Officer Tells Of Death Of Kitchener

LONDON, Feb. 13.—Lord Kitchener and his staff did not even reach the deck of the British Cruiser Hampshire after she struck a mine off the coast of Scotland one stormy night in June 1916, according to a warrant officer who has just told the story of the sinking to a correspondent of the Manchester Guardian.

Questions concerning the sinking of the Hampshire have been asked in Parliament because of the persistent rumor that the vessel had been sunk by a submarine and Lord Kitchener had been carried off a prisoner to Germany. No detailed statement, however, has ever been officially given out. The name of the officer who now tells the story has not been disclosed.

Four days after the Jutland battle according to the officer, the Hampshire took Lord Kitchener aboard on June 5, and set out with about 800 persons on board in "the foulest weather known in that region." She was escorted by two destroyers who were unable to face the storm and returned to port. Everything on board the Hampshire was washed down, and only one hatchway was left open.

About eight o'clock in the evening the ship was shaken by a terrific explosion and the crew scrambled for the deck. Officers quickly took their posts, but their orders could not be heard because of the raging storm and the terrible sound of escaping steam.

Immediately after the explosion there was another and all lights went out, which added to the confusion.

The officer, with a companion, cut the lashings of a life raft, it being impossible to launch the boats in the terrific sea, and the raft was slipped over the side. It turned upside down but finally righted and he with others found themselves afloat. Almost immediately the ship went down, not more than five minutes after the first explosion. The officer did not see Lord Kitchener on deck, and it is his opinion that as only one hatchway was open, the only men who reached the deck were those who went that way.

Although much confused, he recalls trying to open a number of other hatchways while trying to reach the deck and found them all battered down. The raft drifted for over five hours, during which time many of the men were washed from the raft while others died and rolled into the sea in the centre. The raft was then tossed through an opening in a rocky reef and beached on an island.

The officer scoffed at the suggestion that Lord Kitchener had been saved.

EXAMINATION

The semi-annual examination of North Walsloe school took place on Monday afternoon, Dec. 23rd. The school was very artistically decorated for the occasion with spruce and pine and colored trimmings including bells and flags, while in the corner of the room stood a Christmas tree bountifully laden with gifts for both children and teacher. The children were examined in the various branches by their teacher, Miss Bernice Rodd assisted by Miss Mary McCallum also Ruth Webster and Miss Katie Cadmore and Mr. Wilburn Younker. The scholars showed by their prompt and ready answers the careful training which they received during the last year. There was a goodly number present being both parents and other visitors showing the interest they have in their school. At the conclusion of a thorough examination of all grades a programme was entertainingly rendered by the school, followed by brief remarks from many of the visitors all of whom expressed themselves well satisfied with both the entertainment and the examination and the standing of the school in general. The following programme was then rendered:

Chorus—Merry Xmas to All, School; Recitation "Welcome" Earl Carter; Dialogue, "What we can do"; Recitation "A bad case"; Recitation "Santa Surprise" Laura Cadmore; Dialogue "A Christmas Letter by Erma Shaw and Stanley Younker; Chorus "Our Flag"; School; Dialogue "Olden Days" by Viola Roberts and Hazel Coles; Recitation, Hazel Coles; Recitation David Roberts; Dialogue "Days of the Week" by seven little girls; Recitation, "Smart Girl", May Carter; Recitation, Hannah McNaughton; Chorus, "That's So To" School.

First prizes were awarded for attendance to Earl and May Carter and second prizes equally merited and awarded to Eva Coles and Mildred McNaughton. After the programme the pupils presented their teacher with a very useful present as an appreciation of her wise and careful work showing us so doing the love existing between both teacher and pupils. The teacher though taken by surprise thanked them very much for their thoughtfulness. The part of the program which was most interesting to the children was the distributing of gifts from the Xmas tree. Each of the scholars was kindly remembered with candy and fruit also to the visitors. The trustees present expressed themselves well pleased with the vote of supplement amounting to $125 also regarding education. The time has passed when good teachers can be expected for small supplements. Rev. D. Webster spoke very approvingly of the people of P. E. I. He said he traveled several places and wherever he met an islander he always found them to be citizens of good standing and emphasized the importance of a good education. The very pleasant outing was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem led by Mrs. W. Rodd. The children and visitors then returned to their homes well satisfied.

The semi-annual examination of Wellington School took place on Jan. 10 and was largely attended. The pupils who were thoroughly examined in all the subjects by their teacher Miss Mary E. McCabe assisted by the Wellington Station teacher Mrs. Edwin McDonald a former teacher acquitted themselves creditably.

An interesting feature of the examination was a hotly contested "Table-Match."

Several recitations were given and choruses sung by the school. Prizes were awarded by the teacher—One for Tables Senior class—Equaly merited by Ambrose McNeill, John Bishop, and Ira Barlowe drawn by Ira Barlowe. Prize for best progress during the school term drawn by Nellie Jernell prize for tables Junior class equally merited by Myrtle Barlowe, Myrtle Cornish, and Jean Cameron. At the close of the examination a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Miss Anna McCabe and Mrs. McDonald who assisted at the examination one also to Miss McCabe for her successful examination. All were then treated to home-made candy by the teacher after which the examination closed by singing The National Anthem.

No Wholesale Deportation of Aliens

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Anthony Caminetti, Commissioner-General of Immigration, said tonight that reports of prospective wholesale deportations of aliens were "unjustified."

"It is estimated that about six thousand aliens are to be deported, the great majority because they are insane or otherwise public charges," Mr. Caminetti said. "Most of the remainder are diseased or have been found guilty of offences subjecting them to deportation. A few comparatively, are agitators, who are opposed to our form of government or all organized government."

"None of the aliens recently taken from Seattle to Ellis Island for deportation had any connection with the strikes at Seattle or elsewhere in the west."

"Deportees now in custody have been rounded up over a considerable period of time, but could not be deported before because of the shortage of shipping facilities."

"All reports that trains are being mobilized to deport anarchists or others are exaggerated."

IN MEMORIAM

MR. HARRY STEWART

Dr. James Warburton, Medical Superintendent of the Convalescent Home received a telegram yesterday announcing the death from pneumonia, in London, England, of Mr. Harry Stewart, son of Mrs. R. B. Stewart, of Strathgartney. The late Mr. Stewart enlisted as a private in British Columbia shortly after the outbreak of the war and has been four years overseas. At the time of his death he held a commission in the Imperial Army. He was an admirable young man and his demise will be deeply felt by all who knew him. The Warburton family have suffered very severely in the war. It will be remembered that Dr. George Warburton lost two sons and Dr. James Warburton and his two sons through the thick of the fighting, one seriously wounded, and the other in most of the battles in Mesopotamia. Now comes the sad word that their nephew, Mr. Harry Stewart has passed away. The sympathy of all will go out to Mrs. Stewart and family as well as the Warburton family here.

KATHLEEN MAY WALSH

On Tuesday January 21st the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Walsh, St. Ann's, Hope River, was deeply saddened, when their loving family circle was broken by the early demise of their youngest daughter, Kathleen May, after an illness of but a few days. The deceased who was twenty-two years of age just entering womanhood enjoyed her usual good health, until January 3rd when influenza entered the home. At first, her case did not seem serious; in fact, it was thought she was fast recovering when suddenly the disease developed into a more malignant type, which in spite of constant, loving care finally proved fatal.

Kathleen after receiving a primary education at her home school and Rustico Convent, entered Prince of Wales College and after a successful year's work in that institution joined the teaching profession in 1914. From that time until her illness she taught in St. Ann's, St. Patrick's, Iona and Millvale school districts and everywhere her gentle modesty and simple unaffected manner gained the hearts not only of the children placed under her care but of all who knew her. From the beginning of her illness, she spoke of death in the spirit of calm resignation to the Holy Will of God, and after receiving Holy Viaticum and being anointed with the oil of Extreme Unction, she expressed her entire willingness to die.

The loving members of the family are besides her sorrowing parents, one sister Margaret and five brothers John, Patrick, Peter, Bert and James. To them, their many friends extend sincere and prayerful sympathy in their bereavement.

The funeral took place on Wednesday, January 22nd, from her father's residence St. Ann's to the Parish Church, where High Mass of Requiem was chanted by her uncle Rev. P. D. McGuigan, pastor of Vernon River. After Mass interment was made in the parish cemetery. May her soul rest in peace.

Press Advertising Sold Victory Bonds

BEFORE the war, bond buyers were "marked men". In number they were 40,000 in March, 1917—this is shown by the number of purchasers of the Government War Loan of that date. But in the autumn of the same year, their number increased twenty times—to 820,000! This was the number purchasing the Victory Loan, 1917. Last month—November, 1918—over 1,000,000 persons purchased the Victory Loan, 1918!

These wonderful results were accomplished by Press Advertising. Before the war one-half of one per cent. of our people bought bonds. Now quite twelve and one-half per cent. of our people are bond buyers!

Before the stupendous amount of $676,000,000 worth of bonds could be sold to our Canadian people in three weeks a most thorough and exhaustive campaign of education was necessary, and this campaign was carried through by advertising in the public press. The power of the printed word never had a more convincing demonstration.

By means of the printed word, through the medium of advertisements in the press of our country, the Canadian people were made to know what bonds are, the nature of their security, their attractiveness as an investment, and why the Government had to sell bonds.

Every point and feature of Victory Bonds was illustrated and described before and during the campaign—in advertisements. No argument was

"The wonderful success of the Loan was due in large measure to the press of Canada" splendid and untiring efforts during the whole of the Campaign."

Mr. E. R. Wood, Chairman of the Dominion Executive Committee having oversight of the campaign to raise Victory Loan, 1918, said "The press publicity campaign will rank as one of the most remarkable and efficient publicity campaigns ever undertaken in any country," and Mr. J. H. Gundy, Vice-Chairman of the same committee said: "I have been selling bonds for a long time, but I never found it so easy to sell them as at this time. The reason is the splendid work the press has done. I take off my hat to the press of Canada."

The success of Victory Loan, 1918, and the knowledge which Canadians now possess of bonds are a straight challenge to the man who doubts the power of the printed word, in the form of advertisements, to sell goods—and this applies not to bonds alone, but to the goods you are interested in selling.
