Discovered The Origin Of Coal

LONDON, April 4.—Professor Barton Scammell President of the Radium Institute at Dover, asserts that he has discovered the origin of coal. He has been engaged in research work with lava from Mount Vesuvius which is being used as fertilizer, and says this led to the discovery that the layers of binds—the mysterious substance found on the top and bottom of all coal seams—are identical in analysis with lava.

I., became the wife of Capt. W. R. Tratholm of Boston, Mass. The young couple will be leaving shortly for Boston where they will make their future home.

DRAMATIC CLUB ENTERTAINMENT.—At the close of the performance so successfully staged at the Prince Edward Theatre Tuesday night the members of the Charlottetown Dramatic Club gathered for a social hour in their rooms on Great George Street. The sumptuous repast so daintily prepared by the ladies of the cast proved that their culinary art, like their dramatic ability is "par excellence." Dr. J. D. McGuigan who was present and kindly consented to act as toast master, then addressed the company, and in a most and eloquent speech complimented them on the unqualified success of their performances. Mrs. McIntyre, president of the St. Charles Auxiliary, speaking for its members expressed the heartfelt gratitude of that organization for the untiring efforts of the cast and their director to make the play a success, thereby aiding a most worthy cause. The director in his reply stated that he had never had the pleasure of coaching a more united, diligent and sociable cast than that which presented "Beneath Skies of Blue." The members of the cast in their remarks reciprocated the sentiments expressed by Mr. Trainor the "spirit cordiale" which at all times prevailed. Other members of the cast contributed to the programme in speeches, songs and readings, after which the singing of "Auld Lang Syne" brought to a close an evening well and pleasantly spent.
