

Her Majesty, the Queen, at a distribution depot "Somewhere in England," examines some of the warm garments made by women of Canada in a scene from the film "There Too I Go" to be shown here shortly. The picture in which Anna Neagle plays a leading part, is a dramatic and stirring story of the vital work of the Canadian Red Cross both overseas and in Canada. In a nation-wide appeal from May 11 to 23, Canadians are being asked to give $9,000,000 to this work during the next year.

WEST KENT SCHOOL

Honor roll for April:

- Grade X-1. Philip Hardy; 2. Wendell MacCannell; 3. Ruth MacDougall.
Grade IX-1. Harold Jenkins; 2. Jimmie Palmer; 3. Buddy Sterne.
Grade IX-2. Maurice Brehaut; 2. Ralph Holman; 3. Ernest MacKinnon.
Grade VIII-1. David Andrew; 2. Kendrick Gordon; 3. Hiram Miller.
Grade VIII-2. Don MacLeod; 2. Barbara Pickard; 3. Joan Large.
Grade VII-1. Jean Robinson; 2. Shirley Vessey; 3. Kenneth Yeo.
Grade VII-2. Walter Conrad; 2. James Bentley; 3. Charles Rogers.
Grade VI-1. Harold MacPeters; 2. Harry Sear; 3. Elaine Bourke.
Grade VI-2. Leth Douglas; 2. Donald Callbeck; 3. Neil Foster.
Grade V-1. Mary Ramsay; 2. Hilda Pickard; 3. James Farrell; 3. Paul Cutmore; 3. Barbara Pickering.
Grade V-2. Ann Blake; 2. Philip Jardine; 3. Norman Wilson.
Grade IV-1. Fran Miller; 2. Heather Lantz; 3. Phyllis Tait.
Grade III-1. Mary Beth Harris; 2. Karl Reardon; 3. Bobbie Nelson.
Grade III-2. Frank Currier; 2. Elsie MacDonald; 3. Claudette McMillan.
Grade II (Jr.)-1. Jim MacKay; 2. David MacEachern; 3. Roy White; 3. Jim Wood.
Grade II-2. Murray Carmody; 2. Gerald Birt; 3. Eleanor Storey; 2. Keith Thacker; 3. Joan Marie MacIntyre.
Grade I-1. Helen Whitlock; 2. Minard's relieves sprains.

Donald Haynes; 3. Vaunda Westgaard.
Grade I-1. Brian Chandler; 2. Meredith McClenaghan; 3. Carolyn Nelson.

SPRING IN PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

Morning skies of flaming splendor, Wide their golden banners fling, Youth and loveliness and laughter, Greet the glory of the spring.
Scented winds and apple blossoms, Lilies with a fragrance sweet, Little dreams as gay as rainbows, Just as bright—and just as fleet.
Friendly trees of Pine and Maple, Winding roads that call to me, Country lanes strewn with violets, Silvery moonlight on the sea.
Robins fill the air with music Set in tune with hearts that sing, Gay, entrancing, beautiful, Is the 'Island' in the Spring.

—Constance I. Heckbert.

War—25 Years Ago Today

(By The Canadian Press)

MAY 4, 1917—French troops captured one of the northwestern of British transport, Transylvania, in the Mediterranean Sea. United States destroyers started to co-operate with the British Navy in the war zone.

In Memoriam

MISS JEAN MACKENZIE The following clipping from a Regina paper has been received, in which Miss Mackenzie and her two brothers, John and Charles Mackenzie, are mentioned in connection with a period of games refreshment were served by the young ladies of the Society.

W. M. S. MEETING—The April meeting of the Bonshaw United Church W. M. S. was held at the evening of April 18th. Under the direction of the President, Mrs. Geddie MacLeod, the program for prayer was as outlined in the Missionary Monthly. Mrs. Alex MacDougall, all members taking part. The Eastern Thanksgiving envelopes were passed at this meeting. A donation of $2.00 from Mrs. Alex MacDougall, Mrs. Harry Desmond, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gage, Mr. and Mrs. Donald McPadden, Miss Ruth Ferguson, Miss Edith Egan, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gage, Mr. and Mrs. John MacEachern, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Nixon, Mrs. Howatt, Mr. MacEachern, together with Mrs. MacEachern who have been spending the winter with their children in Cambridge, Mass., plan in the near future to return to their home in Long Creek, Prince Edward Island.

CENTRAL GUARDIAN

This column is reserved for news of local interest, but advertising of local business may be inserted, at a special word, strictly payable in advance.

CONFEDERATION LIFE INSURANCE

FUNERAL SATURDAY—The funeral of Mrs. Frank R. Murphy was held Saturday morning from her late residence, 109 Hillsboro St. to St. Dunstan's Basilica where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by the Rev. W. McCordie who also conducted service at the grave. The pallbearers were Messrs. John Cameron, Robert Duncan, Herbert Vandenberg, Howard McInnis, James Kiggins and Emerio Holland.

FUNERAL SERVICES—The funeral of Mr. James Gormley was held Saturday morning from his late residence, Water Street, to St. Dunstan's Basilica where Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Dougan who also conducted service at the grave. The pallbearers were Messrs. D. W. Fitzgerald, H. J. Riley, Patrick Murnaghan, Victor Purdy, Bert Shaw, Daniel Noonan and John Doyle.

BONSHAW Y. P. S.—The Young People's Society of the Bonshaw United Baptist Church held their regular monthly social at the Hall on April 6th. The President, Miss Isabelle Crosby presided. Scripture reading was given by Miss Maxine Salmond and the lesson for the evening by Mrs. George Carson. At the close of the meeting an Easter play entitled "The Easter Story" was presented by Fred Shaw was presented by the following young girls: Misses Marilyn Salmond, Joan and Ina Gage, and Miss Rosie Fitzgerald. Others present besides the ones mentioned were—Mrs. Rachel Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Murdoch MacDougall, Mrs. Florence MacEachern, Mrs. Sackie McArthur, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Boyce, Miss Elizabeth Boyce, Mrs. Jas. Thomson, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Harry Desmond, Mrs. Harry Desmond, Mrs. Bob MacGregor, Mrs. Alex MacDougall, Miss Evelyn Gage, and Miss Rosie Fitzgerald. Others present besides the ones mentioned were—Mrs. Rachel Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. Murdoch MacDougall, Mrs. Florence MacEachern, Mrs. Sackie McArthur, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Boyce, Miss Elizabeth Boyce, Mrs. Jas. Thomson, Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton, Mrs. Harry Desmond, Mrs. Harry Desmond, Mrs. Bob MacGregor, Mrs. Alex MacDougall, Miss Evelyn Gage, and Miss Rosie Fitzgerald.

AN ISLANDER HONORED—On April 18th upwards of fifty people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Campbell of Cambridge, Mass., to celebrate the eightieth birthday of Mr. Donald MacEachern. Although taken by surprise the Octogenarian soon realized he was the cause of such a large gathering and joined with them in his jolly manner and helped entertain with lively stories and tales of old He was ably assisted in this task by Mr. Jas. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Sackie McArthur, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Boyce, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Desmond, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gage, Mr. and Mrs. Donald McPadden, Miss Ruth Ferguson, Miss Edith Egan, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gage, Mr. and Mrs. John MacEachern, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Nixon, Mrs. Howatt, Mr. MacEachern, together with Mrs. MacEachern who have been spending the winter with their children in Cambridge, Mass., plan in the near future to return to their home in Long Creek, Prince Edward Island.

department. Friendship Sec'y, Mrs. James Boyce reported thirteen home visits and one hospital visit made by members during the month. A reading regarding the C. T. U. camp at Petewawa, was given by Mrs. Nell Ferguson. Meeting was brought to a close by singing hymn 249 and Benediction by President. At the close of the meeting refreshments were provided by the hostess, assisted by the social committee, Mrs. Sterling McLeod, Mrs. John MacPhail and Mrs. Fred Shaw. Next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. Hector McNevin.

CRASWELL for Photographs

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

There is still much pulling and hauling in the Falange movement in Spain. The Falange is not like the Nazi party in Germany with an effective political monopoly. Falangistas are relatively few in number. Its zealous believe they will force on Spain what they believe Spain needs, in spite of itself. That is the Nazi idea.

FALANGISTAS ARE HARD TO DETECT

Spanish emigrants were a different proposition. Speaking the same language as the dominant natives in the Latin-American republics, these Spaniards were more quickly absorbed as part of the population and they took their places in the social and economic life of the country where they settled with no more difficulty than a British with an Oxford accent would be accepted anywhere in the United States.

WORKED THROUGH SPANISH EMBASSIES

Politically, the Falange has succeeded through the Spanish Embassies, in many Spanish diplomatic missions in South America there has been one of the most active Falangists and it has been his job to foster the growth of the movement. His work has been not only with the Spanish-born, but with the non-Spanish, the native Latin Americans, as well. Any element of the population not satisfied with the condition of things as they were could be worked on to advantage.

CHAPTER VII

He took her hands in his, pleaded, "Please come across with me, Grace. I'll take you to Europe and I'll see that you're all right."

"You're evading the question, Len. Will you go even if I don't?"

"I'll go with you if you still want me."

"Of course I'd want you. I fell in love with you the moment I saw you. I'll always be in love with you no one else. Why isn't it possible for me to have you and still play?"

"We've gone over all that before. I'm going to Europe and I'm going to play on the United States Davis Cup team. And you're going to stay here. Now let's cut out all the nonsense."

"She asked, 'What was the job that was to do you about?'"

"Something about managing the sports department of a store in Indianapolis. It will wait, of course, until we come back. It's a good job. It would mean a promotion?"

"Yes. But I'm not much interested. I want to go into the other line—selling. More money in it, yet how far away she is from me. A few feet only—yet miles, miles."

"The light car bumped, swerved, returned to his old life—he could be rich too—fifty thousand dollars. He'd never had to work again. He could invest it and live modestly on the income. Happily without Grace?"

"Where is she?" he demanded, his wild glance sweeping over the group.

"She's all right," the man repeated. "That car that was coming around the bend when you—they look her down the road. But she's all right."

"Where'd they take her?"

"Down the road. There's a hospital."

"Len glanced at the Ford lying in the ditch torn and crumpled. Then he looked at the man who had said 'Who'll take me?'"

"Who'll take me?" His mouth opened when he spoke.

"At the hospital they would not let him see her. He was her husband? Surely if he was her husband he would understand. Mrs. Rollins needed immediate attention."

"I'll wait," he said. "Where's the nurse nodded toward a desk. 'When you've finished,' she said looking at his mouth, 'you'd better have the car checked up. But he didn't hear her.'"

He called Easthampton and here soon, I imagine, in a reached Mrs. Worthington. In a

Nazis Promote "Pan-Spanish" Idea To Undermine Pan-Americanism

Honest-Seeming Propaganda is "Made-In-Germany"

By PETER EDSON

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

There is still much pulling and hauling in the Falange movement in Spain. The Falange is not like the Nazi party in Germany with an effective political monopoly. Falangistas are relatively few in number. Its zealous believe they will force on Spain what they believe Spain needs, in spite of itself. That is the Nazi idea.

FALANGISTAS ARE HARD TO DETECT

Spanish emigrants were a different proposition. Speaking the same language as the dominant natives in the Latin-American republics, these Spaniards were more quickly absorbed as part of the population and they took their places in the social and economic life of the country where they settled with no more difficulty than a British with an Oxford accent would be accepted anywhere in the United States.

WORKED THROUGH SPANISH EMBASSIES

Politically, the Falange has succeeded through the Spanish Embassies, in many Spanish diplomatic missions in South America there has been one of the most active Falangists and it has been his job to foster the growth of the movement. His work has been not only with the Spanish-born, but with the non-Spanish, the native Latin Americans, as well. Any element of the population not satisfied with the condition of things as they were could be worked on to advantage.

CHAPTER VII

He took her hands in his, pleaded, "Please come across with me, Grace. I'll take you to Europe and I'll see that you're all right."

"You're evading the question, Len. Will you go even if I don't?"

"I'll go with you if you still want me."

"Of course I'd want you. I fell in love with you the moment I saw you. I'll always be in love with you no one else. Why isn't it possible for me to have you and still play?"

"We've gone over all that before. I'm going to Europe and I'm going to play on the United States Davis Cup team. And you're going to stay here. Now let's cut out all the nonsense."

"She asked, 'What was the job that was to do you about?'"

"Something about managing the sports department of a store in Indianapolis. It will wait, of course, until we come back. It's a good job. It would mean a promotion?"

"Yes. But I'm not much interested. I want to go into the other line—selling. More money in it, yet how far away she is from me. A few feet only—yet miles, miles."

"The light car bumped, swerved, returned to his old life—he could be rich too—fifty thousand dollars. He'd never had to work again. He could invest it and live modestly on the income. Happily without Grace?"

"Where is she?" he demanded, his wild glance sweeping over the group.

"She's all right," the man repeated. "That car that was coming around the bend when you—they look her down the road. But she's all right."

"Where'd they take her?"

"Down the road. There's a hospital."

"Len glanced at the Ford lying in the ditch torn and crumpled. Then he looked at the man who had said 'Who'll take me?'"

"Who'll take me?" His mouth opened when he spoke.

"At the hospital they would not let him see her. He was her husband? Surely if he was her husband he would understand. Mrs. Rollins needed immediate attention."

"I'll wait," he said. "Where's the nurse nodded toward a desk. 'When you've finished,' she said looking at his mouth, 'you'd better have the car checked up. But he didn't hear her.'"

He called Easthampton and here soon, I imagine, in a reached Mrs. Worthington. In a Falangistas in an anti-Russian demonstration. Spanish Falangistas have made much of their anti-Communist doctrines.

In this it has failed. Here and as of the English Speaking Union or the Union Now Movement, which most people in the United States read about, smile at and then ignore or forget.

In Latin-America, however, the pan-spanish movement is Hispanidad, the made-in-Germany slogan of what the Spa "h-speaking people of the world should get up and be fanatic about.

TECHNIQUE IS TO BORE FROM WITHIN

As to how effective all such arguments are with the native Americans it is hard to say. Attempts have been made to organize along Nazi and Communist totalitarian lines and Communists.

The technique is to get members into any existing organization that is handy, then bore from within. The organization say take up the cause of the Falange Non-Falangistas are then pursued from the organization.

With larger groups, the technique is to form cells of fanatics. These activist cells, under Nazi influence, make up the wild men of the Falange movement and they are the cause of the Falange name. Actually, they are a minority that can do all the potential damage.

Statistics vary as to how strong the Spanish Falange is in Latin America. Contributors are thought to number definitely less than 700,000, perhaps 400,000 would be a close figure. Of these, the active groups may include 250,000 and the actual fanatics from 30,000 to 50,000. The propaganda of the Falange is of course a very large number of thousands of non-members who are influenced by it to varying degrees that can't be measured.

Troops Guarding Hawaii Can Give You Real Low-Down On Underground Housekeeping

By BETTY MACDONALD

NEA Service Staff Correspondent HONOLULU, May 1—A wartime tip to girls in the matrimonial mart: Grab yourself a soldier who has served on the Hawaiian battlefield.

He can cook, he can keep house and he works wonders with a can opener and tinned field rations.

Give him a hatbox, a saw and he'll build you a house; give him a broom and he'll keep it neat as a pin.

I can vouch for all this because, while touring Oahu defenses, I saw how housekeeping in underground dugouts, in camouflaged mountain stacks, in cement pillboxes.

Underground housekeeping is a fairly smooth business. At one of our four stops in what looked like a deserted copse of trees hanging the beach, a spry young officer suddenly emerged from a trapdoor in the ground and invited us in to inspect his living, eating and fighting quarters.

Narrow, well-swept steps led down into a sandy tunnel, reinforced above by heavy boards. Keeping this hallway clean is made easier by occasional high tides which flood the floor and peck the sand down solid.

"HOT AND COLD RUNNING MICE..."

The tunnel ended at one point in the officer's bedroom. floored with wood. Burned chicken wire "springs" were tidily made up. A packing box built in one side served as a pan, complete with shiny tinned field rations—beef stew, hard coffee that had to be diluted with water before drinking, beans, hash and

RADIO

TRANSMISSION Eastern Daylight Saving Time WAVELENGTH Throughout

10.30 p.m. Western Canada 23.52 m (to 10.00 p.m.) 49.10 m from Canada and U.S.A. —31.32 m 25.53

MONDAY MAY 4

P. M. 5.15 London Calling. Headline News. 5.30 Front Line Family. 5.45 The News. 5.55 Musical Interlude. 6.00 Shipmates Ashore. A programme for the men of the Merchant Navy. 6.30 War Review: 'The War in the Air.' Talk by Oliver Stewart. 6.45 Listening Post. 6.45 The News: News Analysis. 7.00 Calling from Britain to Newfoundland. Messages from Newfoundlanders serving in Britain. 7.15 News in French. 7.30 Canada Calls from London in collaboration with CBC Canadian Regimental Concert. 8.00 American Night. 8.15 The News. 8.30 British Speaks: 'Democracy Helps Itself.' 8.45 For Gallantry: Charles Fothergill. Written by P. H. Burton and produced by T. Rowland Hughes. P. M. 9.00 Headline News and Views. 9.15 Scots Guards Band. 9.45 Front Line Family. (Repeat) 10.00 'Ruddigore' (Part 2) Opera by Gilbert and Sullivan. 10.30 London Calling. 10.40 The Daily Service. 10.45 The News. 10.55 Listening Post. 11.00 Starlight: Jean Collin. 11.15 British Speaks (Repeat). 11.30 Radio Newsreel. A. M. 12.00 For Gallantry. 12.15 American Night. 12.30 The News. 12.45 Close down.

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND NOVA SCOTIA Ferry Service

VIA WOOD ISLANDS P. E. I.—CARIBOU, N. S. M. V. "PRINCE NOVA"

"The Connecting Link Between The Provinces."

MAY 1st. to JUNE 18th. Daylight Saving Time—Sundays Included

Leave Wood Islands 7 A. M., 11 A. M., 3 P. M., 9 A. M., 1 P. M., 5 P. M., LUNCHES SERVED

NORTHUMBERLAND FERRIES LTD. CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I.

BRINGING UP FATHER

MAGGIE-I THINK I'LL GO OUT ANY STOP TRYING TO THINK- VICTOR GARDEN-

WE'LL GO OUT STOP TRYING TO THINK-

I HEAR ALL KINDS OF RUMORS HERE-BUT NONE NOISE

HUH-I DON'T KNOW WHERE HE CAME FROM-I DON'T KNOW WHERE HE IS GOING-

I'LL START IN WITH THE RUMORS-I'LL PHONE THE ARMY TO GET A COUPLE OF SOLDIERS TO HELP ME-

By George McManis

ATTENTION PRODUCERS!

We offer a Special Grading Service for Eggs.

Highest Market prices paid. Located Behind Vendome Hotel, Kent St. M. MCKENZIE

5-1-4-6-8-11-13.