greater Works.

Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also; and greater works than these shall he do; because I go unto my Father.—John xiv., 12.

It is the glory of the Christian that he is enabled to serve in the redemption of a world for which Christ died. Every servant of Christ is a son of God. Each subject of the King is a prince, able to prevail with God and men.

Notice the positiveness of Christ's words of cheer. "Verily, verily;" truly, truly, as though it could not be contradicted. This double verily is peculiar to John's Gospel. It makes emphatic the utterances which follow. They cannot be changed by the lapse of years. Doubly certified, they stand firmly established. "Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also."

Here is the Christian's condition of success in service for his Master, Christ, viz., "faith in Him." "All things are possible to him that believeth." You shut off the current of your power the moment you doubt Him in the least. Your thought, your opinion, your faith in Him circumscribes your power in accomplishing the world's benefactions.

But with these conditions of faith in Him fulfilled, what are the results? Works equal to any which Christ ever did. Works greater than those which He accomplished. This is very strong and extreme language; but, coming from Christ's own lips, we must believe it, and has not history abundantly verified His words? Let us look for a moment.

"The works that I do shall ye do also."

Christ suffered for mankind; "gave himself for them."

Did you and I ever benefit humanity very much without a self-denial; without a giving of somewhat of ourselves in their behalf?

Christ was crucified for sinners.

Paul says: "I am crucified with Christ, nevertheless I live." The new Christ life in the man.

Christ healed the sick.

His followers do the same. In fact, the Gospel uproots the cause of so many evils and errors. Its precepts, obeyed, purify all life; regulate the expenditure of strength, restrain self-inflicted injuries, determine our best laws of wealth.

Christ cast out devils.

What else is done when the evil spirits of strong drink, profanity, hatred, envy and jealousy are uprooted by an applied Christianity, and in their places are cultivated the fruits of the spirit—love, joy, peace, long suffering, gentleness, kindness?

Christ convinced men of sin and their need of a Saviour. He talked with the woman of Samaria until she saw herself a sinner and also saw Him her Saviour. He reasoned with Nicodemus until impossible things became clear and reasonable.

You and I do a similar service when we deepen the conviction of sin and reveal the Christ ready to save and heal.

Christ converted, turned the hearts and lives of men unto God.

This is our amazing life work, too, as Christians—to turn men round and cause them to live so differently afterward.

Even a little child can thus lead the strong man out of the very thicket of sin. A trembling, dependent wife may draw her whole family into loving subjection to God. A few faithful believers in town or city will change the whole moral tone of the place.

Christ drew multitudes unto Him. There was a magnetism about His pure and unselfish life which drew men irresistibly to Him. To-day you and I may do similar service. For the world admires just a little more than all others the upright, consistent Christian. There is a sweetness in the companionship of an aged saint which cannot be found elsewhere—for satan has no happy old men. There is a sacredness in the touch of that life which has walked all its way with God. Men love it and are inspired with greater courage therefrom. It is, therefore, no vain thing to say that Christians are doing the works today which Christ did and drawing multitudes to service!

Manifestly Christ has in view the wondrous development of Christianity throughout the coming years and centuries. In this He intends to work more and more through Christians. Not, therefore, separated from Him, but, as His active agents, are they to do these greater works. The work of salvation is to proceed upon an ever-enlarging line of service. Redeemed men and women are to behold their work expanding and they themselves developing into greater efficiency. Just as the daily toiler in the application of inventive genius does greater actual work than the inventor himself. (but only because his genius makes it possible), so Christ in the redemption of this world plans to use with marvellous results men and women who will serve Him.

How delightful to exert our choicest strength for such a Master! How honorable is the calling which makes us collaborators with such a friend! Yes, we touch the hand of Him, who moves the worlds. We feel the throbbings of the heart of the Infinite in fullest sympathy with all our efforts to elevate mankind and to save this world.

Courage, brother, do not stumble,
Though thy path be dark as night;
There's a star to guide the humble—
Trust in God and do the right.

GLENGARY FOREVER.

Angus MacMillan, Over Eighty Years of Age a New Man Again He Tells his own Story.

Over eighty years of age, but hale and hearty and with good health beaming from every feature, Angus MacMillan, of Laggan' is a splendid sample of the men Glengary produces. To look at him one would imagine, that all through life his lines had fallen in pleasant places and that sorrows and ills had touched him with a light hand indeed. But Mr. MacMillan has had his share of trouble too.

"Yes, I am over eighty years of age" he says in telling his story, "and I am in as good health as a man could ask, But that is only for the last few months. Before that I suffered with Dyspepsia for more than twenty years. You know what that means, the pain, the restlessness and all that.

"Then I commenced taking Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets, when after using the Tablets for two days all pain and uneasiness left me entirely, at least so far, for I am still using them.

"I am a new man. I have great reason to be thankful for all the good Dodd's Dyspepsia Tyblets have done for me."

That is what Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets did for Angus MacMillan. They cured his Dyspepsia and made him feel young again. Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets are doing the same thing for others every day. Why carry that pain, and weariness and sense of hopeless discomfor? That's Dyspepsia and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure it.

The Montreal Star

Speaking of Pianos shown at the Colonial and Indian exhibition said.

"There is no necessity of telling Canadians who Messrs, Heintzman, the well-known piano manufacturers of Toronto, are. Their instruments are well known and appreciated at home, especially in Montreal. In Canada they have little to compete with, but in England, where they throw down the gauntlet to such men as Erard. Broadwood, and Collard, it is a bold venture. And yet many of the leading musicians who have given them a trial at the Exhibition pronounced their instruments unequalled in tone and elasticity of touch. Messrs. Heintzman exhibit two Grand and five Upright pianos, all of which are in cases specially prepared for the Exhibition. There can be no better proof of the value set upon the exhibits of Messrs Heintzman than the fact that they have sold duplicates of their pianos here over and over again, one of the Grands having been purchased by one of the ealthiest men in the west of England. In the latter case the purchaser sent experts to thoroughly examine the instrument, and they pronounced it superior to any they could buy in England. Messrs. Heintzman have a certificate to that effect. Both the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Princess Beatrice, the Duke of Connaught, and the Princess Louise, have each visited Messrs Heintzman's and congratulated the exhibitors on their manufactures."
