D., Captain of No. 6 McGill Overseas Battery took place in the First Presbyterian Church, Montreal, on August 15th. The pastor of the Church, Rev. Malcolm A. Campbell officiated, Captain McMillan is at present in Charlottetown, and many friends are extending hearty felicitations.

THE AMELIA.—Some uneasiness was felt regarding the steamship Amelia bound for the Magdalen Islands which regularly was due in Souris last Friday. No word was heard of her up to yesterday when it was learned that she had been given permission to go to the rescue of a wrecked schooner, somewhere on the Magdalen Coast. Advice from Souris yesterday stated that the steamer had gone to Halifax to which port she had no doubt towed the wreck, and was leaving there for Souris where she was due last night. It is supposed that Mr. H. J. Palmer, and Mr. Robert Cox of this city and Mrs. Stewart and Miss Stewart of Strathgarny, who were visiting at the Magdalens, had taken passage by the steamer although no definite word has been received from them.

LAUREL.—The Halifax Herald published yesterday morning has the following in its shipping news:
HALIFAX, Sept. 7.—The steamer Amelia, which was ashore near the Magdalen Islands, is being towed here by the tug Golliah to be repaired. Farness-Withy Company are the agents for the Amelia.

The Guardian has been shown an interesting letter from Miss Margaret Bagnall, "Apara," Bonsoy, Auckland, N. Z., to a friend in this town. Miss Bagnall is daughter of the late George Bagnall, who resided at Clyde Mills, New Glasgow, P. E. I., where she was born and migrated with her father to New Zealand. Not only did the whole family migrate, but they took with them their own ship and made good in their new home. Miss Bagnall paid a visit to the land of her birth several years ago. She is a cousin of Mrs. W. W. Smith, W. H. McKie, of the Bank of Nova Scotia, and M. L. Bradshaw, of the firm of Jos. Read & Co.

The part of the letter specially interesting to us P. E. Islanders, is the account she gives of the number of descendants of this Island family, serving their King and Country in the war in which we are now involved. "Two of my nephews are wounded, one on Aug. 5th got an explosive bullet in his thigh, but is now recovered, and was to have gone into training on the 11th, of this month. The other poor chap lost his right eye and part of his foot, and is still an invalid, though wounded on August 27. I do not think he will go back to the firing line, but we expect that after he is well enough they will send him home to us. We are thankful his life is spared. His brother was eight months garrisoning "Samoa," and another brother enlisted but was not accepted owing to a slight defect in his sight. A younger brother of the boy who is recovering and going back to the firing line, is now training and ready to go away with our 10th Reinforcement in February or March, and another of my nephews, an only son, has enlisted, making six Bagnalls, all first cousins or brothers to each other, who are ready to do or die, if need be, for our country. And I have also a niece whose husband goes to camp Feb. 12th. All our best and noblest boys have gone or are going. Where will it end?"

This interesting item indicates what the Antipodes are doing for the great cause of freedom, and is one of the marvellous features of the present struggle. It shows what the overseas Dominions are doing, and it should stimulate us to a larger and greater effort.

It is not alone the Bagnalls, of New Zealand, that are doing their bit for the Empire, for a first cousin of the above mentioned Miss Bagnall, namely Jos. Bagnall, of Hazelgrove, has three sons who have volunteered.—Evidently there is fighting blood in the Bagnalls.

On the 26th inst a large number of friends, chums, and former pupils gathered to the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kenny, Morell, where a farewell reception was given to his brother Gr. Martin E. Kenny who had spent a short furlough here. Among the many guests were Miss Margaret Cunningham, Kinkora, sister of the hostess and the Misses Mary and Helen. The evening was spent very pleasantly in song and dance until just before supper when Gr. Kenny was given an unexpected surprise by being presented with an address and a well filled purse.

The address was given by his cousin Mr. Frank Kenny and the presentation was made by Mr. Will Gallant, Morell East, a former pupil. Although taken unawares the gallant soldier in a few words thanked the donors for their kind appreciation and said that this, which was probably his last night amongst them, would always remain fresh in his memory no matter where fate had decreed him to go. Then after being duly "bounced" and given three rousing cheers he was allowed to escape to supper. Soon after the crowd dispersed to their homes, expressing many sincere wishes that the Martin might return to spend many many evenings with them. The following is the address:

Dear Friend Martin:—We your friends, neighbors and school mates do now take this opportunity of expressing our admiration and approval of your so nobly responding to the call of duty. You willingly surrendered your position and gladly donned the khaki. It was a most noble sacrifice. The love of home and friends were near and dear to you but the call of King and Country was more dear. Although we cannot smother the regret at your early departure from amongst us. But we feel confident that when the time comes for you "to do your bit" that you will do it bravely and well. We ask you to accept this purse as a small reminder of respect and honor that when the clouds of war roll by and the star of peace returns you will again be with us hale and hearty. May God bless and protect you until that happy time is the heart given wish of your friends.

Gr. Kenny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kenny, Morell. He was engaged in the teaching profession for a short time. He passed the Civil Service Exams. with honors and took a position in the Naval Dept. Ottawa. He relinquished a very important position when enlisting. His fellow employees presented him with a handsome wrist watch and smoking outfit. He is the second son to join the colors. Private George L. being with the 195 Highland Brigade, Aldershot, Mr. and Mrs. Kenny are to be congratulated on their patriotic sons.

Her many friends will deeply regret to learn of the death, Wednesday evening, of Emma Curley, beloved wife of Joseph Curley of the P. E. I. Railway, at the early age of 30 years. Besides her husband and young son she leaves to mourn her parents Mr. and Mrs. Philip Curley, several brothers and sisters. Her funeral will leave her late home corner Prince and Graven Sts. this morning at 8.45 to St. Dunstan's Cathedral thence to R. C. Cemetery.

OWNS NEW CAR.—It was incorrectly stated in the Guardian on Wednesday that Mr. John G. Arsenault, Cape Egmond, had purchased a Chevrolet car, while Mr. Arsenault investigated this car as well as a number of others, his definite decision was a Ford six-passenger touring car which he purchased yesterday from R. T. Holman, Ltd. Mr. Arsenault took delivery of the car and drove from Summerside to his home, which is about twenty miles distant, demonstrating the simplicity of this car as well as Mr. Arsenault's ability, to quickly acquire a thorough knowledge of an automobile.

WEDDING BELLS.—The residence of Mr. and Mrs. John Agnew, Alberton was the scene of a joyous event, on Wednesday morning September 6th, at 10 o'clock when their daughter Miss Daisy became the wife of Rev. George Irvine, M. A., pastor of New London congregation, P. E. Island and formerly of St. John. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George Millar, M. A., of Alberton. The bride who was attired in a handsome costume of white silk trimmed with gold lace, was attended by her sister Miss Effie, who was gowned in canary coloured silk, trimmed with black. The groom was supported by Rev. George McQuarrie of New Glasgow, P. E. Island. The drawing room, where the ceremony took place, and the other rooms of the spacious Agnew residence were beautifully decorated with flowers. There were many handsome and valuable wedding presents. Mr. and Mrs. Irvine left yesterday morning on a honeymoon trip to Montreal, Niagara Falls and other points of interest. The Guardian joins in extending best wishes.

PROGRESSIVE MOVE.—Dr. Delaney of Wellington has placed himself and his patients in the line of progress by purchasing a Ford car from Messrs. R. T. Holman Limited, Summerside. The doctor is to be congratulated on his acquisition as it will the better enable him to attend to his large and growing practice. His patients, present and prospective also are to be congratulated on the fact that through the enterprise of the doctor his services will be available at short notice, provided of course that they are fortunate enough to meet their misfortune on automobile days and within reach of the roads available for automobile traffic. Dr. Delaney has, as a beginning, some fifty miles of road on which it will be both lawful and expedient for him to go by auto to the assistance of any who may need his professional services on Mondays, Wednesdays and Thursdays. Possibly in the not distant future the limitations both as to mileage and time may be so extended that the services of the doctor may be summoned anywhere and on any day of the week.

The following are extracts from a letter from Lieut. Clifford Trainor to his sister in Emerald.

Dear Sister:—It is 10 a. m. Wednesday, and from my favorite perch on some boxes, I am enjoying the privilege of writing a few lines to you. It has been a lovely morning, but just now the rain began to pour down, and they tell me, they expect it to continue for at least 3 weeks, it being the first we've had since we came.

Lieut. Morris and I are on duty as reserve picket officers. With about 50 men we are watching for raids. Morris is in the tent with me while I write. He is going to join the aviators. We do not expect any raids. The Germans know better than to come where the Canadians are. They made a raid on Dover (which is about 8 miles from here) at noon 3 days ago. It has been the first attempt in daylight. The British air ships which are quite numerous here at present are continually on the "watch."

from Seabrook town and about 15 miles wide from Falkton. Folkstone is a city of 40,000 a very pretty summer resort with some grand hotels, a great many of which have been turned into hospitals.

We are in Kent County and the scenery along the English Channel is beautiful. I think the natural beauty of the country is grand. The roads are all cement, but much narrower than our public roads. The people are engaged for a great part in sheep raising, "The Shepherd on the hillside with his flock." Little farming is done here.

I saw by the paper where Mr. Duvar was in the hospital in France. I hope his wounds are slight.

The great number of wounded and disabled soldiers together with the great female majority here, gloomily remind us of "war."

It was with a great shock to the residents of Glenwood when they heard that the spirit of Miss L. Betts the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Betts had taken its flight to the other world, during Thursday evening. The reality of her passing could hardly be realized as she was about on Monday, Tuesday and even on Wednesday. On Thursday however a doctor was sent for who on his arrival gave little hope for her recovery. Somewhere about 8 p. m. she closed her eyes to this world. Much sympathy goes out to the dear parents left behind who with their family feel the blow very much. The deceased was in her 27th year and was looked upon as a most exemplary young lady in all her doings. She was a faithful member of the Methodist Church at Milburn. On Saturday afternoon the funeral took place, the services being led by the Rev. R. M. Brodie assisted by the Rev. R. Murry. Although it seemed that even the heavens were joining in mourning over the loss of the deceased as the rain came down as it has not done so far this season, over a hundred carriages took part in the walk from the house at Glenwood to the Methodist Church at Milburn where the service took place. After the service which was one of the most impressive ever held in the church, the remains of the deceased were laid to rest in the little cemetery which surrounds the church. On Sunday a special memorial service was held which was led by the Rev. R. Brodie who took for his topic: "Can we send messages to those gone on before?" Most of the large congregation made a visit to the little plot where the deceased was laid and on which were two beautiful wreaths from Misses May and Violet Wedlock. Thus another of God's pure souls is gone home.—W.

The St. John Globe of 5th says: Mr. James P. DeMille, a well known citizen who had been in the service of the I. C. R. for a long time, died this morning at his residence on Rebecca Street, aged 74 years. He leaves his wife, Sarcia A.; four sons, Ernest, an active seaman; John, of Prince Edward Island; Harry and Percy at home, and two daughters, Mrs. G. K. Frost, and Miss Minnie residing at home. He also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Rodney McLeod, of Boston, Mass and Mrs. George Colwell, of this city. The funeral will take place on Thursday at 3 o'clock, to Fernhill.

I fell from a building and received what the doctor called a very bad sprained ankle, and told me I must walk for three weeks. I got MINARD'S LINIMENT and in six days I was out to work again. I think it the best Liniment made.
