Coffee Per Se

We needed two short words to fill the line, so we put in the "per se" which some one says means "By itself considered." There's difference in coffees. The best coffee is the kind that's freshly roasted, and ground from the bean just before use. Coffee beans retain all the aroma and flavor, while ground coffee loses much by contact with the air. The coffee we make a specialty of is ground after you order it, in our electric mill, and the beans are carefully blended, and freshly roasted. Put your expectations high and order a pound —60c.

Drunken Policeman Runs Amuck in N.Y.

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—A young policeman on a rampage induced by bad whiskey ended his career just before ten o'clock tonight when he was shot to death by another policeman whom he was trying to kill. The single shot that dropped him almost undoubtedly saved the lives of others in a terrorized neighborhood. A few moments before he had fired twice from the tonneau seat of a taicaxb at a chauffeur whom he was forcing to drive him around. The chauffuer saved himself by jumping and rolling into the gutter, leaving his cab to crash into a tree. The drunken policeman, after having fled over roofs and hidden himself in a house was dashing for the street, weapon in hand, when the end came swiftly.

The dead man was Patrolman P. C. Brojer, 24 years old, of 674 Caldwell avenue, the Bronx. He was married and the father of a seven months' old baby and had been on the force a year and a week. He was shot at 769 Columbus avenue, on the post he had himself patrolled until a month ago, when he was transferred from the West 100th Street station to that at Alexander avenue in his hom borough.

The killing was done by Patrolman James J. O'Connell, twice an honor man of the department who was doing his first tour of duty in the precinct, having been transferred because of the abolition of another precinct. Brojer was in plain clothes, and O'Connell did not know he was a policeman until afterwards. O'Connell was exonerated after an investigation by his superiors.

MANY PEOPLE EAT RABBIT.

The average Canadian has no idea to what extent rabbits are raised for their flesh. It is stated that previous to the war, 100,000,000 rabbits were marketed annually in France alone. In 1910 according to Washburn in his book, "The Rabbit Book," Belgium shipped to London about 24 tons of dressed carcasses. He further states that from Australia and New Zealand there was imported $4,500,000 worth of meat during that year, and that in 1911, 500,000 lbs. of rabbit meat were consumed daily in the city of London.

COCOANUT OIL FINE FOR WASHING HAIR

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and is very harmful. Just plain Mulsified cocoanut old shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls of Mulsified will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff an excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months. Be sure you get Mulsified. Beware of imitations. Look for the name Watkins on the package.

Old Sailor's Death Recalls Disaster Off P.E.I. Coast

BATHURST, Jan. 20.—By the death of Hubert Poirer, of Upper Caraquet, at his home on January 14, in his 92nd year, a remarkable figure has been removed from the stage of life in this section of the country.

This wonderful old man was a sailor and fisherman all his life and the story of his exploits on the sea in the pursuit of his calling would fill a modern novel. He was shipwrecked seven or eight times, and though death seemed to be his portion on practically every occasion he succeeded in making remarkable escapes.

Among the places where he figured in shipwrecks were Riviere de Loup, Sydney (C.B.), Rimouski, Portage Island, Miramichi and Sippigan Gully. These perils of the sea were all encountered prior to the railway era, and it is one of the amazing features of his character that after every one of them, after reaching the shore in safety, he made his way to his home in Caraquet on foot. These hikes across strange and unknown country represent many an eventful episode, the dangers and rigors of which were only equalled or surpassed by the trying experiences through which he had passed on the sea.

At the time of the great storm in 1900 when thirty-six Gloucester fishermen lost their lives on the Prince Edward Island coast, Capt. Poirer was with the ill-fated fleet, and it is a matter of record that his was the only boat that escaped destruction. When he found his craft driven into the breakers he turned his boat about and achieved the almost impossible by working his craft off the shore where his companions met death. By this remarkable feat of seamanship, Capt. Poirier saved not only his vessel and his life, but the lives of his crew as well.

Of a great age himself, Mr. Poirier is survived by immediate relatives who have also attained a great age. His two sisters are Mrs. John B. Leger of Caraquet, who is ninety-one years of age, and Mrs. Joygaux Gauvin of the same place, who is eighty-nine. His brother, Chas. E. Poirier of Caraquet, is still strong and hearty at eighty-two. The wife of Mr. Poirier died about four years ago and there are no children. Charles C. Poirier the well known member of the municipal council, is a nephew.

The funeral took place at Caraquet last Monday and was attended by a great throng of mourning friends.

Scientific Fox Feeding

It will pay ranchers to study the correct balancing of food fed to their foxes in order to supply a perfect diet. In no other way can the best results be obtained whether the animal be a horse, cow, hen or a fox.

Natural instinct for food must be satisfied. A meat diet is not sufficient. Carbohydrates comprising cereals, starches, etc., are essential to energy and vigour. Fats are also required to supply heat and develop growth.

Imperial Cod-Liver-Oil Biscuits are a scientific preparation constituting a balanced ration and are giving the desired results—viz, Vigorous, healthy foxes with lustrous pelts.

SOVIET RUSSIA BUYS BRITISH VESSELS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 20- Soviet Russia has purchased eight steamers in Great Britain during the past six months, it was announced tonight by the Commerce Department. Six of these steamers, of 3,150 tons each, were bought at prices ranging from £25,000 to £32,000.

One of the larger steamers formerly the Ashwin has been renamed the Trotzky and up to November at least several of these steamers, it was said, were still sailing under the British flag, although owned by the Soviet authorities.

Only one-third of the world's population is white.

No Appetite

Nervous exhaustion leads to distaste for food. The nerves of the stomach are weak, digestion fails and you become generally upset and out of sorts.

The secret of complete restoration is in getting the nervous system fully built up.

Mrs. R. Cheney, 208 Richmond St., Chatham, Ont., writes:

"I was troubled with indigestion, which caused me many sleepless nights. I would be in terrible distress at times, and would get no relief for two or three hours. For sixteen months I ate nothing but Shredded Wheat biscuits, as I dare not eat anything else. I did not know what to do, as I had tried so many different remedies, as well as doctors' medicines, without gaining permanent relief. Finally I got some of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and while on the second box noticed that I was improving. I continued the treatment until I am now fully restored, and have returned to my regular diet. My husband has also taken Dr. Chase's Nerve Food with splendid results, so we are glad to recommend it to others."
