

She Could Not Work HEADACHES Were So Severe

Mrs. A. Riehl, Burial, Sask., writes: "I was troubled with very severe headaches, and sometimes I could not do my work."

and advised me to give it a trial. I decided to do so, and after taking a few bottles I found it had done me a world of good, and I haven't had any headaches for a long time now."

ROD AND GUN

Taking the form of a special Ontario Tourist Number, the June issue of Rod and Gun and Canadian Silver Fox News which is just out is of special interest not only to all residents of that province but also the rest of the Dominion and those of the United States with whom Canada is becoming a popular vacation ground.

The contents include a notable aggregation of articles on hunting and fishing with two very good ones. One by S. H. Howard deals with sport in the Mattawa district while a very good article by Alan N. Longstaff describes fishing in the Pickering River district.

Rod and Gun and Canadian Silver Fox News is published monthly by W. J. Taylor, Limited, Woodstock, Ont.

ENFORCING PROHIBITION IN U. S.

Sir,—The following should prove of interest to your readers:—Extract from "Times", the weekly news magazine—Issue of May 21, 1928—Volume XI, No. 21, Page 10, under the heading in very large type (under title of National Affairs).

"SHOOTING FOLKS AT NIGHT"

"You are motoring alone on a country road at night. Out upon the road ahead of you steps a man in old overalls and a sheepskin coat with a flash light and a gun. He signals 'Halt.' What do you do? Jacob D. Hanson, Secretary of the Niagara Falls Lodge of Elks, driving up the hill of Lewiston Heights, N. Y., decided not to halt."

Those overalls, that coat, that gun looked thuggish. As he sped by several shots banged out behind him. Farther down the road, another man appeared and started shooting. Everything went black for motorist Hanson. His car careened into the roadside bank."

The householder nearest the scene refused to admit the rough looking man in sheepskin and overalls who came pounding on the door to telephone for an ambulance. The householder sent for an ambulance himself. At the hospital they said that the motorist might not live and would certainly be blind if he did, perhaps insane. A bullet had smashed into his right temple."

Beneath the gun-men's disguises were found two U. S. Coast Guardsmen assigned to watch for board-runners. They found no liquor in motorist Hanson's car. Neither had there been liquor in the car of one J. F. Stearns into which they had fired three bullets as it topped the Lewiston hill a quarter-hour earlier than Hanson.

Feeling ran high in Niagara Falls. The Elks met and a mass meeting of citizens was planned. Coast Guardsmen Glenn Jennings and Cris Dew were held by the State police, the former perhaps for murder. In Washington, the Prohibition Bureau was badly embarrassed. Only that week, Agent Robert L. Terry had had to be dismissed in West Virginia for shooting into an automobile. Before that there was an outcry from Canadians who complained that U. S. rum guards had fired across the boundary line at Detroit. Near Fresno, Calif., one Frank Niels was lately shot dead for not stopping.

In Yazoo County, Miss., Federal bullets whacked into a back seat occupied by a woman and her two children.

U. S. Prohibition Commissioner James M. Doran took the position that the Niagara Falls shooting involved the Coast Guard only and not any of his agents. "We are not going to put up with firing on vehicles on highways," he said.

But feeling continued high at Niagara Falls and elsewhere. The Senate, on a motion by New York's Copeland, ordered an inquiry by its commerce committee. Commander Charles S. Root of the U. S. Coast Guard left Washington to inquire for himself."

I am Sir, etc.

Sick Headaches! Heart Weakness! Dizziness! Ended by "Fruit-a-tives"

Mrs. FRANCOIS VALCOURT St. Gabriel East, P.Q.—"I wish to inform you how grateful I am for your wonderful 'Fruit-a-tives.' I was always bothered with dizziness, weakness of the heart and terrible headaches. After taking only three boxes I was entirely relieved and now feel like a new person."

No other medicine corrects the action of bowels, stomach, liver and kidneys in the same natural and lasting way, because Fruit-a-tives is made only of fresh fruit juices blended with health-building tonics. You cannot help but benefit from using it. Give it a trial. 25c and 50c at all druggists.

INSTITUTE MEETING—On the evening of May the 21st, the Ladies Institute met at the home of Mrs. Milton Reynolds for their regular meeting. Twenty members and ten visitors were present. The meeting opened with the singing of the Ode. Roll was called and fees collected. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Reports of committees were heard and new committees appointed. It was decided not to have the proposed ice cream social in June. Mrs. John McKenzie was delegated to arrange with a Dramatic Club for the delivery of a play. Mrs. Blanche Steele and Mrs. James Riley were chosen delegates to attend the annual convention in Charlottetown. Mrs. Elle Llewellyn invited the Institute to her home for the next meeting. The business of the evening closed by singing the National Anthem. A dialogue, several recitations, and songs added to the enjoyment of the social part of the evening, which was brought to a close with a sumptuous supper served by the hostesses. Thanks to Mrs. Reynolds for her kind entertainment.

NUPTIALS—A wedding of more than passing interest took place recently at St. Andrew's Church when Mr. Ray Trainor, Morell, led to the altar Miss Catherine McEachern, adopted daughter of Miss Mary A. and the late Allan McMillan of Canavoy. The wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. P. S. McMillan, P. P. The bride looked charming in a dress of Powder Blue Satin with blue coat fox trimmed and hat to match was attended by Miss Joanna McIntyre, garbed in Old Rose silk with blue hat and mink coat. Mr. Henry Trainor, brother of the groom capably performed the duties of groomsman. After a dainty wedding dinner ser-

INSIDIOUS EYE STRAIN

We use this adjective advisedly. Sufferers from Eyestrain may have perfect vision and therefore do not suspect the presence of any eye defect.

The motive power—the entire human organism is Nerve Energy.

Normal eyes, it is computed utilize about 20% of this Nerve Energy, but when Eyestrain is present, a much larger proportion is required. Hence defective eyes, through their consumption of an excessive amount of Nerve Energy may seriously affect the functioning of other organs of the body and produce ill health.
