Farmers should read carefully the letter by S. J. Moore and E. D. Eddy, Seed Inspectors for the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, which appeared in The Guardian Tuesday. It is of the greatest importance to every farmer that he procure the best and purest seeds that can be bought regardless of price; and as Mr. Eddy stated, it is regrettable that some farmer's institutes, as well as individual farmers, practise such false economy by buying cheap trashy seeds. The idea of a farmer getting sixteen hundred noxious weed seeds (and perhaps three times as many) to the pound of clover seed for the sake of saving a paltry two or three cents per lb., instead of buying the best which is offered by reliable seedsmen at a fair price. It is really beyond comprehension, in the face of all that has been said and done by the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. The farmer gets five hundred and many more noxious weed seeds for every cent he saves in the price. Not only this, but he encourages the dealers in cheap trashy seeds to cater to his wants. Quality should be the first and all-important consideration.

First of the "tub suits"

Yesterday morning we opened a very smart line of wash suits for ladies. These suits are made up in drills and in linens, plain and striped fabrics—they are made in the very most modern styles—the coats are as smartly cut as your cloth suit, and the skirts hang gracefully. And the prices are not hard to pay, for example:—

At $4.95	Smart Suit of champagne drill, semi fitting coat 34 inches long, 9 gored has bias fold of pale blue linen, and the collar pockets and cuffs of the coat are also finished in pale blue.	At $7.50	Very handsome suits in pure linen, tan or pale blue, 34 inch coat, cut away front, square corners, 11 gore skirt, has bias folds and self buttons.
At $4.95	A very dainty suit of white drill, made very trimly, in similar style to the above, but in all whi.e.	At $7.50	A stripe linen suit, right up to the minute, has 34 inch coat, cut away front, square corners, 11 gore skirt, has bias folds of fabric same shade as the stripe in the pattern. Effects of white and tan, champagne and tan, white and sky.

Have you seen our "dollar shirt"?

The reason why the men who usually pay 1.25 and 1.50 for shirts are buying our dollar shirts—is found in the fact that the our dollar shirt is a dollar twenty five quality. We figured out every good point that we thought a dollar shirt could have—then we hunted up a mill that would make that sort of a shirt—at a price that made a dollar possible. It meant big buying to get it—but we have it in tremendous range of colours and patterns—compare our dollar shirt with the best 1.25 elsewhere and you will buy ours at 1.00

The only better shirts than our dollar shirts to be had in town—can be seen in our own varieties at 1.25, 1.35 and 1.50. Look them over.

We have every sort of nice summer hosiery—plain and fancy—in tremendous range of colours and patterns. 25c, 35c, 50c.

Suspenders, handkerchiefs, collars and cuffs, umbrellas, neckwear of every sort, sweaters, and the rest of a man's furnishing requirements are here in a stock that is a little bit better and broader than you are used to—unless you're one of our customers. Come in and talk it over—we want your spring order.

The summer underwear that we offer you will wear well, will feel well, will fit well, per suit. 1.00, 1.50, 2.00 up.
