BASKETBALL

Last night in the "Y" gym the "Bluedots" easily defeated the Prince of Wales girls 33-6. The game was rough throughout, the college girls drawing 14 fouls, while the "Bluedots" had 6. For the college girls, Doris Prowse was outstanding, scoring her team's 6 points, while the "Bluedot's" forward line, consisting of Betty Rogers, Gwen Rogers and Elsie McInnis played wonderful combination, and it was through their efforts the game was so decisive. The guards held the college forwards to a mere six points. P. W. C. were handicapped by the absence of Estelle Battenbury, their regular centre. Line-ups:—

P. W. C.	"BLUEDOTS"
Centre
E. McKie	Gwen Rogers
Forwards
E. Shaw	Betty Rogers 12
D. Prowse 6	Elsie McInnis 14
Guards
M. Bentley	Greta Barbour 1
E. Patterson	Thelma Currie 6
M. McMillan

Referee—Earl Goss.
Scorer—"Vic" McLaren.
Timer—Vaunda Robinson.

NOTE

Next game tonight at 8 o'clock between the "Bluedots" and Abbie Sisters.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION

An event of more than usual interest was held on the evening of Dec. 17th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Edwards, Hampshire, when a host of admiring friends gathered to bid a fond farewell to their eldest daughter, Miss Ella, prior to her departure for the P.E.I. Hospital, in which institution she has since entered to train for a nurse.

Early in the evening the assemblage was called to order by the Rev. A. E. Chapman, of Hunter River, who explained the object of the gathering, and who joined with the people of Hampshire in the general regret felt by all in losing such a valuable asset to both church and community. He then called upon Mrs. J. F. Easton, who read an address and Mrs. Watson Larter presented Ella with a beautiful wardrobe case. Although taken by surprise, Ella replied very feelingly, in her usual pleasant manner, thanking one and all for their kindness to her, after which all joined in singing "For she's a Jolly Good Fellow."

The remainder of the evening was spent in contests and games, which caused much merriment, suitable prizes being awarded for each contest. In good time a delicious lunch was served by the ladies present, some of the men taking a long time to satisfy their appetites for good eats. Soon after this, the people dispersed to their homes, after leaving their best wishes with Ella for her success in her new undertaking.

Following is the address:—

Miss Ella Edwards, Hampshire.

Dear Ella:—

Some time ago we learned with much regret that you were about to leave your home and friends, to take up the duties of training for a nurse at Charlottetown. We feel that we could not let this opportunity pass without assembling here to express in some small way how we shall miss you. From a very small school girl, we can all remember you as having an exceptionally good-natured, kindly manner, and a cheery smile that would make any heart glad. As you grew up among us, you continued to show the same splendid quantities, with others added, until now, we don't hesitate to say, one could not find anywhere, a more ideal young woman. Your ever willing assistance in all our church activities, has been much appreciated, and the loss therefrom will be keenly felt. As organist in our choir, and teacher in our Sunday School, you have, no doubt, often denied yourself worldly pleasure in order to do the duties which you always very wisely placed as first. We feel very sure that this splendid training in church work, and the sacrifices made in so doing will be of rich benefit to you in the profession you have chosen.

That you will made a successful nurse is a foregone conclusion, for where could one need a sympathetic sunny disposition more than when ministering to the sick and suffering.

Now Ella, as you leave us, will you kindly accept this gift, as a constant reminder of the many warm friends you have in your native district. We would like you to feel that we shall be proud to hear of your success from time to time, and we would ask you, as you make new friends, not to forget your old ones in Hampshire.

Signed on behalf of the people of Hampshire.

..*A VISIT TO EAST POINT—A few Sundays ago, taking advantage of the fine weather and good roads, Mr. and Mrs. Bordon Newson and Miss Alma, accompanied by Burgess Newson, motored to Kingsboro, East Point, to visit Rev. Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bell and family. The day was fine, and the roads in a most excellent condition. The driver was one of those steady dependable drivers, with a well trained eye, who gives you no heart qualms and the car was a Dodge sedan. What more could a person ask for. They sometimes say that autos are a curse to this country, but the writer didn't think so that day. After driving about sixty miles, sometimes hitting the high spots through the most important parts and prettiest villages, we came to the town of Souris. Much charmed with its fine dwelling houses, hotels, ice cream parlors, gas stations and so on, we passed through the Baptist Parsonage at Kingsboro, where we were most cordially welcomed by Mr. and Mrs. Bell and family. It is good to go into the house of the Lord, but it is also good to go into the house of R. H. Bell. After having a delicious dinner as usual put up by Mrs. Bell and a rest, we drove out to East Point, accompanied by Mrs. Bell and son Bobbie, where we were shown through the lighthouse by Mr. McIntyre, the keeper. We then went to see the sailor's grave, where the headstone shaped out of clay stone, is dated 1867. Not falling in love with the angry waves, as we looked out on to the Gulf of St. Lawrence, from the fifth flight of the lighthouse, sixty-two feet high, we didn't stay too long. Returning to the parsonage by a different road, taking observations as we drove, I must say I like the Eastern part of the Island as well as any part of it I have seen. After supper we went to church, listened to a very powerful and eloquent sermon preached by Mr. Bell and were satisfied with the day. We left with good wishes for our home in Kingston.

When making up a cushion, spread a thick sheet of wadding over it just under the outside cover, tacking it down with a stitch at the corners and in the middle of the sides The cushion feels softer than it otherwise would. The wadding also shows up the work and makes even a plain cover look well.

Prosperity Observed In P. E. I.

INSURANCE MAN OPTIMISTIC OVER PRESENT CONDITIONS IN PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND

That there has been much progress and development carried on and that Prince Edward Island is in a sound economic condition is the opinion voiced recently by Major J. A. MacKenzie. Major MacKenzie is manager of the Dominion Life Assurance Company's Prince Edward Lsland Branch and made the foregoing statement while attending a meeting of the company's branch managers in Waterloo, Ontario.

Major MacKenzie based his conclusion on the fact that there is less unemployment in Prince Edward Island than anywhere else and quoted a statement of Sir Henry Thornton who said: "At the present time, Prince Edward Island is the most prosperous province on the C.N.R. system and is the only part of this system which has shown an increase in business this season. Prince Edward Island is a veritable Garden of Eden."

Car loading, regarded as an indication of continuous prosperity, shows an increase in the last ten years of over 400% without showing any increase in population. Also there is an unprecedented amount of work going on in Charlottetown this year. According to Major MacKenzie the building of a new C.N.R. Hotel new rink, sanatarium costing $60,000, a new candy factory and a new fertilizer mixing plant are all signs of the healthy conditions existing in the Island. A significant trend is also seen in the raising of one-quarter of a million dollars for a new hospital.

"This year," continued Major MacKenzie, "the largest and best fox show ever held in the world was staged at Prince Edward Island in show rooms specially designed for the purpose. The fox industry is flourishing here. In 1925 over 25,000 foxes were raised, bringing to the Province from the sale of live animals and pelts, upwards of $4,000,000 This year there are about 35,000 pups —one third of the total foxes in Canada. This year was also a banner year for native fox exhibitors as Island foxes demonstrated their superiority over all others at the Amherst and Toronto fairs and captured all the major prizes and championships.

"The same progress is evident in other activities. The world famous Malpeque oysters are again coming into their own and the industry is furnishing employment to a large number of men. All crops, as usual, are good. We have never had a total failure of any crop in Prince Edward Island and this year's potato yield is above the average.

"Foxes and potatoes, however, are not only possessions of Prince Edward Island and in the prize lists of Toronto and Maritime Fairs will be found Island exhibitors of Holstein cattle and horses. These are only a few instances of the satisfactory condition obtaining at present in the Island. On every hand there are indications of a prosperous 1931 and the people of the Island—less than 80,000 in all—look forward with steady confidence to a year of continued progress for themselves and their Province.

When making candy never scrape the sides of the pan or stir what has adhered down into the cooking candy. A few sugar crystals may cause the mixture to granulate.

Elsie: "Why is Clara always so short of money—didn't her father leave her a lot?"

Madge: "Yes, but you see, she's not to get it till she's thirty, and she'll never own up to that."

When washing lace curtains if no curtain stretcher is available, hang them while wet on curtain rods, pin to the casing under the window sill and in the cracks on the sides of the window and they will dry perfectly.

The prim old lady was dining one evening, and while the waite was standing by the table, she asked him to find out the title of the piece the orchestra was playing.

"Who helped you with your homework, Jones?" asked the master. "Nobody, sir." "Now come, come, that's not true," said the master sternly "Was it your father?" "N-no, sir. He didn't help me—he did every bit himself."

Orange flavoring is delicious for puddings and custards. Save the peel of oranges, preferably of tangerines, dry it in the oven and then store in tins for use.

When pressing black ribbon, put it in cold water, then staighten it out and press immediately with a hot iron. The stiffening will remain almost as if the ribbon were new.

Truro Outplay Abegweits 8-5

Playing no real defensive hockey, and at the same time coasting comfortably in front with a two goal lead, to increase it to three in the last period, Truro Bearcats, one of the classiest hockey aggregations to visit these shores in a long while, showed about 1,800 fans at the Forum last night a few wrinkles in excellent team work and back checking. Man for man last year's Maritime champs were all stars, but brightest of all were Lennon, Jemmet and Shields on the front line, while the intrepid Pete Mill was in a class by himself. With a broad smile decorating his countenance Mill tramped for solo canters times without number to pass to a team-mate and return to his position. In fact had the husky dark defence man been in a mean mood, no telling just how many goals he would have scored.

"Chick" Williams again was the big gun on the local aggregation last night; he stood out so prominently that the "I'm Alone" sign was tacked all over his husky frame. Many times he carried the disc well inside the Truro blue line to find that there was nobody with him—The forwards could not skate fast enough, either that they did not care to. Nicholson especially, one of the fastest wingmen in the Maritimes, was listless and inconsistent throughout the game. "Hickey" can play hockey if he wants to .but last night would have been just as well in the "bull pen." If there is such a thing as an "off night," Nicholson had the disease last night.

Mention may be made of the great hockey dished out by Saunders and Lawlor. These boys gave their all and then some. Had the rest of the team been functioning like Saunders, "Chick" and Lawlor, the "smile of Mill" would have undoubtedly been erased one hundred percent. Stull in the Abbie nets did his darndest, but there's a limit to human endeavor.

Spillett, pairing with Williams, turned in fair hockey, when one considers that he has only had a ten minute workout so far this season, while Bill Power, sub defence was strapped like a mummy due to injuries received in the Moncton game. As it was Abegweits had the satisfaction of piling a five goal score against the champs, a feat unequalled by few teams in Eastern Canada.

THE SCORES

Ten seconds from the face-off, Lennon, Truro left winger, took a pass from Jemmett to dash across the Abbie blue line, beating Stull after a fake pass back to centre ice.

The locals, more or less stunned at this turn of affairs, played cautious hockey, but were again forced to bend when Shields received a neat pass from Mill to score in twelve minutes. One minute later Nicholson, who was more in a trance than anything else, emerged from his reverie to pace Saunders in a great solo to score on the latter's rebound. The fans nearly went wild on the count. Three minutes before the bell Truro made it 3-1 when Lennon on a pass from the self same Mill, dented the twine.

SECOND PERIOD

Nicholson was given two minutes for tripping. During his stay in the pen, Williams and Saunders rose to great heights in a bombardment on Sargent, Bearcat goalie.

After eleven minutes of play Williams, alone and unpaced, galloped the length of the Forum to cage counter number two for his team. Without exception, this was the most spectacular exhibition of hockey shown during the sixty minutes of play. Needless to say Chick was given a "hand."

This score perked the Abegweits somewhat, with the result that the "Cats" were given a few anxious moments ,but the pace soon took its toll, and Truro scored again, Proloux counting after fourteen minutes; and two minutes later added another, Mill doing the trick on a pass from Shields.

Shortly before the bell Acorn and Shields were benched, the latter being the big offender. Shields should learn to govern his temper or before long he will find himself benched for good.

THIRD PERIOD

Both teams scored three markers in this period. Truro opened in three minutes, Lennon counting on a lone endeavor. Five minutes later, Saunders duplicated the stunt and two minutes further on, Jemmett made the light twinkle for the "Cats" seventh. Five minutes from the face-off Lawlor took a pass out from McDonald to twist the draperies for the Abbie fourth, and two minutes from this register, Saunders handed a neat pass from Nicholson to score the Abegweit fifth and final goal. With but five minutes to go Jemmett beat Stull for the Bearcat eighth and last count of the night.

Earle Prowse was on the whistle and handled a good game.

SHOTS ON NETS

On Abegweits—28.
On Truro—18.

The biggest game of all—Abegweits vs. Crystals, Christmas night.

Use soap and water to clean white furniture, taking care that the water is not too hot and that the soap is pure, as impure soap will discolor the paint. Polish well with an old silk handkerchief.

The best remedy for scratched furniture is a mixture of beeswax and turpentine the former melted in the turpentine until it is thick as syrup. Pour a little on a piece of woolen cloth and rub it well into the scratched part. Then polish quickly with dry flannel and the marks will almost disappear.

To keep the stove clean, rub off all grease with newspaper while stove is still hot. When the stove needs polishing use a paint brush and thus avoid getting your hands soiled. You can also reach the small crevices more readily with the brush.

Chuck roast, which is cheap will make an appetizing dish if bone is removed the meat rolled and tied with a string and then roasted.

Skin of beef makes a good beef a la mode. Cut it up the same as for a stew, brown the pieces in hot fat, then add water; cook in pot same as for pot roast and serve with gravy. By browning the meat it retains its juices, and this adds greatly to the flavor of the dish.

A young man at college named Hayes
Weighed down by B. A.'s and M. A.'s
Collapsed from the strain;
Said his doctor: "'Tis plain
You're killing yourself by degrees."

Bagster—"I did enjoy your wife's recitation, old man. Her diction is so marvellous."

Knagged—"Yes, and so is her contradiction."

Painting walls are best for the kitchen as in cold weather the steam arising on wash days dampens the paper much faster than it will dry, and so loosens and causes it to drop off.

When cooking such vegetables as carrots, spinach, turnips and cauliflower, cook twice the amount needed for one meal. Half may be served the first day and the other half creamed the second day.

If your doughnuts soak fat try putting one tablespoon of vinegar into the batter when mixing it.

The very stout old lady went to the zoo and was watching the lions feed.

"Pears to me mister," she said, "that ain't a very big piece of meat for such an animal."

"Madam" said the polite attendant, "I supoose it does seem a small piece of meat to you, but it's big enough for the lion."

PERSONALS

Miss Jean Profitt's many friends are sorry to learn that she has had to give up her studies at the Charlottetown Business College, before taking the final examinations, owing to ill health.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Sherwood, Ottawa, arrived in the city last evening to spend the Christmas holidays with relatives at the Experimental Station. Mr. Sherwood is chief accountant of the House of Commons.

PRICES AND PRICE INDEXES, 1913-1929

An annual report compiled by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics on Prices and Price Indexes, 1913-1929, has recently been issued, and is now available for distribution. It contains summaries of Canadian price movements at wholesale and retail for the year 1929, as well as accompanying tables of prices and index numbers generally covering the period from 1913 to 1929, although annual indexes of wholesale prices are included which extend back to 1867. Another section of the report gives a complete outline of Canadian security price movements from 1914 to 1929. Among the data given are investigators' and traders' index numbers of common stocks, mining stock indexes, and average monthly prices of thirty-five leading common stocks traded on the Montreal and Toronto exchanges between 1927 and June 1930. Further sections are devoted to Canadian costs of services, indexes of Canadian import and export values, and a review of economic conditions and index numbers of prices in other parts of the world. Seventeen charts supplement in graphic form the more interesting numerical data printed.
