A correspondent from Darlington writes:—Our mail driver, Douglas McPherson, is always on time though he has a rough road to travel on. Mrs. Roddie McKinnon, Charlottetown, is the guest of Angus and Mrs. Campbell. Malcolm and Mrs. Cummings spent Christmas at Bradalbane, the guests of George and Mrs. Morrison.—Aldon Campbell and Robert McPherson have returned home from visiting friends in Hopedale.—Malcolm McLeod and Neil McLeod were attending the political meeting at Ferryvale Wednesday night. It was very interesting. Capt. and Mrs. McKenzie, Hunter River, spent Christmas the guests of the lecturer's sister, Mrs. McLeod.—Jack Mathieson paid a short visit to Alex. McDonald in Hopedale last week.—George Keefe has sold his foal to McLean Bros. for a handsome sum.—The Guardian is a very welcome visitor to Darlington.

A Bridgetown correspondent writes:—Mrs. Archibald McLean, nee Miss Laura Miller, whose husband is one of the successful islanders abroad, is home on a visit from the far west. —All are pleased to see Laura's happy face once more.—Leslie Hunter is also visiting his old home. He is an old fellow in the wild and woolly west. It is a fact worth noting that all the boys, yes, and girls too, that have gone abroad from this place have made a mark for themselves.—A very happy gathering took place at Deacon Wm. McLeod's on Christmas evening, composed of little ones and their parents, about forty in all. After a sumptuous repast, followed by recitations by the children, and general merry-making as little ones know how, a well laden Christmas tree was unveiled loaded with lots of goodies, dolls and other useful articles, which filled their hearts with delight, after which all wended their way home well pleased with the evening's enjoyment.

The semi-annual examination of the school at Union, Lot 33, took place on Wednesday, December 20th. The school-room was tastefully decorated for the occasion. An exceptionally large number of visitors, including all the officers of the school, were present. The pupils were examined in the various branches and it was clearly shown from their quick and intelligent answers to the questions given them that they were carefully and accurately taught. The general program of the school goes to prove that the teacher, Miss Hennebury, is painstaking and successful. A pleasing program by the pupils followed which was excellently rendered. The ratepayers then gave short addresses complimenting the teacher and pupils on the high standard the school had attained. Everyone present was generously treated to candy which was provided by the teacher. A pleasing incident was the presentation of a gift from the pupils to their teacher for which she thanked them very kindly. The examination was then brought to a close by singing the National Anthem.
