Everyone who attended our Spring Millinery Opening freely expressed their appreciation of our efforts to gather stocks that would please and conform with their ideas.

You hardly know how we have to search the trade markets to get desirable styles to meet your requirements.

As soon as we find a stylish hat we immediately get our own milliners to copy it. But—even though we lower the price on the hat—not for one moment will we consent to give you less style or less quality. We have linked quality, style and low price in a manner never heretofore attempted by any store in this city.

If you would act wisely you will purchase your Spring hat NOW. You will not find styles prettier or value more pronounced.

Some of the most charming pretty styles in years are on display in our superbly filled millinery room.
