In Memoriam

MRS. JOHN CLARKIN

The district of North Wiltshire lost one of its oldest and most respected residents, when on Sunday morning August 21st the soul of Mrs. John Clarkin was called to meet its Eternal Judge.

The late Mrs. Clarkin came of a large family of Callaghan's whose heritage goes back to the early settlers of these parts. Endowed with rare qualities of mind and body she devoted both to the generous service of God and her neighbors. Her good character notwithstanding she reared her children in an atmosphere ever Christian and instilled into their minds by word and example the sublime teachings of Christ and his Holy Church, and even to the last days of her 90 years in this "vale of tears" she was ever filled with that true spirit of christian joy.

She always took a vital interest in the events of the district and parish, sincerely devoted to and earnestly striving for the good of both. This same generous spirit continued to manifest itself to one end, when to the loving admiration of all and despite her advanced years she faithfully and regularly attended her parish church, St. Ann's, Lot 65, having but shortly before made the mission given there followed with an unequalled keenness the many events of the times.

Her death came as a sudden shock to her many friends. She had but a couple of weeks previous to her death the joy of a visit from two of her daughters Mrs. F. Kiley and Mrs. J. Murray from Massachusetts, and had just returned from a two weeks visit with two of her daughters Mrs. J. F. McKenna and Mrs. E. Smith. For her, then death came like the veritable "thief at night", but her long life was one of prayerful preparation for that day when her soul was to be called to the true life of union with her God whom she so loved.

Besides several grandchildren and great-grandchildren, there are left to mourn one sister, Mrs. Patricia Curley, Tyrone, and one brother, Peter Callaghan of Emvrale, and the two surviving sons and daughters; Patrick W. retired C. N. Regent at Charlottetown; Mary, Mrs. Michael Duffy of Maplewood; Sarah, Mrs. James Murray of Dochester, Mass.; Susanna, Mrs. Jas. C. Bradley of Kelly's Cross; Eugene, C. N. Regent, Sanford, Manitoba; Catherine, Mrs. John P. McKenna of C. Bedeque; Anthony on the homestead; Jennie, Mrs. Eugene Smith of Kinkora; and Blanche, Mrs. F. J. Kiley, Bradford, Mass.

Her largely attended funeral was held on Tuesday morning September 2 to St. Ann's Church where Requiem Mass was offered by her grandson Rev. Leonard McKenna, St. Dunstan's Basilica, Charlottetown. Present in the sanctuary were Rev. Dr. M. J. Smith of Kinkora and Rev. Willard Keefe of Kelly's Cross.

The choir was ably assisted by her pastor, Rev. Leo Herrell. The pallbearers were her six grandsons: George Duffy, Francis Smith, Joseph Clarkin, George Smith, Linus Trainor, Austin McKenna.

Rev. T. H. B. Somers Addresses the Rotary Club

Rev. T. H. B. Somers, M.A. S.T.M., pastor of St. James' Presbyterian Church, Charlottetown, was the guest speaker at the Rotary luncheon yesterday. He gave an interesting address on Canadian studies Americans which he said might also be entitled, "How I Lost My Prejudice" or "An experience in understanding". The speaker developed a great admiration for the people of United States by close contact with them while living in that country. He spent some time in Buffalo, Detroit, Cleveland, Chicago, Washington, Oregon, California and more recently in New York where he took a post graduate course. He made reference to their friendliness, adventurous spirit, resourcefulness, as well as their hopeful, happy, care-free nature and other characteristics. Mr. Somers also quoted from a message by President Henry S. Coffin, D.D., of the Union Seminary, N. Y., and published in the Church of Scotland's magazine wherein he explained why the United States have been slow in taking the attitude they have since taken in the international situation.

Reference was made to the "composite" character of the United States population. British is not the motherland to more than a fraction of the people. Germany and Italy lie behind many millions as their names attest, but when France fell the United States was startled and the President was backed when he at once placed arms and ammunition in the hands of the Allies.

"We awoke to the danger to our principles and institutions," said Dr. Coffin. "It is by our President and nobly encouraged by Mr. Wendell Willkie, he has been struggling to prepare our defenses and supply all possible aid to Britain and China. More and more it is clear to our people despite loud voices to the contrary that our cause and yours are inextricably interwoven."

Vice President R. H. Rogers was in the chair and the guests were F. G. Spencer, St. John; A. J. Irving, Saskatoon; also four members of the R. C. N. V. R., Lieut. E. H. Saunders, Paymaster, Sub Lieut. B. Belyea, Sub Lieut. McCaville, and Surgeon Lieut. J. W. Hackney.

President Gordon Ives announced the personnel of the committee for the Rotary Radio Auction to be held December 4th.

Several Rotarians volunteered to supply cars if needed to bring in patients from the Flying School to the city.

Juniper berry Plentiful here

Great possibilities are seen in the recently discovered Juniper berries which appear to be well distributed over the province. The berry which is to be found anywhere where cranberries thrive, are in great demand by wholesale drug firms who value their medicinal properties in the manufacture of gin.

A Charlottetown lady took a sample of some Juniper berries to the Department of Agriculture the day following the announcement that Hon. W. H. Dennis, Minister of Agriculture, had investigated their value. Mr. Dennis found that the berries picked by the young lady were even superior to the sample which had been approved by the New York Drug firm. She then announced that she had about 40 more pounds which had been picked in the National Park area where they are reported to be quite thick. In fact another gentleman remarked that carloads of cranberry pickers from the city working in this same area, were overlooking the lucrative Juniper berries that grow alongside. However, now that the latter berry has been brought to their attention and the additional knowledge that they are worth from 30 cents a pound great interest has been awakened in berry pickers throughout the province.

The reason the lucrative Juniper had not been commercialized before was probably due to the fact that the markets called for the tree variety. This particular type does not exist, as far as it is known, in this province but the dwarf Juniper, which is a short of a shrub, is quite plentiful. Only recently it was found out that the berry from this shrub was equally as good as the one from the tree. The dwarf Juniper, which grows close to the ground, is quite commonly found in blueberry barrens. It closely resembles the latter berry at a distance but on closer examination the difference is noticed. When broken open, unlike the blueberry, the Juniper contains a dry substance.

Irish Moss

There are a great many other botanicals, to use the term applied to these berries by the drug concerns, scattered throughout the province. The value of most of them is not realized by the majority of people. For instance the common dandelion, sometimes used by Islanders for making into a wine, possesses a root that is in great demand in the manufacture of certain drugs. Then there is the Irish moss at Bideford, which until recently was overlooked. Now it is being developed by a New York firm which finds it invaluable in the manufacturing of dressings, gaiters, light food, and many other things. Before the war this
