Curtailed Program For Pro Golfers

By Dave Hoff
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO, Nov. 9.—(AP)—The Professional Golfers Association attempted today to map a curtailed program for 1943 but admitted the outlook for nation-wide competition is grim.

Intermediate Saints and Prince of Wales will meet in the second game for the Intercollegiate football title on Thursday afternoon it was learned last night. Battling to a scoreless draw on Saturday afternoon last the two bitter rivals, staged a whole of a scrap all through the sixty minutes.

There was little to choose between them and in their second meeting on Thursday it will be difficult indeed to pick a winner. Prince of Wales surprised by their showing, when it is taken into consideration that not so long ago it was practical a foregone conclusion that they would not have a team to defend their title.

But they are still very much in the hunt. Inexperienced as they are they showed enough fighting spirit on Saturday last to offset the Saints' determined half schedule tournaments this winter and next spring under those conditions.

Gordon Drillon proved conclusively in week-end games that he has not lost any of his scoring punch that made him one of the leading marksmen of the National Hockey League during his sojourn with the Toronto Maple Leafs.

The big Maritimer was a dominant factor in the Canadiens two week-end games as he piled up eight scoring points that gave him a total of nine for the best week-end in the league.

Nels Stewart was a star in his own right. O'Brien in the Montreal Standard had the following to say when comparing Drillon to "Old Poison":

To so many of us who have found the local hockey scene never quite the same since Nels Stewart Drillon came to the city, the reminder of "Old Poison" at his best.

In size, manner and disposition as well as actual goal-getting ability Drillon is a duplicate of Nels. He will also bring the same violent conflict of opinion on his worth. There will be those who howl from the paying pews that he's lazy, won't check-back and just hangs around the goals—anybody can score who does that!

Which, of course, is a lot of brass-ringed hockey. The toughest part of the chore is around the net where a defenceman or two generally drapes himself around you and one of Big Time hockey's best J. McPadden guards the goal.

Spreading pads lurches around the suddenly insignificant opening. E. Mitchell 148 210 203 N. Doekendorff 129 189 197

But, if you really want to see hockey skill at its powerful best, watch him in action around the net. If he can get in close and it's not a feasible pass, he uncorks a sizzling drive that's dead-on 95 percent of the time and usually ankle-high to the far corner.

In close he droops dejectedly while he cover slacks. Then, he stats at the old rubber heel and it's in or darn near it. That was Nels all over, as to which deserves recognition as the better all-round player, that's matter J. Larler for further debate. Personally, I imagine a lot of folks will be siding with Drillon.

One thing is certain—Canadians have the best team in too many years. It's got fire and dash and ruggedness and natural color. Coach Dick Irvin has blended the assortment into a smooth machine and with "inside info" having it that Terry Reardon will be back with the team, the squad definitely stands shining on the Stanley Cup horizon.

Thurier Is Leader In A.H.L. Scoring

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 9.—(AP) High scoring honors in the American Hockey League are held by Fred Thurier of the peacocking Buffalo Bisons of the western division, with six goals and nine assists for 15 points to his credit in seven games.

Roger (Broadway) Jenkins of Hershey with 20 minutes in the penalty box, outstrips aspirants for individual honors in that particular department. The weekly statistical compilation was released here tonight at the league headquarters.

The scoring leaders: G A P Thurier, Buffalo 6 9 15 Locking, Cleveland 4 8 12 Bartholome, Cleveland 4 8 12 Hunt, Buffalo 4 8 12

Camilli Is Through With Brooklyn Club
LYATONVILLE, Calif., Nov. 9.—(AP)—Dolph Camilli, first baseman of Brooklyn Dodgers National League baseball star for nine years, said today he will not return to the Brooklyn Club next year.

The big left hander declared he has decided to quit baseball unless he can obtain his release or be sold to a club in the Pacific Coast League. He said he wants to become a playing-manager in the Coast Circuit.

Aside from rattling good goals who is getting better all the time —Paul Bibeault—and a strong defence, the forward department has plenty on the block. Look it over: O'Connor—Gettiffe—Drillon. Blake—Reardon—Benoit, Lach—Demers—Richard.
