NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—A lower drift of about a point or so featured the market through most of the day, ascribed as chiefly due to professional selling, around noon this was confined more to Steel, Utilities and Rails issues. In connection with the last named, it seemed as if news contained considerable that was favorable to the carriers. The reports of the L. C. C. and of the secretary of the Treasury indicate that Washington is recognizing more the plight of the Railroads particularly significant is the commission's objection to the receipt clause in the transportation act. In the early afternoon a tendency began to be observed particularly in the rail shares. It was also that of the various groups, the oil shares fluctuated the least in the day's trading. Sentiment in regard to them was probably aided by the stress put upon the court decision in California upholding the conservation law in that state, it being regarded as a great stride forward in the cause.

Comment on a motion picture was made on the effect that the majority of the selling corporations in the field for the calendar year 1930 will show a substantial gain in earnings over 1929. The final dealings in the stock market showed particularly a full recovery throughout the list with a few instances of substantial net gains, such as Aitchison and Allied Chemical. The market demonstrated ability to promptly recover with any relaxation of pressure and we believe it will be found more profitable to follow the long side.
