LOSES LIFE IN NORTH QUEBEC

The sad news was received Monday afternoon by Mrs. Frank H. Bertram, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace W. Williams of Hunter River, that her husband's body had been found by a diver Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in Lake Chibougamau in Northern Quebec 460 miles north of Montreal.

EMINENT MAN

stands as a testimony to his judgment. Mr. Davis was closely associated with O. Henry, the famous short-story writer in the early years of his career. In 1923, when Mr. Davis began his present work he received this charge from William T. Dewar, who afterwards became president of the New York Sun: "The whole world is your assurance. My only instructions are that you see everything and write about it in your own vein. For every day you spend around the office you'll be doctored to you in the future, this whole earth is a local story."

to obtain full information from Barthou. Many have interpreted France's recently completed agreements with the little entente and eastern European nations as "rinsing Germany" with steel. Germany is known to be concerned over these conversations here and endeavoring to learn exactly what France's plans are, and also the extent of the friendly understanding between France and Great Britain.

ARMY CHIEF KILLED

(A. P. by Guardian's Special Wire) NEWBURYPORT, Mass., July 9. Col. William Hutz Walker, 65 of Pasadena, Cal., and Bridgeton, Me., chief of the chemical division of the United States army during the Great War, was killed as his automobile left the highway in Sea Brook, N. H., today and crashed into a tree. Walker apparently fell asleep at the wheel of the machine.
