A very pleasant evening was spent at the residence of John Doyle, Bamscliffe, on Wednesday, September 29th, when a number of the young people of that vicinity assembled, to do honor to W. J. and Mrs Kelly of Malden, Mass., who are spending their vacation with their Provincial friends. Dancing began at an early hour, and the violinists M. Vessey and Ernest McInnis, were kept busy peeling forth strains of that sweet music, which makes the heart glad. In due time, the wants of the inner man were attended to, after which a few more hours were pleasantly spent in dancing, waiting, singing, etc., until the wee sma' hours arrived. After tendering their sincerest thanks to the host and hostess, and wishing Mr and Mrs Kelly, bon voyage on their return, all dispersed, hoping that another event of the same kind would take place in the near future.
