Islander Conducts Canadian Dance Halls

Among the many Islanders who have made a success of their lives in the U. S. A. is Mr. J. B. Martin, 31 Davis Road, Belmont, Mass., who is manager and promoter as a side-line of several Canadian Maple Leaf Dance Halls in Boston which he started way back 22 years ago. He still specializes in Old Time Quadrilles and modern dancing, with music by the Oldtime Fiddlers, etc., and receives a wide patronage from Canadians living or visiting in Boston. His dance halls are at Ruggles Hall, Rose Croix Hall, Winslow Hall, Hibernean Hall, O'Connell Hall, Brookline Village which is open every Saturday night.

Mr. Martin who was a son of the late Fidele Martin and Margaret Callaghan, was born in Tignish, P. E. I. Aug. 21, 1893 and received his early education in St. Louis.

At 13 years he took up the trade of blacksmithing with Peter Ready an old time smithy. Later he moved to Tignish to complete his time with another great blacksmith John Doucette, who worked for J. H. Myrick who conducted a large fishing and farming business employing many horses. He also worked with the late Leo Murphy who was killed some years ago in a train wreck, and was a close friend of Mr. Robert Hardy Mr. Martin has three sisters and two brothers living, one brother Elbard Martin, who died in Boston, was well known among horsemen throughout the U. S. A. and P. E. I. as a race-track shoer. Mr. Martin's wife was the former Mary Aletha Martin O'Rourke of Keldare, P. E. I., a daughter of the late Michael O'Rourke and Margaret MacMillan of Kildare. They have a son and daughter Joe and Ada married in Waltham and Lynn, Mass., and five grandchildren Aletha Martin, Janet Elsner and Francis Elsner.

Mr. Martin, who carries on his regular business as a blacksmith, and horse shoer, meets many Islanders from time to time and mentions seeing recently Mr. Joe Bernard of Tignish, the Steele boys, Mr. MacNeill and Harry O'Brien of Alberton. He listens in and always enjoys Don Messer and his Islanders and hopes to visit his old home next summer to renew friendships.

Urquhart—Murdock Wedding

On February 16th at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. Frank Dolan of 19 West Boylston St., Watertown, Mass., Elizabeth Estelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Murdock, 10 Vendome St., Merrimac, Mass., became the bride of Roderick J. Urquhart of Briton Cove, Cape Breton, now serving in the Canadian Navy, son of Neil Urquhart and the late Mrs. Urquhart.

Rev. Hector Ferguson, pastor of the Scotch Presbyterian Church, Watertown, performed the double ring ceremony beneath an arch of pink and blue streamers and wedding bells

The bride was charmingly gowned in ice blue taffeta, with a corsage of roses and lilies. Her bridesmaid, Grace Janice Dolan, wore rose taffeta with corsage of roses. Roderick Urquhart, Jr., of Walpole Mass., nephew of the groom, acted as best man. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Urquhart, 41 Elton Avenue Watertown, where a large crowd of relatives and friends were gathered to extend best wishes to the young couple. The evening was spent in music and dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Urquhart were presented with a purse of money and many beautiful gifts.

After the reception they motored to Walpole where they spent a few days with another brother of the groom, Mr. R. Urquhart, after which they returned to the bride's home in Merrimac.

The bride will return soon to Montreal where she will make her home at 4677 Coolbrook Avenue with her uncle, Wm. L. Pugh, where she has spent the past four years, while Mr. Urquhart returns to his duty in the Navy.

IN MEMORIAM

MRS. C. J. CHAPMAN

PUGWASH—The town of Pugwash was saddened by the death on Saturday, January 8th of Elizabeth, wife of Charles J. Chapman, friend and helper of all who knew her. The deceased was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Logan of Victoria, P. E. I., from which place she came to Pugwash in her early youth.

Her life was an unbroken record of service to her home and family, her church, the community in all its efforts. As president of the Pugwash Red Cross from its organization, until her illness forced her to retire, her work was outstanding. As a memory of her untiring efforts the members placed beside her a beautiful cross of red and white roses.

In her passing, Pugwash has lost one of the most worthy citizens. The sympathy of the entire community goes to her husband, daughter Margaret, manager of the Maritime Telegraph and Telephone Company, Pugwash, and son Ronald. Her daughter, Adelia McDonald, predeceased her some years ago.

Her funeral took place from her home to St. Catharine's Church on January 11th, Rev. William P. Stone, P. P., officiated. Her nephew, Charlie Logan, of Victoria, P. E. I., but at present in Pictou, and brother-in-law, G. B. Chapman, of Moncton, attended her funeral.

Many Mass Cards, florad offerings, letters and cards of sympathy testified to the esteem in which she is held. 3-7-11.

IN MEMORIAM

CHARLES J. CHAPMAN

PUGWASH—A member of one of the pioneer families, Charles J. Chapman, died at his home here on January 26th, after a lingering illness. He was born in Pugwash, son of the late William Chapman and Margaret Birmingham.

The late Mr. Chapman was well known and highly regarded by all who knew him. His cheerful smile and kindly ways made him one of our best loved citizens. For 26 years he was keeper of the Pugwash lighthouse, winning his long service medal in that capacity. In religion he was a devoted Catholic and in politics an ardent Conservative.

Surviving are one daughter, Margaret, manager of the Maritime T. and T. Company at Pugwash; one son, Ronald, and two brothers, Rupert at home and Thomas B., with the Canadian National Railway staff at Moncton.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the relatives, for Mr. Chapman was buried only three weeks after the death of his wife, the late Elizabeth Logan.

The funeral was held from St. Catherine's Church on Saturday morning, January 29. The funeral Mass was celebrated by Rev. Wm. P. Stene, P. P. 3-7-11.

MR. LEMUEL WINCHESTER

On Thursday, February 10th, there passed peacefully away in the P. E. Island Hospital a very well known and highly respected citizen of Charlottetown in the person of Mr. Lemuel Winchester, having worked on the Government steamer "Brant" as chief engineer for 25 years. He was secretary of the N. A. of M. E. and also a member of St. John's Masonic Lodge, being a Past Master and at the time of his death a trustee. He was a member of the I. O. O. F., Kearsage Encampment, Lawrence, Mass.

In his younger days he was a boat builder. He built a number of small boats, and quite a large steam yacht, the engine of which he built himself. This boat he sold to the Government in 1914 for war purposes; he was a skilled machinist, in his younger days working in several machine shops in the United States.

He leaves to mourn a wife and two brothers, Harry and Ernest, and one sister, Mrs. Wallace Stewart of Portage La Prairie. One brother, Nelson, predeceased him last September.

The funeral took place from St. Paul's Church on Saturday, February 12th, Rev. A. LeDrew Gardner officiating. The Masonic Order held their service at the grave.

The pall bearers were Messrs. Reggie Kemp, John Martin, Dr. Trevor Waye, Harold Jenkins, Howard Ward and H. H. Horne.

MRS. JOHN CURRIE

Following an illness of several months, the death occurred at her home in New London on Thursday, February 17th, of Mrs. John Currie, nee Barbara Somers. Had she lived until March 22nd she would have been 75 years of age. In the community where she lived, she will be greatly missed for she was always ready to lend a helping hand. It is by her family, however, that the loss will be felt most keenly and especially by the three grandchildren who lived with her. Mildred, Marguerite and Lila Adams. She was married twice, first to John Pickering of French River and later to John Currie of New London. The letter passed away some years ago. Of the first union one son, William Pickering survives. The children of the second marriage who survive are: John Currie, Mrs. Fred Pidgeon, Mrs. Harry Somers and Mrs. Claude Graham. In addition, there are left to mourn her passing twenty-two grandchildren and two great grandchildren. Four daughters and one son predeceased her.

The funeral was held on Sunday from her late home and was conducted by the Rev. E. J. O. Fraser, assisted by the Rev. H. M. Buntain. Mr Fraser spoke comforting words to the bereaved, basing his message on passages from the twenty-third Psalm and from the fourteenth chapter of the Gospel according to St. John. In his address he paid tribute to the life of the departed and her fine spirit of humble service. The hymns sung during the service were "Safe In The Arms of Jesus," "The Sands Of Time Are Sinking" and "Pass Me Not, O Gentle Saviour." The pallbearers were: Messrs. John [illegible], Robert Carr and Harold Dunning. Burial was in New London Cemetery.

MR. ROY CLARK

The passing of Mr. Roy Clark of Augustine Cove brought a keen sense of loss, not only to his own neighborhood but to all the surrounding communities where he was so well and favorably known and where he will be greatly missed.

Mr. Clark was skilled in all branches of carpenter work and he excelled in his special line of interior decorating and exterior painting. He had carried on his profession for upwards of forty years. His services were so greatly in demand that it was almost impossible for him to keep up with the many calls upon his time. He will be affectionately remembered in many homes throughout the country

He took a kindly interest in community affairs and was a good and helpful neighbor. He was a kind and loving husband and father and leaves to mourn their loss his widow, formerly Miss Frances Wilson of Nova Scotia, his daughter Violet, Mrs. Augustus Joslyn, an adopted daughter Audrey, and the following brothers: Artie, of Laurencetown, N. S.; Lodson of Melrose, N. B., and Eliphalet of Augustine Cove, to all of whom sincere sympathy is extended.

Mr. Clark's death took place on January 9th at his home in Augustine Cove, after an illness of two weeks. His daughter Violet came by plane from her home in Boston to be with her father in his illness.

The funeral, which was largely attended, took place from his late residence on January 11th at 2.30 P. M.

His pastor, Rev. G. O. Wright of the Tryon Baptist Church, conducted the service and gave an inspiring and comforting address. The hymns sung were The Lord's My Shepherd, Rock of Ages and Just As I Am. There was a lovely pillow of flowers from his wife and daughter. The pallbearers were Messrs. Harold Howatt, D. A. MacFadyen, Harry Inman and S. C. Clark. Interment was in the Peoples Cemetery at Tryon. 3-7-11.

I WONDER WHY WE WONDER

I wonder why we wonder,
Where the slanting rain comes from,
As we hear it's gentle patter on the roof;
I wonder why we wonder,
How it makes the flowers bloom,
Of a greater power up above, 'tis proof.

I wonder why we wonder,
Of the whiteness of the snow,
Or the pretty sparkling frost upon its breast;
I wonder why we wonder,
About such simple things
They are just another gift like all the rest.

I wonder why we wonder,
At the sunshine of the spring,
Like a smile laid across a frowning face;
I wonder why we wonder,
How the winter turns to spring,
Instead of snow flakes, rain drops take their place

I wonder why we wonder
About such simple things of life,
There is nothing that is needed that we lack;
I wonder why we wonder,
That we have such wondrous gifts,
For we take it all and then give little back.

I wonder wh ywe wonder,
Instead of turning to our God,
And recognize and thank him for his love;
I wonder why we wonder
When there's no reason for to wonder
They are all gifts bestowed from up above.

ASHES OF LIGHTING

into the works. Flanagan without a second's hesitation, obliged. You know the workings of the human mind. Doesn't it strike you that both men must have had some secret pre-knowledge of that subject, else they could not have played up to one another so swiftly and smoothly?

"Had Flanagan no previous idea of explosives being in the works, his natural re-action to Helme's insinuation would have been very different. A man with a clear conscience would have baulked, and stuttered with amazement on hearing such a statement Instead, what did Flanagan do? Without pause, without so much as an alteration of his voice, even, he went on to accuse me, in front of the police and yourself of a treasonable crime. That's what it is, in war time, Calthrop"

When the Security Officer was about to reply, Moreton waved him to silence and inexorably continued:

"Let me finish . . . Now consider a much more mysterious aspect of the case" Meditatively he drew at his cigarette "I told you of finding that tube which, I think we must agree, contained some kind of detonating fluid.

"I also told you I laid the thing on my bench and that's rolling across to come in contact with my hot mug of tea, caused me to suspect its dangerous nature, impelled me to chuck it out into the middan. While that tube was on my bench." The cigarette end went across to the fire "I submit, Calthrop, that he recognized that tube of explosive for what it actually was! He knew what I didn't know, then.

"And, in his flurry to make things as awkward as possible for me on the station platform, he over-reached himself, as all criminals always do. He rushed in with his accusation, never stopping to consider how, when everything is sorted out it could be cleared up without involving both himself and Flanagan. In short, Calthrop the cunning crook has hoisted himself with his own petard!

"That is precisely why," Moreton softly rubbed his hands together. "I let him carry on, unhampered for at least three minutes with his ear at the keyhole of your door. I knew someone was there; guessed it was Helme . . . and now he knows that we know!"

After a while, Calthrop soberly stated:

"Of course, I see it all now—of course!"

"And you'll take this opportunity, you? Never mind about ethics. Keep quiet about those identity cards. Let Flanaghan and Helme stew in their own evil juice. Why not send 'em off home to find their cards, and in the meantime search all their personal gear in the works."

"I'll do exactly that, Moreton." Calthrop gave a grim promise. "Then what?"

Moreton laughed "Carol and I, as you've heard, are going places. What about joining us? The night's very young yet. Say nine o'clock in the lounge of the Royal George, down in Hellersfield?"

Captain Calthrop considered a while, then he nodded

"Can do," he pleasantly accepted. "Thanks!"

Wheezing in the Chest Points to Bronchitis

The principal symptom of bronchitis is a dry, harsh, hacking cough accompanied by a rapid wheezing and tightness across the chest.

There is a raising of phlegm, especially in the morning. This phlegm is at first of a light colour, but as the trouble progresses becomes yellowish or greenish.

You may find in Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup a remedy to help stimulate the weakened bronchial organs, relieve the inflammation, soothe the irritated parts, loosen the phlegm and mucous, and aid nature to easily dislodge the morbid accumulation.

Price 35c a bottle; the large family size, about 3 times as much, 60c, at all drug counters.
