MOUNTIES RALLY TO TIE ST. DUNSTAN'S 6 - 6

Score Two Tries Late In Final Half To Gain Even Break With Locals

SACKVILLE, N. B., Oct. 23—(A.P.)—A fighting finish enabled the Mount Allison University rugger fifteen to tie the red and white squad of St. Dunstan's University 6-6 on college field here yesterday afternoon. The Mounties scored two tries late in the final half to give them the six points necessary to deadlock the count.

The garnet and gold scrum outheeled the Island squad when scrums were called but failed to follow up the ball as quickly as the visitors. There was little difference in backfields. The St. Dunstan's fifteen were slightly superior in kicking.

Ralph O'Brien, Mount Allison captain, Sol Chernin, Bob Kennedy, and Art Stone, were outstanding for the local players.

Take 6-0 Lead

The opening try came in the dying moments of the first half when Connolly dashed over the line to fall on a loose ball. The ball had been kicked out of a scrimmage on the Mounties 15-yard and Connolly followed quickly, falling on the ball two yards behind the line. The try was a result of poor defensive play by the Mounties.

Early in the second half the Charlottetown squad scored again when Grant picked up the ball on the Mounties 20-yard line and after avoiding several Mt. A tacklers dashed over the line to make the score 6-0 for the Islanders.

A St. Dunstan's kicker narrowly missed converting when the ball hit the goal post and dropped outside.

With six points needed to tie up the game, the Mounties began a constant attack on the Island line. Shortly before the half way mark in the final half Cail MacWilliam speeded over the line to give the garnet and gold squad their opening try of the game. Cummings failed to convert, the kick passing to the north side of the goal posts.

Brilliant Play

Five minutes later the entire Mount Allison backfield worked smoothly to score the most brilliant try of the game. The ball passed from Chernin, the flying quarter, to Art Stone playing inside three quarters, and from him to Cummings, who in turn passed to Merv Upham. Cummings narrowly missed converting the try from a difficult angle.

The Mounties continued to press the red and white team until the final whistle. On several occasions good chances to score failed because of fumbles in the backfield. Once with only 15 yards to go through open field, a bad pass spoiled the Mounties' chances of victory.

St. Dunstan's by holding the Mounties to a draw and defeating the University of New Brunswick 19-0, have proved themselves worthy opponents in intercollegiate rugby. They left Sackville last evening for Fredericton, where they will meet the University of New Brunswick on Monday. The last game in the New Brunswick-Prince Edward Island Intercollegiate League will be played in Fredericton next Saturday, when Mount Allison plays U. N. B.

Young Victor In Marathon

MONTREAL, Oct. 23—(CP)—Walter Young whose victory in the 1937 Boston Marathon lifted him from the ranks of the unemployed to a policeman's job in Suburban Verdun won the Dominion's 26-mile run here Saturday over a field of 15 other Canadian marathoners and one from the United States.

The tall smooth-striding police constable broke the tape in two hours, 34 minutes and 47 seconds, about a minute slower than his winning time in the Boston race.

Young took the lead almost at the start with Gerard Cote of St. Hyacinthe who hung alongside him past the half-way mark of the course, 26 miles and 385 yards, out to the Eastern tip of Montreal Island and back.

But the 23-year-old St. Hyacinthe runner was left behind when Young spurted over the last five miles. Cote crossed the line to win second place, two minutes and 26 seconds after the winner.

Third was Fred Bristow of Toronto in 2:37:27.

More than five minutes behind Bristow were Jim Bartlett of Oshawa, winner of last year's race, and Lloyd Evans of Montreal. Two Toronto runners, Dick Wilding and Duncan McCallum, trailed them.

St. Mary's And Acadia Battle To 6 - all Tie

WOLFVILLE, N. S., Oct. 23—(CP)—St. Mary's and Acadia battled to a 6-6 tie here Saturday in the first game of a home-and-home series for the Western Nova Scotia Intercollegiate English Rugby Championship.

The second game will be played at Halifax Tuesday and the winner meets St. Francis Xavier University, present champions for the Provincial title.

Acadia held a 6-0 lead at half time by virtue of tries by Myers and Everett Cameron but the fighting Saints went across three minutes after the second half began and then blocked an Acadia kick, recovered the ball and added another try a few minutes later.

The Acadia scrum outheeled the Saints a good three to one but hard tackling, particularly when Acadia approached the goal line, enabled the visitors to hold their own.

Cameron's try was the prettiest of the game. He took a pass from Abe Cohn in full stride and outguessed a half dozen tacklers with fake passes.

Meagher got the first St. Mary's score and George West recovered the blocked kick and raced across with the second.

Youngest Racing Driver Is Ready For New Season

NORTH SYDNEY, N. S., Oct. 23—Listed as the "baby" of the Maritime circuit, Mike Jabalee of this Cape Breton town is getting ready for another season on race tracks from Inverness to Maine.

Though he is 33 years old, Jabalee is considered the youngest of the Maritime drivers in this sport which finds many middle-aged men handling the reins. Even though he is the "baby" of the circuit, he is a veteran trainer and driver. His association with trotters started here 20 years ago.

At the close of the 1938 track season Jabalee had gone under the wire to answer the starting bell 200 times.

But the story of Mike Jabalee for the last eight years has been the story of Marjorie M., queen of the Maritime tracks until she was retired a few months ago. During that time he has handled the reins on the mare his brother, Dick, bought in 1930 against the advice of the wise boys who believed she was through.

In her first year of racing, Marjorie M., won eight of the nine races in which she started. From then on records fell under her flying feet on Charlottetown, Inverness and Halifax tracks.

And while the mare was breaking records, Jabalee was also gaining recognition. Last year he won a trophy as the most outstanding driver on the Maritime tracks.

Jabalee says his biggest thrill in racing was the time Marjorie M. and Calumet Brownie met at North Sydney for a $1,250 side bet. It was the biggest purse ever offered in Cape Breton and the race required five heats to decide the winner.

Marjorie M. lost the first heat, the second heat was dead, Calumet Brownie won the third, but Marjorie M., with her stout heart came back and won the fourth and the fifth heat.

"That was my biggest thrill and one I will never forget," said Jabalee.

Next season he hopes to drive Hanover Czar into the place held on the Maritime tracks by Marjorie M.

Bluenose Defeats Thebaud In Third Race Of Series For Fishermen's Trophy

(By Tom Horgan)
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 23—A rejuvenated defender of the International Fishermen's trophy, Captain Angus Walters' big salt banker Bluenose, today broke a tie with the American challenger, the Gloucester schooner Gertrude L. Thebaud, by scoring her second victory in a three-of-five series.

Bluenose won by six minutes, 39 seconds over a stoutly-contested, 36 mile course which took the schooners twice around an 18 mile triangle. The defender from Lunenburg, N. S., gained on each of the six legs.

In Gloucester tonight the opinion most frequently heard was that a protest brought against Bluenose for improper shifting of ballast and excessive waterline proved a boomerang. After measurement showed Bluenose at least five inches too long on the waterline, Captain Walters sent ashore about five tons of oil and air tanks and a lighting plant, all of which had injured her trim and today she was noticeably smarter handled.

Thebaud In Lead

Captain Cecil Moulton, at Thebaud's wheel in the absence of her ill skipper, Captain Ben Pine, took the starting honors, leading his opponent over the line by about six lengths. However, this coup was not as complete as it might have been, for it was necessary to kill much of Thebaud's way to avoid crossing prematurely. When Bluenose followed, she came charging across like a race horse and somewhat to weather.

A luffing match soon developed, which furnished the most exciting part of the contest. Several times Bluenose attempted to work past to weather of Thebaud, only to be headed off and dropped astern with her canvas fluttering. Then Captain Walters waited until he had everything drawing and the big salt banker fairly smoking through the water and shot up again on Thebaud's weather beam.

Captain Moulton tried desperately to Luff Bluenose up into the wind, but the big defender surged past, so close the hissing wakes of the two contenders mingled and with not more than two or three feet clearance between Bluenose's main boom and Thebaud's rigging. From then on until the finish it was a stern chase for America's aspirant for the North Atlantic sailing championship.

Race Again Today

Tonight the rivals made ready for a race tomorrow off Boston. The scheduled course calls for one circuit of a 35 1-2 mile triangle with an 11.05 a. m. AST start near Nahant.

If Bluenose wins tomorrow she probably will retain for all time the sailing championship of the stormy fishing banks, for Captain Pine has announced this as his final engagement in his long feud with Captain Walters and engines have all but stripped the fishing fleets of sail.

The Thebaud won the first race of the present series for the trophy donated by Senator W. H. Dennis of Halifax, two weeks ago today. Bluenose took the second. There have been long delays to the event due to lack of wind.

Today's race was sailed in a southerly breeze which inclined toward the westward and which varied in velocity from 10 miles an hour at the start to 15 at the finish, the sort of weather which thus far has favored Bluenose.

At the end of the first leg, a broad reach, east by north, Bluenose's lead was one minute, 35 seconds. She completed the second leg, a south by westerly beat to windward, three minutes, 35 seconds ahead. That was her greatest gain for Thebaud furnished stiffer competition as the breeze freshened. Upon completion of the third leg, a run before the wind, Bluenose's lead was four minutes, 20 seconds.

Resailing the triangle, Bluenose led Thebaud by five minutes and six seconds after the fourth leg and, showing a gain of only three seconds, led the challenger by five minutes nine seconds, after the second beat to windward. On it, Thebaud made her best showing of the day.

Wanderers Score 15-3 Victory Over Dalhousie

HALIFAX, Oct. 23—(CP)—Halifax Wanderers conquered Dalhousie University 15-3 at Studley Field Saturday for their fourth straight victory in the Halifax City (English Rugby) Football League and practically made sure of the championship for the second consecutive year.

Wanderers held a wide edge in territory throughout the game but the University squad scored the first and the dogged fight they put up kept the Redmen busy all the way.

Sid Pauker slid across the Wanderers line for the first try of the game and Dalhousie's lone one but giant Andy Duffus plunged across with the equalizer a few minutes later and then Gordon Bauld and Jack Buckley followed with two more to run the count to 9-3 as all converts failed.

Ryde's long boot over the Dalhousie goal line developed into another score as the second half got underway, Ken Holland beating a mass of Tiger players to the ball for a try.

Gordon Bauld added the last three points when he scooped up a loose ball and went over between the posts.

Not one of the six tries scored was converted as a strong wind swept across the field.

Bull Lea Wins Feature Race

PAWTUCKET, R. I., Oct. 23—(AP)—Bull Lea, one of the season's outstanding three-year-olds, scored his second New England victory of the year Saturday when he won the $5,000 added autumn handicap, Narragansett Park feature race, in easy fashion.

Running 1 1-16 miles in 1:44, within 3-5 of a second of the track record, the Calumet Farms entry led Felix Spatola's Wise Prince by five lengths at the finish. Half a length further back came A. Sprow's Bow and Arrow.

The largest daily double price in New England horse racing history resulted from the victory of Squabble in the first race and Raceaway in the second. Squabble was $176.50 to $1. The double paid $3,591.30. There were only five tickets sold on the two.

AMHERST, N. S., Oct. 23 — Prince of Wales College scored an 8-0 win over Amherst High School in an exhibition rugby football game here Saturday.

Saunders booted a penalty goal for the Island team while Keeps plunged over the Amherst line for the only try of the game which Saunders converted for the extra points. Jimmy Gray missed three penalty kicks for Amherst.

Jack Cooke, Amherst sprinter, had his right arm dislocated when tackled and Bob Johnson was knocked out when he was kicked in the head.

Xaverians Are Blanked By Caledonia 6-0

ANTIGONISH, N. S., Oct. 23—(CP)—A try and a penalty goal gave Caledonia, Eastern Canada English Rugby Champions a 6-0 victory over St. Francis Xavier University here Saturday in a regular Cape Breton League match.

The win also put Caledonia far enough ahead in the league to be assured of the title and a berth in the Nova Scotia playdowns, probably against Halifax Wanderers who likewise have yet to be defeated this year.

Caledonia collected all their points in the first half and then fell back on defensive playing which baffled the best efforts of the Xavierians to break through. George Nicholson, Caledonia fullback, booted a penalty goal at the 12-minute mark for the first three points.

Only two minutes later a beautiful passing bout by the champions' backfield ended with Morris going across for another three but MacIntyre's attempted convert grazed the upright and bounded back on the playing field.

Referee Roy MacDonald of Glace Bay banished Campbell, St. F. X. three-quarter, and Ewan Welton, Caledonia forward, shortly before halftime when they clashed briefly and thereafter the teams played with 14 men each.

Nemis Retains Title With 5-round Technical Kayo Victory Over Challenger

Rallying from two-fisted attacks in the second and third sessions Johnny Nemis of New Waterford, Cape Breton, Saturday night retained his Maritime middleweight boxing crown by defeating his challenger Bennie Binns, on a technical kayo one minute and 16 seconds after the fifth round had got underway.

Far more experienced and able to withstand Binns' best punches Nemis started to take control of the scrap shortly after the third session got underway and from then until the end punished his opponent unmercifully until Referee Pat Adair stepped in and halted what was rapidly turning out to be a very uneven fight. But once again Binns proved to every fan in the house just how courageous he is.

Both eyes practically closed, bleeding from the nose and mouth the Island middleweight still attempted to throw punches at his opponent. But the workmanlike Nemis just bored into close quarters to jolt his opponent with short right and left hand smashes. Binns refused to go down but it was only his courage that kept him on his feet until the refree halted the contest.

After waging an even battle in the first round both boys, intent on finishing the fight as soon as possible threw some torrid punches at each other all through the second frame; Binns slugging it out on even terms with his stockily-built opponent gave his rooters plenty to holler about midway through the heat as he caught Nemis with right and left hand smashes to the face but the bulldog like Cape Bretoner shook them off and continued his march into close quarters. Starting the third the winner again weathered another volley of blows and here the tide of battle began to swing decidedly in his favor. Binns, unhurt up to this point ran into a right hand smash to his left eye and the optic began to close. It was the beginning of the end. Binns was bleeding from the nose as he went to his corner and his right eye was beginning to swell. Here he electrified the fans as he came out apparently fresh in the fourth to again beat a tattoo on the champion's face but Nemis, cool and unhurried took them all to get in close and here he started to pound Binns unmercifully Binns face was just a mask of blood from the jarring punches he was taking as he attempted to cover up but still Nemis couldn't put over the knockout punch. It just took him a minute and sixteen seconds of the fifth to finish matters however. Very tired Binns had no defense at all to offer as he attempted to slug it out and the referee did the only thing possible when he halted the fight with the local mittslinger in no shape whatever to continue.

Spotting his opponent 15 pounds Tommy Claybourne made a chopping block cut of Jack Neilson in the six-round semi-final. The fight went the distance with Claybourne winning every round and there was no doubt at all about the decision. Seven times during the scrap Neilson was on the canvas as Claybourne caught him with that hard-hitting left hand of his but in each case the loser managed to get to his feet before being counted out. Neilson tried to make a fight of it but was no match for the clever Claybourne

Improving in every start Johnny Shaw took a 5-round decision from Mark Claybourne in one of the preliminaries. Keeping Claybourne off with a straight left hand jab Shaw had an edge in three of the rounds with one going to Claybourne and one being even.

Young Williams took a 5-round decision from Young Tonto in a bristling preliminary. Fighting on even terms for the first three heats Williams outslugged his opponent in the final two heats to earn his victory Tonto being down for nine counts three times in the last two rounds, the bell saving him from a knockout in the fourth.

Two youngsters, Young McCloskey and Young Steele battled to a draw in the curtain raiser and as usual the 80-pounders gave a good performance.
