Wall Paper Superiority!

The best test of the great superiority of our wall paper values, lies in the fact that the people want them, and have wanted them so badly ever since we placed them on this market, that our sales have been almost phenomenal.

Hundreds of designs have been sold down to the last roll, but by a fortunate forethought on our part, we have succeeded in having them all repeated on at the Factory and some new patterns added also.

This large shipment of several thousand rolls we expect to open up today, and will be priced from 6c a roll up, as before.

The designs are extremely beautiful—even at the lowest prices—nothing common or garish looking about them, they add a note of refinement to even the plainest room.

Meanwhile the rush continues for the more expensive lines. We are however in a splendid position to give complete satisfaction to all the matter of selections.

To anyone contemplating papering, we would say, purchase no papers until you have seen our magnificent lines, learned our extremely low prices—we will then feel confident of your patronage.

Join the satisfied throng of paper buyers who have made their selections here at less than half the prices formerly paid for less artistic goods.

Graduate Detroit Veterinary Dental College

Kent St. Ch'town, Telephone 253.

The cause of numerous diseases and disagreeable habits, heretofore ascribed as constitutional, have been traced directly to the teeth. Blindness, drooping, frothing, loss of flesh, weak eyes, driving on one rein and pulling are very often due to diseased and irregular teeth. Rough edges and sharp corners of the teeth irritate the mouth, and produce nervousness and irritability; uneven and elongated molars and incisors prevent the proper mastication of the food, producing indigestion and general debility. Decayed molars cause necrosis of the bone, abscess, nasal gleet, etc. These causes should be removed. Decayed teeth should be removed by extracting or trepanning, sharp corners and rough edges should be smoothed down, and elongated and uneven molars and incisors cut off. The common float, or file heretofore deemed sufficient to accomplish this, will not suffice but special instruments devised for the purpose are necessary. 4-25dtst01st.

We own and Offer for Sale $5,000, Standfield's Limited 7 per cent bonds due January 1st, 1931

The strength of these securities is appreciated when it is recalled that the average net earnings for a succession of years of the Trust-Printing Mill Company (the total undertaking of which was assumed by Standfield's, Limited) has an annual surplus over the bond interest and preferred dividend requirements of the new Company without regard to the returns from the manufacturing of worsted yarns, the net earnings from which are conservatively estimated at $2,000,000 a year.
