Paramount's Epic "China" Is Potent New War Drama

Alan Ladd, the smoothest tough guy in the movie business, turns a blazing tommy gun on three Japs in Paramount's spectacular war romance, "China," the picture that opened last night at the Prince Edward Theatre. You'll love him for it.

Ladd's co-star is the lovely Loretta Young and the main supporting player is William Bendix, who jumped to fame as a brawny, lovable Marine in "Wake Island." Incidentally, the director of "China" is John Farrow, the man who gave us "Wake Island" and the stirring "The Commandos Strike at Dawn."

Hailed as one of the most thrilling war films yet to come out of Hollywood, "China" is essentially a powerful love story against a background of battle and high adventure in the war-torn Orient. Ladd and Benedix are cast as American oil men thrown by circumstance into the heroic struggle of the Chinese people against the Jap invader. Miss Young, an American teacher, enlists their aid in evacuating Chinese girl students to safety in the face of a Japanese advance. There's plenty of excitement and suspense in that situation, and, incidentally, Ladd puts up the greatest fight of his career.

"China" is top flight entertainment. Don't miss it.

"Crime Doctor," Radio Favorite, Now In Films

As a radio serial, "Crime Doctor," by Max Marcin, has built up a listening audience of over 11,000,000 during its continuous run of two and one half years over the CBS coast-to-coast network. It has been, since the first air dramatization of this exciting series, one of the outstanding Sunday night radio features coming out of 114 stations.

Now, Columbia Pictures has made the first "Crime Doctor" screen play, starring Warner Baxter and featuring Margaret Lindsay, assisted by an able supporting cast. Reports from the Capitol Theatre, where the picture is now playing, indicate that the film version is going to reach the popularity heights achieved by the air show.

The adaptation for the screen, from Max Marcin's original, was made by Jerome Odlum. Graham Baker and Lou Lantz wrote this first picture episode, weaving into the story some highly dramatic episodes in the life of the now familiar "Dr. Ordway."

IN MEMORIAM

DR. LEIGH McASSEY
Veterinary Surgeon, Mt. Stewart

The community of Cherry Hill and surrounding country were saddened to hear of the passing of the very popular and skilful Veterinary Surgeon on Tuesday, September 14th. Leigh, as he was known to his friends on account of the large constituency he served, was a friend and brother to any person in need.

Rev. T. W. Mercer conducted the funeral service and referred to the deceased in most enduring terms. He based his remarks on John the 14.19. The latter part of the verse, Because, I Live Ye shall live also. It is frejuently a little difficult for a Minister to refer to the scripture and have prayers with a person who is sometimes sick but not so with Dr. McAssey for he always asked to have the scripture read and approach the throne of God in prayer. He always looked forward to a visit withnthe deceased as a pleasure and privilege as he was a man he held in very high esteem.

While he continued to discourse on the merits and long suffering of the deceased, which together with the large concourse of people testified to the love and regard with which Mr. McAssey was held.

The choir sang the 23rd Psalm and Mr. McLeod Douglas sang very sympathetically Good-night and Good-morning. The closing hymn was Nearer My God to Thee.

Mrs. Clifford Coffin, eldest daughter now residing in South Boston, arrived in time for the funeral, accompanied by Mrs. Lucy Lacey Guernsey, niece of the deceased of Newton, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Parks of Truro, N. S., were also present.

There are left to mourn in the immediate family Mrs. (Dr.) Leigh McAssey, Cherry Hill; Mrs. Clifford Coffin, Boston, Mass.; Mrs. Harold Coffin, Cherry Hill; Leigh McAssey, Jr., Head of Hillsboro; Cecil McAssey at home. Every person within miles sympathized deeply with the family in their sore bereavement and commends them to the care of Him who doeth all things well.

The community has lost a good friend and the profession of a clever Vet. Very many floral tributes testified to the popularity of Leigh. The pall bearers were Messrs. Henry Coffin, George Warren, David MacDonald, Cameron McLaughlin, Calvin Cameron, James Byrne.

BRAVE LAD APPRECIATED — In reading the recent account of the farewell party for Pte. Fred and Mrs. McAdam it was pleasing to note reference to one Joseph McAdam, "Joe" as he was intimately called in Donagh was a bright cheerful boy and it is but fitting to enlarge on what has been said. Though still in his "teens" Joe did not flinch when the call sounded, but rather he manfully donned the colors and set about to prepare himself for the worst—ready to fight and ready to die if needs be. Now his friends may all feel justly proud of this young man who has been serving with the overseas armed forces so long and hope for his safe return so that they may the more show their appreciation for what he is doing in this world war which has caused so much sorrow and bloodshed remembering that only with such stout hearts are nations saved and battles won. —Com.

MASTER LEIGH HILTZ

The people of Sea View and surrounding communities were shocked and saddened to learn of the passing of Master Leigh Hiltz in Prince County Hospital on the morning of October 5th as the result of an accident the previous day when the truck on which the little fellow was riding on skidded on the slippery road into the ditch causing severe injuries to the head from which he never regained consciousness. The deceased was the son of Mrs. Fannie Hiltz and the late Aubrey Hiltz and was almost 10 years of age. He was a bright and lovable little fellow a great favorite with all. He will be greatly missed by his little playmates at School but it is in the home where his loss will be most keenly felt where his widowed mother will miss her baby boy but he has just passed on beyond the veil to that Eternal Home where Our Saviour has said He would gather them in His Arms and fold them in His Bosom. He will never know sorrow nor pain for all those are passed away. His funeral service was held on Saturday afternoon and was very largely attended The service was conducted by Rev. F. H. Newman, assisted by Rev. C. J. Crowdis who led in prayer both the address and prayer contained much comfort to all sorrowing friends. The hymns sang were There's a Friend For Little Children, What A Friend We Have In Jesus, Safe In The Arms of Jesus.

Interment was in the family plot of St. Stephen's Church, Burlington, beside those of his father who predeceased him several years ago. There are left to mourn his sorrowing Mother and three brothers, Reginald, in the naval service at London, Ontario; Ray at home and Arnold of the R. C. A. F., Lachine, Quebec, besides many friends who join in heartfelt sympathy to the bereaved. The little white casket was covered with beautiful floral tributes, from his playmates from the Junior W. A. and from family and many other friends all in silent testimony to the esteem he was held. Suffer the Little Children to Come Unto Me and forbid them not I will be a Father to them.

Canadian Repatriates In Far East

OTTAWA, Oct. 14—(CP)—Missionaries, members of religious orders, businessmen and their wives and a number of children comprise the majority of 221 Canadian civilian repatriates from the Far East due to be exchanged for Japanese this week-end at Mormugao, Portugese India, an external affairs announcement revealed today.

Based on information supplied by Swiss authorities handling Canadian interests in the Orient, the department's list gave the names of repatriates and their next-of-kin in Canada, with the exception of some 30 for whom no next-of-kin or home address has been received.

The Canadian group is part of a passenger list of some 1,500 aboard the Japanese liner Teio Maru, expected to reach Mormugao Friday. The others are bound for the United States, except for 50 who are destined for South American countries.

At Mormugao the repatriates will be transferred to the Swedish liner Gripsholm which sailed from New York Sept. 2 with 1,330 Japanese from Canada and the United States, picking up 173 more at Rio de Janiero.

Early in December

The Gripsholm is expected to arrive in New York early in December and the Canadian party will be rushed to Montreal by special train.

Canadians were warned in the external affairs announcement that they will have no opportunity to greet their relatives or friends aboard the Gripsholm until the train arrives in Montreal.

For those whose next-of-kin were listed the relatives have been advised. The external affairs department asked co-operation of the public in an effort to identify those for whom no next-of-kin or home address was given

The largest number of home addresses wias in British Columbia, Quebec and Ontario. Others were in Manitoba, Alberta, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

This is the second exchange of selected Japanese from Canada and the United States for an equivalent number of Canadians and Americans held by the Japanese.

The first exchange was completed more than a year ago with a similar number involved. The exchange port was Lourenco Marques in Portuguese East Africa.

Canadian Legation officials and the United States Embassy staff in Tokyo returned on that occasion.

Vatican Radio Heard In Unusual Appeal

LONDON, Oct. 16-(CP)- In what was interpreted here as an effort to find out if it still had contact with the outside world, the vatican radio tonight made an unusual appeal to its listeners to report on the efficiency of a "test broadcast."

The announcer explained that results of the tests would be "a matter of extreme" urgency An Osservatore Romano article entirely unrelated to the war them was read.

London sources said they believed it was for the purpose of checking wither the voice of the vatican which is under German guard, could be heard around the globe. the test came over well and was recorded easily by monitors of both the ministry of information and the daily herald.

Gunner Extends Flyweight Champ

By Allan Nickleson
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Oct. 17 — (CP)—Wee Jackie Paterson stepped into a ring for the first time since he won the world Flyweight crown last June and ran smack into his toughest fight in years.

A southpaw with a knockout punch in either hand, Glasgow's Jackie had to fight every second of the way to take an eight round decision over a tough naval gunner from Liverpool who exchanged punches under the dual handicap of a forehead gash and an injured hand.

The sailor bloke, Gus Foran, was making his London debut and few of the spectators who packed the Queensbury Club thought he would stay the distance let alone extend the king. At the finish of the non title match, cheers for Foran rocked the house while Paterson slipped from the ring unnoticed.

Some even booed the verdict but there was little doubt Paterson piled up a points margin although he could not solve Foran's defence and administer his usual knockout. Foran, Northern England bantamweight champion, relied mainly on a straight left that repeatedly foiled lightning hooks and swings of his opponent.

Cousin of Ginger Foran who once fought Jackie Brown for the world flyweight title and now is in the United States, Gus was congratulated at the ringside after the bout by A. V. Alexander, First Lord of the Admiralty, who said:

"It was one of the finest fights I've seen. Your courage was in the true traditions of the navy."

Bad Second Round

The Liverpudlian ran into most of his trouble in the second round. A sizzling right from the champion opened up an old cut over his eyebrow, and a few seconds later Foran bruised his right hand on Paterson's head. From that time he didn't throw a hard right.

Foran never has been knocked out and boasts a record of 36 kayoes in 43 contests since turning professional three years ago. He recently returned from naval duty around North Africa.

After the bout Gus asked for, and probably will get, a return match with Jackie, who floored Peter Kane in just 61 seconds to take the world title some weeks ago.

At that same time Paterson retained his British and Empire crowns, and by defeating Kane won outright possession of the Lonsdale belt which means that 27 years from now he can start drawing a pension.

Awarded by the British Boxing Board of Control, belts won outright have a monetary value and at the age of 50 a holder is entitled to a pension of 1 pound a week.

Cpl. Paterson of the R. A. F. is 28 and will start drawing the stipend in 1970.
