A PEPPERY PEACHY PROGRAM

THE NOVELTY TREAT OF THE SEASON

Canada's Greatest Kiddie Show, a Laughing, Lifting Landslide of Levity at the Prince Edward Starting Next Monday.

The finest, cleanest little show that has ever played the Maritime Provinces. This is the unanimous opinion of the theatre goers of St. John, N. B., Sydney, Halifax, New Glasgow and Moncton, where the Rossley Kiddies have appeared during the past several years and have surpassed and delighted all who have had the pleasure of witnessing their wonderful performance. The surprise is that while the performers are largely children the entire program is the work of adult professionals. And they are professionals in every sense of the word, the product of several years of severe training, the pupils of Canada's greatest theatrical tutor, Mrs. Jack Rossley of St. John, N. B. Bear this fact in mind. Although this company is composed of kiddies, you are going to see one of the smartest, brightest, cleanest shows it has been our privilege to stage at the Prince Edward.

Types of French Women

PARIS, July 28.—Undiluted blue blood was essential before a portrait could figure in an exhibition which President Doumergue has just opened. The seventy photographs of society women, grandmothers, mothers and daughters on view represent an effort to establish the true type of the aristocratic French woman. In order that this type might be purely French no photograph is shown of any female member of the French aristocracy into whose family a foreigner has entered by marriage during the last two hundred years. Duchesses, countesses and marquises responded readily to the appeal made to them by the Countess of Mortemart, who initiated the scheme, the more so as the money raised by the admission fees to the exhibition will be handed over to the anti-tuberculosis dispensaries run by the Countess. America will be able to draw its own conclusions as to the French woman's type as the photographs are to be shown there after the exhibition closes in Paris.

At 102 He Still Carries on

(Canadian Press) VANCOUVER, B. C., July 29.—William Dill, 102 remembers the days when he used to hunt for deer in a trackless forest which now marks the site of the City of Vancouver. He is an Indian the patriarch of the Squamish tribe. Old Dill was a spectator at a recent regatta here and he recalled with a smile the regatta held in the early days of the white man's occupation, when the Indians and whites met in competition. In those days the Indians outnumbered the others and it was hardly possible to stage an outing of any kind without calling on them to participate.

FORESTERS PICNIC.—The L. O. F. picnic which was held Wednesday afternoon at beautiful Stanhope Beach was greatly enjoyed by over 200 Foresters and their friends. Autos leaving the city at 1.30 brought out the merry group, who after arriving at the grounds started in at once to have a good time. Swimming games, etc., were indulged in throughout the afternoon; a feature of the sports being a tug of war between the single and married men, which was won by the latter. The single men say they knew they were doomed as soon as they saw Police Officer Jas. Walker as the anchor man—they said they knew it would be just as easy to pull the City Building from its foundation. The autos with their happy occupants arrived back in the city about 3.30, greatly pleased with the first L. O. F. picnic.

ENJOYABLE FUNCTION AT BEACH GROVE INN.—In connection with the visit of the Rt. Hon. and Mrs. Meighon an enjoyable dinner and concert was given at Beach Grove Inn on Wednesday evening. After a splendid repast had been done ample justice to the musical program opened with a very fine mezzo-soprano solo by the latter. Lena C. McLure, which was followed by a baritone solo by Mr. Robert Messervey who was in excellent voice giving finished renditions. Encores were called for in both instances and generously responded to.

HOW DE FOREST WORKED OUT DEMPSEY'S ATTACK

NEW YORK, July 29.—The brain of Johnny DeForest, who has had time to think over his defeat after his visit to the manse, Miss Ebert related the story to a cousin, who told a neighbor, Mrs. E. D. N. Southworth. Mrs. Southworth wrote Whittier about it, and the poem was evolved. Rev. DeForest, who is now in Toledo, Ohio, matched her flag from the staff under fire and engaged in Whittier's dialogue with the officer who ordered it shot down.

Berlin Exhibition Contains 19 American Paintings

BERLIN, July 29.—Nineteen paintings by American artists are exhibited at the International Modern Art Exhibition at Dresden, the first of its kind since 1912. The Exhibition, for which a special building has been constructed, contains 993 paintings, portraits, drawings and sculptures of artists in twenty countries. The American exhibits, furnished by various private collectors and dealers in the United States, includes oils by Jules Pascin, Rockwell Kent, Alfred Maurer, John Sloan, Maurice Becker and Leon Kroll.

Tired, Nervous Mothers

are the direct cause of much unhappiness in our homes; their condition irritates and wears upon the husband and often ruins a child's disposition. This condition of the mother is often due to some weakness which makes her entirely unfit to perform her household duties and bear the strain upon her nerves that governing children involves. Every woman who finds herself in this condition should read upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and lose no time in giving it a fair trial.

Jackson's Part Uncertain

History does not confirm that Jackson led his troops through Frederick. He did, however, pay a visit to the Presbyterian manse on West Second street. He and his party then went down Bentz street to Patrick street, and hence out of town—past Barbara's house, it is true—but seemingly some distance behind the main body of his troops. Jackson also appears to have been in Frederick four days preceding the flag incident.

On the morning of September 10 the Confederates broke camp, and moved westward, going out West Patrick street past the Fritchie house.

Mistook Soldiers for Yankees

A version of the story, said to have been told by Barbara herself to her niece, Miss Caroline Ebert—none of Barbara's relatives witnessed the flag incident—sets forth that Mrs. Fritchie, near her ninety-sixth birthday, took her silk flag from the family bible and went to her window to welcome what she thought were Northern soldiers. An officer rode up and asked that the flag be given him, but she refused, and commented on his grey uniform.

Many Sites Bear Name

It is emblazoned on a gasoline filling station. A chocolate shop also bears it. So does a soft drink and a sausage stand. Yet doubt of her authenticity, which has split Fredericktown into two warring camps, upon occasion has made itself felt. Several years ago, with the construction of a new community hotel, suggestion that it carry her name was met with unvelled hostility. Her legend was branded a fraud, in compromise, the ranks of the illustrious of a later generation were scanned, and Francis Scott Key filled the breach. Some historians generally have been prone to consider the Barbara Fritchie tale as chiefly a figment of Whittier's imagination, albeit most deftly contrived.
