PERSIAN ROW IS IMPROVING

Nationalists Hold Their Ground. Artillery Fire Ceased. Attack Repulsed.

situation in Tehran shows some improvement. Artillery fire has practically ceased and Colonel Liakhoff, the military commander, has given his troops orders to cease firing. Rifle fire is still going on between the Bakhtiaria in the service of the Shah and the Nationalists but the Persian Cossacks have taken no part. The forces of the Shah last night attacked the northeastern gate of the city but were repulsed by the Nationalists with heavy loss.

METHODISTS TO BUILD IN ZION CITY

CHICAGO, July 14.—Within 100 yards of the grave of John Alexander Dowie, fifty Methodists will soon erect a church in Zion City to cost $10,000. This is the first denomination to attack Dowiesism in the city of its founder, and a fight to a finish is expected. Overseer Voliva is said to have declared that he would rather have a saloon in the sacred confines of Zion City than a Methodist church.

CANADA WON'T BE LAGGARD IN DEFENSE

LONDON, Eng., July 14.—Hon. L.P. Brodeur, who has been interviewed respecting the forthcoming Dominion Conference, made the following statement: "We all expect good results from these discussions, and I believe that as an outcome some well-defined and carefully considered scheme will be devised whereby each part of the Empire will do its own share in assuring the security of the Empire. You may be assured that Canada will not be behind in doing her share of the work."

SECOND DAY'S MEETING OF MEDICAL ASSOCIATION

There was an increased attendance at the morning Medical Association yesterday. At the morning session some valuable papers were read. The Secretary, Dr. Melvin, read one on "Inflammatory Rheumatism in childhood." This was followed by an excellent paper by Dr. A. McNeill of Summerside entitled "My experiences with Antitoxins," in which he cited a number of cases, and the treatment with serum adopted. A helpful discussion followed, in which a number of the medical men referred to instances in which vaccines and sera had been successfully used. The opinion was expressed that the dawn of a new era was at hand in the treatment of various conditions through the introduction of serum therapy. Dr. Montzambert, Ottawa, Health Officer for Canada, addressed the meeting. He made reference to the fight against tuberculosis. He believed greater good was derived from dispensary service and home visitation by dispensary nurses than from sanatoria. He urged that the source of infection be reached. This he thought was in the homes of the poorer classes. In the cities there were many young adults, whose existence depended on their wage-earning ability. These, when attacked by tuberculosis, were obliged to return to work before health was completely restored. Institutions, such as Bochnered, Institutions, such as Bochnered Rest, near Montreal, did much for such classes, enabling them to take a more prolonged treatment. A profitable discussion followed. Dr. Black, M. P., Windsor, believed the establishment of a Central Bureau of Health for Canada was essential. At such an institution, laboratories could be provided and sera and vaccines prepared at a minimum cost. Dr. Jones, Ottawa, believed that in many places too much bounding of tuberculous persons occurred. The stamping out of the disease should be left more fully in the hands of the medical men. Laymen in over-zealousness, often did harm. Other preventable diseases, such as typhoid, would not be forgotten. He referred to the serious outbreak at Montreal, and stated that instruction in prevention of the pollution of wells should be given to farmers. At Ottawa he was establishing a laboratory in connection with Army Medical services, and it would soon be available by the medical fraternity of Canada. The thanks of the meeting were given Dr. Montzambert for his excellent address. The morning session concluded with an important paper by Dr. Chisholm, smoker was participated in at the Halifax, on "Two cases Caesarian Knights of Columbus Hall. Section with recoveries." The paper

WESTON'S GREAT WALKING FEAT

Man of Seventy-One Walked New York to San Francisco in 105 Days.

NEW YORK, July 15.—(Special)—Although taking 105 days and some hours for his walk from the Atlantic to the Pacific coast, five days more than he allotted for his transccontinental trip, Edward Payson Weston's long walk from this city to San Francisco, which he finished last night, ranks as one of the most notable pedestrian feats ever accomplished. It is the first time a bona fide walk has been made across the American continent. Weston laid so much stress on this that he walked over railroad bridges in the far west instead of resorting to ferries and declared after arriving at Oakland he would walk an additional five miles to equal the distance across the bay into San Francisco. It had always been Weston's ambition to walk across the continent and the fact that he has come into his 71st year, is a fitting culmination to the long career of triumphs with which the name of Weston is undeniably associated.

PARIS, July 14.—General Picquart, the French minister of war, was thrown from his horse during the annual military review today at Long Champs, which was one of the features of the celebration of July 14, the national fête day in Paris. The accident occurred in front of 60,000 troops drawn up before the Presidential tribune, and in the presence of half a million spectators. He was not hurt but remounted his horse and the review continued. During the manoeuvres two dragoon balloons, the République and the Ville de Nancy, sailed over the field.

PANIC STRICKEN, THE SHAH'S TROOPS FLED

LONDON, July 14.—A dispatch from Tehran to the Daily Telegraph says the fight reported yesterday between the rebels, under Spahdar and Sardar Ased, and a royal force of 1,400 and eight guns, under command of four Russian officers, ended in a panic and the flight of the Shah's troops. The insurgents with a solitary gun silenced four of the royalist guns. Then the rebels made a sortie from their position and the royalists bolted. The British and Russian representatives took advantage of a temporary lull in hostilities to again attempt mediation between the government and the rebels. The effort, however, was without result.

SUFFRAGETTES MUST OBEY PRISON RULES

LONDON, July 14.—The suffragettes in Holloway jail who have been making trouble for the prison authorities by refusing to comply with the prison regulations, have been ordered confined to their cells for a period of twenty-four hours. But their spirits do not appear to be depressed by this, and they are as determined as ever to refuse to work or submit willingly to the treatment usually accorded to criminals. The governor of the jail has ordered that the women be brought before the visiting magistrates on charges of defying prison rules, breaking the windows of their cells, etc.

A FISHERMAN'S SUMMER DREAM

Along about this time of year, when thoughts grow thick and streams grow clear, some quite unknown philanthropist for many seasons has not missed a chance to mail to my address a fishing book and pictures done, and oh! the pages of it run to wooded lakes and pebbly shores, to birchen boats and silvered oars, to shady banks and eddied deep, and wake to bass lie fast asleep, and I may cast in lake or brook. The booklet bears the tang of pine, the hum and whirr of reel and line, and as I open it there pass before my eyes in glad array the panoramas of a day made glorious and set apart to thrill the eager angler's heart. The book has planted, as you see, the seeds of discontent in me, and all that night I lie and dream of shade and sun, and drowsy stream, where I may sit and cast my hook and bring big beauties from the brook and bring I lie there I am sure I'm all run down, my health is poor, and with seductive voice and low the lakes are calling me to go. My dreams are all of fins and scales, of netted sharks and twilight eels, and fish, just drawn from out the pool, laid on a fire to broil—I hear the sputter of them in my ear, and, oh! such crisp delicious brown. I am so tired of street and town; tomorrow I will pack my grip and set out on my fishing trip. And so I rise at early dawn and put my last year's trousseau on; I want a new brown coat and vest, while I'm off by roads and roads to where they will me sporting goods, and get a brand-new jointed rod, some quite new-fangled flies and odd, a reel and half a mile of line, a gross of hooks both coarse and fine, a net to dip the big ones out, the pike and bass and speckled trout. The place has just a vast supply of things, and I just buy and buy and see the charges on the bill and pay them all with right good will, for by brook so clear and blue will I not tarry and renew my wasted youth and be as glad as when I was a careless lad? And no, the salesman reimbursed, I catch a train for Skeetahurst. By afternoon I've caught a frog

CRY FOR HELP LONG UNHEEDED

Two Girls Drowned in Consequence. Their Two Escorts Were Rescued.

OTTAWA, July 15.—(Special)—About eleven o'clock last night two residents at a summer resort near Aymer heard a prolonged cry for help coming across the water at Lake Deschines. No attention was paid to them as there have been many fake alarms by alleged practical jokers. Finally about two this morning, as faint cries were still heard, some members of a yacht club put off to the rescue. They found an overturned boat with two young men clinging to it, about ready to let go from exhaustion. Two others, unable to cling longer, had to let go an hour before. They were Dorothy Green aged 18 and her sister Jennie, aged 33.

LAYMEN MOVEMENT UNITES CHURCHES

MONTREAL, July 14.—Inter-denominational action to be the feature of the work of the Canadian Council of the Laymen's Missionary Movement, which has just issued a statement as to its policy and plans for the immediate future. The policy was adopted and then submitted to the different denominational committees and is being endorsed by them. The denominational secretaries each agreed that the best results come from their work through the large inter-denominational meetings, and will therefore all co-operate in the campaign of the fall and winter. This will include in meetings covering two days each, in every part of the Dominion so located that every church may be able to send one or more delegates without great outlay of time or money. It is expected that invitations will be received from different centres, and the Council will meet in various parts of the Dominion for the best interests of the entire movement. The first few meetings will probably be held in Ontario in September, and those in the western provinces in October and November. A SERIOUS RIOT.

PITTSBURG, July 15.—Riots, in which 4,000 employees of Pressed Steel Car Company took part, occurred yesterday. Half of the workers had gone on strike and the Company closed its plant, whereupon the employees who had remained at work clashed with those who had quit. They were attacked by strikers armed with pieces of slug iron and other missiles. Special watchmen commenced to fire revolvers over the heads of the crowd. One man was struck with a bullet and slightly wounded and another arrested. He was rescued and the watchman was compelled to flee for his life.

The man who is alleged to have made the threat cannot be located and is said to have left town. The officers are investigating the whole matter and an effort will be made to throw some light on the case at the inquest, the date of which has not been decided.

THE INEVITABLE

I heard you sing. It was years since I heard you first, and what a glorious voice it was, full rich and true. Time, you say, is cruel. It was a voice, but quavering, wavering spectre of the long ago, you have joined the ranks of the once were, and all the soloists, all the prima donnas, who are large in the ear and eye of the world's to-day, must some time join the ranks of the little singer whose voice was so sweet to your hand is steady now, doctor, and you can diagnose with an accuracy that is starting. Your hand is accurate in appendicitomy, the removal of tumors, the replacing of hernia, the taking out or anchoring of a diseased kidney. You are a surgeon whose hand never trembles, and whose assurance is that of one who knows. But some day, doctor, you will look, and lo, you cannot see just as well as you once could. The patient will be still for either is as quieting as death, but your hand is a little nervous, and full of years, and rich in experience you will lay down your knife and other hands firmer, yet less experienced, will take it up, for you doctor, will have one day done your best. My learned friend at law, today your name is often in the press, and judge and jury with crowded court room are stirred by your eloquence. Your brain so keen an investigator all the evidence, and evolve a splendid plea, can sum up with the latest rulings, can find a way to win. But some day you, sir, will become conscious that you cannot think quite as well as you once did, that your memory does not become the obedient servant that it once was—then you will realize that the finger of

DOMESTIC LIFE IN DOMINION

Better Than in Republic Because of Better Laws Says Cardinal Gibbons.

BALTIMORE, July 15.—(Special)—Speaking here on divorce, Cardinal Gibbons said: "Divorces are multiplied because of loose legislation on matrimony which renders it easy for married parties to annul the marriage bond. "If the civil laws of the states were as strict as in Canada, persons contemplating marriage would seriously and prayerfully reflect, would study each other's disposition and temperament before engaging in the contract. "And certainly peace and good order in family life in Canada can be favorably compared with the domestic conditions in those States where divorce can be easily obtained."

KEEP MINARD'S LINIMENT IN THE HOUSE

Keep Minard's Liniment in the house. I saw an old man whose hoary head told of age, whose step of feebleness and whose eye of genuine love. He was a great man. But I respected him for his old age was sweet and his past of quiet and unassuming goodness. I stood in an old church, it was grim and grey, of the kind of which the poets write, and I walked softly because of its age and glorious past. I walked in an old school, from it had come one of the greatest men of this present day. Its desks were chipped, its seats were uncomfortable. It was old, but a that hour with the memory of the great man who had once studied within those walls, a halo spread about that old building, and it became great. You are growing old, and in the growing may we forget the mean things and the stinging defeats. Grow old, but don't wither.

Hay of St. John gave a most interesting description of his visit to North Devon, England, the scene of that very interesting book "Lorna Doone" by E. D. Blackmore. As a preparation for visiting the country Mr. Hay had read his book more than once, and then with the story fresh in his mind the scenes were very real and inter-
