Archbishop Hackenley Concludes Visit To P. E. Island Parishes

His Grace Archbishop Hackenley returned yesterday morning to Halifax after spending about 12 days on Prince Edward Island, visiting the country parishes and administering the Holy Rite of Confirmation to a large number of candidates.

His visit included the parishes of St. Eleanors, Kensington, New London, Craupaud, Springfield, Milton, Rustico, Georgetown, Cherry Valley, Port Hill and Alberton.

His Lordship was in Port Hill two days, where a large number of candidates were confirmed.

The Bishop concluded his visit with a confirmation service at Alberton on Sunday morning and in the afternoon a memorial and dedicatory service at O'Leary. His Lordship also officiated at the Annual St. John's Day service for Zeland Lodge No. 7 A.F. and A.M.—S.

Dominion Day Race Classes Well Filled

It became evident in the western capital last Saturday and a certainty with the appearance of the entry list through the press yesterday that the classes for the holiday meet would be well filled. The fast class with eight entries and seven practically sure starters promises plenty of competition. Johnny Conroy, very popular and well known reinsman throughout the Maritimes and Eastern States will be on hand with Hanover Courier for the 218 and Josie the Great for the 221 class. Johnny's horses have probably had slightly more work than most local performers but this is expected to prove of little advantage with such excellent reports pouring in on Trilix Volo, Mac Volo, Lusty Frisco, McElwyn the Great, etc. Helen D. is training very smoothly and has scarcely made a break this year. John Harkness, owner of Grattan Peters, received his eligibility certificate from the National Trotting Association on Friday and will be able to start his horse as he is a 217 pacer according to this body, although he is a 219 pacer with the Dominion Trotting Association where net earnings are considered as the basis of classification.

The 221 class with six entries is expected by many of the "experts" to produce the fastest time of the day. With three horses having marks of 212, namely, Josie the Great, Soviet and Bud Cope, and three other entries quite well known to followers of the grand old sport keen competition and blanket finishes are sure to accompany this event.

Nothing need be said about the green class as it invariably produces the highlight of the day. There are twelve entries including one from Halifax and eleven others scattered over the whole province which is sure to make for plenty of interest in this class. A regrettable incident occurred last week when Frank Callbeck was thrown from the sulky while working Mary Witte, a 229 class entry. Frank received quite a shaking up but is expected to be about again to look after his horses in Thursday's races where he has an entry in each class. D

Stewart-Jones Nuptials

(From Concord Daily Monitor)

White Memorial Universalist church was simply decorated with palms and white stork for the wedding of Miss Barbara Frances Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo B. Jones of 38 Kimball street, and James Bryon Stewart, 50 Broadway, Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock June 12th.

The Rev. J. Wayne Haskell minister at the church, read the single ring service, and Burton Jewett, organist played the wedding music. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was groomed in ivory satin with high bodice, banded at the neckline with seed pearls and having a court train. She carried a sheaf of Easter lilies and her long, ivory tulle veil fell from a Juliette cap and band of orange blossoms.

Mrs. William L. Stockman, Jr., of this city, was her sister's matron of honor. Her dress of Gothic blue had a full skirt with short train, shirred bodice and matching short jacket, and her flowers were snap dragons. There were two bridesmaids, Miss Dorothy L. Weathers and Miss Helen McKenzie, also of this city. Their gowns were like that of the matron of honor except that they were in mauve chiffon and they carried delphinium and snapdragons. All of the attendants had flowered coronets with shoulder length veils and all wore silver sandals.

Herbert Stewart, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man, and for ushering there were Randolph M. Brown of St. Albans, Vt., cousin of the bride, Shirley W. Jones, Jans J. Varlen and William L. Stockman, Jr., all of this city.

Mrs. Jones was in aqua blue for the wedding and the bridegroom's mother wore black sheer.

A reception at the home of the bride's parents which was decorated with palms and garden flowers, followed the ceremony after which the couple left for a wedding trip to the Maine coast. For traveling Mrs. Stewart wore a beige crepe dress with hip length cape in luggage and with matching accessories. They will be at home at 118 Pleasant street after July 15.

Both are graduates of Concord High school. The bride has been a member of the office staff of the Metropolitan Life Insurance company here, and Mr. Stewart travels for the General Food Sales company in New Hampshire and Vermont.

Mr. Stewart is a nephew of Mr. Thomas Stewart of Kensington and Mrs. Wilson Adams, Sea View, and has visited the Island on several occasions. His many friends here wish him every happiness and success.—S.

Describes Battle With Swordfish

BOSTON, June 28—(CP)—A desperate struggle with a 200-pound swordfish which drove its sword one and one-half feet through the sides of his dory, was described by Isaac Boudreau, of Chelsea, Mass., a Canadian member of the Schooner Andrew and Rosalie, which docked here tonight with season's largest swordfish catch.

The swordfish was harpooned about 100 miles southeast of Block Island. Boudreau went out in a dory to play the fish, which after toying the boat around for 90 minutes, turned about and harpooned it. Boudreau complacently pushed the sword out with his feet, plugged the leak, and hauled in the fish.

The largest fish brought in on the Andrew and Rosalie weighed 400 pounds but Captain Abbott said it gave less trouble than Boudreau's smaller one. Swordfish brought 34-36 cents tonight.

The midnight hour, the darkest hour
How little they know the rest—
How human grief may know,
How for its hurried summons
We come to come—we go.

We know not when the bell may toll,
We know not where the blow may fall,
We only know that we must go
In answer to the call.

Perhaps a friend—perhaps unknown—
Tis fate that turns the wheel—
The tangled skein of human life
Winds slowly on the reel.

And we! We're the undertakers,
"Cold-blooded" you'll hear them say,
"Trained to the shock and chill of death,
With a heart that's cold and grey"

Trained—that's what they call it
How little they know the rest—
We're human, and know the sorrow
That throbs in the aching breast.

Summerside Golf

Things are gradually getting squared away for what promises to be Summerside's biggest year in golf since the game's innovation here. Continued rainy weather has caused many of the events of the tentative schedule to be either cancelled or postponed but with an even break on the weather the outlook for the remainder of the year is very bright indeed. The course is in what might be called perfect condition and several improvements have been made to both the course and clubhouse.

The golf school, something new which was organized this year has proved very helpful in improving the game of some of the veterans and also in giving some of the junior members a start.

The biggest event of the season took place on Saturday as the ladies put on their opening tournament. A new feature marked the event in the form of a "Monkey Competition". Four members constitute a team in this event, each being allowed only one club, and each must play in rotation, so that many situations arising of one may be forced to use a driver on the green or a putter in a bunker, etc.

Results
Winning team—Helen Holman, capt.; Mrs. Reg. Morrison, Mrs. Tanton, Janet Horne.
2nd—Mrs. R. H. Horne, capt.; Mrs. MacArthur, Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Hinton.
3rd—Miss Bradshaw, capt.; Mrs. McKay, Miss MacKenzie, Mrs. Merriam.
4th—Mrs. Muttart, capt.; Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Rutherford, Mrs. Merriam.

Men's Sweepstakes
Class A—Roderick Smith, 46-9-37.
Class B—W. J. Whitney, 47-12-35.

A men's monkey competition will take place on Thursday and contestants are asked to send their entries to the pro as soon as possible. D

Kensington And Vicinity

Mrs. Sealey and Miss Gwen Taylor, Charlottetown have been visiting in Kensington, guests of their brother, Mr. W. F. Taylor and Mrs. Taylor.

Rev. Thomas R. Millman of the Staff of the Diocesan Theological College, Montreal, was a passenger on the New Northland arriving at Summerside on Sunday last. Rev. Mr. Millman is on his holidays and is visiting his brother, Mr. J. G. Townsend and Mr. Townsend, Kensington.

The Kensington Dramatic Players successfully presented their 2 act musical comedy "Receiving 'e Parson" in the Birch Grove Hall at Freetown, on Tuesday evening. In spite of the rain and the very wet condition of the roads there was a good attendance and a nice sum was realized. The play was under the auspices of the Freetown Women's Institute. After the play the ladies of the W. I. treated the visiting members of the cast to delicious home made Ice Cream.

St. Mark's Anglican church, Kensington was re-opened on Sunday, June 20th, after being closed for six weeks, while undergoing a complete renovation. Both the exterior and the interior have been painted and re-decorated with the result that this always lovely little church has taken on a new beauty and freshness, most pleasing and artistic. The opening services, well attended and were conducted by the Rector, Rev. B. Fream. In the morning the appropriate sermon was based on the Scripture passages, "I was glad when they said unto me, let us go unto the house of the Lord." One thing have I desired of the Lord, that I will seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord and to enquire in His Temple." And in the evening from the text, "And it shall come to pass afterward, that I will pour out my spirit upon all flesh; and your sons and your daughters shall prophesy, your old men shall dream dreams, and your young men shall see visions." A felicitous feature of the morning service was a presentation of a beautifully bound new desk Bible, donated by

French Heritage "Menaced" Claim

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) QUEBEC, June 28—Delegates to Canada's second French Language Congress were warned today their prized heritage was "menaced" by Ottawa-enacted legislation. It was from Ottawa, too, the delegates were told, the French language in Canada had suffered "a death blow."

Suggesting possibility of establishing a permanent Federal Commission of Jurists to scan passage of laws in the House of Commons, Prof. Antonio Perrault of University of Montreal, said in this respect "we are 70 years behind."

Island Student Gives Impression Of Coronation

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Matthew of Summerside has received the following interesting letter from their daughter, Dolly, who was one of the fortunate students to go from Prince Edward Island to the Coronation.

Miss Matthew is attending Hitchen Grammar School with seven girls from Ontario. She is expected home the latter part of the week, arriving in Quebec on the S.S. Empress of Australia on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Matthew, accompanied by their son, Mr. Thomas Matthew, and their grandson, Master Junior Erickson are leaving this morning by motor for Quebec to meet their daughter. Her grandmother, Mrs. Thomas Glover, will accompany them as far as Woodstock, N.B., where she will visit relatives.

Spinney Cottage, Knebworth, Herts, June 11th, 1937.

Dear Mother and Dad:

I just thought I would write a little letter and tell you what I have been doing lately.

Wednesday evening, Theodore and I cycled to Qewin Church, about miles there and back. It is a very old and lovely church. We also saw a tomb in the church yard which has a legend connected with it; I'll tell it to you after I get home. And the tombstones of a South African diamond magnate and his two sons. The present magnate, a millionaire and the descendant of the above attends that church every Sunday I believe.

Miss Mortimer, one of the French mistresses took three of us girls by motor-car to see "Hatfield House", which dates back to 1608, and has been famous for over 300 years as being the seat of the Cecil. Lord Robert Cecil was one of Queen Elizabeth's advisors whom she named "Pigmy" much to his secret annoyance, because of his small stature. Henry 8th used Hatfield House as a nursery for his children, Mary, Edward and Elizabeth and with Anne Bolyn he often used to visit them.

During the reign of Queen Mary, Princess Elizabeth was kept more or less a prisoner at Hatfield. Her walks were limited and she was allowed to go no farther than Elizabeth's Oak, under the branches of which she was found reading when she was told of Mary's death, and her consequent release.

Queen Elizabeth held her first Council in the Great Hall, but after 1558 her visits were brief. The present Marchioness has many relics of her occupation of Hatfield House, her garden hat, jewel cases, her cradle, etc. There are also many priceless pictures there. Scenes from Historical films have been shot in the grounds of the house, including some from "The private life of Henry VIII," thus linking the past with the present.

There is a wonderful Maze on the grounds and beyond it the Lavender Gardens and the Ornamental Lake (where we had our picnic lunch). We were shown through some of the rooms but it is lengthy enough without going through that, a lot of the above I got from a pamphlet given to us there, but it gives a brief History of it.

I am going to Windsor tomorrow a special privilege as I am going with a party of women, "The Conservative Club", but as the lady here is a member and I am a visitor I can go.

(Sunday)

Slough Town Band. The procession went to the Quadrangle at Windsor Castle where the parade sang "God Save the King," before their Majesties.

Different parts of Windsor Castle were flood-lit and it was beautiful.

We got home about 1.15 a.m. and I was going to go to Old Knebworth Church this morning, but it was raining very hard out and as we had 2 miles to walk we didn't go.

Well I must close.
Love to All,

Fascist Powers

Washington shortly before noon yesterday.

The decree was interpreted as marking Bonnet's determination to guard the franc against speculation while Parliament is debating the "extended financial powers" bill the government is expected to present today.

It was anticipated in financial circles that after the debate the franc will be able to adjust itself more freely with relations to foreign currencies than has been the case since passage of the monetary law of last Oct. 1, arising out of the tripartite monetary agreement with Great Britain and the United States.

PARIS, June 28—(CP-Havas)—Opposition to the 40-hour working week, partly instrumental in feeling the Blum Government which legislated it, mounted toward a climax tonight as Finance Minister Georges Bonnet met the cabinet to plot the financial course of Premier Camille Chateaupuis' administration.

The Paris Regional Association grouping 1,000 merchants, craftsmen and businessmen decided unanimously to join organized hotel, restaurant and cafe interests in a general lockout next Saturday in protest against the shorter week.

Hotel keepers, restaurateurs and dealers in liquid refreshments appeared unmoved by the Premier's appeal to defer, until further parliamentary debate on the 40-hour law, their announced intention of closing their doors to give point to their claim they cannot afford to operate under such conditions.

FRENCH STOCK

The Berliner Tageblatt says the quiescence of Hitler's position is "this is so strong a doubt of the efficacy of international conversations or assurances that in the future it is impossible to trust honor, independence and safety in hands other than our own."

"We will not rely a second time on collective action," says the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung.

"That England on this occasion missed the last chance to put the collective idea on its feet is evident from the Fuehrer's speech," the newspaper continued. "It now is evident that Germany entered the Four-Power Agreement on June 12 (with Britain, France and Italy) to reform the Neutrality Patrol of Spain with great hopes. Had this agreement functioned we should probably have gone further."

Now European chancelleries are wondering what is Germany's next step.

The Canadian Prime Minister is expected to see Foreign Minister Von Neurath and Air Minister Goering in addition to the Chancellor.

Today he was guest of General Konstantin Nierl, builder and leader of Germany's labor service, who outlined to him the aims and problems of the experiment of compulsory labor as a contribution by able bodied youths to the rebuilding of the Reich.

Colonel Muller Brandenburg took Mackenzie King through the camps where the Prime Minister tasted soup and fermented strawberry wine, served to the young men of all classes who are doing their labor service before going into the army. Mackenzie King pronounced the fare "delicious."

INCREASE IN FUND APPROVED

(C. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) LONDON, June 28—The House of Commons tonight approved the Government's proposal to add £200,000,000 ($866,000,000) to the exchange equalization fund after a debate during which Sir John Simon, Chancellor of the Exchequer, stated the British financial situation "is very much better than it was."

The measure went through without division. A few minutes earlier a Labor amendment to limit the increase to £150,000,000 was defeated 197 to 96.

WASHINGTON, June 28—Three nations—Great Britain, France and the United States—now own four-fifths of the world's visible supply of gold.

This became known today when Great Britain disclosed its holdings totaling $3,518,060,000, as of March 31. The United States has $12,289,174,000, latest tabulations showed, while France's holdings have been reported total $2,846,000,000.
