Buy Municipal Debentures NOW!

Not for many years have Municipal Debentures sold at such attractive prices. However, owing to the gradual releasing of money at the chief financial centers and the steady demand which has been experienced for this class of securities, an advance in price would seem to be due in the near future. For this reason it would be well for intending investors to make arrangements for their requirements now.

We offer a block of Debentures of each of the following towns in lots to suit purchasers.

Province of Nova Scotia, Municipality of Cape Breton, Town of Truro, Amherst, New Glasgow, North Sydney, Stellarton.

Price and full particulars will be furnished upon application.

"GOING TOURIST" Is a Popular Way to Travel — CANADIAN PACIFIC

Tourist Sleepers—light and airy, with big comfortable berths, accommodating two adults, if desired—are carried from Montreal on Fast Transcontinental Express Trains for points in Western Canada, British Columbia, and on the Pacific Coast.

Not as luxurious as the Palace Sleeper, but they meet the requirements of a superior class of patrons just as well—and at half the cost.

ECONOMY AND COMFORT COMBINED.

ORIGIN OF GYPSIES

The first official recognition of the presence of Gypsies in England is contained in an act prohibiting their itineracy, dated 1540. Bands of Gypsies appeared in Germany, Italy and France early in the fifteenth century, but it is to be supposed that they did not reach England in considerable numbers until the early part of the sixteenth century. The law referred to commanded Englishmen to refrain from all intercourse with the dark-skinned tourists, and during the reign of Charles I. thirteen persons were executed at one assize for having associated with Gypsies. In both England and America, up to comparatively recent times, Gypsies were treated as vagrants, and often persecuted. There are many theories in regard to the origin of Gypsies, but the one most generally accepted is that they are the descendants of low-caste Hindus expelled by Timour about 1898. Despite their association with other peoples, the manners, customs, superstitions, visage and appearance of the Gypsies remain practically the same as when they made their first appearance in Europe five centuries ago, and they continue to make the same pretense of a knowledge of futurity.

A CHILD'S LAXATIVE IS SYRUP OF FIGS

MADE FROM FRUIT—CAN'T HARM TENDER STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

If your little one's tongue is coated, it is a sure sign the stomach, liver and bowels need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When your child is cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, system full of cold, throat sore, or if feverish, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile, and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given to-day saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company." Don't be fooled!

COMPLETELY BROKEN DOWN

Another Lady Thinks "Fruit-a-tives" Greatest Tonic In The World.

HAGERSVILLE, ONT., Aug. 26th. 1913.

I can highly recommend "Fruit-a-tives" because they did me an awful lot of good. About four years ago, I commenced taking "Fruit-a-tives" for a general break-down and they did me a world of good. We bought a good many dollars' worth, but they did all that your advertising claims for them, and as I said before, I cannot speak too highly for them. Their action is so pleasant, compared with other medicines, that I am glad to say so and I trust that some other woman may start taking "Fruit-a-tives" for I know the results will be all that you claim".

THE PLAGUE OF SAMPLES

A Glance at the Mail of the Prince of Wales

It is said that the bulk of the Prince of Wales' daily mail is made up of samples and advertising matter. He receives enough samples of cigars and cigarettes in the course of a day to last a heavy smoker for a year. Usually there are twenty-five or fifty cigars or cigarettes enclosed in a plain mahogany box. Sometimes the case is of silver or of gold. It is the invariable custom of the Prince to return the costly cases and the samples they contain, with a note explaining that he never retains a sample of so valuable a character. An enterprising proprietor of a hotel at Nice went to the trouble to prepare a book describing the advantages of his hotel, which was printed on parchment illustrated by hand, and bound in beaten silver. It must have cost at least $1,000. Another hotel proprietor in Cairo sent a silver modal of his hotel, and a letter praying that the Prince might do him the honor of being his guest the first time he went abroad. Some of the letters the Prince receives are very amusing. For instance, one was from a chief in the South Sea Islands, who offered to bring his three daughters to England in order that they might be placed in the Prince's harem. A man in Ceylon offered to supply the Royal household with as many black servants as desired, all perfectly trained and speaking English. Offers from couriers and guides are numerous. One was received from an old fellow in Constantinople, who desired the privilege of showing the Prince the sights of that city, and remarked that he had the honor of escorting his grandfather about some forty years ago. Appeals for subscriptions to charities are also very numerous, and these communications are scrutinized with the utmost care, for should the Prince subscribe it would be announced that he was a patron, and it might be found out later on that the charity was simply a money-making scheme, in which case the Prince's name might be used to fleece the innocent public.

AUTOMATIC LIGHTER

Press Down Lever and Flame Appears in an Instant

An automatic cigar lighter that is designed for home as well as store use has been patented by a Western man. With it comes an ornamental ash tray with four cigar rests around the edge. The lighter stands in the center of the tray and consists of a reservoir for gasoline, a small tube at the top with a friction cap and a lever that operates the cap. It is said that one filing of gasoline will give over 1,000 lights. The principle on which the gasoline ignites is that of friction. One end of the lever is just below the cap of the lighter tube and when the other end of the lever is pressed down the cap is pushed off and the gasoline lighted from the tiny spark that results. The cap is fast to a small chain so it does not get lost. It is claimed that there is no odor to this device.

The invention of the barometer dates back to the year 1643.

Princess Mary's Touch of Blue

As a rule Princess Mary has a touch of blue somewhere about her toilette. It may be only a tiny enamel brooch—for she is not yet permitted to wear jewels—it may be a blue ribbon, but it is there to repeat the color of her eyes. The Queen herself is a great lover of turquoise. The various gifts Queen Mary selected for her daughter while visiting the mills and potteries of Staffordshire are all blue.
