CAPITOL SUMMERSIDE

'That night in Rio' at the Capitol, S'side

The pulsating tempo of the Sambo ushered in another 20th Century Fox hit, "That Night in Rio," at the Capitol Theatre last night. There were doubts whether the studio could repeat the success of "Down Argentine Way," but as this latest musical extravaganza was unrehearsed, all doubts were dispelled. It's even greater!

Catchy tunes by Mack Gordon and Harry Warren, exciting dances by Carmen Miranda and her Sambo stepping sirens (Carmen included) is playing her first full-length role in an American film, clever characterizations by Don Ameche, and the alluring appraisal of Alice Faye in a daringly amusing scene, make "That Night in Rio" one of the season's best entertainment bets.

The Technicolor camera has captured the richness and lush tropical beauty of Rio de Janeiro, and this holds true both for interior and exterior shots. The original costumes by Designer Travis Barton show up unusually well, too.

The story is one of situation. Don Ameche portrays two roles, an American night club performer and a Rio man about-town. As the night club performer he is engaged to Carmen Miranda and as the Barca, he is married to Alice Faye. The supporting cast has some very amusing comedians, particularly S. Z. Sakall, Curt Bois and Leonid Kinskey. Carol Nash plays the part of an over-zealous Brazilian banker.

Irving Cummings directed from the screen play by George Seaton. Bess Meredith and Hal Long, Fred Kohlmar was associate producer. Additional dialogue was contributed by Samuel Hoffenstein. Jessie Ernst adapted it from a play by Rudolph Lothar and Hans Adler. Hermes Pan staged the dances.

On the Sunday following her arrival all her brothers and sisters with the exception of brother Walter foregathered at their parents' summer home to welcome their sister Ruth after an absence of six years. It was deeply regretted by the family that Walter was absent, his being the only vacant chair in the family circle on that memorable day. Walter is on military duty at camp in Hulan, Texas. blow below the belt to intimate Germany and Italy ever would have a falling out.)

Action to be U. S. answer To torpedoing

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—(AP)—The United States answer to the torpedoing of the destroyer Kearny off Ireland with the loss of 11 men will consist of actions rather than words, state secretary Cordell Hull indicated at a press conference today.

He ruled out any diplomatic protest, remarking that one does not often send diplomatic notes to an international highwayman.

Meantime, at the capitol, demands were voiced for a complete report on the crash last Friday between the Kearny and a submarine which the navy said was "undoubtedly German."

Hull said the disclosure the Kearny had suffered 11 casualties, an occasion for a vigorous new denunciation of the German government.

"The torpedoing, he said is one more incident in a series illustrating the known and confessed effort of Hitler to get control of the seas as well as of the continents.

He said that Hitler has notified all nations to keep out of an area measuring 1,600 by 1,500 miles—in other words a large portion of the North Atlantic—and has warned that no nation in self defence or otherwise shall send a ship into that area without the penalty of having it sunk without a trace.

"What Hitler proposes, of course, is to break down the barrier of other countries off the high seas, by intimidation or force, as part of his program of conquest.

Believe Ontario Airmen is in Nazi prison camp

LONDON, Oct. 20.—(CP Cable)—Defence Minister J. L. Ralston said tonight with officers of the British Royal Canadian Air Force squadron in Britain.

A few hours before the minister arrived, the squadron learned that the British had announced "Henry Grease" of Roseland, Ont., was held prisoner by the Germans.

To the squadron that meant "Henry Grease" was a member of a recent sweep over Nazi-occupied territory, and a member of the squadron.

"There was no positive confirmation that the prisoner was Grease but Mr. Ralston's dinner companions were satisfied that their fellow-flier from Roseland was indeed the minister was accompanied by Air Commodore L. F. Stevenson, commander of R. C. A. F. headquarters in Britain, Gen. H. D. O. Cresser, chief of the Canadian General Staff, and Lt.-Col. G. S. Currie, Mr. Ralston's executive assistant.

Mr. Ralston spent the week-end in the country with Lord Beaverbrook, Minister of Supply. They discussed supply questions.

Long incurs Resentment of Axis Officials

ROME, Oct. 20.—(AP)—Fascists declared today that the idea of a German attack on Italy was ridiculous and said the hint of such by Benito Mussolini, United States assistant secretary of state, was nothing but propaganda.

They said Long's Sunday broadcast asserting that Germany was asking for 1,000,000 Italian troops perhaps to make a German attack on Italy easier failed to comprehend the bond of alliance and friendship between the two nations.

The Long broadcast was beamed toward Italy.

One Fascist spokesman said it was a usual thing to dance about Italy being in the hands of the Germans, and that in addition it sought to give the impression that the Germans are running short of manpower and that the Italians although "no good" for fighting could be used for occupying territory.

80 Veterans of Great War Go overseas

AN EAST COAST CANADIAN PORT, Oct. 20.—(CP)—Selected from hundreds of applicants, a group of about 80 Canadian veterans of the First Great War went to Britain with the contingent of troops whose arrival was announced tonight.

On their shoulders were red tabs announcing them as members of the "Veterans Guard of Canada." To a reporter who boarded their ship before it sailed, Mr. K. A. Ritchie, D. C. M., Rosslyn, B. C., averred: "we're tickled to death to be going."

Ritchie said the men were picked from companies of the Veterans Guard across Canada. They form the first company of veterans chosen for overseas service. organized. The national war labor board and regional boards under it must be established.

The three main administrative agencies will be the labor board, the prices and trade board and the agricultural supplies board.

The labor board will deal with wages and cost of living bonuses, the prices and trade board with prices of all commodities and the agricultural supplies board with removal of surplus farm products from glutted markets, the stabilization of farm prices, the obtaining of machinery and supplies for farmers and recommendations to the prices and trade board on the prices of farm products.

The prices and trade board held a long meeting today, ironing out some of the details which will result in announcements of general interest within a few weeks. It was indicated, however, that the board will be wrapped up in organizational matters for some time and that few early announcements are to be expected.

Communications from numerous interests demanding more detailed information on the plan poured in on the board during the day.

It was intimated that possibly 50 regional offices may be needed to operate the price-control machinery and police Canadian business. Persons with accounting training and experience will be in demand for the board's administrative staff.

As the price ceiling, based initially on the maximum prices prevailing in the period from Sept. 11 to Oct. 15, becomes effective Nov. 17 the intervening period will give the board time to organize its far-flung machinery.

To give the fixed-price structure some elasticity, the board will have power to fix ceilings as it sees fit or adjust them from time to time. Thus, where the cost of production of a commodity increases, the board may adjust the maximum price upwards.

The program calls for prohibition of any further increases in basic wages, without government approval, or for payment of the cost-of-living bonus by all employers.

One of the things for the labor department to settle is the top limit of income on which the bonus may be made. Mr. McLaughlin intimated last night that payment of the bonus to higher-salaried employees and executives would not be compulsory.

In dealing with the civil service the government has already set a precedent by paying the bonus only to employees earning less than $100 a year. The labor department, however, has also laid down the rule that where the bonus is paid it must go to all manual workers who are not on supervisory duties, regardless of their wages.

For employees who now will get the bonus for the first time and who have had no wage increases since the start of the war the rate will be about $34 a week. If they have had wage increases the bonus rate will correspond with the increase in the cost-of-living index from the date of the last increase.

Some officials today saw a possibility the new program would stabilize the cost of living so that further increases in the cost-of-living bonus would be slow.
