Would Cooperate In Cattle Shipments

(Canadian Press)
OTTAWA, Nov. 14—The co-operation which the British livestock interests will ask of Canada is in the shipment of grade heifers and sows to the British market it was explained here today. Under the old regulation these had to be slaughtered at the port of landing. With the lifting of this restriction it was expected Canada would be able to ship grade dairy cattle. For example, cows with superior performance test as good milkers could be sold to British farmers even although not pure bred and would be added to their dairy herds. It might also apply to heifers of certain beef breeds. It has nothing to do with the shipping of stockers and feeders.

The opinion was expressed here that Canada would be quite ready to co-operate in order not to injure those engaged in raising heifers for sale to United Kingdom farmers. It would not clash with any cattle shipments of the class sent over in the past.

—DEATH OF RESIDENT OF LONG RIVER—Mr. William A. Doughart, a life long resident of Long River, passed away on Thursday, Nov. 10th, at his home at the advanced age of 84 years. The deceased was a prominent farmer of the district and was held in the highest esteem by a wide circle of friends. He was a staunch Presbyterian and adhered to the faith of his fathers at the time of the Union movement. His wife predeceased him about six years ago. There are left to cherish his memory four sons Austin on the old homestead, Alfred in San Francisco, California; Allen in New London and Andrew at Summerside; also one brother, Franklin, and one sister, Miss Adelaide, of Long River. The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon with a short service at the home followed by a service at Geddie Memorial Church, French River. Mr. Osbourne conducted the service. The sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. Thompson. The pallbearers were his three sons, Austin, Allen and Andrew and Messrs. Robert McLeod, John Gillespie and Edgar Gillespie. Interment was in the cemetery adjoining the church. A large number of friends from all parts attended the service at the church. S.

—PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH—A special service for Remembrance Day was held in the Presbyterian Church, Summerside on Sunday evening. The church was decorated with the flags for the occasion. Rev. Mr. Jeans preached an eloquent sermon from part of the 21st verse of 31st chapter of Deuteronomy. "When many evils and troubles are befallen them, that this song shall testify against them as a witness; for it shall not be forgotten." A male choir of thirty-three voices under the direction of the organist, Miss Helen Peters rendered the special anthems selected. "The Old Rugged Cross" was sung with fine expression by Mr. Vernon Ramsay of Campbellton, N. B. "Remember Me O Mighty One" was sung by the male quartette, Messrs. W. E. Forbes, Bud Mountain, Lowell Hancock and J. E. Schurman. Immediately after the offering "O Canada" was sung by the congregation. The names on the honour roll for those who had died during the Great War were read by the pastor before the close of the service.—S

—LECTURE ON INDIA—A lecture of more than usual interest was given by Miss Audrey DeBlois in St. Mary's Hall, Summerside, a missionary from Kangra, India, who is at present spending a well earned rest in her native province. Miss DeBlois told the story of India in a very fascinating manner. She is very conversant with every phase of life in that vast country which forms a part of the British Empire. Lantern slides of the country depicting the home life of the people, their religion and the many mission homes, hospitals and schools helped the lecturer to bring before her audience India as it really is. Miss DeBlois showed pictures of the different types of people. The hill tribes were quite different, smaller in stature and more primitive in their mode of living than the people of other parts of India. Central India was peopled with the original natives of India, who occupied the country over 1,000 years ago before the people from Afghanistan came across the Himalayas and conquered the country. These are called the jungle tribes or aborigines. The chief people of India today are the Hindus. They are divided into four castes, Brahmins, Kshatriyas or Warriors, Vaishyas, or traders and peasants and the Sudras or untouchables as they are generally called. From this caste, the lowest in all India, have come some of the church's most ardent converts. The difficulty of the British Government in dealing with all these different kinds of people was explained by Miss DeBlois in an interesting way. The missionaries encountered the same difficulties in their work. Through their efforts, however, this problem was gradually but surely being overcome. The speaker praised the work of the Boy Scouts in India. Rev. Charles Palmer, a native of Charlottetown, had accomplished marvels in this way with the Boy Scouts. A picture was shown of a Brahmin boy scout teaching a crippled boy, one of the Untouchables, to read. Pictures of the hospital which was at one time in charge of a Mrs. Haslam, wife of Canon Haslam, a former Islander, were of particular interest. The leper colony of Kangra and the schools were shown. Miss DeBlois praised the work of the Salvation Army in India, which had done much to break down the feeling of one caste against another. Speaking of Mahatma Gandhi, the speaker said that this man had begun his reforms in all sincerity for the uplift of the masses; but he had been made so much fuss of that he has an exaggerated opinion of his own power. He is not working in co-operation with the British Government and does not represent the greater part of the people of India, who realize what advantages English rule has given them and desire that England should continue to give them her protection. Miss DeBlois spoke of the work of the Canadian missionaries in India and thanked the Women's Auxiliary for the many bales of clothing sent to them. A vote of thanks was extended to Miss DeBlois by Ven. Archdeacon White, D. D., for the valuable information which had been obtained by her lecture. Masters Clarence Hallett and Ross McKenzie, who operated the lantern, were thanked by Miss DeBlois. A dainty lunch and social chat were enjoyed by the members of the W. A. and their friends with the speaker at the close of the lecture. S.

—CHICKEN SUPPER AND BAZAAR—On the 8th and 9th of November a successful chicken supper and bazaar was held in St. Patrick's Hall by the parishioners of St. Mary's Church. The supper proved that the ladies of St. Mary's are experts in the culinary art and many favorable comments were passed on the supper. The main attraction excepting of course the tea table was the "Bingo" booth, which was in charge of Mr. William (Billy) Flynn of Charlottetown. Mr. Flynn's services were much appreciated as he is undoubtedly the "Bingo King" of the Island and sure knows his numbers or—should we say letters. The fishing pond and a new game known as Hooly Poky, provided much entertainment for the children and also for "certain grown-ups." In addition there was the usual fancy table, the 25 cent table and ice cream booth. The following are donors and winners of the lotteries, conducted by the young ladies. Fancy Bed Spread, donated by Mrs. John E. McDonald, won by Mrs. Frank Conway; Silver Water Pitcher, donated by Mrs. Laura Curley, won by Melvin J. McQuaid, S. D.
